"German Syrup"

Croup. We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

ED. L. WILLITS, of Alma, Neb.—I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply miraculous.

Mrs. JAS. W. KIRK, Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I have depended upon it in attacks of Croup with my little daughter, and find it an invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs.

A Waste of Horses and Riders.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Standard's Vienna correspondent says: The ride is turning out to be a senseless sacrifice of horses and riders. Already 20 Germans and 15 Austrians have been disabled and every hour brings fresh news of broken down horses and injured riders. A number of the Germans will reach Vienna to-day and an equal number of the Austrians will reach Berlin about the same time, perhaps an hour or two earlier, as the wind, weather and roads have been in their power.

A Prince Goes Mad.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—Prince Pedro of Coburg-Kohary suddenly became insane in the absence of his family yesterday and attempted to leap from a window of the Coburg Palace. Servants struggled wildly with the prince and the fire brigade, which had been summoned to assist, held sheets under the window in which to catch the mad man if he should jump. He was finally overpowered and taken to an asylum.

Opposed to the Dreibund.

PESTH, Oct. 4.—In committee in the Delegations yesterday Herr Eym, a member of the Young Czechs party, declared that his party entertained no animosity toward Germany or Italy individually, but that the party was entirely opposed to the Dreibund. He said he regarded the policy of Austria against Russia with the greatest apprehension.

Anniversary of Parnell's Death.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—Thursday next is the anniversary of the death of Charles Stewart Parnell. Services in his memory will be held here next Sunday and will be attended by the corporation of Dublin in state.

Advertisement writing is becoming a regular branch of literature in the United States. Some of the first-class writers command salaries of $10,000 a year, and now young men are regularly training for the work and going to college in preparation.

It appears that electrical apparatus for the South American trade is built in sections, each weighing under 400 pounds. The reason is that in a great many cases all supplies for a plant have to be transported on mules, and 400 pounds is about the limit of a mule's carrying capacity.

Fans in Shakespeare's time seem to have been composed of ostrich and other feathers fastened to handles. Gentlemen carried fans in those days, and in one of the later figures of the german they now carry fans. According to an old manuscript in the Ashmolean museum, Sir Edward Cole rode the circuit with a prodigious fan, which had a long stick with which he corrected his daughters.

A famous duchess in London recently went through the ordeal of having a dress made on her own figure. She stood for three hours while the dressmakers wrought fifty yards of rare old lace that could not be cut into a gown for a soiree, at the close of which every stitch had to be carefully cut and picked out before the lady could disrobe. The amount of torture that fair woman will undergo in the name of vanity would astonish the martyrs.

Negroes who go from America to Africa frequently become slaveholders by reason of their superiority in intelligence to the natives of that benighted country and because they have some money. This is the report given by Rev. A. McCullough, who has been visiting in parts of Africa, where there are colonies of prosperous American negroes. These American negroes, he says, almost invariably invest whatever money they have in slaves, and are cruel and avaricious masters.

The Empress Eugenie had a passion for pearls, and was, in the days of her power, the possessor of a necklace whose largest stones were the size of a pigeon's egg. After the Franco-German war the empress sold the pearls to Mme. de Paena for 300,000 francs, which Mme Le Breton took to London in a little handbag. Another famous collection of pearls was that which Mlle. Thiers accumulated in three years' search for perfect specimens. These were bequeathed to her sister, Mlle. Dosne, and are valued at 400,000 francs.

The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation of the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medicine, and the world's experience for nearly half a century has fully demonstrated its value.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse till the pain was almost unbearable and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do not intend to be without this valuable medicine if I can help it,

RHEUMATISM.—Jan. 17, 1883, GEO. C. OSGOOD & CO., Druggists, Lowell, Mass., U. S. A., wrote: "Mr. LEWIS DENNIS, 136 Moody St., desires to say: "ORRIN ROBINSON, a boy of Graniteville, Mass., came to my house in 1881, walking on crutches; his leg was bent at the knee for two months. I gave him to rub it. In six days he had no use for his crutches and went home cured without them."

ST. JACOBS OIL

Lowell, Mass., U. S. A., July 9, '87: "The crippled boy ORRIN ROBINSON, cured by St. Jacobs Oil in 1881, has remained cured. The young man has been and is now at work every day at manual labor." GEORGE C. OSGOOD, M. D.

Our charges are remarkably low considering the quality of the work.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try to arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap

RIDERS IN A GREAT RACE.

AUSTRIANS AND GERMANS TEST THEIR ENDURANCE.

Army Officers Riding Between the Capitals of the Two Countries to Make a Record—The Contest a Topic of Absorbing Interest in the Two Countries—The Reports of Progress Mingre.

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—The long distance ride of the German military officers from Berlin to Vienna and of the Austrian officers from Vienna to Berlin is the absorbing topic of the day. The leaders of the two parties met just half way on the road, having covered the distance, 200 miles, in 35 hours. But two have dropped out.

Lieut. Miklos passed Bautzen at 9 o'clock this morning after riding 50 hours and covering 447 kilometres. It is expected that he will reach Berlin early to-day.

The last of the German riders started this morning. Altogether there are 109 Germans in the race, up to the present time only scant reports have been received of the progress made by the riders. Cold, wet weather and thick fog make the conditions bad for racing.

Lieut. Schlierstadt is considered to have the best chance of winning, though his horse Nixe has already fallen three times. Lieut. Muller fell over a bridge.

THE CHIEF OF THE JESUITS.

The Society Elects the Head Who Is Known As the "Black Pope."

MADRID, Oct. 4.—Father Martin was chosen yesterday General of the Society of Jesus by the convocation of Jesuit delegates at Aspeitia. Father Martin is a Spaniard, 50 years old. He has been a deep student of science and has acquired considerable renown as an author. Acting as vicar-general he has presided over the deliberations of the Jesuit delegates during the last few days. The Jesuit delegates have been meeting in the monastery on the spot where Lovola was born.

After confession at 5 o'clock yesterday the electors assembled in the library of the monastery for the voting. The election was made by secret ballot and, as was expected, considerable time was necessary to secure a choice. Shortly before 10 o'clock Father Martin received an absolute majority of the ballots cast. The news was at once telegraphed to the Pope and was proclaimed in the church with public ceremony.

DUBLIN, Oct. 4.—Lord Houghton, the new Viceroy of Ireland, made his public entry into Dublin yesterday and took possession of Dublin Castle. Lord Houghton was received by the Right Hon. S. Walker, Lord Chancellor of Ireland; Lieut.-Col. Sir J. West Ridgeway, Under Secretary for Ireland, and other officers of the Government. Lord Houghton, accompanied by a large cavalcade of military officers, rode on horseback in the procession. The crowd, while undemonstrative, showed a very friendly feeling for the young Viceroy.

Posthumous Honors for Renan.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—It has been decided that the late Ernest Renan shall be honored with a state funeral, to take place Friday next, when his body will be taken to the cemetery of Mont Martre for provisional interment. THOUSANDS WANT WORK

A VERY BAD OUTLOOK FOR LABOR IN GREAT BRITAIN

It is Said That Fifteen Thousand Ship Builders are Idle and Those Who are Still at Work Are on Short Time—Drapery Houses in London Tottering Under the Depression.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The labor outlook in the large manufacturing and ship-building centres of Great Britain is very threatening. A crisis is probable in the cotton trade that promises to have more widespread results than any of the previous troubles which have occurred between the masters and operatives, and in the ship-building trade of the Clyde only one-third of the berths are occupied and no new orders are in hand.

It is said that 15,000 hands, who were employed in various capacities about the yards, are idle, and those who are still at work are working on short time. To make matters worse for the employes the masters have now decided upon a general reduction in wages, and have announced that engineers, iron founders and ship-builders will henceforth receive 10 per cent. less money for their labor than heretofore. This reduction is to take effect on Oct. 10.

The Clyde miners have also been notified that their wages will be reduced sixpence per day on and after Oct. 10.

On the Verge of Failure.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Rumors have been in circulation for several days past that a large drapery house in the West End of London is hopelessly involved. Commenting upon these rumors Monday The St. James Gazette says that several great drapery firms are tottering under the severe general depression, which has affected all ranks of society.

This depression was badly felt last Christmas time, when some of the largest drapery shops in the West End did not for days receive a single customer. Many firms in despair dismantled their windows and packed their fancy goods away with a view to holding them over until next December.

The betrothal of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale and Princess May created a new style of goods, which was no sooner produced than all demand for it was blasted by the death of the Duke, and the dealers were left with thousands of miles of finery on their hands. The absence of a London season added to the troubles. The greater houses found it necessary to extend the credits of the smaller dealers in order to prevent them from becoming bankrupt. This extension of credit was overdone, and unless trade revives by Christmas a collapse will be inevitable. If one big house goes it will drag others with it.

The Gazette concludes by saying it is to be hoped that royalty will set the ball of prosperity rolling. An announcement that the Duke of York was about to marry would have a magical effect upon trade.

A Bicyclist Fatally Hurt.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 5.—W. Richard Norman, treasurer of the Connecticut Cycle Co., was fatally hurt by his bicycle colliding full tilt with a dump cart in Shelton-avenue.

A STRIKER GOES CRAZY.

In Despair He Tries to Kill Himself and His Wife.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—John Neumann, one of the Lake Shore switchmen who went out on the strike last August, has been trying to get back to his old position. Failing in this he went crazy yesterday and attempted to kill his wife and himself.

His wife handed him some medicine in a glass, when he grabbed it and struck her in the face, cutting her badly. He also tried to cut his throat with the broken glass, mangling himself badly.

SALE OF CANADIAN HORSES.

Sixty-Two Head Brought Nearly $28,000, Great Prices Being Paid.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Half the Four Hundred at least were gathered yesterday in the Tattersall sale building at Fifty-fifth-street and Seventh-avenue, when Auctioneer William Easton ascended his rostrum and gave a preliminary flourish to his ivory gavel. The occasion was the annual sale of Mr. W. D. Grand's Canadian horses, and sixty-two head of the best and most carefully selected hunters, jumpers, carriage pairs and single horses came under the hammer.

Sixty two head brought nearly $28,000, an average of almost $450. Such figures need no comment.

Mr. O. H. P. Belmont was present and incidentally bought a four-in-hand team for $7350 after a sharp competition with another well-known gentleman. The team he secured is of rare beauty and excellence. Ex-Secretary W. C. Whitney was another interested spectator, and in the crowd were Messrs. A. J. Cassatt, Amasa J. Parker, J. H. Roosevelt, Alexander Taylor, jr., A. W. Powell, R. Hoogland, T. C. Patteson of Toronto, J. K. Moore, R. Wallack, Fred. Hoey, J. Arthur, Captain Frizell, F. D. Brown and a brilliant array of ladies in the galleries.

The best price of the day, $3000, was paid by Mr. Belmont for the beautiful bay mare, Canadian Belle, [illegible] has swept the board of [illegible] wherever exhibited, and will be a [illegible] contestitors at the coming horse [illegible] Mr. Belmont also secured for $1450 the bay mare Blue Ribbon, a very perfect match for Canadian Belle.

CRICKET AT PHILADELPHIA.

Irishmen Have the Advantage in the First Innings of the Third Match.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—With the loss yesterday of two wickets with 51 runs, the Irishmen started in to bat again this morning in their first inning of the third and deciding match with All Philadelphia.

When the tenth man was finally caught out the visitors had succeeded in putting together 168 runs.

Philadelphians then went in. The loss of four wickets for 11 runs demoralized them, and when stumps were drawn for the day six men were out for only 47 runs.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

THE DEATH OF TENNYSON

HE PASSED QUIETLY AWAY YESTERDAY MORNING.

As Alfred Tennyson Died the Moonlight Fell Across the Bed on Which He Lay, Bathing Him in Its Pure, Pellucid Light, While Outside the Wind Sang His Requiem in the Trees.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Lord Tennyson died at 1.30 o'clock yesterday morning. Immediately after the death the representative of the Associated Press had an interview with Sir Andrew Clarke, one of the physicians who attended the poet laureate. Sir Andrew said Lord Tennyson's death was the most glorious he had ever seen. There was no artificial light in the room, and the chamber was almost in darkness save where a broad flood of moonlight poured in through a western window. The moon's rays fell across the bed upon which the dying man lay, bathing him in their pure pellucid light and forming a Rembrandt-like background to the scene. All was silent save for the soughing of the autumn wind as it gently played through the trees surrounding the house, a fitting requiem for the gentle poet, who sang of love and the beauties of nature.

Motionless Lord Tennyson lay upon his couch, the tide of his life gently and slowly ebbing out into the ocean of the infinite. No racks of pain or sorrow checked its course or caused a ripple upon the outgoing tide. As peacefully and gently as he had lived, so he died, looking until the end into the eyes of those dear to him.

All the members of his family were by the bedside, and Sir Andrew Clarke remained by his side from the moment of his arrival yesterday until he breathed his last.

So gentle and painless was his passing away that his family did not know he had gone until Dr. Clarke broke the news to Lady Tennyson, who bore the closing scenes of her great trial well in spite of her extremely delicate health.

The Hon. Hallam Tennyson, the poet's son, says his father's death was eminently peaceful. He did not show a single trace of suffering to distress his sorrowing relatives and friends. Once or twice during the night he lifted his eyes to the faces of the watchers by his bedside and a beautiful smile played over his features. No doubt as to the future was in his wan face, and as the end came he appeared to fall asleep. So restful was he and so calmly did he respond to the beckoning hand of the angel of death that those who stood beside him scarcely knew he had passed away. Hallam further says that Lady Tennyson bears up with fortitude under the sorrow that has come to her. She was with Lord Tennyson throughout all his sickness, and ministered to all his wants so far as it was in her power. All hope was practically abandoned early in the afternoon. The doctors were surprised that he lasted through the previous night, so great was his debility. He could take no nourishment, and continued to grow weaker and weaker until the end.

The Result of Suppressed Gout.

Dr. Clarke saw Lord Tennyson in London three months ago. He then told Hallam Tennyson he thought his father was breaking up. Sir Andrew said that death was partially the result of suppressed gout, complicated with influenza, but it was chiefly due to natural decay. He added: "His end Lord Tennyson himself might well have pictured and earnestly desired as his lot."

The Poet Laureateship.

The Pall Mall Gazette thinks Mr. Gladstone will appoint Algernon Swinburne to the post of poet laureate, made vacant by the death of Lord Tennyson. It quotes from a recent article in The Speaker, written by Mr. Gladstone, entitled "British Poetry in the Nineteenth Century." After awarding Tennyson the palm, Mr. Gladstone wrote: "Pressing upon him, or walking in the same path, we have had many true poets, some extraordinary and many of very considerable powers. Among those claiming the first of these descriptions we have mentioned Browning and merest justice requires that we add Swinburne." The Gazette adds: "In view of the abuse Swinburne has lavished upon Mr. Gladstone, the choice would be characteristic and an instance of a great man's magnanimity."

He Read the Cymbelineau Dirge.

A friend of the bereaved family states that yesterday afternoon, during a wakeful moment, Lord Tennyson asked for a copy of Shakespeare, and with his own hands he turned the leaves until he found the dirge in "Cymbeline." Then he fixed his eyes on the pages, but he did not speak, and whether he read the lines or not is not known. Soon he again passed into slumber and his left hand rested on the open book until he passed away.

[The dirge to which reference is made is as follows, omitting the characters speaking the lines.—Ed.]

Fear no more the heat o' the sun,
Nor the furious winter's rages:
Thou thy worldly task hast done,
Home art gone, and ta'en thy wages:
Golden lads and girls all must,
As chimneysweepers, come to dust.

Fear no more the frown o' the great;
Thou art past the tyrant's stroke;
Care no more to clothe or eat;
To thee the reed is as the oak:
The sceptre, learning, physic, must
All follow this and come to dust.

Fear no more the lightning flash,
Nor all the dreaded thunders tone;
Fear not slander, censure rash,
Thou hast finished joy and moan:
All lovers young, all lovers must,
Consign to thee, and come to dust.

No exorciser harm thee!
Nor no witchcraft charm thee!
Ghost unlaid forbear thee!
Nothing ill come near thee!
Quiet consummation have;
And renowned be thy grave.

The Face Looked Younger After Death.

The body of the aged poet lies on the bed in which he died. He looks 15 years younger than before death, the lines and wrinkles on the face being less apparent.

The beard, which was unkempt in life, has been carefully trimmed. The hands are folded over the chest, a laurel wreath crowns the head and another lies at the feet. The coverlet over the body is almost hidden beneath the flowers which have been placed upon it. Burning wax tapers lend a subdued light to the chamber.

The Bishop of Winchester will preach the funeral sermon in Haslemere Church on Sunday.

The Canon of Westminster Abbey has formally invited Hallam Tennyson to bury his father in Westminster Abbey.

Hallam Tennyson is now so ill as to be confined to his bed.

THE LAST OF THE DALTON GANG.

Emmett Dalton Tells How the Coffeyville Job was Planned.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 7.—The report that Emmett Dalton had died from the effects of his wound was incorrect. He is still alive and is being closely guarded by a company of citizens under command of a deputy-marshal. Only the newspaper correspondents are admitted to see him. He confessed that the gang was responsible for the Red Rock, Wharton and other train robberies in the territories which had been credited to them. The story of hidden treasure, he said, was nonsense. "It was because we were all broke that we planned the Coffeyville raid," said Dalton, "we were being hard pressed by the officers down in the territory, and Bob decided that we would have to get out of that country. He planned the robbery about two weeks ago while we were camped in the Osage country. He said he would outdo the James boys exploits, and would go to Coffeyville and raid both banks at the same time. We tried to dissuade him from doing it."

It was with great difficulty that the bandit told his story, as he was suffering terribly from the wound in his side. The physician attending him says he cannot possibly survive. Cashier Ayres is resting easier to-day, but his condition is still critical. Nothing has been heard of the party in pursuit of Allie Ogee. Rewards for the capture of the Daltons or the delivery of their bodies to the officers of the law are standing, amounting to $5000.

GRAFTERS ALWAYS AT WORK.

When An Old Line Fails They Strike a New One.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Postoffice Department has of late received many complaints from citizens in different parts of the country against persons representing themselves as agents of the British Government in search of residents of the United States of English ancestry and deluding them into the belief that estates await them in England. These so-called agents demand from the gullible a certain amount of money and a power of attorney. The latest case run down by the Postoffice Department inspectors is that of a resident of Egan, Tex., who furnished the officers with papers he had received from a man who gave his name as Joseph Legan of the Dominion Bureau, 451 Eighth-avenue, New York.

Legar pretended to have secured for the Texan an estate in England left by his great grandfather and furnished him with a bogus certificate bearing what purported to be the seal of the Court in Chancery confirming his title to the estate, and stating that $35 was due as inheritance tax.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker at once gave orders not to deliver registered mail addressed to Legar of the Dominion Bureau. It is said that Legar grew suspicious and has not lately been at his address. A large number of registered letters and packages for him have accumulated in New York postoffice.

CANADIAN CRICKET LEAGUE.

Ottawa Valley Clubs Make Arrangements For an Organization.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—At Arnprior on Saturday last after the cricket match between the Ottawas and the local team an informal meeting was held to discuss the formation of a cricket league comprising Carleton Place, Pakenham, Almonte, Arnprior, Lanark, Kingston, Smith's Falls and Ottawa.

Principal Craig of Arnprior, who is a B.A. of Cambridge and an enthusiastic cricketer, addressed the meeting and unfolded the scheme, setting forth the advantages to the "colts" of the different towns and the resulting impetus to local cricket.

It was decided to name the proposed league "Ottawa Valley Cricket League" and arrangements were made to communicate with the secretaries of the different clubs.

THE CURRENT KILLED HIM.

A Lineman Grasps Both Ends of a Live Wire and Falls Dead.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Oct. 7.—Peter Berthiaume, a lineman for the United Electric Light Company, was shocked to death while making a cut out at the top of a high pole yesterday. He grasped both ends of a live wire and received 2000 volts. As he fell he cleared the wires, so that there was no burning, except on his hand, but caught on a pin, and for half an hour hung head-downwards 50 feet in the air. The aerial ladder had to be called out to take him down.

Light Ships For The Lakes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The Lighthouse Board is preparing plans and specifications for four light ships, three of which are destined for Lake Michigan and one for Lake Erie. They will be about 90 feet long and 20 broad with a draught of 8 feet, and will have all modern illuminating apparatus.

A DESPERATE MURDERER.

SLAVIN, THE CORNWALL SHOOTER, ATTACKS HIS KEEPERS.

He Hid Behind the Door of His Cell and When the Jailer Entered He Pounced on Him With An Iron Bar and Knocked Him Down—A Turnkey Prevents the Escape.

CORNWALL, Oct. 7.—About 6 o'clock last evening screams were heard in the county jail, which attracted the attention of Miss McDonald, daughter of the jailer, who rushed from their residence immediately adjoining the jail, and hearing her father struggling within ran to Mayor O'Callaghan and Peter Routhier, saying a prisoner was killing her father. A crowd at once bolted for the jail and were admitted by Turnkey McMartin, who, while the struggle was going on, had escaped from the inside and locked the door, thereby foiling the escape of the prisoner. When he returned with assistance the door was opened, and James S. Slavin, alias McMahon, who is awaiting trial for the murder of Captain John R. Davey, made a dash for liberty, but was met by O'Callaghan, Routhier and Sheels. The latter grasped the prisoner, but was thrown against the stone wall with terrible force. Routhier, who is a powerful man, clinched the murderer and floored him, and with the assistance of Major O'Callaghan and Sheels the prisoner was held down and finally conveyed back to his cell.

Jailer Macdonald was taken to his home and a doctor was summoned. He found a cut in the skull about two inches long. A reporter called at Mr. Macdonald's residence, but as strict orders had been given no one was allowed to see him.

McMartin, the turnkey, gives the following account of the struggle for liberty: "We were giving the prisoners their rations for the night as usual. I opened the door of the day room in which Slavin is kept. Mr. McDonald preceded me. When the door was about half open Slavin, who was hiding behind it, pounced on us with an iron bar, striking McDonald on the head. The rations dropped and Slavin then dashed at me, striking me in the face with the same instrument. He then demanded the keys.

"McDonald said, 'You may kill me, but I will never give them up.'

He again grappled at McDonald and a struggle ensued. McDonald held on to the prisoner and threw the keys where he could not get possession of them. In the meantime I escaped and locked the door and got assistance. When we returned Slavin was calmed, as he knew his chances of escape were gone once I reached the outside and locked the door.

Slavin was seen in his cell. He said: "I have been foiled in my attempt to escape. You may as well get a rope and hang me up and settle the matter." A close watch will be kept on him, as it is feared he will do away with himself.

BOARD OF FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The Session in Chicago Upholds the Closing of the Fair on Sunday.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—At yesterday's session of the American Board of Foreign Missions the report of the committee of eleven was made a special order for the afternoon. Joseph Cook of Boston introduced a World's Fair anti-Sunday opening resolution, which was enthusiastically adopted. The treasurer's report and the Turkey, India, Ceylon and other missions were given a large share of attention, pending the report of the committee of eleven.

The committee on time and place of the next meeting reported in favor of Worcester, Mass., Oct. 10, 1893. The report was adopted.

The committee of eleven announced that there were majority and minority reports. The difference between the two reports was so slight that they were re-commited upon the suggestion of Dr. Storr, but the consideration of questions involved was temporarily deferred.

A BIGAMOUS YOUNG WOMAN.

She Was Married at 14 and Repented the Experience Twice

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 7.—Married three times without a divorce or the death of her husbands, with 13 children and only 37 years old is the record of Mrs. Mary Howell, who was released from custody here yesterday because no man would come forward and swear to her bigamy. She was a pretty country girl, Mary Ross of London, Ont., when at the age of 14 she wedded one Buckingham. They lived happily together 16 years, and then the trouble began. Robert B. Howell was his next husband. He knew the world and brought her to Detroit, where they lived for six years before getting married. Then Howell began to neglect her. He went to Kentucky and when he came back there was more trouble. Things went from bad to worse, and in May last she married M. J. Brown in the city hall. He was a son of old Major Brown of Ann Arbor, and this illegal marriage also turned out badly.

STARVED HER CHILD.

A Toronto Woman in Custody at Lockport for Manslaughter.

BUFFALO, Oct. 7.—Mrs. Charles Harris, residing near North Tonawanda, has been sent to jail at Lockport on a charge of manslaughter. Two weeks ago her little step-daughter, Margaret, died. At the inquest neighbors swore that Mrs. Harris had imprisoned her three step-children in a cold, bare room in the garret for weeks at a time, feeding them at irregular periods on nothing but bread and water. Others testified that they had seen the children eat swill from the barrels and from the ground in the neighborhood. It was also developed at the inquest that Mrs. Harris is a bigamist as well as a murderess. She ran away from her husband, George Stevens, in Toronto, Ont., and married her present husband. When accused she confessed.

A Farmer's Sad Death.

BOWMANVILLE, Oct. 7.—A sad accident occurred near the village of Hampton, about five miles from town, on Monday evening. W. Vice, an old resident farmer of this township, had been to town, where he imbibed too much liquor. On his way home, by some means he was pitched from his wagon and broke his neck. He was found shortly after lying by the roadside quite dead. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. The old gentleman was a kind-hearted and obliging neighbor, and drink was his only fault.

Daily Examiner.

PETERBOROUGH, OCTOBER 7, 1892

OUR NEW DRESS.

To-day the DAILY EXAMINER appears in a new dress, and we are sure that our numerous readers will note the improved legibility of our columns with satisfaction. It is the aim of the publisher to keep the EXAMINER in the front rank of journals, and the co-operation of the public as implied in a liberal and appreciative patronage has led to a success in this respect which is not surpassed in any place in the province. The success of publishing an eight-page journal the size of the DAILY EXAMINER, excelled by none published in any city outside of the larger cities of the country, is a tribute both to prudent and energetic management, and to enterprise and patronage which could only be expected of a thriving town like Peterborough. It is only by the strictest attention to business, by the most careful management in every detail, and by prompt collections, of subscriptions and advertising bills that the successful and creditable publication of so large a daily can be accomplished; the failure to pay promptly on the part of each subscriber, means the carrying by the publisher of several thousand dollars, which circumstance must necessarily tend to neutralize his exertions in the direction of publishing the best newspaper his constituency can support. Hence prompt payment of newpaper accounts not only facilitates the work of the publisher, but directly benefits the subscriber and patron by furnishing him with a better journal in all respects. Feeling that we can count upon, not only a continuance of the liberal patronage with which the EXAMINER has been favoured in the past, but upon an increased patronage, we have gone to a large expense to make the EXAMINER, both Daily and Weekly, more worthy of meeting public favour, and we can assure our readers and patrons that we shall continue to pursue the same progressive course, which, with their kind assistance we have been able to pursue with so much success in the past.

In selecting the style of type for the new dress of the EXAMINER, we have had an eye to the eyes of both our middle-aged and elderly readers and have selected a rather large-faced letter whose easier legibility they will appreciate. The type from which to-day's and future impressions of the EXAMINER will be printed was purchased from Messrs. Miller & Richard through Mr. R. L. Paterson, Toronto, the Canadian representative of the firm. An experience of many years with the type of this firm has been of the most satisfactory character, and we confidently expect identical results from the present order.

The typographical outfit of the WEEKLY EXAMINER has been also renewed, and here it may be mentioned that the day of publication will be changed and that hereafter the WEEKLY EXAMINER will be published on Friday instead of Thursday as heretofore.

We trust that we shall have the appreciation of our readers in our efforts to improve the DAILY and WEEKLY EXAMINER, which has involved an outlay of nearly $2000, including the addition of large quantities of job type and other material, in order to to keep every department of our printing business up to the highest standard.

Reason? BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favour in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto.

A Wonderful Cure in Windsor.

In the town of Windsor, Ont., Paine's Celery Compound has accomplished wonders. Judging from reports recently received, it is safe to say that Paine's Celery Compound is the leading and popular medicine.

We are permitted to refer to one great cure which was brought about by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. It proves the power and virtue of Canada's popular remedy, and must help to encourage every man and woman in Canada who honestly seek a cure.

Mr. M——, of Windsor, suffered terrible agonies from rheumatism and neuralgia for nearly seven years. The ablest physicians were consulted, and all kinds of medicines were used, but without avail. Mineral springs and waters were tried several times; electric belts of various makes were worn from time to time, but a cure was yet far off.

Hearing of Paine's Celery Compound this gentlemen determined to give it an honest trial. The first three or four bottles convinced him that he had found a power that was working mightily and with good results. Six months' regular use of Paine's Celery Compound sufficed to eradicate every trace of rheumatism and neuralgia.

The gentlemen's friends are joyfully surprised; they freely admit that Paine's Celery Compound worked out the great cure.

DESPERADOES WIPED OUT

THE NOTORIOUS DALTON GANG CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

The Citizens Caught Them Trying to Rob Two Banks and Fought Them to the Death—But Before Being Given Their Desserts They Kill Several Bank Officials.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 6.—The Dalton gang have been exterminated, wiped off the face of the earth. Caught like rats in a trap they were shot down, but not until four citizens of this place yielded up their lives in the work of extermination. Six of the gang rode into the town this morning and robbed the two banks of the place. Their raid had become known to the officers of the law, and when the bandits attempted to escape they were attacked by the marshal's posse. In the battle which ensued four of the desperadoes were killed outright and one was so badly wounded that he has since died. The other escaped, but is being hotly pursued. Of the attacking party four were killed, one was fatally and two were seriously wounded.

The Dead.

Bob Dalton, desperado, shot through the head.

Grant Dalton, desperado, shot through the head.

Joseph Evans, desperado, shot through the head.

John Moore, "Texas Jack," desperado, shot through the head.

T. C. Connolly, city marshal, shot through the body.

L. M. Baldwin, bank clerk, shot through the head.

G. W. Cubine, merchant, shot through the head.

G. J. Brown, shoemaker, shot through the body.

Thomas G. Ayers, cashier of the First National Bank, shot through the groin and cannot live.

T. A. Reynolds of the attacking party has a wound in the right breast, but it is not considered dangerous. Luis Detz, another of the attacking party, was shot in the right side. His wound is a serious one, but is not fatal.

Forewarned, Forearmed.

It had been rumored a month ago that the Dalton gang was contemplating an immediate raid upon the banks of the city. Arrangements were made to give them a warm reception, and for over a week a patrol was maintained night and day to give warning of the gang's approach. The raid did not take place and then came a report from Doming, N. M., that United States officers had had a battle with the band in that territory, and that three of the bandits had been killed. This report was believed here to have been circulated by the Daltons themselves, the intention being to divert attention from their real intentions, and to lull the people of the town into a sense of security. The people, however, were not so easily deceived, and when the report of the disaster to the gang in New Mexico was denied vigilance was renewed. Still the expected raid was not made. Finally the patrol was withdrawn last Saturday, although every stranger was carefully scrutinized as soon as he appeared on the street.

The Raid.

It was 9 o'clock yesterday when the Daltons rode into town. They came in in two squads of three each, and passing through unfrequented streets all rendezvoused in the alley in the rear of the First National Bank. They quickly tied their horses and without losing a moment's time proceeded to the attack upon the banks. Robert Dalton, the notorious leader of the gang, and Emmett, his brother, were those who went to the First National Bank, the other four, under the leadership of "Texas Jack," or John Moore, going to the private bank of C. W. Congdon & Co.

The Dalton boys were born in this vicinity and were well known to nearly every man, woman and child in town. In their progress through the town they had been recognized. City Marshal Connolly was quickly notified of their arrival, and almost before the bandits had entered the bank he was collecting a posse to capture them if possible, to kill them if necessary.

The Robbers at Work.

While the marshal was collecting his forces the bandits, all ignorant of the trap that was being laid for them, were proceeding deliberately with their work of robbing the banks. Texas Jack's band had entered Congdon's Bank, and with their Winchesters levelled at Cashier Ball and Teller Carpenter had ordered them to throw up their hands. Then Texas Jack searched them for weapons, while the other three desperadoes kept them covered with their rifles. Finding them unarmed Cashier Ball was ordered to open the safe. The cashier explained that the safe's door was controlled by a time lock and that it could not by any means short of dynamite be opened before its time was up, which would be 10 o'clock, or in about 20 minutes.

"We'll wait," said the leader and he sat down at the cashier's desk.

"How about the money drawers?" he suddenly asked, and jumping up he walked around to the cages of the paying and receiving tellers and taking the money, amounting in all to less than $300, dumped it into a flour sack and again sat down.

One Bank Cleaned Out.

Bob and Emmett Dalton in the meantime were having better luck at the First National Bank. When they entered the bank they found within Cashier Ayers, his son, Albert Ayers, and Teller W. H. Shepherd. None of them was armed and with levelled revolvers the brother bandits easily intimidated them. Albert Ayers and Teller Shepherd were kept under the muzzles of Emmett Dalton's revolver, while Bob forced Cashier Ayers to strip the safe vault and cash drawers of all the money contained in them and place it in a sack. Fearing to leave them behind lest they should give the alarm before the bandits should be able to mount their horses and escape the desperadoes marched the officers of the bank out of the door with the intention of keeping them under guard while they made their escape. The party made its appearance at the door of the bank just as Liveryman Spears and his companions of the marshal's posse took their positions in the square.

The Battle Begins.

When the Dalton brothers saw the armed men in the square they appreciated their peril on the instant, and leaving the bank officers on the steps of the bank building ran for their horses. As soon as they reached the sidewalk Spears' rifle came quickly to position, an instant later it spoke and Bob Dalton, the leader of the notorious gang, fell in his tracks dead. There was not a quiver of a muscle after he fell. The bullet struck him in the right temple and plowed through his brain and passed out just above the left eye. Emmett Dalton had the start of his brother, and before Spears could draw a bead on him he had dodged behind a corner of the bank.

The Bandits Fire a Volley.

The shot which dropped Bob Dalton aroused "Texas Jack's" band in Congdon's Bank. Running to the windows they saw their leader prostrate on the ground. Raising their rifles to their shoulders they fired one volley out of the windows. Two men fell at the volley. Cashier Ayers fell on the steps of his bank, shot through the groin. Shoemaker Brown, of the attacking party in the square, was shot through the body. He was quickly removed to his shop, but died just as he was carried within.

The firing attracted the attention of Marshal Connolly, who, collecting more men, ran hurriedly to the scene of the conflict. After firing their volley from the window of the bank the bandits, appreciating that their only safety lay in flight, attempted to escape. They ran from the door of the bank firing as they fled, the Marshal's posse firing at the fleeing bandits. Spears' trusty Winchester spoke twice more in quick succession, and Joseph Evans and "Texas Jack" fell dead, both shot through the head.

A General Fusillade.

In the general fusillade, Grant Dalton, one of the two surviving members of Texas Jack's squadron, Marshal Connolly and George Cubine were mortally hit and died on the field. Allie Ogle, the only survivor of the band, succeeded in escaping to the alley where the horses were tied, and mounting the swiftest horse of the lot fled south in the direction of the Indian Territory

Emmett Dalton Dies Hard.

Emmett Dalton had already reached the alley in safety, but he had some trouble in getting mounted and Allie Ogle had already made his escape before Emmett got fairly started. Several of the posse, anticipating that horses would be required, were already mounted and pursued the fleeing bandits. Emmett Dalton's horse was no match for the fresher animals of his pursuers. As his pursuers closed on him he turned suddenly in his saddle and fired upon his would-be captors. The latter answered with a volley and Emmett toppled from his horse, hard hit. He was brought back to town and died late yesterday afternoon.

He made an ante-mortem statement, confessing to the various crimes committed by the gang, of which he was a member.

Only One Escapes.

Allie Ogle had about 10 minutes' start of his pursuers and was mounted on a swift horse. At 5 o'clock yesterday he had not been captured. After the battle was over search was made for the money which the bandits had secured from the two banks. One sack was found under the body of Bob Dalton, and the other was found tightly clenched in Texas Jack's hand.

Crowds View the Bodies.

The bodies of those of the attacking party who were killed were removed to their respective homes, while the bodies of the bandits were allowed to remain where they had fallen until the arrival of the coroner from Independence, who ordered them removed to the court house. There he held an inquest, the jury returning a verdict in accordance with the facts. The inquest over the bodies of the citizens will be postponed until the result of the pursuit of Allie Ogle is known. During the time the bodies remained in the square they were viewed by hundreds of the people of this and surrounding towns, who, having heard of the tragedy, came in swarms to inspect the scene.

The excitement was intense, and the fate of Ogle, should he be captured, will be hanging by the people.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling, Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

The convention was held in the Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville, and the gathering of the many devoted women so earnestly interested in the cause of missions throughout the world was productive of much good both in intensifying the missionary spirit and giving the workers deeper insight and wider knowledge of the importance of this great work. The open meeting was largely attended. The delegates had the pleasure and profit of of listening to the inspiring addresses of Miss Lund, a returned missionary from Japan, and Mrs. Gooderham, President of the Board. St. Peter's Charity Concert.

A most pleasing and successful entertainment was given in the opera house on Wednesday evening, by the ladies of St. Peter's cathedral in the interest of charity. The ladies are to be congratulated on the large number who attended and the splendid programme presented. The financial part of the event must have been very gratifying to the ladies who laboured zealously to make the charity concert a success. Refreshments were served during the evening in the hall adjoining.

An Ashburnham Wedding.

There was a very pleasant evening spent at the home of Mrs. Emery, Ashburnham, on Wednesday last, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter Martha to Mr. R. J. Goodenough, of Coe Hill. The interesting ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. MacWilliams, pastor of St. Andrew's church. Mr. George Beavis and Miss Minnie Emery acted the part of groomsman and bridesmaid. A large number of friends and acquaintances were present. The gifts were numerous and handsome. An elaborate supper was prepared which was evidently enjoyed by all present. The game, which is between Upper Canada College's senior fifteen, one of the best Rugby organizations of the Dominion, and the Peterborough Rugby club, will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds, and a scientific tussle, as well as a hard contested match, is looked for by the many admirers of the game in Peterborough. The home team had splendid practices last night and the night previous, which presage a good showing against the prowess and acknowledged fine playing of their opponents—if not actual victory. The contest will begin sharply at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The Market Committee Meet.

A meeting of the market committee, Councillor Winch, chairman, was held last night to consider the account amounting to $637 of Mr. Carveth, contractor for the new market scales building. The matter caused not a little discussion at the council meeting on Monday night because the original amount contracted for was $485. Last night the committee passed the account, Mr. Belcher, architect, having properly certified to the account. The petition of Mr. Green, market clerk, for certain sundry improvements to the market scales and new building was not entertained, except the committee ordered eavetroughs to be placed around the shed to keep the rain from dropping on the scales. In the account Mr. Winch stated this morning the sum of $37 was not appropriated to the new market building, but for the erection of the gates and board fence around the yard at the back of the fire hall where the town waggons are kept.

The By-law Passed in East Northumberland.

Voting on the by-law to grant the sum of $50,000 towards the construction of the Cobourg, Northumberland and Pacific Railroad, of which Mr. R. Mulholland, town, is president of the board of directors, took place yesterday in the townships of Haldimand, Hamilton and Alnwick. The bonus by-law was carried by substantial majorities in Haldimand and Hamilton townships but was defeated by ten votes in Alnwick. It will be remembered that the by-law to grant $50,000 towards the proposed road was carried in West Northumberland recently. The building of the road is now an established fact. Mr. Mulholland was out electioneering in the interest of the road in the townships last week and is well pleased at the way in which the by-law has met popular approval. Among those who worked energetically in its interest from Cobourg and elsewhere were Messrs. R. J. Winch, Dr. Greer, John Beatty, Wm. Croft, John Throop, Robt. Weir and others.

rim Asiatic Cholera is marching th stealthy but steady strides to these estern shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary nce, with powerful disinfectant, nigations, and rigid quarantine regtions, stands guarding our ports. But this fell destroyer on pestilential ng seems to float in the very air and y all efforts to beat him back. herever there lingers impurity and trefaction he takes up his abode, and e seeds of the pestilence germinate l multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperae. Let the sewers be flushed and ry form of impurity be swept away. t the health of the community be intained to the highest possible gree. But in addition to all this let ry individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most pert and complete system of sewerage, fying the utmost art of man to rival. A wise Creator has provided means the eradication of all effete and pure materials from the human dy.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a fect combination of the best and st energetic remedies provided by a neficent Providence for the purpose cleansing the whole system, "flushg the sewers," rousing up the liver, kidneys and the whole intestinal et to their proper functions and at same time imparting vigor and tone the whole system, that it is with the most confidence that we recommend to the public as the best preventive the fearful ravages of that justly aded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

The C. P. R. have erected a new tool house ween the station and the bridge, just east of rge street.

Mr. Michael McDonnell, who appealed inst the result of the primary examination hich he wrote in June last, was informed terday that his appeal had been allowed by Educational Department. HIS FIRST EXPERIENCE!

In August last, Jack camped with a few friends in a quiet and secluded spot, on the banks of the St. Maurice river, where the party had located for fishing and sport.

Jack's first night under canvas brought him a cough and hoarseness, which, for two days, was neglected and unheeded. It becames so troublesome on the third night, that one of his party came forward with a bottle, saying: "Here, Jack, use this as often as your cough troubles you tonight; it will certainly relieve you before morning."

The remedy proved to be Harvard Bronchial Syrup, which Jack had seen used with great effect in his own home. Jack was delighted to get hold of such a cough preparation; and it required no urging to induce him to use it.

Jack was up early next morning and took a bath in the waters of the river, and never felt better. Every touch of hoarseness was gone, and the rough was a thing of the past. Harvard Bronchial Syrup had done its work quickly and effectually. All were gratified and surprised; and declared that in future excursions and campings Harvard Bronchial Syrup must always have a place in their outfit.

DEATH OF AN AGED COLORED MAN IN TORONTO.

He Came of a Family of Centenarians—Never Used Tobacco and Converted His Whisky Flask Into an Oil Can at 50—For the Last Half Century a Regular Church Attendant.

TORONTO, Oct. 6. — Though several sceptical individuals denying the possibility of the life of man being protracted beyond the period of 100 years have maintained that no such instance of longevity can be produced, satisfactory evidence to confute this statement and establish indisputably the fact of the existence of numerous centenarians is extant. One of these instances is that of Deacon Tinsley of the Queen-street Colored Baptist Church, who died in Toronto yesterday, and whose extreme and antediluvian age rests on such well-authenticated grounds that no reasonable doubt can be entertained as to its truth. The Christian name of this venerable patriarch was John Merryweather, and he was born in Richmond, Va., July 1, 1783, consequently being aged 109 years 3 months and 4 days at the time of his decease.

Tinsley escaped from slavery in 1833 and came to Toronto, where he resided a short time, but subsequently went to Cincinnati. He finally settled in Toronto in 1843 and has resided here ever since, following the avocation of contractor and builder for years.

A Family of Centenarians.

The old gentleman never used tobacco, and gave up the use of liquor 60 years ago. Since that time he has used the flask for oil for his carpenter's tools and was fond of exhibiting it as a token of his abstinence. He married in 1811, and had four sons and one daughter, all the family but one son surviving him. He had three sisters, all natives of New Orleans; one, Mrs. Nancy Kincaide, died seven years ago at the age of 113; Mrs. Agnes Purcelle was 111 years of age when she died, and the remaining sister, Mrs. Polly Jacobs, is at present living in New Orleans at an advanced age.

Mr. Tinsley was of late years a great talker and loved to recount events of his earlier life.

He has attended the Colored Baptist Church in Queen-street ever since he lived in the city and was a deacon there. He it was who offered up the Jubilee prayer last year.

THE IRISH CRICKETERS.

Their Third Philadelphia Match Was a Draw—They Sail on Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Owing to the cold weather the third and deciding game between the Irish team and All Philadelphia was declared a draw by mutual consent at the conclusion of yesterday's play.

The wicket had become so hard that the ball rose at the batsmen in a dangerous manner.

The first match was won by the Irishmen by 127 runs and the second lost by them by 24 runs. In the match brought to a close Tuesday the Irishmen scored 188 in their first inning and had lost 6 wickets for 87 in their second when play was finished. The Philadelphians made 133 in their first inning and did not bat in their second.

There is no doubt the Irish team was greatly underestimated. The visitors compare favorably with Lord Hawke's eleven in all departments of the game, having more and, with possibly one exception, better bowlers. They are an equally good fielding team and a stronger batting eleven, as although the former team had one or two batsmen of greater ability than any of the Irishmen, they had a big tail end, whereas any one of our present visitors is able to make runs.

The chief point about the Irish bowling is its accuracy. Three balls out of five are dead on the wickets and all have such a big spin on that it is suicidal to hit unless the batsman goes right out to the ball.

The Irishmen will sail for home on Saturday on the Umbria.

There is a likelihood of an Australian team visiting Philadelphia in 1893, and also a team of Philadelphia gentlemen visiting Great Britain.

THE CHOLERA.

The Recent Outbreak Originated in Afghanistan.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The Marine Hospital Bureau has caused to be translated and published a cholera article from the leading medical journal of Constantinople. The article states that the eastern and southern part of the trans-Caucasus were the focus of the epidemic, and from June 20 to August 24 there were about 30,000 choleraic deaths in the Caucasus, out of a population of 500,000. The Caucasus has been the most virulent focus ever known in a cholera epidemic. The epidemic started from Djellabad, a city in Afghanistan, in December, 1891. It slowly traversed the mountainous territory, reaching Herat in March, 1892. It gained Meshed in May. From Meshed it reached the Trans-Caspian Railway on the Caspian Sea about June 30. It was therefore over six months traveling from Afghanistan to the Caspian Sea. There it encountered railways and routes of navigation, and traveled to St. Petersburg and Hamburg in less than two months.

Reports from Holland.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 6.—There were reported throughout Holland 10 new cases of cholera and five deaths.

Sir W. P. Howland a Promoter.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—There was another gathering at Waterdown last night in connection with the proposed electric railway between Guelph and Hamilton, through Waterdown. Sir W. P. Howland of Toronto was to have been present, but was unable to get away from home. He, however, sent a telegram authorizing the use of his name as one of the applicants for the charter of incorporation of the company which Mr. W. O. Sealey is at the head of. Mr. Howland promised to subscribe stock. The reading of the telegram gave much satisfaction, though all were disappointed that Mr. Howland could not be present.

Accused of Outrage.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Albert Coon was arrested yesterday out at Freelton for an alleged aggravated assault, with intent to outrage Mrs. Hamilton, who is over 70 years of age. Coon was brought to the jail yesterday by a county constable.

A Georgian Episode.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Isaiah Mortou, colored, was shot and killed by Dan Bowles at the Poor House precinct, five miles from this city. A number of Democratic negroes, led by Bowles, were marching to the polls when eight or ten Third Party negroes, led by Horton, rushed into the Democratic line. Horton ran up and struck Bowles twice, knocking him to his knees. He had his hand on Bowles' collar and was preparing to strike him a third time, when Bowles drew a pistol and shot him through the heart. A coroner's jury composed of four Democrats and two Third Party men rendered a verdict of justifiable homicide.

THE PLAGUE IN A PRISON.

CHOLERA IN LONDON'S HOUSE OF CORRECTION.

It is Not Known How the Infection Found Its Way In—The Man Who Died Was Committed in December—Two Other Cases Reported—Death of a Man in Cork From the Disease.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A prisoner who had been confined since December in the House of Correction here died from cholera last night. No trace of the infection from outside the House of Correction has been found, though a strict investigation has been made to determine how the disease was introduced. Two more cases are reported to-day in the same institution.

THE LONG DISTANCE RIDE.

A German Lieutenant Makes a Good Record.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—The Germans are jubilant over the brilliant record made by Lieut. Reitzenstein, who traversed the distance in 73 hours and 6 minutes. He missed the proper road and went 25 miles out of the way, and to this alone is attributed his not having beaten the best record thus far made. The horse ridden by Lieut. Reitzenstein is an old English half-blooded animal and drew a mail cart in Brussels for many years.

An enormous crowd gathered on the Templehof Field and awaited the last of the Austrian riders. Six hundred carriages passed the winning post and the Templehof Common for a mile was black with people. To-night the Franz Josef Regiment gave a banquet to the Austrians.

A Competitor Came in on Foot.

VIENNA, Oct. 7.—Capt. Foerster, a German competitor, reached Floundorf in 75 hrs. and 14 mins. He is a well-known sprinter, and for a long distance he ran and led his horse. He finished on a stiff run on foot. The Germans now hold the second and fourth places in the competition.

Only Six Patients in Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Oct. 7.—The burgomaster of this city received the consuls of the various powers stationed here and described to them the sanitation of the city. Thirty consuls were present. The burgomaster stated that between Aug. 5 and Sept. 5 there were 220 cases of cholera in the city and that 78 of those attacked had died. Six patients, he added, were still under treatment.

The burgomaster asked the consuls to request their governments to mitigate the quarantine imposed by them upon arrivals from Antwerp.

The Pope Ailing.

BERLIN, Oct. 7.—A telegram was received from Rome at the Imperial Chancellor's office on Saturday, saying that the Pope was not well and Dr. Ceccarelli had been called in several times. It appears that his holiness is suffering from physical and mental prostration.

It is believed here that the illness of Leo is more serious that is stated in the despatch.

In Memory of Parnell.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Sprigs of ivy were worn by many people in Dublin and other cities of Ireland yesterday out of respect to the memory of Parnell, and it seems probable that this observance of the anniversary of his death will become a permanent institution.

A Busy Day For the Executioner.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Oct. 7.—Friday will be a harvest day for the hangman in South Carolina. Three negroes, a white man, and four negresses will leave this world by the rope route. All have been convicted of brutal murders.

The Statement Was Cheered

CALCUTTA, Oct. 7.—The Dewar made an address yesterday to the Assembly of Mysore, in the course of which he stated that the the Maharajah's Government was ready to alter the law so as to make the marriages of girls below 10 years of age and of men above 50 to girls under 16 criminal offences. This was greeted with loud cheers.

THE MURRAY CASE.

GRAVENHURST HAS A GENUINE SENSATION.

The Strange Story of a Brakeman—Given up for Lost—The Townspeople Excited—Interview With the Mayor.

(Toronto Mail.)

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 29.—The great fire that swept this town into ashes a few years ago did not create more of a sensation than the case of Sam Murray. A short sketch of the affair was given in the Mail on September 23rd, being copied from the local paper. The following day this letter was received at the Mail office:

DEAR SIR,—In this morning's Mail there appears a lengthy article purporting to be copied from a Gravenhurst paper, in which one Sam Murray is said to have been snatched from the jaws of death through the wonderful merits of a quack medicine called Dodd's Kidney Pills.

I have been for years a regular reader of the Mail, and often noted your announcement "If you see it in the Mail it's so." I would like to ask does Sam Murray exist in the flesh or is he a myth existing only in the fertile imagination of some patent medicine man who would hesitate at no statement to carry out his designs of gulling the public.

In the interest of truth and science some member of your staff should personally investigate this case, and either prove it true or else stamp it as a fraud and a falsehood.

Yours, etc.,
——, M.D.

Such a letter could not go unchallenged, and to prove the truth or falsehood of the story as suggested a member of the Mail staff was detailed to go to Gravenhurst and find out if such a man as Sam Murray lived there and to thoroughly investigate his case.

In accordance with these instructions I arrived here this afternoon. The finger of autumn has already touched nature in this great summer resort. The trees are turning many colors and the rocks are looking bleak and uninviting. The wharves are deserted except for a stray hunter or two with guns going north to chase the unoffending partridge, for the new game law will not permit deer shooting till November. The saw mills are still running, and the dripping logs are rapidly being chewed up by the circular saws into piles of golden coloured lumber. The streets of the town are rather deserted, for it is the off-season between the rush of the summer tourists and the hunters and hardy lumbermen who start north into the great pine forests in a few weeks. In order to get a clue to Sam Murray I first found the mayor of the town, Mr. J. J. McNeill. Mr. McNeill is a middled-aged man, with a brown beard and a very pleasant manner. He has an air of business about him, and combines the push and energy of the lumberman with the savoir faire of the man of the world. He has political aspirations, if what they say is true, and a few years from now may see him sitting in some of our halls of legislation.

THE MAYOR OF GRAVENHURST.

"Do you know if a man called Sam Murray lives in Gravenhurst?" he was asked.

"Yes, I guess you will find Sam Murray up there painting the town hall. Murray is the man everybody is talking about, so I guess he's the man you want."

"Who is this Murray. Do you know anything about him?"

"Well, Murray has been living here six or seven years with his family. He worked in a mill for a time and then went to work on the Northern Railway. He was rather unfortunate as a brakesman, for he lost a portion of his hand. One night in summer he fell down here for dead. He revived, and the same thing happened several times. Then he was laid up and we all thought that he was going to die. We expected him to die every minute. One night I remember Mr. James Anderson and I called to see how he was getting along. The doctor was in at the time, and as we stood at his bedside the doctor said that 'Sam was used up,' and there was not much prospect of his ever recovering, that it was only a question of a few weeks at most."

"Did the doctor say what was the matter with him?"

"He called it some strange name, and when he said Sam's prospects were so slim, we felt rather sorry for his family. The general opinion was that he would only live a short time, as his case was considered incurable."

"Do you know what cured him?"

"Some kind of pills, I believe. All I know is that he is all right again, working at the town hall, painting it. You had better go and see himself. Anybody in town will tell you about his case."

SAM MURRAY'S STORY.

Sam Murray was found busy painting at the town hall. He is a young man about twenty-eight or twenty-nine years of age, with bright blue gray eyes, brown hair and over the middle height. He is apparently in the best of health and spirits, and does not look at all like a man who only a few short months ago was covered with sores, his limbs paralyzed, and his case given up as hopeless. He is as active and his skin and eyes as clear as those of an athlete in training. He was shown the extract from the Gravenhurst Banner published in the Mail, and was asked if he was the man referred to. He said: "Yes, I am the Sam Murray referred to, but I don't like to have my name put in the paper. I would like for the benefit of the public to tell how I was cured, but people will think that I was only anxious to get my name in the paper. You know how some people view these things." "But we want to know all about this case. Your name has already been published, and some people are unkind enough to hint that your case is not genuine, and that no such a man as Sam Murray exists."

"Well, if they do they say what is not true," said Sam, his blue eyes kindling savagely. "I have the documents to prove everything I say. The doctors gave me up. Everybody gave me up for dead. Now, I do not look like a dead man, do I? Ask anybody in Gravenhurst or any of the trainmen on the Northern railway system if they know me, and they will vouch for what I say."

"Well, the public would like to hear your story right from your own lips."

"I'll tell you then, and you can publish it if you wish. About six years ago I came to Gravenhurst. My brother and I worked in a mill for for some time. Then Mr. Torrey, the local manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, got me a job as brakesman. After working at that for some time my fingers were caught while coupling cars and I lost these fingers (holding up a hand from which three fingers were missing). This was on Sept. 17, 1890. When I got this hand crushed gangrene set in and the flesh began to mortify. I went to the Toronto General Hospital and the doctors there took me before some two hundred students and lectured to them about my hand. They used a lot of big words, and told me to come back in a week or so, and then the line of "demarcation" between the dead and living flesh of my hand would be better defined. I did not go back but had the fingers taken off, but it took the hand five months to heal. Some of the poison must have got into my system, as I never felt as well after that. I felt miserable. I was braking for some time on the Muskoka mixed, and later on I was changed to the train that runs between Gravenhurst and North Bay. I lost flesh, and some thought I was going into consumption. I went down from about 170 to 140 pounds. My back troubled me, and I had a strange feeling about the small of the back and between my shoulder blades. I often felt a strange feeling of dizziness in my head. On the evening of June 19th last year I was walking down street with a lady after getting back from a run to North Bay. I did not feel very well that day. All of a sudden I fell as if I had been shot. I was carried into Dr. Cornell's. I had no power of my lower limbs. The doctor said that I was suffering from paralysis. He told me to take great care of myself. A few days later while rowing on the lake I took another spell. This time it was my arms that gave out. They took me ashore and I revived some. After that the spells came on with greater frequency. My back was constantly bothering me, and I seemed to loose the power of my limbs. My body began to come out in sores, pimples and boils. The doctors said my blood was diseased, and that I was as good as a dead man. For months I could not sleep on my back or sides. I had to lay on my face. My limbs were so swollen that I did not wear boots for nearly two years. I belonged to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and to the insurance branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, and received sick benefits. The Grand Trunk had a number of doctors to look into my case. I was sent to Toronto a number of times at the expense of the Grand Trunk to consult specialists. At last four doctors gave sworn certificates that I could never recover so as to work on a train again. The Grand Trunk Railway paid me half my life insurance on account of total disability. One day a little book was thrown into my door. My wife picked it up and read it to me. The book was called "Kidney Talk," and it said that diseased kidneys were the cause of a great many diseases that were ascribed to the liver and other organs. Diseased kidneys poisoned the blood, and the blood poisons the remainder of the system. As my back had been troubling me for a long time, it struck me that my kidneys must be affected. I had tried doctors' medicines and all the patient medicines in the market, but got no relief. It dawned on me that the pain and sore feeling in my back told diseased kidneys, also that it was the poison from the kidneys in my blood that caused the eruptions on my body and poisoning my brain and nerves gave me the fainting and paralytic spells. The book said the kidneys were the sewers that cleaned the blood of impurities thrown off from the system. I thought I would try the pills called Dodd's Kidney Pills anyway, to see if my kidneys were affected, and in this way my constitution was being undermined. We got a box of the pills from Dr. Cornell's drug store, and I had only taken a few of them when I began to feel better. When I had taken about a dozen boxes I felt as well as I ever did. People were so surprised to see me on my pins again that they would hardly believe it. The newspaper here got a hold of my story and they published it as a marvellous cure. It is. If I had not taken these pills I would have been in my grave long before this. I am sure hundreds of people are dying every year of disease brought on by diseased kidneys."

"But Mr. Murray this is your story. Have you any proof beyond this? Have you these doctors' certificates?

"Yes, at my house. You can see Mr. Torrey, the station master here. He paid my disability claim for the Grand Trunk. Come down to my place and I will show you the certificates."

Upon arriving at Murray's house he got the doctors' certificates. One is from a prominent physician who is a member of Parliament. It said that Murray's blood was poisoned, and that he would never recover.

"I said that I received my total disability claim from the Grand Trunk Railway. I am also a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. The supreme authorities are now considering my case. They have sworn certificates from the doctors to say that I will never recover. I have, however, sent the following letter to the Grand Secretary of the Brotherhood at Galesburg, Ill. Here it is:

A copy of the letter was produced, and it read as follows:

To the Grand Secretary of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Galesburg, Ill:

BROTHERS,—Although my claim for total disability has been duly passed and allowed, and up to within a short time I had fully expected to have to depend entirely on it for the sustenance of my family, I am now more than pleased to inform you, that so far as bodily health is concerned, I feel that it is fully regained, and consider myself in honour bound by the ties of brotherhood to submit my case conscientiously regardless of beneficiary considerations. Up to a few days ago, although noting gradual improvement, I could not realize that any more than temporary relief was being obtained and lived in dread of a relapse to the old condition. Some time ago I was induced to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. I did so with visible benefit from the start and I fully believe has resulted in permanent restoration—although the doctors caution me against again taking up train work. In connection with this statement I would respectfully ask you to take into consideration the fact that for two years I have been unable to work and am at present not only without the money but considerably embarrassed on account of living expenses during my sickness. Any consideration there that I am entitled to or benefit that you may see fit to extend at the present time will not only be thankfully received but enable me to accept employment and for which I am thankful to say I feel fully competent.

Yours fraternally,
SAM MURRAY.

"Where did you get these pills you speak of?"

"I got them at Dr. Cornell's drug store. They are called Dodd's Kidney Pills and they are worth their weight in gold. They are made in Toronto. Let me see, I'll give you the address," pulling a little book out of his pocket. "This book is Kidney Talk. I always carry a couple of copies to give to my friends. This little book saved my life and I prize it next to my Bible. Everybody should read this book. The medicine is made by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto. You should call and see some of the people that make the pills and tell them about my case. I have recommended the pills to my friends and those who have tried them tell me they give good results. But you had better see Dr. Cornell, Mr. Torrey, and some other people in Gravenhurst. Don't take my word for it."

Time will not permit this to be done for this issue, so they will be interviewed to-morrow.

THE GREAT RIDING RACE.

The Austrian Officers Carry off All the Honors.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—At 8.30 o'clock last evening the Austrian officers held the 12 best records. The German rider, Captain Tepperlaki, holds the thirteenth place. Prince Leopold is sixteenth. Thirty Austrians have reached Berlin, while only 10 Germans have arrived at Floriadorf. The horses of five German riders died on the way. None of the Austrian horses died. Count Koenigsmark, who started from Berlin with the third batch of riders, has a good chance of beating the records of Count Starhemberg and Lieut. Miklos, as he has reached Igbu.

The Emperor William has taken the utmost interest in the race and has kept thoroughly well informed as to the progress made by the riders. The first of the German officers to derive any material benefit from the race is Prince Leopold, the first of the starters to arrive at Floriadorf. As a reward for the feat he accomplished the Emperor has promoted him to be a lieutenant-colonel.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

WORDS RAISE A TEMPEST

THE ARCHBISHOP OF WESTMINSTER OFFENDS PROTESTANTS.

In a Letter Commenting Upon the Election of Mr. Stuart Knill, a Roman Catholic, to the Lord Mayorship of London—He Refers to Protestantism as a "False Religion."

LONDON, Oct. 6.—A letter written by the Most Rev. William Vaughan, Catholic Archbishop of Westminster, in which he praises English impartiality as shown in the election of Mr. Stuart Knill to the Lord Mayorship of London, but says that a Catholic could not partake of the services of a "false religion," has raised a tempest. The newspapers have received and printed many letters protesting against the statements of the Archbishop and declaring that unless Mr. Knill, when he takes office as Lord Mayor, shows himself independent of Archbishop Vaughan such bigotry will militate against a repetition in the future of such toleration as was shown in the election of a Catholic to the Lord Mayorship.

One writer says that Archbishop Vaughan seems to entirely forget that the great mass of the British people are Protestants and that they do not relish seeing their religion described as false. The writer reminds the Archbishop that the late Cardinal Manning's success in raising Catholics to their present position in England was due to his liberality of thought and true Christian feeling.

Councillor Moore, who at the meeting of the Livery of London and the Court of Aldermen to elect a Lord Mayor made such a vigorous protest against the selection of Alderman Knill, has not given up the fight against the Lord Mayor elect. He has advertised in the newspapers asking all Britons who do not favor the election of a Catholic as Lord Mayor to communicate with him.

Low Churchmen Driven Off.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Anglican Church Congress opened at Folkestone and a procession was formed, headed by the Archbishop of Canterbury. The procession marched through crowded streets to the church, in which divine services were held.

A number of Low Churchmen stood near the hall in which the Congress meets, bearing a banner upon which was inscribed: "We represent Ridley and Latimer at the stake, exhorting churchmen to withstand idolatry, priestcraft, Ritualism and Popish procession."

The protestors tried to follow the procession with their banner. The spectators resented this, and a number of them set upon the Low Churchmen and tore their banner into ribbons.

PROTECTION WON'T ANSWER.

That is the Opinion of Hon. Leonard Courtney, M.P.

LONDON, Oct. 6. — The Right Hon. Leonard H. Courtney, member of the House of Commons for the Bodmin division of Cornwall, a member of the Opposition, addressed a meeting at Liskeard, Cornwall, yesterday. He said the farmers must not expect that any duty would be imposed that would make food dearer than was according to the natural supply or that would impede in even a slight degree free import. There were undoubtedly symptoms of reaction in favor of protection, but however strong these manifestations might be he believed that the House of Commons would remain firm in the matter of free trade. He was quite certain regarding the hopelessness and impropriety of expecting Parliament to do anything fundamentally changing the position of farmers as competing producers with America and the colonies.

MATTERS AT HOMESTEAD.

Carnegie Officials Say That the Strike is Over.

HOMESTEAD, Oct. 6.—About 250 feet of the mill fence, or as it is known here, the palisade to "Fort Frick," was torn down yesterday afternoon by workmen of the firm, and last evening the outer mill yard from the restaurant to the company's stores was open. The remainder of the fence along Eighth-avenue will be removed today, and the company's houses inside the yard will be opened to the road.

The company officials say the reason for tearing down the fence is that so far as they are concerned the strike is practically over and they desire operations to continue as they did in May.

Several hundred of the locked out men gathered to watch the operations. They protest to look upon it as an invitation to return to work.

The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is well known to the medical profession, and universally approved. The reputation of the firm guarantees excellence and uniformity in the medicine, and the world's experience for nearly half a century has fully demonstrated its value.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse, till the pain was almost unbearable, and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do no intend to be without this valuable remedy if I can help it.

Wm. Renwick, M. D., M.R.C.S.D., Victoria, B. C., writes: I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in cases of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

WATCH REPAIRING!

This season, so far, has been a very busy one in our Watch Repairing Department. People are surprised at the excellence of our workmanship, having been under the impression that work, of such a high grade, was not possible outside of the large cities. THE DEATH OF JUDGE RITCHIE.

Why It Was Not Referred To at the Opening of the Supreme Court.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The reason no reference was made to the death of the late Chief Justice Ritchie at the opening of the Supreme Court the other day was because the late Chief Justice had himself set the example of making no reference to the death of his predecessor when it occurred. Nor was any reference made in the court to the death of Chief Justice Richards when that occurred. But a private letter of condolence was drawn up and signed by all the judges of the court and forwarded to Lady Ritchie. On the whole this practice of the court ought to meet with public approval.

THE CABINET COUNCIL.

The Privy Council Did Not Sit Yesterday Owing to the Absence of Sir John Thompson—It Will Meet in Montreal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—The Privy Council meeting called for 2 p.m. yesterday was not held on account of the non-arrival from Montreal of Sir John Thompson, who has been there since Monday. Sir John Abbott went to Montreal by the 4 o'clock train, and it is probable a meeting of the council will be held there on Friday. Sir John Abbott and Hon. Mr. Foster will sail for England on Saturday.

SNOW STORMS.

Flurries in Canada and as Far South as Pennsylvania.

FRACKVILLE, Pa. Oct. 6.—The thermometer fell rapidly yesterday, and increasing coldness as the day progressed brought with it a blustering snow storm at noon which soon covered the ground along the whole mountain from here to Andenreid. Below the weather is not so cold, and the snow disappears almost as rapidly as it falls.

The Catskills Covered.

BUFFALO, Oct. 6.—There was quite a flurry of snow here yesterday. Light falls are reported from different parts of the state. The peaks of the Catskills are covered with snow.

MARKHAM ANNUAL FAIR.

The Largest Number of Entries Ever Recorded.

MARKHAM, Oct. 6.—Markham Fair opened yesterday with 3500 entries, largest in its history—300 entries in horses, 200 in cattle, 192 in sheep, 250 in poultry, 425 in butter, 775 in ladies' work and all other classes well filled. The speeding classes for to-morrow's races are all filled and some first-class trotting will be seen.

Among the exhibitors in horses and cattle are Graham Bros. of Claremont, J. I. Davidson and George Davidson of Pickering and John Laurie, William Milliken, John Miller, James Torrance, George Gormley of Markham.

The display in the floral hall is the finest ever seen here. An immense crowd is looked for to-day. The village was filled with visitors last night.

The visit of the Lieutenant-Governor on Friday will be an event in the history of the fair. Addresses are to be presented by the Corporation and Agricultural Society. The children of the public school are to be present in a body and sing the national airs and give an exhibition of club-swinging.

A special train will leave Toronto at 12.15 on Friday.

CANADIAN WHEAT GRADES.

Toronto Will Send a Delegate to New York to Confer on the Matter.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—The Trunk Line Association will meet in New York on the 19th inst., to consider among other things the much-vexed questions of grading of Canadian wheat intended for export, through bills of lading and storage of grain.

Invitations have been sent out to the New York Chamber of Commerce, the Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg Boards of Trade to send delegates to confer on the matter.

Immediately after "call" yesterday the grain section of the Toronto Board of Trade met to consider the proposition. On motion of Mr. James Goodall it was unanimously decided to depute Mr. L. A. Tilley, manager W. P. Howland & Co., to represent the section in New York. Another meeting will be held in a few days to further instruct Mr. Tilley.

Another Draw for Stratford and Barrie.

BARRIE, Oct. 6.—The Stratford and Barrie lacrosse match yesterday ended in another draw. Referee McConaghy of Toronto lined the men up at 2.35, Barrie throwing against a stiff north wind. After W. Moore of Barrie was ruled off for a foul Barrie had the best of the game, but were unable to score through Stratford's strong defence with one home man off. At 4.35 time was called, and as Stratford had to leave at 5 p.m. the referee declared the match a draw, no games being scored.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is not accidental but is the result of careful study and experiment by educated pharmacists.

DIED BY HIS OWN HAND.

Tired of Life, and Winter Staring Him In the Face, Samuel Martin Takes Arsenic and Dies.

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—Samuel Martin, laborer, 103 Duke-street, deliberately took his life yesterday morning by swallowing a dose of arsenic.

The cause of the suicide, as assigned by his wife and children, was morbidness caused by being thrown out of employment consequent upon the closing of navigation for the season.

Martin was 48 years of age, and for the past week has been acting in a peculiar manner. Thursday morning a change for the better was noticeable and he assisted the other members of the house old in making preparations for the winter.

Yesterday morning he rose at 6 o'clock, and leaving the house did not reappear again until about 9.30, when a stranger assisted him to his doorstep and then departed. Mrs. Martin came to the door and, assisted by Mrs. Foley, a neighbor, helped Martin into the house, he apparently being quite ill.

He remarked at the time that he "had fixed himself this time," but no notice was taken of the words until gasping for breath he had to be carried into the yard in rear of the house, where he expired a few minutes later.

A bottle supposed to contain arsenic was found on the person of the deceased and given by Dr. Wallace to Detective Black.

Drs. King and Wallace performed a post-mortem examination in the afternoon.

Coroner W. B. Aikins held an inquest on the body in O'Connor's Hotel, King and Princess streets, last night. According to the medical evidence, arsenic was the cause of death, and the jury returned a verdict that deceased died from poison administered by his own hand.

SIX HORSES CREMATED.

The Stables and Engine House of Coulter's Coal Yard Burned.

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—Fire caused the death of six horses in William Coulter's coal and wood yard, 233-5 Parliament-street, at an early hour yesterday morning.

The fire was discovered about 2 o'clock by Police Constable Fyfe, and he turned in an alarm from Parliament and Queen-streets. When the brigade arrived the engine house and stables were enveloped in flames, and it was impossible to reach the struggling horses tethered within. Everything was consumed, not even a set of harness being saved. The boiler and machinery are damaged beyond repair; a quantity of wood and a wagon were burned.

The horses were all round worth $100 each. Five of them were owned by Mr. Coulter and the sixth was owned by J. W. Lang & Co., wholesale grocers, they having loaned it to a fruiterer named W. McBrien, who keeps a store on the opposite side of the street.

The cause of the fire is a mystery. At 11 o'clock Mr. McBrien was through the premises and everything was apparently all right then, and a constable who passed at 1.30 says the same thing. Damage is estimated at $2000 and the buildings and contents are insured in the London and Lancashire for $1500.

A couple of roughcast houses in Melady's lane, immediately adjoining Coulter's stables, narrowly escaped being destroyed.

A JURY "FIXER."

Judge MacMahon Relieves His Mind On the Subject.

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—The Criminal Assize Court re-opened yesterday promptly on time. Crown Prosecutor R. C. Clute, Q.C., drew the attention of Judge MacMahon to the fact that George Keffer, one of the petit jurymen, had been approached on the street by strangers, who had endeavored to draw him into conversation respecting the Wilson murder case with the evident intention of influencing him in behalf of the prisoner. Mr. Keffer curtly bade the strangers begone and can give no accurate description of their personality.

The Judge did not deem it advisable to call Mr. Keffer before the Grand Jury for examination, but gave timely warning that should evidence against any one be given implicating them in any such scheme as attempting to create a bias in a juryman's mind regarding any matter to be brought before him for adjudication he would have him apprehended at once and brought before the court to be dealt with in such a manner as to not only deter him, but anyone else, from ever approaching a juryman with other motives than pure ones.

True bills against Arthur Yorke for the murder of his child and against Frank Wilson for the murder of his wife and child were returned by the grand jury.

They Tell Long Stories in the West.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Major Joseph Magone walked into Chicago yesterday, completing a walk of 2100 miles from John Day, Grant County, Oregon. Major Magone started in July, and with the exception of swimming a river in Oregon on a mule's back walked every step of the way to Chicago to attend the dedicatory exercises of the World's Fair. Major Magone is 32 years old.

There can be no health for either mind or body so long as the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from all impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine recruits the wasted energies, strengthens the nerves and restores health to the debilitated system.

Notes From Ungeonia Man.

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—Joseph B. Erdman was injured at Walkerton one dark night by falling off the sidewalk at a place which, it is alleged, should have been guarded. He was seriously injured, and brought an action against the town for damages, but before the trial of the action he died. The town was then sued by his wife as representative of the deceased, and the action comes on for trial at the Walkerton Assizes. Before his death the deceased was examined as a witness de bene esse, and a motion was yesterday made to the Master in Chambers allowing that examination to be read as evidence in the present action. Judgment was reserved.

DISASTER ON THE N. P.

A Freight Train Collides With an Express—Many Injured.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 7.—A disastrous collision occurred to the Northern Pacific express which reached here last night. The passenger coach in the rear of the smoking car was completely telescoped and thrown among the debris, igniting the same, which added to the alarm of the people.

Those in the rear coaches were badly shaken up, but immediately regained their presence of mind, and at once commenced the work of rescue. Twelve men were taken out of the wreck more or less injured, and, in addition, two firemen and the engineer of the freight train. Two passengers are known to have been killed, and the engineer of the express is not expected to live.

It is certain that other passengers in the smoking car were killed, but the bodies were not got out from under the debris at the time, as all efforts were directed to saving the injured. The general opinion among the passengers was that the accident was occasioned by the anxiety of the crew of the freight to get in, as they had been on the road a considerable time.

Edwin Booth Has a Bad Fall.

LAKEWOOD, N.J., Oct. 7.—Edwin Booth is at the Laurel House here. While in his yesterday, it is said, he became dazed. Before his daughter could reach his side he fell, striking his head on the stone hearth and receiving a bad wound over the eye. He had to be carried to his bed. The fall was most unfortunate, as the actor is in poor health.

Race-Wire Tappers Arrested.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 7.—The police unearthed yesterday a gigantic wire-tapping lay-out by means of which the race reports to pool rooms here were to be held out until big bets could be placed. John Dougherty and Robert Smith, telegraph operators, and several others are under arrest. The plant was concealed in the fireplace of a room on fashionable Garfield-place, rented for the purpose. The wires to the pool-rooms are strung across the top of the house and the connection was readily made. Eastern horsemen were in the scheme, but they have not yet been arrested.

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

FRANK WILSON CHARGED WITH KILLING HIS WIFE AND CHILD.

The Crown Allege That He Deliberately Drowned His Wife in Order to Enjoy the Favors of a Sylph With Whom He Was Smitten—A Boat Ride and How It Terminated.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—At the York Assize Court yesterday Frank Wilson was placed on trial on a charge of having murdered his wife and child near Keswick.

Wilson is a young man of rather prepossessing appearance. He is 27 years of age, but being clean shaved presents a much more youthful personality.

He was neatly attired in a diagonal suit of clothes and wore a small black tie. His hair was dressed pompadour fashion, his complexion clear and healthy.

Almost an hour was taken up in empanelling a jury. The crown asked six to stand aside and the same number were challenged by the defence.

Crown Prosecutor Clute rapidly gave a short resume of the case. He stated that the prisoner had been married some 8 years, that he formerly ran a hotel, but lately had been living with his father at the old homestead, near the village of Keswick, about 30 miles north of Toronto, where his wife and three little children also were. There had been differences existing between the young couple, and at times epithets and threats had been interchanged. Long prior to the accident the prisoner had been utterly regardless of his duties as a husband. His relations with other women were notorious, and latterly he had been paying most particular and marked attention to Miss Kellmar, a rural belle, taking her for drives and walks and making no effort to hide the impression she had made upon him. Someone, presumably a friend of the young lady's, sent her an anonymous letter, putting the facts of the case plainly before her and enlarging upon the danger she ran in being so intimate with a married man. Miss Kellmar thought the case over and decided to give Wilson up, writing him to that effect. The love-sick swain, however, did not view the matter in that light, and meeting Miss Kellmar, by dint of his importunities, overcame her scruples of conscience and persuaded her to go driving again.

The Last Boat-Ride.

Wilson, his wife and little deaf and dumb daughter started on Sunday, Aug. 14, to spend a portion of the day with relatives of theirs, the Armstrongs, living a short distance up the river.

On the return trip the trio landed and partook of luncheon, and it was at this juncture of the proceedings, the Crown asserts, that Wilson perpetrated the crime with which he stands charged at the tribunal.

At about dusk John Sedore, being at a barn about 45 rods distant from the scene of the tragedy, thought he heard a weird, inarticulate noise come floating up on the still night air from the river. He describes it as resembling a forced laugh, or something between a cry and a laugh. It instantly attracted his attention, but hearing sounds of splashing proceeding from the same direction he came to the conclusion that a rowing party was coming down the river, and a few minutes afterwards walked to a point from where he could observe a spot in the stream which the party must necessarily pass. Just then he saw Wilson running up from the river-bed moaning and crying to himself, and upon becoming cognisant of Sedore's presence ejaculated: "My God; my wife and child are lost!" He then ran on and alarmed other residents in the vicinity.

The bodies were not found until midnight, both close in shore, the woman in four and a half feet of water and the child in six feet eight inches.

Upon examination it was found that upon the body of the former there were bruises, the principal one being on the breast, three inches above the right nipple and to the left. It was oval in shape and about two by three inches in diameter. The blood had coagulated under the skin, proving that the blow had been delivered with considerable force. There were marks on the sides of the throat and neck and another bruise on the elbow.

The body of the wife was found within two feet of a log and only six from the shore. She could not have drifted there, as there is no current in the river, and besides it is full of weeds.

This was the sum and substance of the Crown Prosecutor's address to the jury, though at times the narrative of the tragedy was rendered thrilling by the effective manner in which it was related.

William Armstrong testified that on the Sunday in question the prisoner and his wife and child had spent the day at his house, Wilson being out on the water most of the time with his sisters-in-law. When the three started for home the prisoner was in the stern paddling, his wife in the centre of the skiff with her back to him and the child sitting in the bow facing them both.

Mrs. Armstrong's evidence did not throw any new light on the case.

Walter Newman stated that the first thing he noticed when the three were starting off was that Wilson had reversed his wife's seat. On the outward trip she had sat facing whereas her back was toward him now. The deceased commented on this, but was told the boat would balance better so. Witness thought this was the fact of the case, though at first some queer ideas flashed through his brain as he called to mind certain rumors which were afloat.

In the cross-examination Mr. Newman said that the prisoner was very proud of his child, and made a great pet of her.

Sarah Ann Sedore was the first one to whom the prisoner addressed himself after the tragedy. He came running to the house and exclaimed, "My God; my wife and child are drowned!" sobbing and moaning at the time.

The Two Bodies Found.

James Brecken met the prisoner on the road, when Wilson approached him and putting his arms around his neck sobbed out inarticulately: "Oh! my little girl is drowned in the river and so is my wife; what shall I do?" "My poor Frank," responded Brecken, "I don't know what you will do." He then asked where they were and received a very indefinite answer. Barker, Wilson and he then went down to the river. The boat was recovered turned upside down, and after being righted was utilized in searching for the bodies, which were recovered entangled in the weeds but a short distance from the shore.

The witness had to confess that his memory was poor when he was cornered with a question concerning some calculations which had been made only last Sunday.

The witness averred that under similar circumstances he could have saved his own wife.

Charles Sedore gave evidence to the effect that the prisoner could swim, also that on the night of the accident he was in a position where he could have heard screams if there had been any and he had heard none.

John Henry Sedore, who heard the cry and splashing, related the circumstances, which corresponded with the facts as narrated by Mr. Clute.

In the cross-examination the point was made by Mr. Bigelow that the larger boat, owned by Mr. Wilson, was very heavy, weighing almost twice as much as the one used, which was quite heavy itself. It would take two men to handle the larger boat.

Abraham Sedore thought that anyone getting out of the water on the log, where Wilson did, could easily have helped another out. The banks were sloping and slippery.

John P. Rose, half-brother to the prisoner, who took Mrs. Wilson from the water, related Wilson's story as told by him the day after the occurrence. It seems that the little girl was reaching out to get a water lily and upset the balance of the boat, throwing the occupants into the water. When Wilson rose to the surface he could see no sign of his wife and child, and working his way to the shore through the weeds went off for help. Cross-examined: "The body of the woman was covered with weeds; they were twined around her neck, and I had difficulty in raising her from the water."

A boat ride had been promised deceased for a long time; the prisoner did not want to take her this particular Sunday, as the threshers were coming next day, but she would go to Armstrongs, and refused to walk, though it was shorter to go by land.

The court adjourned at the conclusion of the cross-examination of this witness.

THE RAVAGES OF CHOLERA.

It Breaks Out Among the Troops Stationed at Berlin.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Times published an article yesterday on the cholera prospects for this and next year. It says: "We are already in October and still the epidemic marches steadily westward, despite elaborate precautions and supposed sanitary perfection. Probably the general public does not gather a clear idea of the fact that cholera is doing just what it has always done formerly—creeping quietly onward, and sowing the autumnal seeds in new ground over a wide area, which will burst forth luxuriant with the advent of summer. It is a most mischievous delusion that after September nothing more is to be feared. For individual towns and districts which have borne the brunt of a severe epidemic winter generally means delivery, but for the neighboring countries it means only the beginning of trouble."

Cholera Among the Troops.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—On Oct. 5 there were reported among the soldiers in the barracks here 40 cases of cholera. Seventeen deaths occurred on that day among the troops attacked. On Oct. 4 and 5 11 new cases and two deaths were reported in private houses in the city. It is officially stated that of those hitherto reported as attacked with cholera, 21 have been proven not to have suffered with that disease.

Eleven Deaths in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—There were reported in this city and its suburbs yesterday 18 new cases of cholera and 11 deaths.

Only One Case in Cracow.

CRACOW, Oct. 8.—Only one new case of cholera occurred here yesterday. No deaths reported.

Reports From Holland.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 8.—Eight fresh cases of cholera and seven deaths from the disease were reported throughout Holland yesterday.

Four Deaths in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Oct. 8.—The official figures place the number of new cases of cholera in this city yesterday at 24. The deaths numbered four. In Altona one new case and one death were reported.

Members of the Cooley Gang.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 8.—Three more of the notorious Cooleys were arrested yesterday and placed in jail. They were Lida, Hattie and Russell, sisters and brothers of Frank and Jack Cooley, the outlaws. The officers went to the Cooley homestead to search for the stolen booty of the dead men and were rewarded by the finding of an outhouse full of the finest quality of clothing and other articles of great value. The officers then placed the remaining members of the family under arrest, charging them with receiving stolen goods.

Dynamite at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 8.—An attempt was made to blow up the non-union boarding-house of Mrs. Murron shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning. No one was hurt, but the house was badly damaged and the occupants much frightened. A cartridge was thrown by some one unknown into the dining-room of the house. A terrific explosion followed. All the windows were broken and the room was wrecked. The beds on the second floor were thrown six feet in the air and the occupants to the floor. There were 38 persons in the house. The perpetrators escaped.

One Rate to the Fair.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 8.—Forty representatives of the passenger departments of the railroads in the General Traffic Association met here yesterday to settle World's Fair rates. The adoption of the single fare for a round-trip ticket, to be good on any road in the association, was recommended, and while not formally adopted it was manifest that the proposition met with the views of the majority of those present. The arrangement will prevail from May 1 to Nov. 10, 1893.

STARTLING REVELATIONS

DRUNKENNESS AMONG ARISTOCRATIC WOMEN IN ENGLAND.

Lady Frederick Cavendish and the Duchess of Bedford Make Startling Statements at the Church Congress in London—Alcohol Supplemented by Chloral, Chloridine and Morphia.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A sharp and probably salutary shock has been given to the highest social circles by the startling exposures in regard to the prevalence of drunkenness among aristocratic ladies made by Lady Frederick Cavendish and the Duchess of Bedford at the Church Congress. Hitherto allegations of widespread drinking practices among women of fashion and rank have been deemed prejudiced gossip, but nothing that rumor ever suggested equals the outspoken revelations made by these highly-placed leaders of society.

Lady Cavendish said although heavy drinking had been abandoned by the men the women were becoming inveterate tipplers, that many ladies have recourse to "pick-me-ups" at 11 a.m., brandy and soda during the day, wine at dinner and something hot at bedtime. Lady Cavendish protested especially against the new fashion of young ladies and old ones, too, accompanying gentlemen to the smoking room after dinner and sharing not only the cigars but also the spirits.

She said that a distinguished physician had assured her that many ladies had consulted him for nervous symptoms which revealed a condition of alcoholism bordering on delirium tremens, but that alcohol was not the only fashionable failing, as chloral, chloridine and morphia were taken in secret in boudoirs, and were adding to the maladies of modern life.

The Duchess of Bedford, taking up the theme, put the blame for these evils on the straining of nerve power through the supposed exigent demands of society until the nerves required a fillip.

The wife of Archbishop Benson, Sir William Herschell, the Dean of Rochester and others continued in a similar strain. The whole topic is deeply stirring the social elite.

DEPRESSION IN GREAT BRITAIN.

While It Is Considerable It Is Not Unprecedented.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The sensational reports current of the prevalence of severe depression in the commercial and agricultural interests of Great Britain have caused the Associated Press representative here to make special enquiries at the labor bureau and in other quarters. The officials of the labor bureau state that while the prevailing depression is considerable it is not unprecedented. Taking the returns of the whole of the trades unions reporting during September five per cent. of the number of workmen are shown to be out of work. The reports embrace 1,250,000 union workmen. The shipbuilding trade is the worst affected. Next come the cotton, iron and steel industries. No signs of improvement in the shipbuilding trade are likely to be seen in the near future.

THE BARON'S VICTIMS.

A Dutch Nobleman Who Got Himself Into Trouble in London.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The charges against Count Trent, one of the Dutch nobility, of swindling a widow under pretence of securing her a position on the stage, was resumed yesterday in the Southwark Police Court. Since the last hearing of the case the police have discovered numerous other victims of the recreant count, including one widow, a member of a noble family. Most of Trent's victims are ashamed to come forward and testify against him, dreading publicity. Sufficient evidence has been obtained, however, to convict the prisoner of having, while a married man, seduced and swindled numerous women under pretence of marriage. For one such crime he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. After yesterday's testimony was concluded the magistrate ordered Trent to be remanded for a week for further hearing.

HOUGHTON'S STRANGE ACTION.

He Refuses An Address Commending the Irish Union.

DUBLIN, Oct. 8.—The council of the Dublin Chamber of Commerce proposed to present an address to Lord Houghton, the new Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, but the Viceroy has refused to accept it, as it was stated that in the opinion of the council the union existing between Ireland and Great Britain ought to be maintained.

The Effect of McKinley.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Board of Trade returns for September show that imports decreased £2,600,000 and exports decreased £1,690,000, as compared with the corresponding month last year.

A Progressive Chinese Official Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A despatch was received yesterday from Tien-Tsin, China, announcing the death of Tong King Sing, the Imperial director of railways. The deceased was noted for his progressive views and for his friendship for foreigners.

Prince de Chimay's Successor.

BRUSSELLS, Oct. 8.—Count de Merode-Westerloo, President of the Senate, has been appointed Minister of Foreign Affairs, in succession to the Prince Caraman de Chimay, who died last March.

A Berlin Banker Sent to Prison.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Hugo Loewy, a prominent banker, has been found guilty of embezzlement and fraudulent bankruptcy and sentenced to two and a half years' imprisonment.

Troops For Indian Territory.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—On instructions from General Schofield, General Miles yesterday telegraphed to Colonel Wade at Fort Reno, I.T., authorizing him to send any troops that Indian Agent Bennett of the Choctaw nation might call for to aid him in preserving order. During the last two weeks there has been considerable rioting in the territory. Several Choctaws have been assassinated and troops are asked to maintain order.

Hanged for Infanticide.

NEWBERRY, S.C., Oct. 8.—Anne Trebble, an unmarried colored woman, was hanged here yesterday for murder of her infant in February last. She was convicted of having secreted the child in a field on the day of its birth, and of having deserted it, thereby causing its death. The condemned woman raved continuously and had to be forced upon the scaffold. Death was almost instantaneous. The woman protested innocence till the last.

THE MURRAY CASE.

FURTHER DETAILS OF THE SENSATION AT GRAVENHURST.

A Prominent Physician Interviewed—Science has its Say—Almost a Resurrection.

(Toronto Mail.)

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 30.—Further investigation discloses the fact that there is hardly anything else spoken of in this town but Sam Murray's wonderful recovery. His case is considered marvellous, and no cure at the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre ever startled people like his case has this section of the community. In the hotels you hear his name mentioned, and being well known along the different towns on the Northern railway, Murray's case attracts unusual interest.

Dr. Cornell is one of the most popular men in Gravenhurst. He runs a large drug store and has a very extensive practice. He stands high in the medical profession, and is Grand Trunk physician for that section. His drug business is one of the largest in Northern Ontario. He was seen at his office. He said: "I have known Murray for a long time. He was employed on the Grand Trunk railway as brakesman for several years. His fingers were crushed, and being one of the Grand Trunk physicians I looked after his case. One night in June, '91, he was carried into my office. He had fallen down on the street. I found that he was suffering from paralysis. He has been disabled until recently, but I don't care to talk much of his case. I am not seeking cheap notoriety."

"But, doctor, I suppose you have no objection to answer a few queries to substantiate what Murray says?"

"Well, no; go ahead."

"Was Murray ill for a long time, and is it true that his disability claims were paid by the Grand Trunk. You attended him for some time, you say, and you should know?"

"Yes, I attended him, and he was pretty low. Although I never give up hope, I thought he would never be able to get about again. After he fell the first time he kept poking about and took three or four other spells. He was then confined to his house, and later on took to his bed. Boils and eruptions broke out on his legs and arms, neck and face, and his blood was in a very bad way. He kept gradually getting worse, and everybody thought he would die. He complained of his back very much. I attributed his disease largely to overwork. I believed he would never be able to resume his duties again. He was paid his total disability claim by the Grand Trunk at that time."

"How does it come that he is about and working again?"

"Well, you see as a professional man I hardly like to say. It might look as if I were lending myself to some advertising scheme, and I would rather not say anything on that subject."

"But, doctor, that is not fair. Does Sam Murray know what cured him?"

"Well, he says, and everybody says, it was some pills he bought here that cured him."

"What pills, doctor? Do you know the name of them?"

"There you are again. Now, I said I did not want to put myself in a false position before the profession."

"But he bought the pills in your drug store. What Pills were they?"

"Well, I'll tell you the truth. They were Dodd's Kidney Pills, and remember I want you to say, if you say anything about me, this is the truth. Sam got the pills here, and he says they have cured him. I have sold a lot of them to others and they all speak highly of them."

"Doctor, would you as a physician prescribe these pills in your practice for kidney troubles?"

"Yes, I would. Knowing the active principles of the pills they are such as I would prescribe to patients suffering from kidney troubles, for they are both a tonic and a diuretic."

"Doctor, is it true that diseased kidneys poison the blood?"

"Yes, the blood gets full of uric acid."

"Will the curing of diseased kidneys cleanse the blood of uric acid and impurities?"

"Well, it is only natural to suppose that if you remove the cause of a disease you can expect a cure."

"Do you consider Sam Murray's case a remarkable one?"

"Yes, I certainly do."

A NEWSPAPER MAN.

Fred Harbridge, of the Gravenhurst Banner, was seen. He said: Sam Murray's case is causing a good deal of talk. We used to publish paragraphs that he was not expected to live over night. Every week we expected his death notice. Sam got hold of Dodd's Kidney Pills through a little book that was dropped into his house called Kidney Talk, and he took the pills and is as well as ever. When he was that bad that part of his life insurance was paid by the Grand Trunk, you may judge he was pretty low. He recovered so rapidly and miraculously that everybody is talking about his case. We had something in the paper about it. There is no denying that he is cured, and that Dodd's Pills did it. Anybody in Gravenhurst will tell you that.

A GRAND TRUNK OFFICIAL.

Mr. J. T. Torrey, Grand Trunk agent at Gravenhurst, was seen. Mr. Torrey is a middle-aged man and a great favourite in the place. He was asked if he knew Murray, and he said "Yes. I know two Murrays, Sam Murray and his brother. I put both of them to work as bbakesmen on the Grand Trunk. I remember when Sam was taken ill, and nobody expected he would get better."

"Did he get his total disability money from the Grand Trunk."

"Yes, he got his sick benefits first through me, and then when it was expected he would die his total disability claim was paid through me also. I never thought Sam would recover. He says he was cured by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills."

THE PROPRIETORS.

Mr. J. A. McKee of the firm of L. A. Smith & Co., manufacturers of Dodd's Kidney Pills was seen at their place of business in Toronto. He was very busy but was willing to speak of the Murray case. He said in answer to some questions. "Yes, we have heard of Murray's wonderful cure at Gravenhurst through taking our Dodd's Kidney Pills. But his case is only one of many. Here are several other just as startling." Pulling a bundle of letters out of a drawer. "We have not been advertising these pills to any great extent, and we are astonished at their rapid sale. The only way to account for it is that they sell on their merits. Those who use them tell their friends about them and they are advertised in that way. These pills are a new departure in medicine. The formula has been used successfully by one of the most eminent specialists in the world for the cure of kidney diseases. But his services are only available for the wealthy, and even if the formula were known to all practitioners could not be made up by the drug stores, for special facilities have to be arranged for compounding them. Hitherto kidney remedies have been put up in liquid form. A certain percentage of alcohol has to be put in such mixtures to keep the medicine. This alcohol, it has been time and again demonstrated, counteracts the beneficial effects of the drugs contained in the mixture, for there is nothing worse for the kidneys than alcohol, and it defeats the objects for which the remedy is intended. We obviate this difficulty by having the active principles only of the drugs put up in concentrated form in the shape of a pill, which is easily taken. They are neatly put up in boxes with the trade mark 'Dodd's Kidney Pills' on each box, and are for sale by all druggists and dealers in medicines at fifty cents per box. We will mail them direct on receipt of price."

From these interviews with and the investigations made your correspondent has proved beyond a doubt that such a man as Sam Murray exists, and that the facts of his case as published in the Gravenhurst Banner are true in every particular. Not only does Sam Murray himself speak out, but his evidence is supported by documentary proofs and also by Dr. Cornell, a well known physician in Gravenhurst, the mayor of the town, the station master, and others. Also that Dodd's Kidney Pills effected his cure after the case had been given up as hopeless.

Reason? BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favour in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw rest. Shem, Terry, Mrs. Jones and Zell were all who appeared at breakfast in the morning. Mrs. Jones had an admirable knack of keeping all her fourteen children out of sight, but within hearing. The least call would bring the desired one. After breakfast Terry said to Zell:

"Now, what about that offending hair? Will we cut it off, Zell?"

"Not one hair of it. Shem will look to that. Come with me, Zell. Oft have I arranged thy mother's."

"Terry did not mean that, Shem. Come, though, and do what you can with it. When do we go on?"

"In half an hour."

Before the half hour was up, Zell and Shem came from the room, hand in hand.

"Has he not fixed my hair queer. He says my mother taught him how to weave it so."

"Well, Zell, it is marvelous how he has succeeded in doing away with all your hair. Shem, are you sure you have not cut half of it away?"

"No, he did not; and, Terry, it does not hurt, but feels quite nice, only—well, I feel quite tall, as tall as you are, Terry."

Shem laughed at having pleased Zell, and now the horses were ready and the journey home began; we will meet them in Montreal.

CHAPTER XIII.

THE train had just been relieved of its many passengers, and Terry was guiding Shem and Zell through the crowd. Numberless, indeed, were the comments on her beauty, and her coarse clothes did not escape notice. Terry so completely ignored all remarks you would have thought he did not hear, but now he stopped short. A voice behind him had said:

"If it were not for the woman I would say it was Terry Denver."

"So it is Terry Denver, Jack. I am so glad you are here. Stay with Zell until I get a carriage, then come with us. Zell, this is Jack."

Poor Jack stood staring at Zell, quite stilled for once. The irrepressible Jack was repressed at last, and by a woman. Shem stepped up close to Zell and drew her arm through his.

"Little one, art thou weary. Thou hast seen much, and thou hast stood it well."

"Terry was with me all the time; now that he has gone I am weary, weary."

She rested her head against Shem and Jack still stood staring at them, speechless. Terry returned and all went to the carriage he had secured. At last they were by themselves, away from others. Zell sat by Terry, and as was the custom, lay her head on his shoulder. This time Terry, in pity for her weariness, lifted her face and for the first time unsought by Zell took of those sweet perquisites of betrothal—a kiss. This act broke the bondage of speechlessness that held Jack.

"Great heavens, Terry Denver, what are you doing? I will have to have some proof of your identity, other than your looks after that—that—kiss, or have you gone crazy like the cousin?"

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town. In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

The annual meeting for the selection of grand and petit jurors to serve for the town of Peterborough, for 1893, will be held at the town clerk's office on Monday night, at 7 o'clock. The selectors, according to statute, are His Worship, Mayor Kendry, Town Clerk Cobb, and the town assessors for the several wards. The jurors selected for the superior and county courts number 125 for the former and 250 for the latter.

Ontario Canoe Company Revived.

Work was begun this week on the site of the old Dennie mill, Water street, just south of the market square, for the erection of a new factory of the Ontario Canoe Company, whose large establishment was burned to the ground several months ago. The new company at once went to work with a vim and secured a new charter under the name of the Peterborough Canoe Company with the privilege of investing $40,000 stock in the new firm. The new building will be three stories high, with dimensions 70x30. The factory will be of brick with stone foundation and completed within a short period. The probable cost of the new structure is estimated at $5,000. The Peterborough Canoe Company will be ready for the spring trade, and will continue to turn out as good modelled canoes, skiffs, launches, etc., as their reputation and push has credited them with in their past successful history.

It is beyond all doubt that "Myrtle Navy" is the favorite tobacco with the smokers of Canada. They obtain more enjoyment from it than from any other tobacco made and those of them who have used it long enough to test its merits never abandon it for any other brand. The reason for this preference is that the "Myrtle Navy" is made of the very finest leaf which is grown and that in every process of its manufacture the most vigilant care is exercised to preserve the genuine aroma of the leaf.

Another Liberal Gift to the Firemen.

Yesterday Mr. Jos. H. Yelland, secretary of the Peterborough fire brigade, received a letter from Mr. Adam Hall containing a check for $10, donated to the fire brigade for their clever work in preventing his large storehouse adjoining Mr. James Stevenson's elevator from taking fire on Saturday morning last. The firemen return their thanks to Mr. Hall for his liberal gift.

Addition to the Carbon Works.

The Brooks Manufacturing Company are adding two frame buildings to their large establishment. The dimensions of one is 22x40, one story high, and the other is 16x35, same height. These additions were rendered necessary by their increasing business. The largest structure is an addition to their finishing room, and the other is used in connection with the plating department.

Peterborough Mechanics' Institute.

The directors of the Mechanics' Institute have arranged to hold classes in mechanical and freehand drawing and practical mensuration and arithmatic in above Institute during the winter. Those who intend joining any of these classes are requested to give their names to the librarian of the Institute as early as possible, and he will be able to give full information.

GEO. MUNRO,
Chairman Class Committee.

The Grafton Pumpkin Prize.

Mr. Andrew Fairbairn, of Lakefield, writes stating that he noticed in THE EXAMINER that Mr. H. C. Gambutt won Grafton & Co.'s special prize for the two largest pumpkins at the Central Exhibition. Mr. Fairbairn states that the assistant secretary, Miss Collins, informed him that he had won the award, his entry number being 117. Mr. Fairbairn left the two pumpkins he exhibited in Grafton & Co.'s shop, where they are now on exhibition in the window.

Canadian Canoe Company.

Mr. A. R. Tebb, manager of the Canadian Canoe Company, has issued his first catalogue. It is neatly gotten up. Peterborough canoes have for some years been the standard by which all canoes are considered, and we have no doubt that the new company will keep up the reputation that Peterborough has worthily gained for being headquarters in Canada for the manufacture of canoes, skiffs and general boat fittings. All canoe furnishings and fittings will be manufactured and supplied by the new company.

Destruction of Game and Fish

The Ontario Game and Fish Commissioners are desirous of obtaining the assistance of all true sportsmen in their efforts to protect and preserve the game and fish which still remain in the province, and, with this end in view, will take it as a favour if all sportsmen will observe and enforce the game and fishery laws, so as to prevent the extermination of game, fish, and insectivorous birds, which are getting scarcer every year, through the wilful destruction of them by pot-hunters and poachers, who for years have been destroying fish and game out of season.

Comedy and Sensation.

A good sized audience greeted the performance of of "Joshua Simpkins" at the Centre street opera house last evening. The play was a sensational comedy drama in four acts and treated mostly with various phases of country life. There was considerable plot to the play and the interest of the spectators never flagged. The saw-mill scene in the the third act was very realistic and was well applauded by the audience. The music by the orchestra was excellent.—Evening Star, Schnectady, Aug. 2nd, 1892. Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday, Oct. 14th. Tickets, 25c, 50c and 75c. Seat plan at Greatrex's Drugstore.

The Upper Canadas in Town.

The Upper Canada College senior fifteen at Rugby football, arrived in town at 11.50 to-day per C. P. R. from Toronto, and registered at the Grand Central. Capt. Waldie and his men are athletic, active young fellows in their teens, but of no very heavy stature or build. The team consists of Messrs. Cosby, Eby, McMaster, Waldie, Counsell, Burnside, Dennison, McLennan, Hoskin, Moss, Robinson, Ball, Faulkiner and others. The Canadas are playing in the P.A.A.A. grounds this afternoon with the Peterborough's. This season they have defeated the following clubs: The Osgoode Hall Second Team, 21 to 1; Thistles, 50 to 0; Victorias, 5 to 0—a good record.

Poisoned by Scrofula.

Is the sad story of many lives made miserable through no fault of their own. Scrofula is more especially than any other a hereditary disease, and for this simple reason. Arising from impure and insufficient blood, the disease locates itself in the lymphatics, which are composed of white tissues; there is a period of foetal life when the whole body consists of white tissues, and therefore the unborn child is especially susceptible to this dreadful disease. But there is a remedy for scrofula, whether hereditary or acquired. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by its powerful effect on the blood, expels all trace of the disease and gives to the vital fluid the quality and color of health. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not accept any substitute.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Building to be Formally Dedicated To-morrow Afternoon.

To-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the neat new union Sunday school at the southern part of the town, at Crawford's grove, will be formally dedicated by Rev. A. MacWilliams, pastor of St. Andrew's church. The new Sunday school is strictly undenominational in character, and will afford a great boon to the children in that section, who heretofore have been almost precluded from attending Sunday school, on account of the distance from town, which was too far for the little ones to walk. The Sunday school, which has a membership of about forty, has been carried on for the past two years from house to house under great disadvantages and against serious obstacles, by Mr. Jno. Hart and a few assistants. Now they have a neat, cosy home in their new building, which is a frame structure 22x41 feet, with vaulted ceiling, 16 feet high in the centre and 12 at the sides. The edifice has eleven large windows, which admit of much light, and inside everything is bright, cheery and comfortable. Mr. A. Crawford donated the land for the school gratuitously, and the neighbors lent a helping hand, and under the supervision of Mr. Harry Stephens, they did most of the work themselves. The time of erection occupied nearly three months. The dedication service will, as mentioned before, take place at 2.30 to-morrow afternoon. On each Sunday, Sunday school will be conducted in the building at that hour. The superintendent, Mr. Hart, will have a staff of three or four teachers to assist in the good work. Prayer meetings will be held every Thursday evening also.

CENTERVILLE EXHIBITION.

Unfavourably Affected by wet Weather A Meagre Attendance of Visitors A Fairly Good Exhibition in Some Classes The Speeding Events The Prize List.

The annual exhibition of the South Monaghan Agricultural Society was held at Centerville on Thursday and Friday. Of course the proceedings of the first day were of a routine character, and the dull drizzle that at noon succeeded the threatening weather of the morning, prevented anything like the usual attendance the second day. As to the exhibits, the entries were 580 as against 500 last year. Cattle were pretty well represented there being some fine specimens on the grounds. There was a small show of sheep and swine, though the quality was worthy of special mention in some cases.

There was an excellent exhibit of horses particularly in the general purposed classes.

The interior exhibit was excellent. Grains, roots and vegetables were well up to the mark. There was also an excellent show of fruit, and ladies work was very creditably represented.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

In spite of the dismal drizzle which was not however enough to make absolute mud or injure the half mile track, the racing events came off and attracted attention and were run off with some good sport for the crowd.

THE RUNNING RACE.

For the running race there were six entries:

"Maud L," (C. Lane)	dr (fell)
"Head or Tail," (C. McMahon)	5 5
"Mac," (P. Noville)	0 3
"King Dodd's," (Jo. Dickenson)	1 1
"Vic," (R. Harvey)	2 4
"Grey Skipper," (F. Hamilton)	3 2

In the first heat "King Dodd's" led without difficulty, with "Vic" a good second. "Grey Skipper" and "Mack" ran a dead heat. On the first turn of this heat "Maud L" fell and threw her rider, Flaherty, heavily, hurting his face and putting out his left shoulder which was attended to by Dr. Montgomery. From the stride she showed "Maud L" would, barring her accident have made the race more interesting.

The second heat "King Dodds" duplicated the first winning easily. "Mac" and the "Gray" had a fight for second place, but on the back stretch of the last half the "Skipper" skipped to the fore and finished a good second, "Mac" third. This completed the race and the money went to "King Dodds" first, "Gray Skipper" second, "Mac" third and the other horses as shown in the above summary.

THE NAMED TEST.

For this there entered R. Chambers' "Highland Boy," J. D. Perrin's "B.A.," J. Bullied's "Little Vic" and J. Battersby's "Rifleman."

There was not much excitement in this event, "B.A" taking three straight heats, "Little Vic" three seconds, but she had to fight a little for them with "Highland Boy," who came in with three thirds, "Rifleman" drawing after first heat. Following is a summary of the events:

"B. A"	1	1	1
"Little Vic"	2	2	2
"Highland Boy"	3	3	3
"Rifleman"	4	dr

The named race, from which so much good sport was expected, did not fill, only R. Croft's "Billy G." putting up entry money. But for the wet weather (it rained hard in Peterborough when there was comparatively little rain at Centreville) two or three Peterborough horses would have entered as well as horses from other places.

Following is

EXEMPTING FROM TAXATION

Manufactories and Other Industries Information Furnished by Mr. J. H. Eurnham.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—I enclose for publication the first installment of information that I am gathering for public use. As the municipal elections are within range this may be of interest to intending candidates. The Exemptions resulting from this by-law amount to about one million and a quarter dollars which at 15 mills would yield nearly twenty thousand dollars. This, it will be seen, is quite a bonus to industry in Toronto.

Yours,
J. HAMPDEN BURNHAM,

No. 3071.—A BY LAW, to exempt from taxation the machinery, plant and tools used in every manufacturing industry in the City of Toronto, for a peroid of ten years from the first day of January, 1893.

[Passed May 23rd, 1892.]

Whereas by the report of a special committee of this Council, appointed to consider the question of exempting from taxation the buildings, plant and machinery used for manufacturing purposes (which report was adopted by the Council on the 14th day of December, 1891), it was recommended that a By law should be passed to exempt from taxation for a period of ten years from the first day of January, 1893, the machinery, plant and tools used in every manufacturing industry in the City of Toronto.

Therefore the Council of the Corporation of the City of Toronto enacts as follows:

1.—That for a peroid of ten years to be computed from the first day of January, 1893, the machinery, plant and tools used in every manufacturing industry in the City of Toronto except distilleries, breweries, railway and gas companies, and all other companies or corporations holding franchises from this Council), shall be exempt from taxation for general purposes, provided, however, that the owner, or owners, of each such manufacturing industry shall be assessed in accordance with the provisions of the Assessment Act; but the assessors, where any such industry is carried on, shall show upon the roll the value of the machinery, plant and tools used in such industry, and shall mark opposite the assessment "Exempt under By-law No. 3071."

The said exemption shall not extend to the land or buildings occupied by such industry, nor to improvements, the cost of which is to be paid wholly or in part by local assessments on the real estate immediately benefitted, or to sewer rents or rates.

I certify that I have examined this Bill, and that it is correct.

JOHN BLEVINS,
City Clerk.

COUNCIL CHAMBER,
Toronto, May 23rd, 1892.
[L. S.]

ROBERT J. FLEMING,
Mayor.

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE,
Hamilton, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Our council extempts all machinery, plant and tools used in any factory in the city from assessment.

Yours truly,
T. BEASLEY,
City Clerk.

Gratifying to all.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

HOW I WAS CURED.

A gentlemen writing from Woodstock, Ont., tells how he was speedily cured of dyspepsia and heart palpitation. He says:

"For a number of years I was a sufferer from dyspepsia and palpitation of the heart. I find it almost impossible to give you a correct account of my trials and sufferings. The continued gnawing of dyspepsia and the pain were intolerable. I often had feelings of hunger, but could no relish any food and became so weak that my stomach refused to bear any solid food. My heart troubled me so much, that I entertained the notion that heart disease might cut me off at any moment. I happened to read a newspaper article about your Paine's Celery Compound, and felt satisfied that it was worthy of a trial. I used some eight or ten bottles, and am happy to say that it cured me perfectly. I am free from the dyspepsia, and palpitation of the heart does not trouble me. I feel in every sense renewed and built-up, and must give Paine's Celery Compound credit for the good work. It is truly the greatest medicine on earth, and I will always recommend it to those who need it."

STOP THIEF.

Dyspepsia is stealing the roses from many ladies' cheeks, and making many men's faces blanch.

In all assemblies, how many ladies there are who, although attired richly and elegantly, and possessed of every grace of form and features, still something is wanted; some point has been neglected to complete the charm of their presence. A STORY CONTAINING A LESSON FOR PARENTS.

The Restoration of a Young Girl whose Condition Finds a Parallel in Thousands of Canadian Homes No Through Wilful Neglect, but in Ignorance of the Terrible Consequences.

Brockville Times.

The great frequency with which pale, sallow, listless and enfeebled girls are met with now-a days is cause for genuine alarm. The young girls of the present day are not the healty, robust, rosy-cheeked lassies their mothers and grandmothers were before them. On all sides one sees girls budding into womanhood, who should be bright of eye, light in step, and joyous in spirits, but, alas, how far from this is their condition. Their complexion is pale, sallow or waxy in appearance, they are victims of heart palpitation, ringing noises in the head, cold hands and feet, often fainting spells, racking headaches, backaches, shortness of breath, and often distressing symptoms. All these conditions betoken chlorosis or anaemia—or in other words a watery and impoverished condition of the blood, which is thus unable to perform the functions required of it by nature. When in this condition, unless immediate resort is had to those natural remedies which give richness and redness to the blood corpuscles, organic disease and an early grave are the inevitable result. It was in a condition closely resembling the above that a young lady in Addison, Leeds County, was when Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People came to her rescue, and undoubtedly saved her from premature death. This case was recently brought to the notice of the Times by H. S. Moffatt, general merchant and postmaster at Addison, of which family the young lady in question is a member. Mr. Moffatt had read the numerous articles in the Times regarding what are admitted on all sides to be marvellous cures by the use of the popular remedy above named, after all other remedies had failed, and felt it his duty to make public for the benefit of sufferers, the wonderful restoration to health and strength that had taken place in his own household. The young lady in question is his adopted daughter, and is some 16 years of age, a very critical period in the life of all young women. She had been declining in health for some time, and the family became very much alarmed that serious results would ensue. Medical advice was sought, and everything done for her that could be thought of, but without avail, the treatment did her no good and she gradually grew worse and worse. Her face was pale and almost bloodless, she was oppressed by constant headaches, and her appetite completely failed. When her friends had almost despaired of a cure, some person who had purchased Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at Mr. Moffatt's store, and tested their virtues, advised their use in the young lady's case. The advice was acted upon and Mr. Moffatt says the results were marvellous. In a short time after beginning their use a decided improvement was noticed. The color began to return to her cheeks; her appetite was improved, and there was every indication of a marked improvement of the system. After taking a few boxes she was completely cured, and is now as well as ever she was. In his business Mr. Moffatt deals in various kinds of proprietary medicines, but says he has never handled any medicine that has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The demand is large and is constantly increasing, thus affording the most satisfactory evidence that they are what is claimed for them, a blood builder, nerve tonic and general reconstructor, curing diseases hitherto held to be incurable, and restoring health where all other remedies had failed.

In view of these statements a grave responsibility rests upon parents—upon mothers especially. If your daughters are suffering from any of the troubles indicated above, or from any of the irregularities incident to a critical period in life, do not, as you value their lives, delay in procuring a remedy that will save them. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is a remedy that never fails in such cases, and is a certain specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, whether young or old. They act directly upon the blood and nerves and never fail in any case arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered condition of the nervous system.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of any kind.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing our trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any druggist who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you, and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these Pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive, as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees. The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expells them, heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well.

Right means wearable and perfect fitting; boys like to look well dressed as much as older folks. You want to pay enough for clothing to be sure it's right in quality, and right in style, but you don't want to pay an extravagant price for it because possessing these elements. VALUE OF CLEAR THINKING.

How It Is that England Raises the Best Foundation Stock for the World.

The following is what Prof. Robertson said in his opening remarks at the annual convention of the Central Farmers' Institute of Ontario, to which he delivered an address on the possibilities of selling Canadian farm products at a profit in the English market:

A subject so great, so important, so far-reaching, would give a man all the task he could very well overtake in a whole year, to enquire, to examine, to read, to collate, to digest, to conclude and to direct. So, if you have some rather imperfectly digested statements, you will please remember that wholesale digestion takes time; and I was not willing to imperil the comfort and health of my own mental digestive apparatus by trying to chew up too many facts and give them out in an unnatural way. You will be good enough to give me your consideration and indulgence this morning, seeing that I have hardly had any time to fit myself to present my subject worthily to an audience like this one, representative of the best thought on agriculture in the Province of Ontario, the premier province of the Dominion of Canada, where the average farmer stands head and shoulders above the average farmer in any other land in the world. (Hear, hear). We have many things in this country to be grateful for and proud of. In 'the Old Land' they have, so they claim, a better system of agriculture than prevails generally within our borders. They have had the educated classes, the men trained in sciences, arts and philosophies, the aristocracy of the land, to make plans for the toiling farmers; and the clear thinking of these men has put England away ahead off all other lands in regard to all farm and animal products, which are essentially the product of clear thinking. Where do we go for thoroughbred horses? To England. Where do we go for thoroughbred cattle? To England. For thoroughbred sheep? To England. For thoroughbred swine?

A Voice—Do you include Scotland?

Prof. Robertson—Wait a moment. I say to England, and for me, this morning, England stands for and embraces all of Great Britain. Where do we go for thoroughbred men? Now, my friend, your question. (Laughter). I have been referring to these matters for this object only, to show that the clear thinking of trained men, of strong intellect, has raised the quality of her agricultural products, until England sends around the globe the foundation and improving stock and seeds for the enterprising farmers of all countries; and her farmers do that, notwithstanding the fact that she has no surplus of ordinary farm products. England affords the best market in the world for food products, acknowledged so by everybody; still she sends the best foundation stock for food products from her island to the uttermost parts of the earth, from the clear thinking of her men. The average farmer in Canada is a better farmer than the average farmer in England. He does not want or need an educated class to stand aloft and aloof and say, do so and so. He does not want to have one man as the master, to do the thinking, and the other man as the hind, to do the working, but he, in himself, has the opportunity (which farmers in other lands have not in an equal measure to-day,) of governing the products of his own hands, according to the direction of his own mind. He, more than most others, is the man who has the right to think for himself, the man who has the need of thinking for himself, and the man who has the opportunity, in our country, of giving expression to his thought, through his work as well as his words. The meaning and promise of this meeting are better stock and products of all kinds, better prices for all kinds, better work of all kinds, larger profits of all kinds, from the clear thinking induced by discussion and the dissemination of knowledge. The friction of mind on mind is highly beneficial; as iron sharpeneth iron, so does the face of a man that of his friend in friendly discussion of their common interests. So, what I have to say this morning is to whet the keen edge of your minds, that you may be able to cut through difficulties easier and more successfully; and having dispelled many imaginary objections and obstacles, you may see your way to seek, suit and keep for Canadian farm products, the best market or markets in the world—let these be in England or anywhere else. When a man sees well, he can follow his own judgment without danger of stumbling.

The French in Dahomey.

PARIS, Oct. 7.—A rumor was current on the Bourse yesterday to the effect that the French forces in Dahomey had captured Abomey, the capital of the country, and that King Behauzin, the native ruler, had been made prisoner. The rumor has not yet been confirmed.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse, till the pain was almost unbearable, and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do no intend to be without this valuable remedy if I can help it.

Wm. Renwick, M. D., M.R.C.S.D., Victoria, B. C., writes: I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in cases of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. CANADA'S NATURAL FERTILIZERS.

The Treatment of Muck Soils—Deep Subsoil Plowing Recommended.

These are very rich in organic matter, containing a comparatively large percentage of nitrogen. They, however, as a rule, are deficient in mineral plant food, and more particularly in potash and lime. Crops of such soils make a good start but seldom, especially if cereals attain to mature growth. It has been the practice with some farmers to burn off the peat for several inches, the result being that the small amount of ashes formed supplies mineral constituents for a year or two, when burning is again restored to. Where the muck or peat exists for a depth of several feet this may be the only practicable method for increasing the productiveness of the land, at the same time it must be remembered that such a process is a wasteful one, as the nitrogen—the valuable ingredient of these materials—is entirely lost without a permanent advantage being effected. The great difficulty in putting out the fire when once it has got a headway in dry peat, and hence the danger accompanying this mode of treatment, render this plan, in addition to the reasons just urged, one that cannot be recommended and which should only be resorted to with the greatest caution. The more rational mode of treatment appears to be one by which the value of the muck would be retained. This might be effected by deep subsoil ploughing, especially if it is underlaid by clay, and by spreading a heavy dressing of lime and wood ashes. By these means a manure is formed in the soil capable of furnishing to the growing crops the food they require, while the tilth of the soil will be much improved. Peat soils are often too sour for vegetation, for the presence of humic and other acids; this sourness is corrected by the lime or wood ashes.—Frank T. Shutt, Chief Chemist Dominion Experimental Farms.

Darning Case.

The material for the outside of this case, shown in the accompanying illustrations, is light grey or ecru Linen, suitable for painting. The lining is brown sarah silk, three-fourths of a yard of satin or grosgrain ribbon, four colors in darning cotton, a piece of flannel and half a dozen darning needles (Fig. 1). Cut two pieces of heavy cardboard six and one-half inches long by three and one-half inches wide. Paint the design and lettering in sepia on the linen cover (Fig 2) before sewing together and if you like, paint some scroll on the other piece; then cover both pieces of cardboard with the silk and linen, sewing the edges over and over, inserting the ribbons at the same time. The ribbons, which cross each other, are fastened with one end of each to one card, and the other ends to the opposite side of the other card.

FIG. 2. OUTSIDE OF CASE.

The ribbons which cross straight over are fastened in a reverse manner making the case so that it can be opened from either side.

The edge is simply cut in points or can be buttonholed. The cotton is cut in suitable lengths and braided.

Make a bow of ribbon for the outside to finish the case.—American Agriculturist.

LORD TENNYSON'S DEETH.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR THE FUNERAL SERVICES.

The Remains Will Be Interred at Westminster Abbey in the Poets' Corner Next to the Grave of Browning—The Preparations for the Burial — A Despatch From Lady Tennyson.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It has been definitely settled that the funeral services over the remains of Lord Tennyson will be held in the parish church at Haslemere on Monday. On Wednesday the remains will be interred in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey, where they will lie next to the grave of Browning. There will be a full choral service at the funeral.

Prepared For Burial.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The body of Tennyson has been transferred from the bed in which he died to the inner shell of elm, which is later to be enclosed by the coffin. The shell rests on trestles and is covered with a winding sheet which leaves the face of the poet exposed. On the head is a velvet skull cap, which Tennyson had been in the habit of wearing. The remains will be placed in an oak coffin on Monday. The inscription on the plate will simply be the poet's name and the dates of his birth and death.

The English Virgil.

In various comments published yesterday, The Times calls Tennyson "The English Virgil," on account of "his mastery of lofty, graceful and sonorous verse." "Never since Milton," it says, "has England heard as stately blank verse as 'The Idyls of the King.' He had an eye almost as true and loving as Homer for the beautiful side of the trivials of daily life." The Times also say that Tennyson expressed the wish that his son, Hallam, write his biography.

"The Death of Oceanone" forms the subject of the principal poem in the coming volume of Tennyson.

A Despatch From Lady Tennyson.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Times yesterday publishes the following despatch from Lady Tennyson to Canon Prothero of Westminster Abbey in regard to her husband's burial: "Decide as you think best. If it is thought better let him have the flag of England on his coffin and rest in the churchyard of the dear place where his happiest days have been passed. Only let the flag represent the feeling of his beloved Queen and the nation and empire he loved so dearly."

What is Left of King Behanzin's Army Takes to the Woods.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Col. Dodds, commander of the French forces operating against King Behanzin of Dahomey, has telegraphed to the Minister of Marine giving an account of a battle between his command and the Dahomeyans on Oct. 4. Col. Dodds states the attack was made on Tuesday, Oct. 4. The day preceding was devoted to opening a road through the forest surrounding Glede, the place where the engagement took place, and the French troops were enabled to execute and deploy their forces before the Dahomeyans were able to attack them.

The natives occupied a strong position and a desperate fight followed the attack by the French. A thick bush-wood surrounded the Dahomeyans' position and this afforded some protection to them. The battle lasted for an hour, at the end of which time the Dahomeyans fled in disorder and were pursued by the French. The natives, however, were thoroughly familiar with the country and found little difficulty in making their escape, but few of them falling captives to their pursuers.

During the fight five Europeans and three Senegals were killed and 23 Europeans and 13 natives were wounded. The enemy's loss is unknown, but they left on the field two hundred dead, including twenty of King Behanzin's famous Amazons. These bodies were all counted within 10 yards of the French lines. A judgment can thus be formed of the bravery with which the Dahomeyans fight. Two hundred repeating rifles were found on the field. This fact will add to the grievance France has against Germany.

REV. NICHOL OF LISTOWEL DEAD:

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 8.—By the death yesterday in his 70th year of John Nichol, M.D., the town has lost one of its oldest and most prominent citizens. By the practice of his profession since the earliest settlement of the place and by his prominence in social and financial circles, he was one of the best known as he was one of the wealthiest citizens here.

Burned Her Husband to Death.

COATSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 8.—The wife of William Sharp poured coal oil on her husband's bed clothing yesterday while he was asleep and applied a match, burning him to death. Sharp endeavored to extricate himself, but the woman resisted his efforts and was herself severely burned. It is thought she will also die.

There can be no health for either mind or body so long as the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from all impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine recruits the wasted energies, strengthens the nerves and restores health to the debilitated system.

THE RAID OF THE DALTON GANG.

Citizens Would Not Allow Emmett Dalton To Be Removed.

COFFEYVILLE, KANSAS, Oct. 8.—The excitement over the tragedy of Wednesday, which resulted in the death of four of the Dalton gang and four citizens, defenders of the city, continues. Hundreds of visitors arrive on every train to visit the scene.

Trouble was narrowly averted yesterday morning, when Sheriff Callahan wanted to move Emmett Dalton to Independence, and had he tried to carry out the plan there would have been war. The citizens are willing that he should receive all the care necessary, but they will not submit to his being moved. However, his hours are numbered. His mother, brothers Ben and Simon, and sister, Mrs. Whipple, arrived this morning from Kingfisher.

Major Dalton, the dying bandit's brother, told a reporter yesterday: "We had not seen the boys for two years and had no idea where they were or what they were doing. I never had much in common with the boys, who lie here dead and dying, as I am a farmer and try to be a good citizen. I wish you would state that mother and I have no ill-feeling against the people of Coffeyville. They did their duty, and while we naturally deplore the loss of our boys we also sorrow for the citizens who gave up their lives in defence of the town. Emmett tells me he has been treated better than he hoped for."

Broadwell and E. Wilcox, brother and brother-in-law of Dick Broadwell, called "Texas Jack," arrived from Hutchinson today. The former is traveling salesman for the Boston Tea Company of Chicago; the latter a grocer at Hutchinson. Wilcox said: "We were greatly shocked by this occurrence and entirely ignorant of Dick's being with this gang. We had not heard from him since May. He was never wild or a drinker or a gambler, and although a cowboy we always thought him to be straight and law-abiding."

Broadwell's body was taken up and placed in a coffin his family purchased for him and then placed back in the grave.

The funeral of Marshal Connelly took place yesterday and was largely attended. The body was taken to Independence, the Missouri Pacific Railway furnishing free of charge two coaches for friends. A meeting was held to-night at the wigwam and trustees for the contribution fund for the relief of the widows and children of the murdered citizens were appointed. The express and railway companies will give liberal sums. Cashier Ayres is still improving.

Cheering the Unfortunate.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mme. Albani, Edward Lloyd and several other singers at the Leeds musical festival have been making daily visits to the hospitals and poorhouse near that city to sing for the benefit and amusement of the unfortunate inmates of those institutions. Last evening Albani sang "Home, Sweet Home" to the patients at the hospital, moving them to tears by the pathetic rendering of the familiar air.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ringworm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and legs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me. I thank you a thousand times.

MYSTERIOUS OCCURENCE

THREE DEAD BODIES FOUND IN A BURNING HOUSE.

The Doors Were Locked and the Bodies Could Not be Reached Until They Were Burned Beyond Recognition—The Indications are That a Terrible Crime Was Committed.

TOLEDO, Ont., Oct. 10.—About 2 p.m. Saturday the residence of Mr. Lucky, sr., a farmer, residing about four miles from this place, was found by a passer-by to be on fire. He ran to the place at once and found the outside doors both locked and the house all in flames on the inside. On breaking in the front door he discovered Mr. and Mrs. Luckey and daughter all lying on the floor at the foot of the stairs, dead to all appearances, but he could not reach them as the flames burst out of the door when he broke it in. The bodies of all three are burned beyond recognition.

Mr. Lucky had been at Smith's Falls and was seen returning home about half an hour before the fire was discovered and the daughter had taken dinner at her brother's, about half a mile from her father's, and left for home not half an hour before the fire. Her false teeth were found between the house and the barn. The whole affair is shrouded in mystery. An inquest will be held on Monday.

EMBEZZLEMENT IS CHARGED.

A Writ for $10,000 Issued Against a Paris Citizen.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 10.—A writ in chancery has been issued by Mr. Franklin Smoke, barrister of Paris, in the name and on behalf of a local firm there against one of the best known, oldest and most respected citizens of Paris, concluding for damages of $10,000 for fraud, embezzlement and misappropriation of moneys, goods and chattels belonging to the plaintiffs, which have passed through defendant's hands, or been in his possession, while in the plaintiff's employ as a trusted servant of the plaintiffs, he having wilfully and maliciously, while in the plaintiff's employ as such servant and as their bookkeeper, made false and improper entries on their books, and wrongfully appropriated to his own use moneys and other property of the plaintiffs to which he was not entitled, without the plaintiff's knowledge or consent.

The trial will come up as a chancery suit most probably at the approaching assizes. No defence has as yet been entered, but it is understood a defence utterly and absolutely denying the truth contained in plaintiff's allegations will be entered in due course.

THE CHOLERA.

The Bohemia Released By the New York Authorities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Acting Secretary Spalding Saturday authorized the entry of the Hamburg steamer Bohemia at New York and the landing of her immigrants on Ellis Island. This vessel has been detained at quarantine 22 days.

Still Affecting Holland.

AMSTERDAM Oct. 10.—Cholera continues to prevail in Holland, but the number of persons attacked and the mortality are still comparatively low.

THE COLUMBUS CELEBRATION.

The First Day of the Festival in the Discoverer's Honor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Saturday was the first day of the Columbian celebration. The religious services having reference to the discovery of Columbus and the constant pouring in of visitors were the features of the day. All trains and boats coming into New York brought crowds of strangers. In the synagogues throughout the city thanksgiving services were celebrated and many of the houses of worship were crowded to the doors. One of the most interesting services was held at the Spanish and Portuguese congregation, H. Perrari Mendez, Rabbi. This is the oldest congregation of Hebrews in the city and was founded 200 years ago by Hebrews driven from Spain in the famous expulsion of 1492. The ancient ritual was read with the traditional chants. A rare treat in music was given which consisted of sweet old melodies, dating back prior to the expulsion.

There is hardly a house in New York today that is not decorated in some way. There are miles and miles of flags, bunting, Japanese lanterns and other decorations ranging from the little soiled flags on the Italian fruit vendors' stands to the silk flags in Fifth avenue. All of the residences of Fifth avenue are hidden behind flags, lanterns and shields. There is not space enough in any one paper to describe the different holiday displays here, but it is estimated that if the flags and bunting were hung on one line the other end of the line would be at Buffalo.

Drowned in Lake Winnipeg.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10.—It is learned that three men were drowned in Lake Winnipeg on Friday. The steamer Red River got aground off Plunkett Island. Four men were sent out with a small boat to drop the anchor, and when a short distance away the boat upset, throwing the men into the water. William Williams swam back to Red River, but Benjamin Anderson, Felix Stevenson and William Stevenson clung to the boat for a time and were then forced to let go and all three were drowned.

Rewarded for Killing the Daltons.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The Southern Pacific Railway Company and Wells, Fargo & Co. have telegraphed to Coffeyville, Kans., $7000 to be paid to the men who killed the Dalton gang. It is stated here that the rewards offered for the gang, dead or alive, aggregated $9000 each.

THE FRENCH IN DAHOMEY

SLOWLY PULLING DOWN THE MONSTER BEHARZINS.

Defeat of the Famous Amazons in a Stubborn Engagement and the Demoralization of the King's Army—The Savage, Well Supplied with German Guns and Ammunition.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—Col. Dodds has telegraphed to the Government further accounts of the state of affairs prevailing in Dahomey and the position of the French troops.

In his latest dispatches Col. Dodds says that the French soldiers continued the opening of the road on Oct. 5 and 6. The Dahomeyans, undismayed by the severe punishment which they had received in the battle on Oct. 4, made a desperate attack on Major Gounard's scouting paty on Thursday, Oct. 6. The encounter took place near the French camp. Reinforcements were speedily sent to the assailed soldiers, which enabled them once again to repulse the enemy with heavy loss.

The French lost four Europeans during the fighting. Three of the natives were killed and 22 others of Behanzin's followers fell wounded. Some of the Dahomeyans who were taken prisoners declared that King Behanzin's forces were demoralized.

Unofficial despatches received here in reference to the war on Dahomey say that the enemy numbered about 5000 and that in the ranks were the famous Amazons, that the Dahomeyans occupied a strong position on the other side of the river, and had strongly fortified the bridge between the two shores.

Major Gounard carried the bridge at the point of the bayonet. It was a sanguinary engagement, the native warriors contesting every inch of ground and furiously resisting every attempt of the French to dislodge them. The enemy, however, were at length forced to yield to the attacks of the trained and better armed soldiers and sullenly retired, leaving the dead bodies of a large number of their companions and many rifles on the field.

A French lieutenant was killed. Another lieutenant named Bonnano has died from the effects of wounds which were received while taking part in the battle of Oct. 4.

A telegram dated Oct. 8 from Col. Dodds says that he is now in such a position that he expects to soon make an attack on King Behanzin's last line of defence. He says that the French troops are very zealous and are well supplied with victuals and ammunition, and he is confident of entirely routing the Dahomeyan forces when the next engagement takes place.

THE NEW LAUREATE.

The Choice Lies Between Lewis Morris and Robert Buchanan.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The question as to who will succeed the late Lord Tennyson as Poet Laureate is argued from all points of discussion in literary, social and political circles. The idea that Algernon Swinburne would accept the office should it be offered to him is ridiculed by those belonging to his intimate circle. William Morris, who ranks next to Swinburne, as the greatest living English poet, is equally impossible for the office. He is a red hot socialist and a friend of Swinburne. Both hold in scorn the notion of composing to order laureate lines for royal events. The only real aspirants are Lewis Morris, Sir Edwin Arnold, Alfred Austin and Robert Buchanan. If the opinion of literary cliques is followed the Government will not recommend anyone for the position, but will leave the post vacant. If a decision in the matter depended upon court inclination the choice would be balanced between Buchanan and Lewis Morris, as Sir Edwin Arnold has a taint of heresy.

Dr. Holmes Has Nothing to Say.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 10.—Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes was found yesterday at his winter house on the back bay. He said: "What can I tell you about Tennyson? What can I say? I do not want to talk. Think how many there are who have gone. I might only say the world has lost a great, good and beautiful poet, as will be said in the general homage which I cordially join. By and by, if there should be some tribute arranged, I might write, but not now. I cannot do so, I want to be left alone. These things are very painful to me so many of my friends have gone. There are Lowell and Whittier, and Curtis and Parsons whom I loved so much, in every one of whom I feel a sense of personal loss."

Pallbearers at the Funeral.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Duke of Argyle, the Marquis of Dufferin, the Earl of Selborne, the Rev. Benjamin Jowett, late Vice-Chancellor of the University of Edinburgh, and the historian Lecky will be among the pallbearers at the funeral of Tennyson. Mr. Gladstone was invited to act in this capacity, but he wrote a reply asking to be excused on the ground of pressure of public work.

Tennyson's Funeral Sermon.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Prince of Wales will represent the Queen at the funeral of Tennyson. Lord Salisbury is expected to be among those present at the poet's interment.

According to promise, the Lord Bishop of Winchester preached the funeral sermon in the Haslemere church Sunday. He referred to the dead laureate in eulogistic and feeling terms, and his remarks made a deep impression on the large crowd that attended the services.

In the course of his sermon the Bishop said: "I would call the deceased poet an English Theocritus rather than a Virgil. In his completeness he seems to me to far surpass Wordsworth and to almost match Shakespeare. He was as strong as Byron, without any of Byron's cynical and arrogant disdain."

No New Yachts for the America Cup.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—MR. WATSON, the English yacht builder, says no yacht is building on the Clyde to compete for the Americas Cup in 1893. He added that Lord Dunraven had intimated to him that if the conditions governing the race for the Americas Cup were relaxed he would issue a challenge and build a special yacht to attempt to capture the prize.

Opposed to Sunday Rest.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Three thousand retail traders of Cologne have petitioned the Federal Council and Emperor to abolish the new Sunday rest law. They assure the Emperor that Sunday rest tends to make employes not more religious, but more pleasure-seeking and discontented.

WORKINGMEN LOCKED OUT.

Clothing Contractors at War With the Garment Makers.

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—In accordance with a vote taken at the last meeting of the Clothing Contractors' Association nearly every member of that body declared a lock-out against their employes, beginning from Saturday afternoon. The contractors give as a reason for this action that the Garment Makers' Unions of the city have been unjust and arbitrary and have made it impossible for a man to conduct business with a chance for a fair profit. They further allege that the action of the unions during the past year has been driving the work out of Boston, and some of them say that they propose leaving the city and taking such work as they may be able to obtain along with them. The number of people affected by the lockout is variously estimated as being from 300 to 1300 men and women, only about 230 of whom are members of the Garment Makers' Union.

UNEASINESS IN HAYTI.

The People Beginning to Chafe Under the Rule of Hippolite.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Advices received from Hayti are that trouble is again imminent in that Island. All the principal cities and towns, except Jacmel, have turned Liberal. Even members of the Cabinet have been conspiring against Hippolite, and Haytien consuls at different ports are suspected of supplying information to the refugees at Jamaica. Four men, one an officer on board one of the boats, have been arrested for communicating with Marrigat and attempting to corrupt national seamen. A gigantic swindle has been discovered, it is said, in the customs department.

Advices from Kingston, Ja., say that the Haytian Vice-Consul there states that according to his letters everything is quiet in Hayti and that there are no indications of an outbreak. He had heard nothing about the customs swindle, but admitted the arrest had been made on board the gunboat. The Government, he said, had made satisfactory arrangements with the National Bank, so that, financially, the Government is all right.

AUSTRALIA'S MINERAL WEALTH.

The Supply of Coal, Iron and Tin Almost Inexhaustible.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Extraordinary reports have reached here of new mineral discoveries, tin and coal, in Australia. Rich lodes of tin have been found in Victoria and immense beds of iron ore.

The assistant Government geologist in Victoria reports that besides black coal areas covering 300 square miles and containing 30,000,000 tons, there are strata of brown coal with seams averaging 130 feet in thickness, amounting to many billions of tons.

Government reports from New South Wales estimated enough coal within easy worked areas to permit an annual output of ten million tons for many years to come.

WILLIAM SHORT OF CASH.

Advances to Subalterns in the Army Discontinued.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—Stories of the Emperor's financial difficulties are again current. His father and grandfather allowed many subalterns a certain amount of money each month if they were without private means. Emperor William refuses to continue this practice, and no further grants will be made, though the present recipients under the old system will continue to draw the sums allotted to them until they are promoted. The number of subalterns receiving the bounty is very small. They are mostly the sons of men who died on the field and whose families have been for generations in the Prussian service. The Emperor's action in this matter is given out as positive evidence that he is hard up.

An Elopement.

DELHI, Ont., Oct. 10.—James Anderson, a sawyer who is alleged to have already two wives living, eloped Saturday with the young wife of Norman Dryer. Anderson boarded with the Dryer's. The woman left behind her two children, aged three and one year. It seems this is not the first time Mrs. Dryer has gone away, but the husband, on the first occasion forgave her and took her home again.

Her Husband's Affections Had Waned.

SARNIA, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Frank B. Pettit attempted suicide on Thursday by taking nine grains of strychnine. Her condition was discovered before the poison had done its work, and by the aid of physicians and a stomach pump she was soon brought out of danger. Mrs. Pettit is the wife of Frank B. Pettit, until recently the proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel. They were married only a few months ago, Mrs. Pettit being formerly a Mrs. Gray of Algonac. The cause of her rash act was despondency over the supposed waning of her husband's affections.

While Returning From a Wedding Feast.

BOLTON, Ont., Oct. 10.—Henry Horan of Albion attended the wedding of his cousin at Lockwood and started to drive home. About 9 o'clock the same evening he was found sitting in his buggy on the road between Ballycroy and Cedarville by some parties who were astonished to find that he was dead.

Three Ontarians Killed.

THOMPSON, North Dakota, Oct. 10.—By the burning of Preston's restaurant here a few days ago, Dennis Kehoe and John Swanson, both from Ontario, were cremated in the building; Samuel Curry, formerly of Ontario, died next morning, and John Ellis, son of William Ellis of Brussels, Ont., was fatally injured.

MET THEIR FIRST DEFEAT.

The Rugby Team Defeated by the Upper Canada College Team by 32 Points to 5.

After three consecutive victories, the Rugby team suffered their first defeat on Saturday afternoon by a score of 32 to 5. The Upper Canada boys came down on the noon train by C. P. R. and were met at the station and escorted by the captain of the Peterborough team to the Grand Central. The visiting team was accompanied by the Rev. F. W. Terry, the famous cricketer, who is one of the masters of the school. The game was called for 2.30, but it was almost 3 o'clock before the teams lined up in their respective positions. They were as follows:

Peterborough.		Upper Canada.
Poussette	backs	Cosby
Parker, Jones, Boucher	half backs	Eby, Waldie, Mc Master
Alexander	quarter	Counsell
Heap, Drope, Taylor	right wing	Burnside, Hoskin, Dennison
Montgomery, Begley, Brennan	left wing	Putman, Moss, McLennan
W. M. Loucks, E. B. Loucks, Tilly, Beers	forwards	Robertson, Bull, Campbell, Forrester
Referee		R. B. Rogers

Judging from the comparative sizes of the individual members of the two teams, one would have thought that the home team would have had a walk over, but from the kick off it was palpably evident that the U. C. C. boys were formidable opponents. They were credited with a rouge and a touch-down soon after play started, and before the home team had fairly become aware of the stern reality of their situation. It is impossible to give a minute account of the play throughout. During the first half the College scored 22 points, and during the second half 10 points more. In the second half the home team scored a touch-down and a rouge, making five points in all.

For the College Waldie and Eby at half did excellent work, the punting of the former being particularly fine. Counsell at quarter was a little jewel, but had serious objections to checking Dr. Brennan or "this little Dr." as he called him. The whole forward line played a good game. Of the home team no player particularly distinguished himself, but Poussette, Jones, and Boucher were most conspicuous.

It is always the othodox method of procedure to attempt to account for defeat, and groups of players might have been seen on Saturday night stationed in different quarters, discussing the match and assigning all possible reasons for the defeat. That the home team was outplayed at every point especially in the first half is admitted by all; but the players have been taught a lesson by their defeat which they will certainly con over for the next week or two. Many of them had never seen a first class team play before, and were on this account, handicapped. Our team lacked the combination play that was so characteristic of their opponents. The college team play, tackling, punting, and following up were perfection. Their halves scarcely ever missed a catch, while ours were not so sure catches and instead of kicking the ball they would run a few feet and were then tackled. The home forwards did not check their men closely enough and did not follow up as well as they should have done. But the boys are not slow to learn as was clearly demonstrated in the second half, when they pressed the college boys hard, and, had the game lasted an hour and a half instead of one hour, the score would undoubtedly have been materially different. During the last 15 minutes the ball was within the college 25 yard line most of the time, and more than one of their team were heard to be enquiring anxiously if time was nearly up. The home team intend to profit by their experience, and by vigorous practice, hope during the week, to make a better showing next Saturday when they play Trinity College School at Port Hope.

THE COLLEGIATE TEAM THE VICTORS.

Immediately after the Rugby match, the Collegiate Institute and West end Associations teams faced the ball, and after an hour's play, the Institute team defeated the opponents by three to two. The teams lined up as follows:—

Collegiate.		West Enders.
Cowan	goal	Roper
Drope, Burnham	backs	Collins, McDonald
Orde, Borland, McWilliams	half backs	H. Rogers, H.C. Cluxton, Lamb
Kearns, Scott	right wing	L. Cluxton, F. Hall
Heap	centre	Carmichael
Referee		Jos. Begley

During the first half the play was decidedly in favour of the Collegiate, and two goals were credited to them, Orde and Kearns doing the necessary. In the second half the Institute scored again by a kick from Heap.

Owing to loose play in the back division of the Institute's team, the West Enders scored twice in this half, McCabe and Carmichael each kicking a goal. For the winners Kearns, Orde, [illegible], Borland and Scott played well, and for the losers Carmichael, McCabe, and McDonald put up a good game.

KICKS ON GOAL.

The home team (Association) will play the Collegiate Institute team on Tuesday afternoon on the P. A. A. A. grounds at four o'clock. A keen contest is anticipated.

The town team will go to Norwood on Wednesday to play the return match with the Norwood High School.

The West Enders say they are desirous of meeting the Collegiate Institute in another game soon.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

BASEBALL AVERAGES.

A Comparison of the Records, both Fielding and Batting, Made by the Players Individually in the Series of Games between the Peterboroughs and the Edisons.

The following is a complete schedule of the records made by the Peterborough and Edison players in their series of baseball games played during the past season. The batting and fielding averages of the individual players of each club is given. Each man can, therefore, determine his standing in both fielding and batting, and a comparison of these between the Edison and Peterborough players may be adduced from the following table, the preparation of which necessitated no small exercise of mathemetica genius on the part of Daniel McCabe, the baseball expert:

ITS NUTRITIVE ELEMENTS.

The nutritive elements of Lactated Food are derived from the three great cereals, wheat barley and oats. The result is a food which never disappoints and under which the feeble child or invalid rapidly rallies.

No other food in the world is so well adapted for the young infant who is deprived of breast milk. Its building and strengthening properties are extraordinary; and owing to its peculiar composition it can be retained on the weakest stomach. Lactated Food is the only artificial food that can be honestly recommended for weak and delicate infants and young children. Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system, continual disorder results in kidney consumption which is Bright's disease. dw

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

Would You Buy,

If the Prices Were Low?

Most men who do not own houses would become owners if they could do so at a moderate cost.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

I have one house, well built, good location, Aylmer street, between Townsend and Rink streets—$2,500. Look it up. Will have two on Dalhousie street, work now going on.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A Promising Lithograph Quarry.

Mr. Harry Grundy, proprietor of the Harvey Lithograph Quarry on the banks of Pigeon Lake, has a sample of polished lithograph stone, finished by Alexander Cable & Co., Toronto, on exhibition at the store of Muckleston & Co. The stone is polished to a very fine degree and as smooth surfaced as as glass. When polished it is worth 16c. per pound. The lithographers inform Mr. Grundy that the stone contains no objectionable matter, such as brimstone, flint, etc., and is one of the finest samples of lithograph stone that has come under their notice. Mr. Grundy showed a reporter this morning some clear and very accurate specimens of lithographing of the large manufacturing establishment of the Cosgrove Brewing and Malting Co., Toronto. A communication to town states that lithographing is done by either engraving the stone or by transfer which is the way the present examples of the work in Mr. Grundy's possession were done.

Many Changes at the Opera House.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, proprietor of the Opera House, is making some extensive improvements for the comfort of theatre goers and the general public. The woodwork has been prettily painted throughout in a drab color and becomingly trimmed with red. Two artistic and commodious boxes have been built on each side of the stage which adds much to its beauty and removes the hitherto unsightly appearance of the large proscenum in front of the drop curtain. The opera house has now a much brighter appearance than formally besides several other alterations have been recently made which the public will appreciate. The ticket office has been removed to the second floor and a welcome change made in the mode of entering. An interior porch having been erected with one door leading to the reserved seats and another to the "25c seats" as they are generally called. By this means holders of tickets will meet less confusion in reaching their seats than formerly.

Their Home Destroyed by Fire.

Between three and four o'clock on Sunday morning fire by some means broke out in the house occupied by Mr. Jas. Brown and his son Frank in North Monaghan on the boundary line north of the Roman Catholic cemetery and completely destroyed the log house in which they resided, and consumed nearly all the contents. Mr. Brown who is over 80 years of age barely escaped with his life and his son just had time to save himself. The only effects saved were a stove and some other small utensils. None of the neighbours were aroused by the blaze and were not aware there had been a fire in their vicinity until they discovered it some hours later. The loss on the house and contents will amount to $500. There is a small insurance on the property. Mr. Brown is a very old resident of Monaghan and had lived in the log house which was yesterday morning destroyed, for years. The domicile was one of the oldest landmarks in the township.

Mrs. Morrow's Concert.

The Montreal Star, May 12th, 1892 speaking of Miss Hollinshead who takes part in Mrs. Morrow's concert, Oct. 25th, says: An unaccomplished quartette with Miss Hullinshead as soprano was probably the best number of the evening and had to be repeated (in the Yeoman of the Guard). Mrs. Thomas Dunn will be the accompanist of the evening. Plan of hall will open in a few days at Greatrex's drug store.

His Services Recognised.

On Saturday afternoon at Chemong Park hotel, Mr. John Pope, the painstaking caretaker of the park, was presented by those who have lodges and have camped at this spot during the summer months, with an address and a purse of money. The temporary residents wished to express in a tangible manner their appreciation of Mr. Pope in looking after their cottages so carefully during the summer and winter, permitting no vandalism to be committed. The ladies are also thankful to Mrs. Pope for the many attentions she showed them during the summer.

Flushing the Sewer.

This morning at an early hour Mr. Jas. English was out on George street encased in rubber boots, coat and hat, and with a mile or less of 2½ inch hose in his hand. The hose was attached to the hydrant in front of Mr. John McKee's store, and for an hour the water surged into the opening at the corner of George and Hunter streets. This is the first time the sewer has been flushed this season. After each rain their is no need of flushing the sewer for two or three weeks. This morning's action was the result of the recommendation of the Health Committee of the town council that the sewer be flushed thoroughly by the waterworks once or twice every fortnight during the arid season of summer.

Temperance Meeting Yesterday.

Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, of Norwich, Grand Past Dominion Councillor, and Dominion Vice Councillor Royal Temperance of Temperance, preached an eloquent temperance sermon in the George street Methodist church yesterday to Peterborough Council, No. 97, R. T. of T. In the afternoon he addressed a large public meeting in the Opera House. Owing to lack of space an account of his address is left over until to-morrow. Mr. Fee will organize to-night a Prohibition Club in the new R. T. of T. rooms, opposite the Mechanics' Institute. The club will be organized in line with the views of the most advanced prohibitionists. A large attendance of those interested is requested to-night at 8 o'clock.

Temperance Electors Organize.

A meeting of the temperance electors and friends of Prohibition will be held this evening under the auspices of the "Provisional Committee of Advanced Prohibitionists of Canada," in the Royal Templars' new hall on Water street for the purpose of organizing a Prohibition club. These clubs or unions are now being formed in every municipality throughout Canada, the object being to unite and consolidate the temperance electorate for independent political action, and to make the suppression of the liquor traffic an issue in all Provincial and Federal elections. If the temperance electors of Canada are thoroughly organized for political work they must and will become a factor in all future elections, which the statesmen and politicians of this country cannot afford to ignore. There should be a grand rally of temperance electors to-night.—COM.

NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL BUILDING DEDICATED.

Dedicatory Services of the Riverdale Union School and Church Yesterday Conducted by Rev. A. McWilliams, of St. Andrew's Church.

Yesterday afternoon this handsome and commodious building was dedicated to the service of God. Yesterday it was handsomely decorated for the special occasion with many beautiful flowers artistically arranged on the pulpit and platform. The commodious building was literally packed with eager listeners. Some of them were from the various churches of the town. In the absence of the other reverend gentlemen expected to be present, the Rev. Mr. McWilliams, of St. Andrew's, requested Mr. Batten, class leader in the Charlotte street church to take part, which he did, announcing a hymn and engaging in prayer. The reverend gentleman having read Psalm cili, took for his text Joshua xx, 2, and Hebrew vi, 18:

"Appoint out for you cities of refuge."

"Who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us."

Having shown why these ancient cities of refuge for the manslayer were appointed, and having pointed out many of their characteristics, the speaker proceeded to draw the analogy between these cities and Christ, the city of refuge for the immortal soul. This discourse, delivered in the reverend gentleman's characteristic style, with animation, eloquence and pathos, was listened to with attention and will not soon be forgotten. No brief synopsis can possibly convey any idea of the sermon. It must have been heard to be understood and appreciated. The musical part of the service was excellent. The choir for the occasion was composed largely of the members of the different choirs from the town. Two anthems were rendered in beautiful style, reflecting great credit upon those who so nobly assisted on this occasion. Altogether the people are to be highly congratulated upon the successful opening of their handsome building. May it be prophetic of the true spiritual success that shall attend their worship in this sanctuary.

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than anything living. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

HIGHLY GRATIFYING

Was the Financial Result of the Peterborough Central Exhibition.

The final meeting of the Peterborough Central Fair directors to wind up the year's business was held at the Morgan House Saturday afternoon. There were present: Geo. E. Elliott, President, in the chair, and Messrs. Davidson, Morgan, Rutherford, Hall, Bennett, Kennedy and Secretary Wm. Collins. A statement of the receipts and expenditures in connection with the recent successful exhibition of the Society held on the 26th, 27th and 28th ult was submitted, which showed the substantial and highly gratifying balance of $400—the largest ever known in the history of the Society. The total receipts from all sources will amount to $2,200, while the expenditure was $1,800, leaving a net balance as correctly as it can be estimated at present, of $400. The directors who have worked unceasingly in the interest of the exhibition are duly elated at its unqualified success.

The secretary was instructed to pay prizes to prize winners at once. All those who won prizes at the recent exhibition can now claim their money.

The protest of Mr. G. A. Strickland, of Lakefield, re the bicycle race was not entertained. The protest of Mr. Beatty, of Cobourg, on the result of the 2.40 trot was left over for further consideration. The meeting then adjourned.

The annual meeting of the directors will be held sometime in January, when the date for next year's exhibition will be fixed

ANNIVERSARY SERMONS.

Ably Preached in Mark Street Church Yesterday by the Rev. S. T. Bartlett of Lakefield.

Yesterday anniversary sermons were preached in the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, by the Rev. S.T. Bartlett, pastor of the Lakefield Methodist church. Large congregations assembled at both the morning and evening services. The choir under the leadership of Mr. H. S. Armstrong, provided fine music. The morning subject was "Does religion cost enough," and the preacher handled his theme in a weighty and explicit manner. Rev. Mr. Bartlett, is a young man, earnest, convincing and outspoken both in his delivery and in the subject matter of his discourses. The morning text was: II Samuel, 24th chapter and 24th verse, "Neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord of that which doth cost me nothing."

All started from a common point to offer a sacrifice to God or to pay homage to the Most High. The noble spirit of sacrifice permeated the old Testament and was further developed in the new. Christ claims in the new Testament our praise, money and best gifts. Our devotion to Christ, we should be as willing to express as a Jew of old to offer up sacrifice for the expiation of his guilt. We were all under obligation to God and the question now arose, What are the qualities of acceptable sacrifice? David said he would not offer any sacrifice unto the Lord of that which cost him nothing. Many sacrifices were offered by God's people which were worth nothing in the sight of God. The tendency of the time, of

was to keep the best for ourselves and give the worst to the church, to the poor and needy. It took mankind longer to find out the characteristic that he was supremely selfish than any other innate quality. Our first sacrifice should be self sacrifice, and it must be deeper than ceremony; motive was everything. The spirit which prompted the gift, and not the gift itself, was most valued in the sight of God. The motive, the principle, was everything. But principle must not not remain only in reference to finance but also in the matter of us giving up ourselves. This was what was wanted also. Many did not serve God because the price was too much: the spirit of prejudice predominated. That which determined the acceptability of a thing in the sight of the Lord, was the determined relative value of it to the donor. It cost something to serve God, to baffle all the adverse criticisms, and to stem the tide of sin and evil influences—but the greater the cost the greater was the blessing. God would help in all struggles and trials. Looking at it from a mercantile standpoint, what did God care for all our devotion, our affection, our money, for were not all these his anyway? Christ owned all these things and everything, but when these gifts and sacrifices of ours went up to glorify His name in prayer, in offering in devotion, that was where the blessing resulted and the little became the much. Might the Lord give us more and more the spirit of self-sacrifice! We could not serve God acceptably by the multitude's goodness. The speaker closed with an earnest appeal that we might have more of the spirit of true sacrifice, more of the spirit of earnest love, and value, as we did in material things, heavenly things as the best where they cost us most.

In the evening, Rev. Mr. Barttett preached to a large congregation from II Kings, 13 chapter and 18th verse.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. Mr. Thom. B.A., pastor of Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, yesterday preached at Lakefield.

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith of Toronto, filled the pulpit of St. Paul's church yesterday, and preached two able sermons.

The congregations of St. John's church and also at the mission were unusually large yesterday. Rev. Mr. Loucks conducted the services at the mission.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the George street church will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by the returned delegates from the recent convention at Belleville.

A well equipped and most modern furnance has been erected in Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, by Mr. Adam Hall. The cost of this new addition was $130, and yesterday special collections were taken up to defray the expenses of this welcome improvement to the edifice.

Yesterday morning in St. Andrew's church the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered to a large number. Preparatory service was held on Friday evening when the sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Bloodsworth. In the evening a quartette "Where is my boy to-night" was sung by Miss Harris, Mrs. Jones, Messrs. Tilley and Gray. An account of the services is held over until to-morrow.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, M. A., rector of St. John's church, returned home at 11.45 o'clock to-day from a few months' visit to England. Rev. Mr. Davidson is much improved in health and quite strong to begin his arduous ecclesiastical duties. A reception will be tendered to him on Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room by his parishioners. Rev. Mr. Kenrick yesterday expressed the hope that all members of the congregation (especially those who had lately joined the church) would be present at the reception to-morrow evening.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

MARKET MEMORANDA.

Items Gleaned Around the Busy Square Saturday Morning Among Buyers and Sellers.

The market on Saturday morning, in spite of the inclement weather, was large, and abundance of produce of all kinds was offered for sale. Apples, ripe, red and luscious, sold readily, notwithstanding the mammoth supply, at 45 to 60c. per bag, and from 10 to 15c. per peck; potatoes were all sold off by 11 o'clock, at 50 to 60c. per bag; grapes in slippery elm baskets, brought 35c., cabbage, 40c. per doz. or 5c. per head. And for the prices of a large amount of garden fruits and stuffs of a miscellaneous character here they are: Savory, 5c. per bunch, sage, ditto; melons, 5 to 15c., cauliflower, 15c., pumpkins, 5 to 10c., citrons, 5 to 15c., vegetable marrow, 5 to 15c. per bunch, tomatoes, 60c. per bush. Plenty of fresh meat was offered and sold readily. Lamb, 8 to 9c. per pound, beef, 4 to 5c., and pork, 6 to 7c. by the quarter; pigs, (live) raised in July last, sold at $7 per pair. eggs, sold 14c. a doz., rather scarce, geese brought 55c a pair, butter sold readily, firkin 16c, crock 18c, fresh 20 to 22c. per lb. The grain market remains steady and considerable amount is coming on selling at the following prices, spring wheat 66c, (standard); fall wheat, 70c (straight); oats 28c; small peas, 55 to 60c; large "mummies" 60 to 65; rye 52c, barley 30 to 38c; no buck wheat coming on. Much hay at $7 to $8 per ton. In the office of the marker clerk was on exhibition a mammoth tomato of Californian variety and weighing exactly 1¼ pounds. It was grown in the garden of Mr. Robt. Scully, Stewart street. The sidewalks around the square have been repaired and gravel drawn to fill up the holes and level up the grounds. Then too there was John Haggart's stentorian voice to mingle in the din and this completed the cirenti of Saturday morning's market.

THE BAND INSTRUMENT FUND.

The New Instruments to be Ordered at Once The Most Urgently Needed Instruments to be got now The Public Trusted for the Balance The Subscription Lists Still Open.

The band have decided to send at once for the instruments most needed and for as many as they have funds to pay for. This is necessary as there are many changes made in the assignment of instruments, and those who take the new instruments will require to have the winter's practice, so that they may acquire the expertness necessary to make them good performers by the early summer. Those who have subscribed to the new instrument fund are kindly requested to have the amount of their subscriptions ready, when they will be called upon to-morrow or the day following. The band have decided upon this action trusting to the generosity of the citizens to swell the fund to the full amount required, for the subscription lists will be kept open so that none may be debarred from the pleasure of contributing to so worthy an object as the band's new instrument fund.

TERRY DENVER.

A New Canadian Story by Nancy Nugent.

"Well let me see what proof can I give you? Ah! now I have it. Jack, my boy, I did more then just appropriate a woman, I told her I loved her."

"Dear old Terry. It was not so much what you said that proves you are Terry, but that inimitable coolness of delivery."

"Here we are, Jack, never mind the delivery, help us out, we are tired."

The carriage had stopped at the private entrance to the hotel, and without attracting attention they selected a parlor with adjoining rooms for Zell, Shem and Jack. Shem had all through the journey clung to a carefully wrapped parcel. This he now gave to Zell.

"Go to thy room, Zell, then open this and dress thyself. Thou canst have thy hair released for this night, it will rest thee. Terry Denver, see to it that we are served privately to night."

He followed Zell into her room, and in a short while sought his own. His dark face was very sad looking.

Terry gave orders to have all things brought to them, then he and Jack sat looking at each other as friends sometimes do after a long separation. Jack, as usual, was the first to wish a change.

"Terry, did you get my letter?"

"No."

"And have I to go over it all again? Dear bless me what a lot of work for nothing. Well, I told you if you left, I would fall in love, and so I did. But, Terry, I do not feel so lamentably silly now that you did the same thing. And just think you told her so, too. Do you know when I saw you give her that kiss I thought I was a bomb about to explode. You did it so artistically though, it gave me an illustration I intend to profit by. That delicious little moment of hesitancy just before the consummation was, or is, entirely original, and so Terry-like. You always did all things slowly, but that somehow was not so slow after all."

"Hush Jack, you confuse me. Tell me of your own experience."

"Yes. Well, I fell in love ten minutes after you left. I was just putting away my handkerchief after drying the tears your leaving caused, when along the platform came a peach all rolled up in lace. At first I thought it one of those lovely glinting visions one sees at times when light shines through tears, and I blinked to clear my eyes, but no, it was quite real, lace and all. The sorrowful throbbing of my heart changed to a quick tatoo, to keep time with her steps, and all was lovely. I think I forgot you quite. Well, I met her; she met me. The gods were good and helped us. In a week we were engaged and in August we will be married. She left yesterday for a trip to England and my heart is very sad. Oh, Terry! she is an apple blossom."

"Well, Jack, I am glad you found comfort so soon. How do you like Zell?"

"I do not know. I could do nothing but speculate on how you came to be in such close proximity to a woman."

"Terry, see Shem has brought all my own clothes. I am so glad, and he let my hair loose, too."

"You poor child, those stiff clothes must have been a sore trial to you. Now, Jack, what do you think of Zell?"

"Are the backwoods inhabited by godesses of beauty like that, attended by herculean knights like said Shem?"

"I found them both there, but come, Jack, speak with Zell, not at her, as you are doing. You, my own friend, may call her Zell; her name is Ambrose."

SHE GAVE HIM HER HAND.

"May call her Zell," mimmiced Jack. "High and mighty as usual, old boy. Well, Zell, you are the most fortunate as well as the most beautiful woman in all the world. You have won Terry Denver's love. I believe you are quite worthy of it."

"Now you are nice. I did not like, I could not understand, what you said before. You like Terry, do you not?"

"Like! No, I love him; but, Zell, wherever did you come from? I can compare you to nothing but an angel who had tired of soaring above man and had condescended to descend to his level. Your dress and that hair—do you know you are dazzlingly beautiful? I feel quite awed when I look at you. Give me your hand, you may be only vapor."

She gave him her hand, and Jack looked into those dark eyes, made serious quite by their infinite depths. Earnestly for Jack he said to Terry:

"That is away beyond me. I can scarcely form a conception of her great beauty, let alone say what I think of her. I know, I feel, though, she is just what you deserve. You are great enough in soul to look into those eyes and find rest. They are beyond me altogether."

The B. N. A. Act.

The great British North America Act nowadays is to buy a bottle of B.B.B. and cure yourself of dyspepsia, constipation, headache, liver complaint or bad blood, and it is an act that always attains the desired result. dw

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Signed, JOHN D. COX.

JOHN HAGGART.

A Pathetic Scene in Court.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—At the County Judge's Criminal Court yesterday, when George Hawkins, against whom there were several prior convictions, was arraigned on a charge of stealing a cow from John Marsh of Markham, Judge Macdougall said: "I hardly know what to do with you; I ought to send you to the penitentiary."

"The best thing you can do with me is to hang me," said the young man, "I'm of no use to this earth. I'd be willing to take hanging. I have a good wife and good children. I try to live better, but I can't. As soon as I get drink in me I go wrong and do whatever anybody tells me and get into trouble. I'm sorry for my wife and little ones. She is a good woman, she is a jewel; when I came out of jail she was waiting for me at the prison gate with a lunch."

Then, as if suddenly realizing what imprisonment meant for the unfortunate family, he cried out:

"For God's sake, give me one more chance, so that I'll feel sure about 'em. A long winter is coming to them, and charity is cold here."

"I will remand you for a week," said Judge Macdougall, "and make some inquiries about you."

DEMOCRATS CAPTURE GEORGIA.

All Eyes Were on This State and the Democrats Will Rejoice.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Richmond County will go Democratic by over 4000 majority. Gov. Northen's majority in the 10th district will be probably 4000. This is Congressman Watson's district and is recognized as the stronghold of the Third Party in Georgia. Northen's majority over Peek indicates the district will go Democratic in November. The Democrats carry the state by from 40,000 to 50,000 majority.

A Complete Victory in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 6.—The latest returns up to 11 p.m. show that Mitchell (Dem.) has carried the state by fully 26,000 majority, and that Baskin (People's) carried but one county, and that by a majority of 15.

THE EVICTION COMMISSION.

It Will Be Made up of Landlords and Tenants.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Mr. Morley's eviction commission will have a balanced representation of landlords and tenants, two delegates for each interest, with four Irish lawyers headed by a judge.

Home Secretary Asquith is visiting Dublin in order to discuss with Mr. Morley the Government's policy with reference to political prisoners. The Government is reluctant to treat the dynamiters in prison as political prisoners. Mr. Asquith wants to detain them, while Mr. Morley wants to release them. Probably Morley, who now entirely dominates Irish affairs, will prevail.

Mr. Gladstone will take up his residence in Downing-street on Oct. 23, when the cabinet will actively resume its councils. The completed draft of the Home Rule bill will be considered at a cabinet council about the 27th inst. Mr. Gladstone insists that every detail shall be discussed by his colleagues before the measure is introduced in Parliament.

Mr. Schnadhorst recently offered his resignation of the control of the Liberal Executive, urging that his increasing deafness makes it difficult for him to ensure such effective management as is desirable. The leaders of the party decline to accept his resignation, but they will relieve him of a portion of his functions, assigning them to his assistant, Mr. Hudson, who will ultimately succeed to the office. Although Mr. Schnadhorst is so deaf that personal intercourse with him is difficult, he has never been mentally more fit to supervise the whole work of the organization.

Manitoba Grain Standards.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 8.—The Western Grain Standards Board met yesterday to fix standards for the year. There were 250 two-bushel sample sacks from every district in the country for the examination of the delegates, and nearly three hours of careful work was expended before the No. 1 standard was selected and confirmed. Sample of No. 1 hard is a clean sample of Manitoba's best, a plump, hard and well colored berry and distinctly superior to last year's. No. 2 hard is also a fine sample of wheat, not so clean as No. 1, and with an occasional hard smut ball. Some trainmen opined there was not two cents difference between the two grades, while others thought there was quite five cents difference. Other samples were also good and the standards this year will be unusually high.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge: allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract. Instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

MITCHELL SENT TO JAIL.

The Pugilist Will do Hard Labor for Beating Old Man Salvage.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Charlie Mitchell, the pugilist, was brought up in the Police Court yesterday to answer to the charge of committing an unprovoked assault upon George Salvage, the aged keeper of a lodging house. There was no reason whatever for the assault. The Magistrate before whom the case was heard told Mitchell that the class he belonged to was worthless and a menace to society, and sentenced him to two months' imprisonment at hard labor.

When Mitchell was first arraigned on Wednesday, it transpired that he had endeavored to square matters with his victim by giving him £100, which Salvage had accepted. The magistrate then remarked that this was a most improper proceeding and adjourned the case until to-day to allow of enquiry being made into the matter. In court to-day Mitchell's counsel endeavored to excuse the action of his client. He said when he heard of the attempt to settle the case by paying a compensation he told Mitchell it was a very improper thing to do.

In sentencing Mitchell the magistrate said he would not give him the option of paying a fine, which his friends would pay and which the prisoner would treat with contempt. Mitchell left the dock protesting that witnesses had not been called in his behalf, adding, "Do you call this justice?"

The magistrate sternly said to the Court officers, "Remove that man."

Later Mitchell's counsel appealed from the sentence imposed on his client. Bail was accepted pending a decision.

THE LONG DISTANCE RIDE.

A German Lieutenant Tells How He Accomplished the Feat.

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—The Neue Freie Presse publishes an interview with Lieutenant Reitzenstein, the German rider in the long distance race, who made the best time between Berlin and Vienna. He said that his horse was twelve years old. It was an Irish thoroughbred that had been originally used as a carriage horse. He himself broke the animal to the saddle. During the ride his horse got a rest of from one to two hours every 123 miles. He was then rubbed with water and a lotion. His feed consisted of oats and peas and he was afterwards given a drink of lukewarm water with Carlsbad salts as a digestive. When the lieutenant had ridden 30 miles after this feed the horse was given a fresh feed of hay mixed with Carlsbad salts, then a cake made of corn, oats, eggs and a little flour. Every 12 miles the animal's month and head were sponged with cold water.

The lieutenant said he slept in the saddle. His diet on the road was warm milk, tea, eggs and brandy and water.

Mitchell Removed to Jail.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The announcement that Mitchell was released on bail is erroneous. His solicitor asked for the prisoner's immediate release, but the magistrate declined to accede to the request. Mitchell was therefore removed to Halloway jail in the prison van.

Missing From Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 8.—On Wednesday morning last Edith Cuzner left her home, 35 Cathcart-street, to go to the West-avenue school. She was shortly afterwards seen in Wellington-street; but no trace of her can be found since. The missing girl is 12 years old, with fair hair and complexion. She wore a garnet dress, blue jacket with brass buttons and a peaked cap. Her parents are very uneasy over the continued absence of the girl. They have communicated with all their friends in and near the city, but without result. Luke Cuzner, at the address already mentioned, will be glad to hear of his daughter's whereabouts.

BAD COLLISION IN A FOG.

A P. N. C. STEAMSHIP RUN DOWN BY A COLLIER.

Several Killed and Many Wounded—The Bow of One Vessel Struck the Other so Heavily That They Would Not Come Apart and so Locked Together They Were Beached.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 10.—The Canadian Pacific Navigation Company's steamer Premier was struck by the steam collier Willamette in a dense fog off Whidley Island, about 10 miles south of Port Townsend, yesterday afternoon. Five were killed and drowned and 17 badly wounded. The steam tug Goliah arrived this morning with three of the dead, all of the wounded and other passengers, after having spent several hours in an attempt to save from the wreck the body of an unknown passenger wedged in.

The dead are: Johanna S. Moe of Tacoma, Frank C. Wynkoop, son of D. J. Wynkoop of Tacoma, John Rankin of Seattle, an unknown passenger, a man about 40, still in the wreck. An unknown passenger jumped overboard and was drowned.

The injured are: Gus Davis, watchman steamer Premier, ribs broken, seriously injured internally; Thomas Foran, Seattle, left leg broken at knee, arm hurt; W. H. Phillips, Helena, both legs slightly crushed, ribs broken; D. J. Wynkoop, Tacoma, cut above left eye, bruised; Mrs. D. J. Wynkoop, Tacoma, hip bruised; C. S. Gilbert, traveling man, St. Paul, Minn.; bruised and cut, not serious; Mrs. Wilcox, Quilcine, Wash., wrist and elbow sprained; E. W. Vest, St. Louis, Mo., badly bruised in knee and arm; John Lysle, freight clerk of the Premier, nose cut, not serious; Jack Levy of the Premier, badly cut and bruised, had a miraculous escape from death; Mrs. Ida Sutzer, Sturgis, Dak., bruised; Mr. George W. Miller, Tacoma, injured slightly; E. L. Lee, Pontiac, Wash., slightly hurt; A. F. Lyndberg, injured internally; Alban Leidholdt, waiter, Premier, left arm broken; Francis Hughert, Tacoma, slightly hurt; Jacob Nelson, Port Townsend, arm, chest and legs hurt, not serious.

The Premier left Port Townsend about 1.30 yesterday for Seattle in a heavy fog, blowing her whistle continually. When off Point-No-Point another whistle sounded close by and almost immediately afterwards a terrific crash was heard. The fore cabin of the Premier was smashed to splinters and the prow of the Willamette was found jammed in the bow of the Premier.

The Williamette was laden with coal, and was on her way from Seattle to San Francisco. Two persons on the Premier's cabin were killed. A steward who was in the saloon eating his dinner was instantly killed. Several other passengers were jammed in the debris, some of them seriously wounded and all more or less bruised. The stem of the Williamette was so deeply imbedded in the Premier that the passengers scrambled over the broken woodwork to the collier. The ladies were handed up first, followed by the wounded as fast as they could be moved. Men with broken limbs, and both men and women with bleeding faces and bodies, were helped up. It was found to be impossible to draw off the Williamette without sinking the Premier, so Capt. Anderson determined to forge ahead, driving before him the steamer spiked on his bow. He forced her back on the beach and was so tightly wedged that he could not back off without dragging the Premier with him.

The tug Goliah was hailed and took off the passengers, bearing them to Seattle, where they arrived about midnight. The receding tide left both steamers stranded and still interlocked. Although the affair was over in a few moments and the passengers quickly recovered from their momentary shock and fright there were some pitiable scenes. One woman, whose name is unknown, was crazed with fear and immediately sprang overboard.

RAILWAY RATES TO THE FAIR.

The Companies Likely to Combine to Keep Up Prices.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—In regard to tickets to Chicago during the World's Fair a slightly erroneous statement has been sent out from Cincinnati. The Central Traffic Association decided in favor of one-way tickets in both directions and a general reduction in rates of 25 per cent. from May until Nov. 30. This would make the rate from New York to Chicago $15. The round trip rate would be $30. Visitors would save nothing by buying round trip tickets, but after visiting the fair they could travel in any direction they pleased at reduced rates. The action of the meeting was in the nature of a recommendation to the joint committee of the Trunk Line and Central Traffic Association and can be made operative only by the approval of that committee.

In addition to this the meeting decided that winter tourists' rates should be established on a basis of 2c per mile in each direction, tickets to be good until May 1, 1893.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 30c. and $1.

Mitchell Still in Jail.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A new application was made in the Bow-street Police Court in the case of Mitchell, the prize-fighter, who was sentenced to two months' imprisonment at hard labor for brutally assaulting George Salvage.

Mr. Grain, acting for the prisoner, asked the magistrate to review his sentence and to release Mitchell on satisfactory bonds for his future good behavior. It is stated that Mitchell's friends have abandoned the idea of appealing from the sentence.

Oil on the Waves Saves a Ship.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The bark Bowman B. Law, from Tourabaya and Pobolingo, reports that as she was rounding Cape Aguilhas she ran into a hurricane. A frightful sea was created and lasted for 11 days. Her fore and main-lower-top sails were split and two of her boats smashed. A large quantity of oil was used and prevented many of the seas from breaking on board. During the storm the bark drifted out of her course 200 miles.

Sent to the Penitentiary.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—Albert Coon, who was arrested a short time ago for assaulting Mrs. Hamilton of Beverly, who is 82 years old, was convicted in the Police Court yesterday and sent to the penitentiary for three years.

GLADSTONE IS WELL

The Report That He is Ailing Denied by Mrs. Gladstone.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A report was circulated Saturday to the effect that Mr. Gladstone had been steadily losing strength since his recent trip. The representative of the Associated Press telegraphed to Hawarden asking information. In response to this inquiry, Mrs. Gladstone wired a message this evening saying that Mr. Gladstone is enjoying his usual good health.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Mr. Gladstone Saturday attended service at Hawarden Church, a fact which gives strength to the denial of yesterday's report of his illness.

Storm on the English Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A furious gale is prevailing on the Lancashire coast, and it is feared much damage to shipping and possibly loss of life may result. The Norwegian ship Siren, which sailed from Fleetwood for Sapello, in ballast, on Saturday was driven ashore, becoming jammed in between the pier and a stone breakwater. The crew of 11 men were rescued by boatmen.

The Books Were Doctored.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The accounts of the London branch of the Bank of Australia show liabilities of £980,000 in excess of the assets. The deficiency is due to large overdrafts in the directors' books, which, it is alleged, have been doctored by the chairman, who is interested in certain companies which owed the bank the large sum of $600,000.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The body of Lord Tennyson will be conveyed from Haslemere to London to-day. The transfer is to be made without display and as privately as possible.

When the train bearing the remains arrives at the Waterloo station, the casket will be placed in a plain hearse and conveyed to Westminster Abbey and will be placed in St. Faith's Chapel, where it will remain until the funeral, which takes place Wednesday.

The Prince of Wales and Lord Salisbury will attend the services. Lady Tennyson, Hallam Tennyson and his wife will walk behind the coffin as chief mourners. They will be followed by the dead poet's grand children and widow of Lionel Tennyson, Mrs. Birrell and a long line of notable persons.

Henry White, secretary of the American legation, will act as pallbearer, in place of Minister Robert T. Lincoln, who sailed for America.

Thousands of persons who wish to attend Wednesday's ceremonies in Westminster Abbey have applied for tickets of admission. The applications are even more numerous than those made on the occasion of the Queen's Jubilee.

Sympathy of the Queen.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Times yesterday morning published a telegram sent by the Queen to Hallam Tennyson in which Her Majesty says: "I am most truly and deeply grieved that the great poet and kind friend has left this world. He was ever so kind to me and so full of sympathy. I feel so deeply for your dear mother and yourself, his dear son."

CARNEGIE ON THE SAFE SIDE.

He is in Favor of Free Trade for England and Protection in the States.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Andrew Carnegie has contributed a letter to the discussion on free trade and national wealth now proceeding in The Times. Mr. Carnegie says he believes free trade is not only best, but that it is necessary for Great Britain, but for a new country with undeveloped resources it may be the best policy to temporarily protect, through import duties, certain articles in order to secure the home supply.

Mr. Carnegie cannot see how any thinking man can be a protectionist or fair trader for Great Britain. If England by protecting her raw products could have the same experience the United States has had with steel it would be her duty to protect them, but if she had the Republic's experience with sugar it would be folly. Mr. Carnegie says the high cost of living of the American workman is a thing of the past. He can buy more with a pound in the United States than can the British workingman with the same sum in Great Britain.

THE GERMAN ARMY BILL.

The Emperor Determined That It Shall Pass the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The Hanover Courier says it has learned from what it deems a good source that the difference of opinion that has arisen between Chancellor von Caprivi and the Prussian Ministers, especially Count Eulenberg, in regard to the military bill, is so acute that both the chancellor and Count Eulenberg have resigned their offices. The statement has not, however, been confirmed, and it is believed that the facts have been exaggerated.

The National Zeitung says it is able to confirm the statement that Emperor William recently said that he was determined to pass the military bill at all hazards, that although he withdrew the school bill he would not withdraw the military bill; that he would dissolve the present Reichstag if the bill was badly received by that body and that he would dissolve the new Reichstag if the appeal to the country did not prove satisfactory.

A Bad Year for the British Farmer.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—In commenting upon a special account of the condition of British crops published in its columns, The Times says: "The conclusion on the whole case is that the present year will be a disastrous one for the British farmer. The chief loss will be in wheat, while there will be no adequate set-off in any other crop. The outlook for the winter is gloomy for all classes, and it becomes a grave question how many farmers will be able to struggle through it." Considering the continued shrinkage of wheat cultivation, The Times advises farmers to turn their attention to high class dairy produce.

Rains in Russia.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Odessa correspondent of The News says: "The drought in south Russia has been broken by copious rains in the southern provinces during the past 48 hours. There is now hope of saving the winter crops."

Emperor William Praises the Riders.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—A reception in honor of the Austrian officers who took part in the recent long distance ride was given at the Royal Palace in Potsdam this evening. The Austrain officers were presented to Emperor William, who complimented the winners and handed them their prizes.

The Austrians were afterwards entertained at a banquet. Emperor William, in toasting the health of Emperor Francis Joseph, praised the Austro-Hungarian cavalry as the best in the world, from which he said the German army has much to learn.

William Goes to Vienna.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—Emperor William boarded a train at Potsdam last evening and started for Vienna to meet Emperor Francis Joseph.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY

WILSON ACQUITTED ON THE MURDER CHARGE.

There Was Not Sufficient Evidence to Prove That He Drowned His Wife—The Jury Deliberated Three Hours Before Deciding—The Evidence for the Defence and Addresses By Counsel.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Weary, very weary looked Wilson, as he was led into the dock yesterday morning at the Assize Court. He still, however, manifests as much interest as ever in the evidence, as adduced from the witnesses.

The prosecution has submitted all its evidence, and the first of the witnesses for the defence, Mrs. Susanna Wilson, mother of the prisoner, was called. She spoke as to the pleasant relations existing between the prisoner and his wife, and of the great pride which Wilson took in his little girl Cricket. The old lady broke down while in the witness box and sobbed audibly. The prisoner tried in vain to restrain his composure, and also wept when the various little home scenes in which Cricket had participated were alluded to.

David G. Wilson, the husband of the last witness, spoke as to the compatibility of the tempers of the young couple, stating that he never knew of any disagreement between them. Little Cricket was a most fascinating child and the father's partiality for her was plainly noticeable when the other two children were present.

Emma Armstrong, a sister of the wife's, alluded to a quarrel which occurred between the two over a letter addressed to the husband, which had fallen into the wife's hands. The epistle was from a Miss Couples and the contents displeased the wife very much.

Thomas J. Woodcock, who has greatly interested himself in making measurements and in collecting any other evidence which might be of benefit to the prisoner, spoke of the heaviness of the larger boat belonging to Wilson, stating that it would be impossible for one man to get it out of the boat-house.

The crown has endeavored to make a strong point throughout the case owing to the prisoner having used the smaller boat when he knew it was unsafe.

Dr. John Caven stated that he had conducted between 300 and 400 post-mortem examinations. He has made a specialty of the study of pathology. By the evidence which he had heard submitted in the case he would say that death was not the result of drowning alone, but more from syncope or heart failure, which might have been brought about by seeing her child in the water and plunging in after it. If she had been strangled the ventricle and auricle of the heart would not be empty, as they were in this case.

Mrs. Wilson being recalled said that on the Friday preceding her death her daughter-in-law fell from the stoop and hurt her breast.

Council having addressed the jury His Lordship proceeded to sum up.

The Judge's Summing Up.

Judge MacMahon began his charge by reminding the jury that they were the highest arbitrament and before them was to be brought a prisoner charged with the highest crime. He instructed them as to their duties and responsibility. He laid particular stress on Dr. Stewart's testimony and statements as to the ante-mortem evidences noticeable in the nature of the bruises on the person of the deceased. If there were the signs of a struggle apparent, or if the bruises in question were thought by the jury to have been delivered before death, this would be ample ground for a verdict of guilty.

The whole charge from beginning to end was greatly against the prisoner and the case appeared to look the reverse of bright for him. For an instant his life may be said to have hung suspended upon a very frail thread indeed, but before that instant had expired Mr. Bigelow was on his feet and in his most suave manner was asking the Judge to add just a word more to the charge, namely, to tell the jury that if the laugh which was heard by Sidere was considered to be an expression of joyousness, then as by the evidence adduced by the prosecution the splash followed immediately afterward this finding would negative the theory of murder.

Every man in the jury box raised his eyebrows and looked expectantly at the Judge, who in a few words acceded to Mr. Bigelow's request.

"Not Guilty."

The jury retired and comment was rife in the court room. All conceded that Mr. Bigelow's point was well taken and would weigh more than a ton of evidence with the jury, and it did, for after being locked up from 5.30 until 8.20 they re-entered the box and rendered a verdict of "not guilty."

Wilson was released on $2000 bail, $1000 from himself and $500 each from Charles Walters, 37 Brunswick-avenue, and Thomas J. Woodcock of Newmarket.

Wilson will be arraigned on the charge of murdering his daughter this morning, but in the face of the verdict rendered last night it is hardly probable the case will be pressed.

Canadian Enterprise in the U.S.

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—A company has been organized here with a capital of $100,000 for the manufacture of a steel-clad bath, which is meeting with a large and ready sale in the United States. A number have been specified for the new Chicago hotels about being constructed for the World's Fair. The industry is a Canadian enterprise in which Toronto merchants and manufacturers are represented.

A Boy Crushed to Death.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 11.—A little boy named George Wiley, aged about 8 years, met with a frightful death yesterday. The swing bridge over the old Welland Canal in St. Paul-street was swung to allow the schooner Mary to pass through and the little fellow did not notice the bridge being swung back, nor did the bridge tender see him. The boy's head was crushed like an eggshell between the bridge and the abutment.

An Embezzler Arrested.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 11.—M. J. O'Brien, who is under indictment for the embezzlement of $76,000 from the Benevolent Order of the Catholic Knights of America, was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday. The offence was committed 18 months ago.

A High-Priced Curiosity.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Ten thousand dollars, it is announced has been offered for the first coin of the World's Fair half dollar series. The fair officials expect still higher bids. The $10,000 offer was made by the Remington Typewriter Co.

THE MURDER IN LEEDS.

ONE OF THE MOST ATROCIOUS CRIMES EVER COMMITTED.

How the Lucky Family Were Supposed to Have Been Butchered By a Disreputable Convict Son And How He Tried to Cover Up the Crime By Setting Fire to the House.

SMITH'S FALLS, Ont., Oct. 11.—Further particulars of the horrible triple murder which was committed on Saturday afternoon at New Bliss have just been gleaned, and a more atrocious affair has not been known since the celebrated Harvey case at Guelph a few years ago. Since the first particulars were telegraphed to The World Charles Christian Lucky, son of the unfortunate man and woman, has been arrested, charged with the revolting crime, and the circumstances which led to his arrest and imprisonment are most peculiar and startling.

On Saturday morning about three or four hours before the fearful tragedy happened a neighbor of the Lucky family noticed a man crossing the fields towards a clump of trees in the rear of the Lucky home. He appeared to be acting in a suspicious manner, but nothing more was thought of the matter until flames were seen bursting from the fated house. Some threshers who were at work close by were soon on the spot endeavoring to check the fire. The door, which had been securely fastened, was burst in, and through the flames could be seen the three bodies lying on the floor. By fastening a piece of fence wire to a pole the blackened and unrecognizable trunks were drawn out and presented a fearful sight The limbs were completely destroyed and nothing but the bodies remained. In the yard was found a set of false teeth and a bloody ax, and everything pointed to a foul and brutal murder.

The Fugitive in the Road.

The fire was noticed about 2 p.m. and in a short time the whole neighborhood was aroused. About 3 o'clock a farmer named Payne was returning from Smith's Falls, and when about three miles from New Bliss he met a man, who acted so suspiciously that his curiosity was aroused. He addressed the man, but received no reply, and the pedestrian dashed past and into the thicket by the roadside. Mr. Payne then drove on to New Bliss and was there informed of the probable murder. That same evening he decided to return to Smith's Falls and arrived quite late. On making enquiries at the Palace Hotel he was informed that a stranger had arrived there an hour or so before and asked for a room and a call for 4 o'clock on Sunday morning to catch the eastbound train. He appeared to be very nervous and asked the proprietor to sign his name, which he gave as Charles Kingston. From the description of the man Mr. Payne decided that he was the right one and called up Chief McGowan and the two went to the stranger's room. He was taken by surprise and betrayed great agitation, giving two different names and telling a rambling story. On being arched a large quantity of blood was found on his clothing and money to the extent of $40. On being questioned closely he admitted that his name was Charles Christian Lucky and on this information he was locked up on suspicion.

It turns out that the young man has just served a year's sentence in the Central Prison for theft and was only released from jail on Friday. He is a son of the old man Lucky and was on extremely bad terms with all the family on account of his vicious character. It is supposed that the father neglected him in a will which he made a year or so ago, and on several occasions the young man threatened revenge. He has not been home for three or four years and has led a somewhat nomadic life. That he is the guilty party no one doubts.

The family, with the exception of the prisoner, were very respectable people and lived within half a mile of New Bliss and about eight miles from Smith's Falls. The old man was aged 66, the mother 53 and the daughter 34. They were respected members of the Presbyterian church in Toledo, and their horrible death has cast gloom over the community.

This morning Coroner Veaux of Brockville empanelled a jury and an inquest will be held at Irish Creek on Wednesday morning. A large number of witnesses will be called, and this promises to be one of more than usual interest and mystery. Hundreds of people visit the scene of the tragedy every day and the interest is deepening. Some startling stories are expected at the inquest. The prisoner seems deeply concerned, but as yet has made no confession.

The remains were placed in a pine box to-day and were viewed by hundreds of curious people. They will be buried to-morrow afternoon at Toledo.

On September 20, 1891, Charles Lucky stole a Persian lamb coat and cap, valued at $150, from Andrew Holland of Ottawa. On October 8 he was tried before the Police Magistrate of Ottawa and sentenced to one year in the Central Prison with hard labor. Warden Massie always found him quiet and inoffensive and a prisoner easy to get along with. He worked in the broom factory, where nearly all the prisoners give trouble through bad work, yet Lucky is credited with work well and faithfully performed. He earned $6 for overtime, which was paid him on his dismissal. The only offence on the records against him, and the prison officials call it no offence at all, was committed on Jan. 30, when he and three or four other prisoners laid siege to the flesh pots in the kitchen and succeeded in satisfying their appetites for beef.

Lucky is a Presbyterian of Scotch descent, has brown hair and eyes, stands 5 ft. 9 in. and weighs 180 pounds. He weighed 173 when admitted. When released last Friday he was given a new hat, a pair of drawers, an undershirt and suspenders. His conduct entitled him to a new suit, but his old clothes were presentable and he did not get it.

Foundered in a Gale.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The brig J. D. Speeckels, which arrived yesterday morning from Kaluilui, Hawaiian Islands, reports that the ship William A. Campbell, Capt. Havens, from Fort Townsend for Queenstown, was abandoned in a gale Aug. 28, in lat. 14 deg. north, long. 120 degs. west. The mate, 10 men and a boy arrived in a boat at Kaluilui Sept. 20, but Capt. Haven's wife and child and the remainder of the crew, who embarked in another boat, had not arrived when the Speeckels left and it is feared they have been lost. The mate's boat was without water eight days. The men are well, but the boy's condition is doubtful. The Campbell sprang a leak during a gale and it is supposed she foundered.

MEDICINE AND MONEY.

Some Pithy Sayings and Thoughtful Advice Handed the "Examiner" by a Skilful Follower of Æsculapius.

The physician who values his time and advice is the man who is appreciated.

He who sells himself for nothing, generally gets all he is worth,

He who goes for half price, when patients are able to pay a reasonable fee, goes for more than he would bring on the market.

A community now values a physician higher than he values himself.

He who works for love may gain the reputation of a Good Samaritan, but Good Samaritans are not all good doctors.

Put off the presentation of your bill for a year, and the patient will conclude that your services were worth but little, and that you knew it.

A physician's bill is a debt of honor, bankruptcy cannot affect the obligation. The grocer and dry goods merchant may be put off a little, but the physician is more than tea and sugar, coffee and calico. He attends at all seasons and all hours; he adds his sympathies and interests; he bears a part of the anxieties in the trying moments, and advises at all times in pain and peril.

The real business man charges for his services and collects his bills. To such, a patient will say, "Here, doctor, is your claim, I thank you for your kindness and attention, when our folks get sick, you are our physician.

Withal, be good to the poor, you have them always with you. Be systematic in busines, so that you will be able to give when and where it is required.

An Unusual Death-Rate.

At this season of the year there are always many deaths, particularly among children, from summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentry, cholera morbus, cramps, etc., but this season the cases seem to be unusually frequent and fatal, and every one ought to know that a sure and speedy cure can easily be obtained by taking a teaspoonful of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER in sweetened water (hot water is the best), every half hour until relieved. This remedy has never been known to fail. Full directions are with each bottle. It is kept by every respectable druggist. New big bottle old popular 25c price.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system, continual disorder results in kidney consumption which is Bright's disease. dw

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

An Epitomised Resume of the Services Held at this Sanctuary on Sunday Last.

Large congregations were present at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church both on Sunday morning and evening. The popular pastor, Rev. A. MacWilliams, B.A., in the morning preached a sermon from the text of last Sabbath morning, Col. III., 11, "Christ is all and in all." This sermon, which cannot be understood from a mere synopsis, was powerful and eloquent and highly exalted Christ. In the evening the reverend gentleman spoke from Luke 15, 17-18. He first, in a few words, stated the leading truths of his last Sabbath evening's discourse from the same parable. He then said that his text implied that the prodigal in leaving home, taking his journey to that far country was insane. "When he came to himself," etc. Here the speaker said that there were three kinds of insanity—mental, moral and religious. Then he showed that the prodigal's insanity was moral insanity, which he defined as wickedness—"But he came to himself." Reason instead of the devil is regent for a time. Here the prodigal was graphically pictured, emaciated, in rags, degraded in soul, seated upon a swine trough with his head between his hands, his hands upon his knees with his uncut, unkempt hair down to the ground. Reason reveals his misery and declares the end to be death. As the mind reverts to the old home he is also convinced that there is plenty and a hearty reception if he will but return. Therefore he resolves to go home and so says: "I will arise and go to my father."

The preacher then in eloquent terms analyzed this resolve, showing that it implied, first a strong conviction of his misery and certain death; second, that it implied a strong conviction that there were peace and a hearty welcome for him in the old home did he but return, and in the third place that it implied true repentance, for he turned from his sin and misery to serve his father with all his might. Here the speaker showed that these corresponded to "conviction of sin," "conviction of righteousness" and true repentance in the salvation of the soul. He then concluded by an eloquent and touching appeal especially to the young to turn from sin and the far off country to the old home, assuring them of plenty and a hearty reception.

In the morning there was a good choir. They sang before the sermon an anthem "Incline Thine Ear" with good effect, Mr. Tilley taking the solo in fine voice. While the collection was being taken up a selection, "Redeemed" was sung as a quartette by Misses Heuback and Ketchum, Messrs. Tilley and Jones with good effect.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

A WARNING REPEATED!

A few months ago, we had occasion to call the attention of the people of Canada to the fact that some parties were putting up a preparation, which they called Celery Compound,

The individuals who are now doing this work, are building on the reputation and popularity of the wonderful Paine's Celery Compound, which has accomplished more good in the field of disease than any other medicine ever heard of.

Our object, at this time, is to warn Canadians, and to assure them that such imitations are worthless and deceptive. These imitations are prepared specially for the unwary and gullible who are to be found in every section of Canada.

The wise and prudent, when a guaranteed remedy is wanted, will take pains to know that they are getting the genuine Paine's Celery Compound. No Celery Compound is true and genuine unless it bears the name, "PAINE'S"; and each label must have the Stalk of Celery.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing wifh us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling, Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analysed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

The Golden Chain of Matrimony.

A happy matrimonial event was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral at 6:45 o'clock this morning, when Rev. Father Collins performed the ceremony which united in the holy bonds of matrimony Mr. Thos. Connors to Miss Maggie McAuliffe, daughter of Mr. Cornelius McAuliffe, 690 Water street. Miss Maggie O'Connell acted the part of bridesmaid, while Mr. F. J. McAuliffe, cousin of the bride, filled the position of best man. After the nuptials Mr. and Mrs. Connors repaired to the residence of the bride's father, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served and duly partaken of by the bridal party and a few friends and acquaintances. The happy couple left at 8:20 per G.T.R. for a short wedding tour west. The bride's presents were many and nice, testifying to the esteem in which she was held. The newly-wedded pair will reside in Peterborough where their many friends will wish them success and happiness.

Mrs. Thomas Dunn will be the accompanist of the evening. Plan of hall will open in a few days at Greatrex's drug store.

Cobourg's Dream of Greatness.

The Cobourg papers are gloating over the carrying of the railway bonuses by Hamilton and Haldimand townships, and the Post flouts Alnwick for rejecting the bylaw by sneering—"Alnwick sticks to oxen"—and it can stick to oxen, for it won't have to sell them to pay taxes called for by the bonus. It is to be hoped that Cobourg will realize the roseate dreams of a commercial millenium which it indulges in on the strength of the building of a little spur line of railway.

Resolution of Condolence.

At the last regular meeting of L. O. L., No. 80, the following resolution of condolence to the widow and family of the late Christopher Graham was unanimously adopted.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call from our midst our late Bro. Christopher Graham, and whereas, by his death, our association has lost a member whose devotion to its interests were unsurpassed and whose sterling qualities commanded at all times the esteem of every one connected with our institution and whose memory we will always hold in the most profound regard.

Resolved, That this L.O.L. No. 80, extends to the widow and family of our late brother its heartfelt condolence and sympathy with them in the loss they have sustained by the death of an affectionate husband and father.

St. Paul's Church Y. P. S. C. E.

There was a largely attended meeting of St. Paul's Presbyterian church Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour held in the Sunday school rooms last night. Miss Crome presided and the topic "What can we learn from the life of Dorcas" was ably discussed by several members. Rev. Mr. Goldsmith was present and delivered a brief address. The officers elected for the ensuing term were:—Jas. Connal, president; Miss Best, first vice-president; Mr. Murray, second vice-president; Miss Tucker, recording-secretary (re-elected). The remaining officers and committees will be appointed at the next meeting. The reports received last night were encouraging.

Guy Brothers' Minstrels.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Guy Brothers minstrel show on their first appearance in Montreal last night. The entertainment was very pleasing, the six Guy Brothers themselves all being first class vocal and terpsichorean artists. Messrs Vanerson and McDonald brought down the house with their comical performances on the horizontal barette. The songs, dances and bones and banjo specialties of Messrs. G. R. and W. H. Guy were very clever and thoroughly enjoyable. Taking the show as a whole, it was well worth seeing. Their orchestra is a strong feature. Another entertainment is to be given this evening, and if merit counts a large audience should be present.—Montreal Daily Herald, September 23rd, 1892.

The Benson house has been thoroughly renovated throughout lately, repapered and repainted, and is now one of the finest equipped and best approved houses in the province. The following, which is clipped from the Lindsay Post, speaks for itself:

DEAR COL. DEACON,—His Honour directs me to write and say how pleased he was with all the arrangements made for his and Mrs. Kirkpatrick's comfort during their stay at Lindsay, and begs you will convey his thanks to Mr. Daly, proprietor of the Benson House, for the excellent meals and accommodation provided by him on the occasion.

Visiting Oddfellows Entertained.

Last night Bro. Burnett, Noble Grand of Royal Lodge, No. 236, I.O.O. F., Havelock, accompanied by several members, paid a fraternal visit to Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows. The attendance of members was unusually large. The Otonabee degree team put on some fine work and during the evening six candidates received their first degree and seven were initiated into the mysteries of the second. Of these one candidate was from Havelock. After work there came play and the visiting brethren were hospitably entertained to an oyster supper by the members of Otonabee lodge in the large dining room. The spread was provided by Bro. T. Hooper in fine style. After masticating the bivalves to their heart's content the health of the visitors was proposed by Bro. J. Nugent, P.G., and heartily responded to by Bros. Burnett, Rev. Bro. Brown and Bro. Tucker. Afterwards Bro. Dr. Bell, P.G., was called upon for a speech and delivered a happy address. At midnight the Havelock boys were escorted to the train and left for home.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumption can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

Terribly Lacerated by Dynamite.

A youth about twelve years named James McDonald and living at Indian River met with a serious accident on Sunday afternoon. He picked up a bar of iron and started hammering a railway fog signal with the result that the latter exploded with terrific force. The boy's right hand was badly lacerated and one or two of his fingers almost torn off. He sustained a long ragged gash on the forehead over his right eye. Dr. Brennan put several stitches in the wound and dressed his injuries, which were both painful and dangerous.

A Cheese Factory Case.

County Police Magistrate Edmison held court this morning and adjudicated on a case in which Robert Harrison, president of the Westwood cheese factory, laid two informations against Robert Fox, a patron, charging him with delivering detioriated milk to the factory. The first offence was alleged to have been committed on Sept. 19th, and the second on the 20th. Mr. E. B. Edwards appeared for the complainant and Mr. E. B. Stone for the defendant. The magistrate after hearing the evidence of several witnesses on the first information, dismissed the case with costs. The second information was also dismissed, no evidence being taken.

One of the Best.

The Globe has the following kindly words to say of the EXAMINER, which we appreciate as coming from the leading daily on this continent:—"THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER has just appeared in an attractive new dress of type. The EXAMINER is one of the best evening dailies in the country. It is soundly Liberal, and its influence has been very helpful to the Liberal cause throughout its wide constituency. Its news service is good, and its business management excellent. Mr. Stratton is successful both as a journalist and a politician. He deserves the support he gets from the electors of West Peterborough, and the EXAMINER deserves its large subscription list and generous advertising patronage.

Forming a Prohibition Club.

There was a fair attendance at the meeting held in the new R. T. of T. hall, Hunter street, last evening. Dr. Fife, select councillor, presided. Mr. Fee, of Toronto, the organizer of prohibition clubs, was present and discussed the matter of forming a club in Peterborough in line with the views of the most advanced prohibitionists. Mr. Fee concisely stated the work and lines of action to be pursued. Some further conversational discussion then took place and several signatures for membership were enrolled. It was resolved to hold another meeting on Thursday night when the club will be organized and officers elected. The formation of the club was definitely decided upon last night and it is hoped a larger attendance will be present on Thursday night.

"Joshua Simpkins."

A crowded house, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, saw Reno & Ford's Company in the Yankee comedy entitled "Joshua Simpkins" at the opera house last night. The play was good throughout. The characters, without an exception, were well taken. H. Miller Howard as "Josh" was a typical farmer from "way back." D. E. Potter, as "Samantha Twitter" kept the audience in an uproar whenever he made his appearance. Miss Lettie Wright in the role of "Effie" sings and dances gracefully. The scene on the dock at the Potomac river, and in the interior of Uncle Josh's saw mill, were novel and exciting. Another feature of the evening was the fine orchestra accompanying the company.—Ballston Spa Daily News, Aug. 26, 1892. In Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday, Oct. 13th.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

An Old Resident of Douro, Richard Dwyer, Throws Himself in the River and Makes Desperate Efforts to End His Life.

Richard Dwyer, an old resident of Douro township, residing about nine miles from Peterborough, came to town yesterday, but he evidently did not contemplate returning home again. Dwyer is about fifty years of age and has a wife and family of several grown up children. Last night about six o'clock he slowly wended his way down Simcoe street until he reached the banks of the river Otonabee, near the gas works. He paused a moment, and then, as if bent to do the worst, he slowly divested himself of his coat, vest and hat. His actions were noticed by neighbors near by, and their suspicions were confirmed when they saw the man rush out in the river with his shirt and pants on and throw himself violently on his back in the rushing water, where it was about two feet. The would-be suicide was unmistakably bent on ending his life by drowning, and word was at once communicated to the police. Officer Stewart quickly hurried to the scene of the attempted tragedy, and wading out in the stream, caught hold of Dwyer, but the latter was determined not to be thwarted in his purpose, and again threw himself into the river on his face. After some difficulty the man was brought to the station and locked up. He was drenched to the hide and the water streamed off him in torrents on the cell floor. He at once went to sleep and between moaning and groaning passed the night and this morning appeared at court. He was very nervous, and it was with difficulty he spoke, and then only in laboured incoherent strains.

Magistrate—Richard Dwyer, you are charged with attempting to commit suicide by drowning yourself. What have you got to say?

Prisoner—I guess I did try.

Magistrate—Have you any reason for attempting to end your life?

The prisoner remained stolid and made no answer. In reply to one or two questions from the Court, he said he was married and had a family, that he had done no work during the past summer, and although he had no property, he had friends in Douro.

The magistrate remanded the prisoner a week for sentence, and in the meantime will make all the enquiries possible about him.

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

TALKS ON TEMPERANCE

By the Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, of Norwich—The Ninth Anniversary of the Royal Templars of Temperance—Large Assemblies and Edifying Addresses.

The ninth anniversary of the establishment of Peterborough Council No. 97, Royal Templars of Temperance was commemorated on Sunday, and the society could not have chosen a stronger temperance advocate and one who has the interests of the cause thoroughly at heart to preach its annual sermon than the well-known prohibitionist, Rev. Wm. Kettlewell, of Norwich, whose name is familiar among all temperance societies throughout the Dominion. The reverend gentlemen has long devoted his talents and energies to the great cause which he has espoused, and he has filled many exalted positions in connection with the order. Mr. Kettlewell is a Grand Past Dominion Councillor and at present a Dominion Vice-Councillor. He is a potent speaker and has a pleasing delivery. In the morning at the George street Methodist church the preacher delivered a feeling temperance exposition from the text: "Woe unto him because of offences for it must needs be that offences come, but woe unto that man by whom the offence cometh."—St. Matthew, xviii, 7.

The preacher outlined in a logical manner the painful effects of intemperance upon mankind generally and the serious harm both moral and physical which resulted from the use of intoxicants even to a moderate degree. The influence of an act upon society justified a goverment in prohibiting it, but there was a vast difference between the prohibition and the authorization of an act. If the liquor traffic was wrong before it was licensed and the law pronounced it to be so by licensing it, it was still a sin, and a menace to society and as such should be obliterated. It was high time for the people to revolt and restrain this giant monster by co-operation, organizatin and thorough practical work at all election contests by supporting the man who would make prohibition his front rank platform or not ballot for him at all. Too often did party lines creep into the fold and destroy the phalanx of their work.

OPERA HOUSE MASS MEETING,

In the afternoon many congregated at the opera house to listen to the temperance addresses. Dr. Fife, select councillor, presided, and associated with him on the platform were Mr. Wm. Ayers, Mr. Fee, Prohibition club organizer, Rev. J. E. Trotter and Rev. Mr. Kettlewell. Mr. Seward presided at the pianoforte. During the meeting Rev. J. E. Trotter announced the opening and closing hymns, "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" and "Onward Christian Soldiers, Marching as to War," and pronounced the benediction. Mrs. L. Seward sang two sacred solos entitled "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth by" in a sweet and sympathetic manner.

Rev. Mr. Kettlewell expressed his pleasure at being among the templars of temperance and referred in a kindlo manner to his presence here some twy years since when attending the Grand Council. He then spoke at length of the unprecedently successful career of all the temperance societies throughout the land. The R. T. of T. was not organized for political purposes but for reforming the intemperate and educating public sentiment in favour of total abstinence principles. It was very little use to have activity in this cause unless public sentiment was divided, if public opinion was not divided if they were all of one mind on a question, very little interest was generally taken in the issue. The speaker proved by figures that Canada stood in the front rank of all nations in reference to the consumption of alcoholic liquors. This was a great source of gratification to the temperance people to labor on. The statistics of Canada from '78 to '88 showed a decrease of 40 per cent. in the consumption of liquors, while in the United States the percentage had increased 17%. The reason of this hopeful showing in Canada he attributed mainly to the Scott Act. Since the repealing of the Act, drunkenness had increased in the Dominion. Another temperance wave was coming. The speaker then dilated at length upon the prohibition question and the organization of the prohibition party. If all members would stand firm by their pledges and convictions the question of prohibition must come to an issue soon. Any of the great churches could force a settlement of the liquor question if they would stand upon their pledges. In closing he asked all to vote candidly and morally upon the license system, and when they cast their ballot let conviction and honour be marked on it.

Mr. Fee then addressed a few words stating the objects of his visit to Peterborough to form a prohibition club, after which the meeting adjourned, Rev. Mr. Trotter pronouncing the benediction.

TERRY DENVER.

A New Canadian Story by Nancy Nugent.

"I want you to take care or Zell while I travel those two hundred miles. We will get a house and settle you, secure a companion for Zell and make Shem comfortable. I wish you to entertain extensively while I am away. I would have Zell meet many people ——"

Then followed a recital of the seclusion Zell had lived in all her life.

"I told you something most unusual would come to you. So you wish Zell to see all kinds of men, to give them a chance to cut you out. It is just like you. I would get married first, then take the trip. I suppose if she did love someone else before you get back you would give her up as divinely as you did the mutton pies."

"I would not like to give up my Zell."

They talked until late, and Jack feasted his eyes on the "unwinged angel," as he called Zell. At the end of the week arrangements had been completed. A companion suitable for Zell was difficult to find, bnt a dear old lady had been discovered, quite by chance, who undertook the care and teaching of her. It was the evening before Terry was to leave, and he and Zell were engrossed in saying good-bye.

"Do not be so quiet; you make me sad. I will be back in thirty days at most. If you would only cry, it would be better than this voiceless grief."

"Alas! Terry, it is not only your leaving me that makes me full of sorrow, but since I have been here with Mrs. Odell, I find I am not as other women are. I am not a companion for you. What would I do if you tired of of me?"

"Zell, what would I do if you tired of me? There was that handsome, dashing captain last night carrying war into our very home. What if Zell should find him more in harmony with her tastes than her Terry. Nonsense aside though, I love you Zell. I knew when I met you, and before I loved you, that you were not as other women are, in any way. Yon won my love, my first love. I give you the love of middle life which never changes. I hope you will find sufficient youth in me to cheer this the springtime of your life. Now, Zell, we will not speak again of changes in our love. If a change should come to either we will let the other know. Will that not be better, little one?"

"Yes, and now you have to go. Terry, when you are alone in the backwoods, always remember Zell is waiting for you. Say it sometimes; we always feel surer of things after we speak them."

CHAPTER XIV.

THE real good-bye was now said. Later Mrs. Odell, Shem, and Jack came, and a general farewell followed. Terry was to leave very early in the morning. Time passed slowly. It was a trying disappointment to Terry that Zell could not write. She studied hard and made a very satisfactory pupil, but she was often discouraged. She was a great success as a hostess, and Jack delighted to repeat to her the words of commendation he heard spoken of her in every drawing-room. Jack had come to like Zell in what he called "a shockingly sensible way" that he could not quite understand. One day Zell was sitting in the darkened sitting-room. At her feet lay Jack, talk, talk, talking as usual, till Zell cried out:

"Oh! Jack, you talk too much. You will not let me remember Terry's voice. You keep making such a noise."

"Don't, please, little woman; you bid fair to make me a sensible man. If Nettie were only here now to keep me right. See here, Zell, we cannot all be Terry Denvers."

"No; there is but one Terry Denver."

"Never mind him. Come let us think of something new by way of fun. Open that shade and let in the breeze, the day has been awful."

He watched Zell raise the shade, and re-drape the curtains.

"Now, one of your softest pillows, dear, and then sit down again."

"Now one of your softest pillows yourself, Master Jack, and do please be kind enough to draw my chair to the window for me."

"Oh! I say, Zell, what a tyrant you are. Would you make me rise this hot day?"

"And what a tyrant you would like to be, and I have no compunctions whatever about making you take a little needful exercise this very hot day."

"Must I do it, Zell?"

"No, here is dear old Shem. Shem will bring chair near the window for me, Jack will not."

"Yes, I will, you detestable little autocrat, and one for Shem, too. Here you are."

"Now I will get you that soft pillow for your head. The new blue one will make a pretty contrast for your pretty curls. Now are you easy?"

"You are an angel of mercy, Zell, but don't say pretty curls please. I really don't like it. I can't help them being pretty."

Then he wondered why she laughed.

"Now, Jack, for the fun. What is it to be? This weather is depressing, and every one is going out of town for the summer. If Terry were only here we would need nothing else."

"Yes, we would. What about Nettie? Just think he has been gone three weeks and yon have not forgotten him yet."

"That only makes me think of him more. Men are such a rare production of nature."

"Treason, Zell, treason."

"Well for the fun."

"Let us give a grand Venetian scene in the gardens and conservatory."

"Where would you get the water, Jack?"

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it. ●

PRINCE GEORGE OF WALES.

Gossip in Regard to Who Is to Be His Wife.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The matrimonial intentions of Prince George of Wales are still furnishing unlimited food for gossip for the society papers, which, at regular intervals and with a vast show of authority, announce that "we hear on unmistakable authority that the Duke of York's betrothal to Princess Victoria Mary of Teck (or to Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein, as may be), is soon to be announced." The choice is evidently between these two, but as to which is to be the future Queen of Great Britain and Ireland not even those on intimate terms with Prince George know.

The talk in this limited circle, however, all inclines to the first named lady, the Princess Mary, to whom poor Prince Eddie was engaged and who is genuinely popular in England. On the other hand, the evident partiality of the Queen for Princess Victoria of Schleswig-Holstein has caused many to assert that she is to be the favored one.

It is a matter of general knowledge among his intimates that Prince George is, or was, in love with his cousin, Princess Marie of Edinburgh, and that he took her betrothal to the Crown Prince of Roumania very hard.

In spite of the announcements in the papers that Prince George had gone to Heidelberg to perfect himself in his knowledge of German, it is a curious fact that when he left here a few weeks ago he scarcely knew a word of that language. This seems all the more strange when one realizes that his father and uncles speak German constantly, and indeed have a marked German accent in speaking English. It is, nevertheless, a fact that he cannot speak German at all.

As cabled a week or two ago, the efforts made to induce Prince George to give up the navy and go in for the army have proved futile. He said to a friend a short time ago: "They may make me honorary colonel of all the regiments they please and all that sort or thing, but the navy's good enough for me." When he was in command of the Melampus this summer he got up all sorts of amusements for his men, and the blue-jackets swear by him. There is much anxiety among his friends as to his health. He is very small, thin and pale and most delicate. He has never fully recovered from last winter's illness.

THE LONG DISTANCE RIDE.

Nearly All the Horses Used are Irreparably Injured.

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—The long distance military ride is the one topic of conversation in this city. All classes are interested in the event, which has eclipsed politics and everything else. Despite the disappointment of the Germans at the winning of the race by an Austrian and the better general time made by the Austrians, they are lavishing every hospitality upon the Austrians. The latter have been feted and dined by the officers of the different regiments. Aseries of great races were given in their honor.

Some of the horses are irreparably injured. In one stall at the stables is a beautiful mare with both hind hoofs split. She is steaming and sweating and is evidently in great agony. She made the distance from Floriadorf to Berlin in 82 hours, and of 50 others inspected 15 are disabled for life. The thoroughbreds suffered the most. Their sides are sunken in and it seems as though their spines were twisted awry. Eight of the Austrian animals died on the road.

The Childs-Drexel National Home for Indigent Printers, recently dedicated at Colorado Springs, cost sixty thousand dollars. The fund was started in 1886 by George W. Childs and A. J. Drexel, of Philadelphia. It is the only institution of the kind in the world.

It has been reported that Mrs. Jefferson Davis gets nothing from the wide sale of the memoirs of her husband, the publisher having failed. It is not to be supposed that Mrs. Davis will be permitted to want in her old age. The South will see to that, and the North would not hold back.

The sale of liquors on or in the vicinity of the World's Fair grounds is one of the disagreeable possibilities, they say. There is no need of selling in that place. Liquor enough can be procured without giving to the sale the endorsement of the representatives of the whole country.

A young woman's association has been formed in San Francisco to lend assistance when there is sickness in families of the poor. The active members are known as "Doctors' Daughters." There are forty at present, and about two hundred associate members. The associates are specially useful in raising funds.

CHARLES STUART PARNELL.

A Great Demonstration in Dublin in Memory of the Leader.

DUBLIN, Oct. 10.—The people who took part in Saturday's demonstration in honor of the late Charles S. Parnell equalled in numbers those who attended his funeral a year ago. Thousands of visitors came to this city from Cork, Galway and the North of Ireland. Floral tributes in the form of wreaths, harps and other designs were received from political bodies throughout the country and completely filled the memorial car and two carts. The procession to Parnell's tomb was accompanied by bands, playing the dead march and the corporations of Dublin and Cork, who attended in state. J. J. O'Kelly delivered an oration at the grave.

HONOR FOR THE ARCHBISHOP.

It is Probable That Dr. Walsh of Dublin Will Be Made a Cardinal.

ROME, Oct. 10.—The Pope has decided to hold a consistory at the end of this year, principally with a view to creating several French cardinals in order to officially demonstrate the rapprochement which has been effected between France and the Vatican. Some Spanish cardinals will also be created. It is stated in Vatican circles that the desire in England for at least one English cardinal will not be gratified, though it is probable that Dr. Walsh, Archbishop of Dublin, who is greatly esteemed by the Pope, will receive the cardinal's hat.

Tribute From Chili.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Mr. Egan brought with him the $75,000 awarded by Chili in response to American demands, resulting from the Baltimore affair. The money is in the shape of a letter of credit on a Paris bank and is now in the safe-keeping of the State Department. It will soon be turned over to the secretary of the navy for distribution to the relatives of the killed and injured Baltimore sailors.

Sudden Death at Cornwall.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mr. Donald McCrimmon (shoemaker) died suddenly on Wednesday evening. The deceased, in his usual health and spirits, had worked at his bench till about 4.45 p.m., when he started to light the kitchen fire intending to have an early supper. His wife was engaged in another room and on going to the kitchen to prepare the evening meal found her husband's body stretched upon the floor beside the stove where he had fallen while in the act of lighting it.

Suicide at Bowmanville.

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Oct. 10.—John P. Rice, an old and respected citizen, a member of the High School Board, and an extensive property holder here, shot himself Saturday with a revolver. The ball entered the ear, and is lodged in the head. At present he is still living, but no hopes of recovery are entertained. He has been suffering from brain trouble, causing depression of spirits, for the last year.

Sudden Death at Hanover.

HANOVER, Ont., Oct. 10.—Mr. George Heinzmann, painter in the Hanover furniture factory in this place, dropped dead while at his work about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He was a man of about 67 years of age and was apparently in good health up to the time of his death. The cause of death is not known. The deceased leaves a wife, three daughters and a son.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

THE COLUMBUS FETES

Twenty-Five Thousand School Children in Parade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Altogether it is probable there were 25,000 scholars and students in the procession yesterday Cappa's fine Seventh Regiment Band led with 50 pieces. In the distribution of American flags to the scholars care was taken that none should be given to boys under 12 years of age, but lest any of the weaker ones should fall by the wayside in the long line of march marked out, surgeons and ambulances were in attendance at convenient locations. Artistically grouped on a stand in the reservoir square, at the junction of Fifth-avenue and Forty-second-street, were nearly 1700 pretty-faced school girls, each wearing a liberty cap and costumed in red, white and blue respectively. On the approach of the procession the children so disposed themselves and their costumes as to present the effect of the American shield, with three American flags artistically hunched on each side of it. The fluttering, quivering motion of the admirably arranged band of colors as 1700 sweet girl voices sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs, while their gallant boy fellow students tramped past with quickened step and ringing cheers, must have left a lasting impression of the Columbian school day celebration on the minds of thousands of the rising generation. On the east side of Union-square a light, effective tableaux was presented by 1600 scholars of the Catholic parochial schools, and on a neighboring stand 300 tiny little waifs belonging to the Children's Aid Society waved miniature American flags as the procession passed by. But the feature of the parade which perhaps attracted more attention than any other along the line was the march of 300 Indian boys from the Carlisle, Pa., Indian Industrial School, accompanied by their own band of music, and partly dressed in Indian costume, partly in uniform of their school. The sturdy young warriors of different tribes have been drilled and trained for exhibition in Chicago in the Columbian opening ceremonies there.

A PROTECHNIC DISPLAY.

A Dazzling Exhibition Given From Brooklyn Bridge.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Brooklyn bridge was the place of attraction last evening. A gorgeous display of fireworks had been promised, and at an early hour great crowds began to gather at points of vantage on the river fronts in both cities, while hundreds of crafts loaded with passengers were anchored at favorable points in the river and harbor. All the high buildings in New York near the river were utilized, and those in Park-row and other near streets were covered with people. Among the set pieces was a statue of Columbus and a representation of the ship in which the discoverer set sail from Genoa. Two tons of powder were used in the colored fire for the series of illuminations, which were accompanied by salvos and flights of screaming rockets, bombs, Roman candles and gas balloons.

One of the most striking displays was a representation of Niagara Falls in silver fire. This was at the New York end of the bridge. It was 625 feet wide and represented a dazzling cascade of shining silver, 200 feet higher. There was a novel telegraphic message written in letters of fire sent from one tower to the other by the Morse code. Some of the bombs used were 25 and 30 inches in diameter.

Salutes at Quebec and Montreal.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—The Minister of Militia has issued orders to have salutes of 100 guns fired at Quebec citadel and at Montreal on the 12th inst. in honor of the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America.

Died of His Injuries.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—Conductor Thomas Snyder, who was so terribly injured through being caught between two cars in the street railway stables in Locke-street on Saturday morning, died at the hospital yesterday morning. Although kept under the influence of opiates during most of the day on Saturday his sufferings were intense, and between 3 and 4 o'clock on Sunday morning death came to his relief. He leaves a widow to mourn his loss. Deceased at one time kept a bake shop in John-street south.

Crushed Under An Engine.

PUEBLO, Colo., Oct. 11.—At a late hour last night six miles north of Pueblo, on the Denver branch of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, a freight train was wrecked by striking a cow on a small bridge. The engine was thrown from the track and buried under half a dozen cars. Three men were crushed beneath the engine. They were: Engineer Joseph Miller, aged 40, of Elgin, Ill.; C. C. McCune, head brakeman; Archie Buchanan, fireman, of Toronto, Canada.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c, and $1.

TO BE TRIED FOR TREASON.

The Case of the Homestead Strikers Before the Grand Jury.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 11.—In his charge to the grand jury yesterday in the treason case of Homestead strikers, Chief Justice Paxton said:

"We can have some sympathy with a mob driven to desperation by hunger, but we can have none for men receiving exceptionally high wages in resisting the law and resorting to violation and bloodshed in the assertion of imaginary rights. It was not a cry for bread, resulting in a sudden outrage with good provocation; it is a deliberate attempt by men without authority to control others in the enjoyment of their rights.

"The men had a right to refuse to work and persuade others to join them, but the moment they attempted to control the works and resorted to violence they placed themselves outside the pale of the law."

The Justice then defined as treason the organization of a large number of men in a common purpose to defy the law, resist its officers and to deprive any portion of their fellow-citizens of their rights under the constitution and laws. It is a state of war, he said, when a business plant has to be surrounded by the army of the state to protect it from unlawful violence at the hands of former employes. If you find from the evidence that the defendants have, or any of them have, committed, participated or aided in any of the acts which I have defined to you as constituting the offence of treason, it will be your sworn duty to find a true bill against the party or parties so offending.

Fire at Alliston.

ALLISTON, Ont., Oct. 11.—A brick dwelling in the East Ward owned and occupied by Mr. James Jerrett was discovered to be on fire about 4 o'clock yesterday, but was saved from total destruction through the exertions of a large number of citizens who promptly gathered. The loss will probably reach $300 or $400. Mr. Jerrett was almost smothered to death, having been overcome by smoke, and his life was for some moments despaired of.

Cut Her Off With $100.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The will of Mrs. Elizabeth Lothrop, who died Oct. 2, was offered for probate to-day. By its terms her niece, Mary Nevins, the divorced wife of James G. Blaine, jr., receives a legacy of $100, and her mother, Louisa Nevins, is bequeathed a large portion of the $50,000 estate left by the testatrix.

Holland Almost Free.

The great value of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh is vouched for by thousands of people whom it has cured.

MURDER OF THE LUCKYS

LITTLE DOUBT THAT THE PRISONER IS GUILTY.

So Far All the Evidence Against Him Is Circumstantial, But He May Be Convicted Through the Money Found in His Possession When Arrested—Great Excitement Over the Crime.

SMITH'S FALLS, Ont., Oct. 12.—The whole country around here is in a terrible state of excitement over the Lucky tragedy, and crowds of people still continue to visit the ruins of the house and linger over them with a morbid desire to glean something in the way of particulars even more horrible than they are already in possession of. The theory of a double murder and suicide is not accepted by many, and while a great many different stories are being circulated as to the manner in which the parties met their cruel death there is no doubt but that the man now confined in Smith's Falls jail is the guilty party, the slayer of his father, stepmother and sister.

A newspaper correspondent drove to the scene of the affair and interviewed a number of farmers regarding the murder and suicide theory, and from information received it is plain that the prisoner had a standing grudge against the father; that he came down from Toronto on Friday night and walked out to Newbliss, that he hid in the woods until a convenient time arrived and then stole in upon the unsuspecting relatives and killed them, afterwards setting fire to the house to cover his diabolical crime. He is supposed then to have hidden in the woods until nightfall, as he was met on the Smith's Falls road about 8 o'clock by Farmer Poquet, as stated in yesterday's despatches. That the prisoner was at loggerheads with his father is well-known, and being of a surly, revengeful disposition, he no doubt brooded over his wrongs while in confinement, and being released immediately proceeded to put his vicious thoughts into action. He is a strong, sturdy man and it would be no task for him to make away with his parents and sister.

It is supposed that he watched the father leave the house in the morning and later the sister. He then entered the house and slew his stepmother and waited for the return of his sister, who was visiting a few rods from the fated house. On her return he would be able to despatch her with ease, and her teeth being found in the yard makes this theory probable. Lastly the aged father met the same fate, and fastening the doors and windows the inhuman monster set fire to the house and secreted himself in the woods until night time. Had the neighbors searched the woods immediately on discovering the fire they undoubtedly would have found him.

The inquest, which is called for to-morrow morning, will be filled with interest. The prisoner will be taken from the jail here to the scene of the inquest and afterwards transferred to Brockville Jail if committed. Chief McGowan is working away on the case vigorously and expects to have some startling information to unfold at the inquest. Detective Greer of Toronto arrived last night and is assisting him on the case. The pair left for the scene of the tragedy this morning to collect evidence and have not yet returned.

It is reported that one Devlin, a cattle buyer of Ottawa, is ready to swear to the identity of a certain $5 bill which he gave to the old man Lucky in payment of some stock, and the money found in the prisoner's pocket will be submitted to him for inspection. This will be an important clue. As it is the finding of a large sum of money on his person is sufficient evidence that he was in the house, because the father was reported to be worth a few hundred dollars, and it is not likely the prisoner would have any money on his person when he left the jail with no more than would pay his fare to Smith's Falls. The young man has made no effort as yet to secure counsel. He, of course, will have a very fair show, as if he is convicted at all it will be merely on circumstantial evidence. There are some who are of opinion that the prosecution will be weak in some respects, but circumstances point so strongly to a brutal and inhuman crime being committed by the prisoner that his conviction will be a comparatively easy matter.

This town is filled with newspaper men from Ottawa, Brockville and other adjacent points, and the case is creating as much excitement as did the famous Birchall affair.

The Amenities of Life in Kentucky.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Oct. 12.—Last night Frank Johnson of Knott County, Ky., went to the home of his fiancee, Lucy Warwick, and was met at the door by her father, James Warwick, who told him he would not be permitted to hold further intercourse with his daughter. Johnson went away, but returned later with three friends, who opened fire on Warwick and his son Timothy. The two latter returned the fire and 20 shots were exchanged, resulting in the killing of Warwick and his son and one of Johnson's friends.

Strike of Railway Yardmen.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 12.—The yardmen employed by the Big Four here, about 95 men, struck last night for an advance in wages. The yards of the company are blocked, only passenger trains moving. The strikers appointed a committee to patrol the yards and protect the property.

A Strathroy Hotelkeeper Dead.

STRATHROY, Oct. 12.—The death occurred here yesterday morning of Mr. Alexander McPherson, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, eldest son of Mr. Alexander McPherson of Norval, after an illness of three weeks. The funeral takes place to the cemetery here on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Masonic lodge of which deceased was an esteemed member being in charge.

BEAT A CHILD TO DEATH

THE CRIME OF ARTHUR YORKE OF SUTTON VILLAGE.

The Scoundrel Who So Brutally Ill-Used His Infant Child as to Cause Its Death Is Let Off With a Light Sentence And Sharp Reprimand—The Horrible Details of the Crime.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—Yesterday afternoon the Assize Court filled rapidly as the opening hour drew nigh, as it had become generally known that Arthur Yorke of Sutton would be put upon trial on the charge of murdering his infant child, September 4.

The prisoner is a heavily built man of short stature, and is the possessor of a dull, heavy cast of countenance, expressive of dense and brutish ignorance.

The Crown Prosecutor's version of the crime to the jury was as follows, in brief. The prisoner is charged with taking his child out into the garden on the morning in question and choking and otherwise abusing it to such an extent as to result in its death. He would endeavor to prove his statements by the evidence which would be adduced.

George M. Thayer, who lives about 100 yards distant from the prisoner's home, was the first witness put on the stand. He stated that on Sept. 3 Mrs. Yorke, with her baby, spent the evening with his wife, the baby appearing hearty and strong. Before he had risen next morning he heard someone pounding on the door, and upon going down Mrs. Yorke made complaint as to the manner in which her husband was ill-using the child. She then left, but was back in five or ten minutes, having her dead baby in her arms and accompanied by the prisoner. As they approached the door she said to her husband, "Arthur, you have killed my baby." They then came into the house and I asked him what he had been doing. He said the child had a fit when in his charge, and before his wife could return it was in the throes of death and he had only time to place it in her arms when it died. The witness saw marks on the dead child's throat. Later on he observed bruises behind the ear, on the hand and also on the back. The baby never had fits to the best of his knowledge.

Henrietta Thayers, wife of the last witness, described the marks on the body and also corroborated his testimony in the other instances; in addition, she stated that the wife had told her of other occasions when Yorke had whipped the baby.

Mrs. Mann testified to the effect that Mrs. Yorke passed her door, carrying the dead body of her baby, and as she passed, said, "Arthur has killed my little one." Yorke then said, in a menacing tone, "Take care, Lizzie, take care."

Elizabeth Tarbot, stepmother of Mrs. Yorke, stated that the ill-assorted couple had been married in the early part of August, 1891; that they had never agreed and she had seen the husband take the wife's hands and make her beat her own face until her eyes were blacked and the blood ran in a stream from the bruised flesh. She had also seen him shake the helpless babe in a fit of passion and once he had put a plug of tobacco in its mouth to stop its crying, saying that, "Inside of three months I will have the little devil chewing tobacco."

In his charge to the jury the Judge clearly defined the difference between murder and manslaughter and charged rather against the prisoner.

The jury retired at about 6.40 o'clock and the court adjourned until 7.30. In ten minutes the jury were rapping on the door to signify their agreement upon a verdict, but they had to endure their incarceration as best they might until the judge returned. The verdict returned was, "Guilty of manslaughter."

Mr. Clute moved for sentence, but before complying the judge took occasion to administer to the prisoner such a scathing rebuke on his actions, both as husband and father, that ignorant and brutal as he was he flushed and had the grace for a few minutes to look thoroughly abashed. The sentence imposed was three years' imprisonment in the Kingston Penitentiary. The Judge warned Yorke that if on being discharged from Kingston he made any attempt to fulfil his threats he would stand in a far more critical position than he did even now.

THE CHOLERA.

Health Officers at Antwerp Attacked by a Mob.

ANTWERP, Oct. 12.—A few cases of cholera have occurred the past few days in the poor quarter of the city in the Rue Kronenberg, one of the streets near the water front. Some of the persons attacked died before they could be removed to the hospital, and when the health officers attempted to remove the bodies a mob tried to prevent them. The timely arrival of the police prevented serious disorder.

Saved to Be Hanged.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., Oct. 12.—Emmet Dalton was taken to Independence jail yesterday by Sheriff Callahan without an objection being raised by the citizens. William Dalton went along. Emmet is better and it is now thought he will recover.

MR. WARD'S EXPLOITS.

A Young Torontonian in Custody in Brussels.

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The arrest of Ward in Brussels is the great sensation here, where the parties are all well-known.

The double charge against him is brought by a tradesman of Bourges, with whose daughter, aged 16, Ward is said to have eloped.

The father had them followed by detectives and tracked them via Paris to Brussels, where the arrest was made on the charge of abduction of a minor, which is punishable by five years' penal servitude.

The girl, however, declared that she had followed Ward of her own free will, and he thinks that the strong protestations of his sister's husband, Prince Caraman-Chimay, might have secured his release.

But a woman with whom he had been living at the Villa Givaudius, near Bourges, and whom he had deserted for the girl, made a grave charge.

She is said to have alleged that Ward had criminally assaulted her 10-year-old daughter, Blanche Herault, and alleges that she can prove the charge by the medical testimony taken at the time.

Ward's friends say that Madame Herault's action is for revenge, because of the loss of her handsome and most generous protector, Ward, who is only 22, and who appears to have lavished money upon her.

Her villa is costly. It was furnished from here; and her dresses, her carriages and her jewels were the sensation of Bourges.

Little is known about her except that she was divorced under sensational circumstances eight years ago. She is described as handsome, but old enough to be Ward's mother.

She alleges that Ward offered her $50,000 for her silence about Blanche. He denies the whole story, saying that when he had made up his mind to leave her she brought out this charge, demanding $50,000.

AN APOLOGY FOR MISS BORDEN.

The Boston Globe Says That It Has Been Imposed Upon.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The Globe this evening, protesting that it was imposed upon in accepting as true what it published relative to Lizzie Borden, makes a full apology to Miss Borden and John V. Morse.

Friends of the Prisoner.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 11.—The general feeling has changed in regard to the Borden case, and the defendant's counsel is receiving encouraging telegrams from all sections condemning the alleged disclosures in the case and encouraging him to continue his work for Lizzie Borden. The three local papers express editorially opinions of a similar character, and call upon the state to get rid of its hired detectives. Direction to bring libel suits has been given to Mr. Jennings, counsel for the defence.

CAN'T FIND THE MONEY.

Five Thousand Dollars Disappear From a Chatham Bank.

CHATHAM, Oct. 11.—A Government detective has been engaged for some days back in the investigation of the disappearance of about $5000 in cash from the teller's box at the Standard Bank. It appears that the money was left out of the safe over night and was gone in the morning. It must have been removed by someone having easy access to the bank. The manager, Mr. Rogers, and the other officials of the bank refuse to make any statement. The detective has conducted a rigid examination, but is not yet ready to report.

MRS. HARRISON DOOMED.

Yielding to the Disease Which Has Assailed Her.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Mrs. Harrison's condition appears to be yielding to the effects of the disease from which she is suffering, and she is gradually growing weaker. The nourishment, consisting of raw eggs and beef tea, which has been so important an element in keeping up her strength, is now taken in smaller quantities. She rests quietly as a rule and sleeps most of the time, but awakes exhausted instead of refreshed. The cough, which has distressed her at intervals, has ceased, but this is regarded as an unfavorable symptom. The disease is progressing more rapidly and the left lung is now involved.

To-night Mrs. Harrison is fairly comfortable, notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions.

THAT GREAT MYSTERY.

The Glenwilliam Villagers Conclude There Is Nothing to It.

GEORGETOWN, Ont., Oct. 11.—Mrs. McErney, wife of the missing man, Thomas McErney, of Glenwilliam returned home this afternoon from her father's funeral. She emphatically denies the rumor that the deceased on his death bed said that McErney's body would be found under the barn.

Several of those who attended deceased were interviewed to-day and all stated that the rumor was false. The villagers are now coming to the same conclusion and are looking for the man who first concocted the yarn. No one has thought it worth while to search the barn. The question where is McErney is yet unanswered.

NO REMEDIAL LEGISLATION.

But the Confiscation of Catholic School Property Will Not Be Allowed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—The Free Press prints a statement to the effect that the Dominion Government, while declining to grant remedial legislation, will refuse to permit the confiscation of Catholic school property in Manitoba for public school purposes, as proposed by the Manitoba Act.

THE TRIALS AT HOMESTEAD.

True Bills Against Strikers and Also Against Carnegie Officials.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—At 3 o'clock yesterday the grand jury returned true bills against the members of the Homestead Advisory Committee charged with treason. True bills were also returned against H. C. Frick, John G. A. Leishman, F. T. F. Lovejoy, Henry Curry, Supt. Potter, Otis Childs and Nevin McConnell, all Carnegie officials; Henry and Fred Pinkerton, Capt. Cooper, Fred Primer and other Pinkerton detectives, charged with murder and conspiracy.

Beaten After Half a Year's Strike.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—The strike of tanners at this place, which has lasted for 26 weeks, has been declared off and the men are soliciting their old places. It is reported that $50,000 has been contributed by outside unions since the strike began.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

THE farmers were promised that the "National Policy" would benefit them by giving them a home market, and better prices for their produce. What has been the result? The high tariff has greatly increased the price of every thing the farmer has to buy, and on the other hand, the prices of farm produce are down to the lowest notch, while in sympathy with the depressed crop prices that have prevailed for several years, the farmer can't even sell his farm at a half decent price. The other day a farm in the best part of Smith, after repeated attempts, was sold at auction for $35 per acre, the reserved bid having been placed at $50. The N. P. has by the retaliation it has provoked, excluded Canadian farmers from their nearest market, from prices much higher than the N.P. "home market." To compare prices: On the Peterborough market on Saturday—by the way the best market in the country—spring wheat sold at 69c., fall at 70c., barley at 35c., and oats at 28c. Now compare the prices from the Empire's market report of the prices of these grains in Buffalo on the same date: Spring wheat, according to quality, was quoted at from 79½c. to 80c., a difference of from 13½c. to 20c. Winter wheat was quoted at 77c. to 78½c., a difference of from 7 to 8½c. Oats sold at 37½c.—9½c. ahead of Peterborough, and barley sold at 68 to 75c. for "good to choice," (and Canadian would bring still higher figures)—from 33 to 40c. in advance of Peterborough market prices. Farmers should study these figures, and then consider what a boon trade restriction is. The difference in price on the all round products of the farm would make a large item; and there is no earthly reason in being shut out of our nearest and best market for scores of articles that could be sold to better advantage in the states than even in England were that market in reasonable distance. Trade restriction benefits nobody and injures the Canadian farmer, who suffers at both ends—a high tariff makes him pay through the nose for all he buys and trade restriction cuts him out of his nearest and best market. With the purchasing prices of farm produce reduced to starvation point and the prices of the goods it should purchase artificially increased to the highest point, the farmers lot is decidedly not a happy one. Our Conservative statesmen claim that "hard times" can be remedied by legislation, and now is the time for farmers to "strike" them for a fulfillment of their claim, for never, perhaps, in the history of the country were the farmers so much in need of help.

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

DEATH OF MRS. GRANT.—The township of Dummer has lost one of its oldest settlers by the death of Mrs. Grant, wife of Mr. Joseph Grant, at the age of 71 years. Her death took place on Monday, 3rd of October. The deceased lady came to Dummer in the year 1832, having settled in the neighborhood about 60 years ago, where she lived ever since. She was the daughter of Mr. William Batten, and her life has been one that has won the respect and good will of everyone who knew her. She was especially well known for her many christian virtues and her kindness of heart and action. Deceased was the mother of six children—four sons and two daughters—all of whom are living. She was interred in the cemetery at Warsaw on Wednesday, 5th inst., being followed to her last resting place by a large number of sorrowing relatives and friends.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

AN OLD SOLDIER'S STORY.

After U. S. Medical Men Fail Relief Comes from Canada.

The following letter tells the tale of one released from suffering, and needs no comment:—

Michigan Soldier's Home,
Hospital Ward A.,
GRAND RAPIDS, March 27, 1892.

Dr. Williams' Medicine Co.

GENTLEMEN,—I have your letter of the 24th, asking me what benefit Pink Pills for Pale People, and it gives me unbounded satisfaction to reply. Within ten days after I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, those terribly excruiating pains I had experienced in my limbs, heart, stomach, back and head, began to leave me, becoming less severe and less frequent and before I had taken all of the second box they were gone. At times since I have experienced aches, but they are nothing compared to the pains I had formerly suffered. For months I could get no sleep or rest, only from the use of morphine, two, three and five times daily. Soon after I began taking the Pink Pills I discontinued the morphine and have taken it but once since, and I am now only taking my fourth box of the pills. Before I began taking Pink Pills I had no passage from my bowels except from the use of cathartics. Very soon after taking the pills my bowels moved regularly and naturally, —constipation was entirely gone. Previous to commencing the use of Pink Pills my urine was milky in color and after standing resembled a jelly substance. Now it is clear and perfectly natural, and shows no sediment whatever. I had lost the use of my legs and could not bear the weight of my body on them. By the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills and cold baths and rubbing with a crash towel prescribed with them, my limbs have steadily gained in health and strength until I can now bear my full weight weight upon them. I have been gaining slowly but surely ever since I began the use of the Pink Pills, and am perfectly confident that I will be able to walk again and be comfortable, and this after doctoring for years with the best physicians and specialists who said my disease could not be cured but only relieved temporarily by the use of hypodermic injections of morphine. I would not do without Dr. Williams' Pink Pills under any circumstances, even though they cost ten times what they do, and I strongly recommend them to persons afflicted with locomotor ataxia, paralysis, kidney troubles, nervous diseases and impurities of the blood. I have recommended the Pink Pills to a number of old comrades, and in every instance they have proved beneficial, can I therefore do less than warmly recommend them to all who read this letter?

Yours very gratefully,
E. P. HAWLEY.

Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors of the blood, such as such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of any nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50c. a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these Pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they say and their husbands say so too! dw

A Suitable Gift.

A tube of Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses for making the skin soft and smooth will be acceptable to any lady. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d84

Improvement of Country Roads.

At a convention recently held in Iowa the loss to the creameries and their supplying farmers through bad roads was stated to be 20 per cent. The convention recommended a general road plan for the State, with six roads running east and west and north and south, the average cost being estimated at $1,500 per mile. It was urged that the work should begin when it can be shown that 15,000 miles of good roads can be built in five or ten years, so that when completed no person in Iowa will be found living more than four miles from a perfect macadamized road. Here and in a Missouri convention papers were read and speeches made by prominent men pointing out the beneficent effect of good wheeling upon the farmers. Good wagon roads, it was argued with much force, would facilitate attendance at church and at political and other gatherings, make social intercourse easier, and generally help to broaden and brighten country life and check the rush to the cities. The road system is one of the things that they manage better in France. The French system was described in a paper read by Prof. F. H. Neff, before the Civil Engineer's Club of Cleveland, a summary of which appears in the New York Post. In France the roads are divided into three main classes, national, departmental and county. The national highways are mostly for military purposes, and comprise about 24,000 miles, whose construction and maintenance are borne entirely by the General Government. Departmental roads also comprise about 24,000 miles, are laid out to serve the department as a whole, connecting the principal cities, and are paid for by the department. The county or vicinage roads have become the most important; their aggregate length is over 300,000 miles, exclusively of roads within village limits. These roads are built and maintained by the communes or townships, whose average size is about six square miles. There is a system of engineers in charge of all these roads, with assistants, who look after 25 or 50 miles each. Laborers or section hands are employed in numbers averaging from 1¼ to 2½ miles of road per man. The macadam road without a foundation is the form followed. The cost of construction and maintenance has averaged as follows:

	First cost per mile.	Annual maintenance per mile.
National roads	$10,000	$220
Departmental roads	6,500	160
County roads	2,700	80

The subject of the improvement of county roads is now receiving much attention from the American press, metropolitan as well as agricultural.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

The day after a debauch, or any intemperate indulgence, a single teaspoonful of the Father Mathew Remedy will remove all mental and physical depression. ld

GENTLEMEN, — For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B.B.B. I can eat heartily of any food, and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

Would You Buy,

If the Prices Were Low?

Most men who do not own houses would become owners if they could do so at a moderate cost.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

I have one house, well built, good location, Aylmer street, between Townsend and Rink streets—$2,300. Look it up. Will have two on Dalhousie street, work now going on.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town. In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analysed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

County Police Court.

Lawrence McCormack, who was arrested by county constable Whiton and lodged in gaol yesterday, charged with stealing a razor from Wm. Ingram, barber, Havelock, on the 10th inst., was brought up this morning before county magistrate Edmison, and pleaded guilty to the offence. The prisoner said he was drunk and did not know what crime he was committing when he reached his hand through the window and purloined the razor. McCormack was sentenced to a week in gaol at hard labour. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown.

"Joshua Simpkins."

A crowded house, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, saw Reno & Ford's Company in the Yankee comedy entitled "Joshua Simpkins" at the opera house last night. The play was good throughout. The characters, without an exception, were well taken. H. Miller Howard as "Josh" was a typical farmer from "way back." D. E. Potter, as "Samantha Twitter" kept the audience in an uproar whenever he made his appearance. Miss Lettie Wright in the role of "Effie" sings and dances gracefully. The scene on the dock at the Potomac river, and in the interior of Uncle Josh's saw mill, were novel and exciting. Another feature of the evening was the fine orchestra accompanying the company.—Ballston Spa Daily News, Aug. 26, 1892. In Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday, Oct. 13th.

Remembered by the Officers.

Last evening the officers of the 57th Battalion visited the residence of Lieut L. M. Hayes, McDonel street, and presented him with a handsome and ornate marble clock on the occasion of his recent marriage. Capt. Lech, of "D" Company, made the presentation in felicitous terms. Mr. Hayes, who is the popular lieutenant of "D" Company, though completely surprised, made a happy reply thanking his brother officers for their expressions of kindness and good will. On a silver plate pendant from the costly horologue were inscribed the words: "Presented by officers of the 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, Sept. 8th, 1892." The 57th Battalion band soon afterwards appeared and serenaded the newly-wedded officer and his bride. Lieut. and Mrs. Hayes hospitably treated the officers and members of the band to refreshments and a most pleasant evening was spent. Owing to illness Lieut.-Col. Rogers was unable to be present to participate in the joyous event.

Guy Brothers' Minstrels.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Guy Brothers minstrel show on their first appearance in Montreal last night. The entertainment was very pleasing, the six Guy Brothers themselves all being first class vocal and terpsichorean artists. Messrs Vanerson and McDonald brought down the house with their comical performances on the horizontal barette. The songs, dances and bones and banjo specialties of Messrs. G. R. and W. H. Guy were very clever and thoroughly enjoyable. Taking the show as a whole, it was well worth seeing. Their orchestra is a strong feature. Another entertainment is to be given this evening, and if merit counts a large audience should be present.—Montreal Daily Herald, September 23rd, 1892.

Kind Reception to Their Rector.

Last evening in the Sunday school rooms of St. John's church the members of the congregation tendered Rev. Mr. Davidson, rector, a hearty reception on his return from a five months's sojourn to England and the Continent. The people of St. John's and the South Ward Mission as well as a large number of those who have recently joined the church, were present in large numbers to welcome Mr. Davidson home again, renewed in health and strength after his weeks of recuperation. The ladies of the church had tastefully decorated the Sunday school rooms for the occasion. The proceedings throughout were of an informal character, and a very pleasant time was spent between rector and parishioners. The Olympic Club orchestra discoursed particularly fine selections during the evening, which were much appreciated. Rev. Mr. Davidson in a short address expressed the pleasure it gave him to be present among the people of St. John's again, after his long absence, and he thanked them kindly for their warm-hearted reception. He referred in grateful terms to the handsome gift of $150 which they had sent him while he was in Europe. He spoke of the events, both sad and joyful which had transpired in the church during his absence. He gave a brief, graphic account of his visit to Switzerland and Germany the many points of interest he had visited and charming scenes he had witnessed. The speaker welcomed Rev. Mr. Symonds in their midst and hoped his work at St. Luke's church would be crowded with success. Rev. Mr. Symonds who was present made a feeling reply to the pleasure and encouragement Mr. Davidson's warm hearted reference hadgiven him.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

CURLERS ORGANIZE.

The Annual Meeting of the Curling Club Held Last Night — Officers Elected — Annual Meeting of the Skating Rink Company.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Skating Rink Company was held at the rink last night. Those present were Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, C. McGill, Adam Hall, R. S. Davidson and Dr. Boucher. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed; also the financial statement of the past year. Matters of interest concerning the Company were then discussed and the following officers re-elected for the ensuing year: President, W. G. Ferguson; Sec-Treas., C. McGill; Directors, R. S. Davidson, Adam Hall, Dr. Boucher, C. McGill and W. G. Ferguson.

THE CURLERS' MEETING.

Immediately after the meeting of the directors the annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club was called together. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, President, occupied the chair, and present were Messrs. C. McGill, Sec.-Treas., T. Rutherford, W. Sailsbury, R. H. Kells, Dr. Boucher, R. S. Davidson, Adam Hall, Sam'l Clegg, Wm. Snowden, George Edmison, E. B. Edwards, W. G. Ferguson, Sam'l Ray, D. W. Dumble, John McKee, W. G. Ferguson Geo. Fitzgerald and others.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The financial statement of receipts and expenditures for the past year as well as well as the report of the phenomenally successful record of last season, were read and adopted.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with. Mr. D. W. Dumble was elected president and took the chair. The other officers were elected as follows:

VICE-PRESIDENT—Geo. W. Hatton.
SEC.-TREAS.—C. McGill, (re-elected.)
MANAGING COMMITTEE—R. M. Dennistoun, W. G. Ferguson, T. E. Bradburn and the officers of the club.
CAPTAIN—Rev. H. Symmonds.
1ST REPRESENTATIVE MEMBER—Dr. Boucher, (re-elected.)
2ND REPRESENTATIVE MEMBER—E. B. Edwards, (re-elected.)

The election of 12 skips for the coming season was, on special motion, deferred until later on in the evening, and a motion, or rather a suggestion made by Mr. S. Ray taken up. It was in effect that the present club divide into two separate clubs, under separate officers, each playing three nights each week in the rink.

Mr. Davidson seconded Mr. Ray's motion. He thought that it would be a good thing and could be run successfully. It would increase the membership of the club and provoke friendly contests between the two organizations.

The matter was then discussed at some length by the members in all its details and many views and suggestions were offered. Mr. Edwards favoured the division of the club in two subdivisions for matches among themselves but when playing outside clubs or engaging in the Tankard competition they should unite. He thought the matter should be enquired into and an effort made to see what membership they could secure by the club dividing itself into two divisions. He moved that Messrs. Boucher, Ferguson, Dennistoun, McGill and Rutherford be a committee and make all necessary enquiries and report at another meeting of the club to be held on Friday night next.

Mr. Dennistoun favoured two clubs under two provisional sets of officers. The matter should be thoroughly ventilated and each list of officers see what they could do in securing members and ascertain where their membership and finances could be increased by dividing the club into two separate clubs, and report to a future meeting. In his opinion two clubs could be run successfully, the same as in Galt and other places. The clubs would not be called the old club or the new club, but probably the Granites and Thistles, and curlers could join whichever one they wished, or both for that matter.

Several other suggestions were made, and much information was brought out in the discussion. It was shown that it was rather late in the season for the formation of two clubs, as the club's returns of membership and fees had to be reported to the Central Branch by Tuesday next. Then, too, if two separate clubs were formed, only one of them could take part in the Ontario Tankard competition and the chances for winning that trophy would not be increased any.

Mr. McGill and others favoured the following fees and that only one club be formed this year, but the matter might be considered later on. That membership for old members be $7.50 per year, while the fee for new members should be only $5. The reason the club had not secured a larger membership than forty in the past was because the fees for men who had never handled a stone were too high and old curlers and skips had not shown enough attention and given instruction to new members.

Mr. Edmison moved in amendment to Mr. Ray's motion, that the club remain the same this year as previously and that the fees for old members be $7.50 per year and new members $5. Mr. McGill seconded the amendment. The original motion and amendment were then up and the latter carried.

Mr. Dumble thought that Mr. Ray's motion should be placed on the minutes and a special meeting called during the winter to consider it.

Moved by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Davidson that a meeting be called during the winter to consider the advisability of forming two clubs for next season.—Carried.

Mr. Edmison moved, seconded by Mr. McKee that Messrs. Edwards, Dennistoun and Rutherford be a committee, with power to add to their numbers, to take into consideration the propriety of forming two club for next year, and to ascertain all necessary information thereto and report to special meeting of the club—Carried.

The skips for the ensuing season were then balloted for and resulted as follows: Messrs. F. D. Mackay and W. Sailsbury were appointed scrutineers; Messrs. Boucher, Rutherford, Ferguson, Dennistoun, McGill, Ray, Pentland, Bradburn, Connal, Davidson, Attrill and Budden. Messrs. Sailsbury and McGill were appointed a committee with power to add to their number, to solicit members and collect subscriptions for the club. The form of presenting the President's medal to the winning rink was changed. It was decided that instead of the winning rink playing off among its members to see who should hold the trophy, each member of the rink be presented with some suitable souvenir. In other words the form of the President's trophy was changed. In all the rink's matches it was decided to play off for all medals and prizes the same as last year except for the Vice-President's medal, when the thirteen point game will be played. The skips were given power to select their own teams. The meeting then adjourned.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 6 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

OTONABEE EXHIBITION.

Held at Keene With Good Success.

Unfortunately wet weather came for the second day of the annual exhibition of the Otonabee Agricultural Society held at Keene on Thursday and Friday, but in spite of this the exhibition as such, was successful though of course there was a limited attendance of visitors. The entries were in excess of last year and in some departments the articles were superior to previous exhibitions. In cattle there was a good show of Durhams, Ayrshires and Holsteins, while the horses were superior for a township show. The show of sheep was good, and the swine exhibit received additional interest from the fine improved Yorkshire pig shown by Mr. John Breckenridge, purchased by him from Wm. Featherstin, Streetsville, and which was a first prize winner at both the Toronto Industrial and Montreal exhibitions this year. The show of roots and grains was excellent, and there was also a fair exhibit of dairy produce. As usual the ladies did themselves credit for a fine, though not large, display of their peculiar handiwork, including a good display of domestic manufactures. Fine arts were well represented, including a couple of good oil paintings by Miss F. Powell, and a placque reproduction of a river scene by Mrs. Harrison, from a photograph taken by her husband, Dr. Harrison.

Fruit, especially apples, were up to the mark, and there was a good display of flowers.

Five buggies and a cutter included the excellent exhibit in carriage work shown by Mr. W. T. Mather, of Mather's Corners. The style, workmanship and finish were excellent, and one of them found favour with Dr. Shaw, of Keene, who purchased it.

In agricultural implements, Mr. J. S. McNeil showed three Frost & Wood ploughs and a Mann cultivator.

RIVERDALE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A Successful Opening Tea and Entertainment Held Last Night—A Large Attendance and Fine Programme.

A very successful opening tea and entertainment was held at the new Riverdale Sunday school building at Crawford's Grove last night. The attendance was numerous, a large number from town being present. A fine tea was served at the house of Mr. Wm. Bell, opposite the new edifice, from six to eight o'clock by the ladies of the community and duly partaken of; the table being filled and refilled again and again. Afterwards an adjournment was made to the Sunday school building which was packed to the doors, when all had congregated within. Mr. J. L. Hughes occupied the chair and kept all in good spirits. On the platform were Revs. G. Edwards, J. E. Trotter and A. McWilliams and Mr. John Hart, superintendent of the Sunday school. A programme of rare merit was carried out during the evening and the selections were interspersed with congratulatory addresses from Mr. Crawford, Rev. J. E. Trotter, Rev. Geo. Edwards and Rev. A. McWilliams, all of which were listened to attentively. The speakers wished the new Sunday school and its teachers every success in their new home which they had so long needed. Mr. Hart, secretary of the trustee board presented the financial statement as follows: Total cost of building, $343.78; cash received by subscription, $168.75; standing debt, $175.03, which together with the cost of erecting a shed and other improvements, would amount to $250 in all. This amount will be reduced by some $100, arising from the collection taken up at the dedication service, $13.60, subscriptions taken up last night, $40, and the proceeds of the tea some $40, leaving a deficit of about $150. Those who participated in the splendid programme were: Solo, Mr. W. Squires; duet, Misses, Stevens; trio, Messrs. Hill, Squires and Stevens; recitation, Geo. Munro; club swinging and wand drill, Misses Belleghem; solo, Miss M. Stevens; duet, Mr. W. Squires and Miss Brundrette; dialogue, Masters May and Johnston. Owing to the lateness of the hour the programme was not completed. Each event rendered was liberally applauded.

WON BY A GOAL.

The Collegiate Institute Team Beat the Town at Football.

An interesting game of football took place yesterday afternoon on the P.A.A. grounds between two home teams, Collegiate Institute vs. Peterborough. Following are the names of the teams:

Collegiate Institute.		Peterboroughs.
C. Halliday	goal	Cunningham
W. J. Drope, H. Burnham	backs	G. Boucher, D. McCabe
G. Borland, V. McWilliams	halves	E. Desautel, Pritchard
E. Porter, F. Heap	forwards	W. Dumble, Burnon
R. Kearns, A. Scott	right wing	Carmichael, Gus Hay
L. King, S. Adams	left wing	J. Begley, W. Galley
Referee		Lawrence Cluxton

The game started at four o'clock and for forty minutes—twenty minutes each way—the contest was keen and exciting. The collegiate boys were much better kickers and better passers than the town an the game partook of the nature of team play on one side against individual efforts on the other. The town showed clearly their lack of practice, but nevertheless proved formidable opponents and kept the score of their antagonists down to one goal to nothing. Near the conclusion of the last half Kearns kicked a goal for the Collegiates; the town claimed a foul, but the referee would not allow their contention. There is some splendid material in the town players and all they need is practice. Carmichael, Burnon, McCabe and Hay put up a good game, while the Collegians all did well. Kearns especially proved himself to be a clever player. Another match between these two clubs will take place in a few days.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G. Gumpricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

TERRY DENVER.

A New Canadian Story by Nancy Nugent.

"Never thought of that, Zell, but I don't care, let us have it without water. Just a grand masque, and you wear that angel's garb of yours that you wore when you came to light first, before the dressmakers got their hands on you. You looked divine in that dress I tell you. We will give it, this dry land Venetian masque, one week from Thursday, this i Monday."

"YOU ARE AN ANGEL OF MERCY, ZELL."

"Oh! that will be splendid. I can wear the dear old dress again and imagine I am at the Tarn. It will be worth the trouble to wander around in that dress again with you, Shem, will it not?"

"If you are not going to wander around with me, Zell, I won't give this Venetian grand masque—so there, now."

"Never mind him, Shem, we will have it without him."

"I would love to see thee as I knew thee at the Tarn. Yet thou art better. Thou hast gained knowledge, but thou art winning as of old. Thou art like a drop of cool water to the fevered mouth. The masque is to be desired."

"Shem says yes, Jack. Get the cards out as early as possible that it will be well attended."

CHAPTER XV.

'Tis the night of the masque The large gardens were a dream in light and shade. All invitations had been accepted. Miss Ambrose gave entertainments that were events, and were sought after. Zell was without a doubt queen of the masque, and many were the conquests she made. She strolled aronnd with Shem for some time. At ten they had unmasked; it was now a little after and Zell was tired and a little sad.

"Will you please find Jack for me, Shem; he may cheer me with his nonsense. I will wait him in the arbor at the side of the house."

"Thou did'st not forget thy Terry?"

"No, Shem. Will he come soon? It is two days past the thirty—but go for Jack."

In a few minutes Jack came bounding along the path, whistling gaily. What a stimulant those men are who are so full of joyous life. It was always slightly intoxicating to spend half an hour with Jack. Life was so strong and full in him that it was constantly bubbling over, and was involuntarily absorbed by those who were with him.

"So the little woman is in the blues? There are a number the same way tonight. You steal all hearts, and your exquisite beauty causes envy. Do you know, Zell, I am awfully glad my sensibility is deficient or I would fall in love with you myself? And, oh! what an ardent wooer I am when I start. Say, Terry would have a poor chance against me. So you refused the gallant captain, did you?"

"Do not talk so. We will not entertain again until Terry comes. Tell me of Terry, will you, Jack?"

"Do you know, Zell Ambrose, it seems to me you are making a hand-organ of me, and you grind out the tunes that suit yourself, not the public. Now, my dainty hurdy-gurdy grinder, will you play about Nettie, and let the old tune of Terry become a lost chord?"

"Terry is the best tune."

"Well, I guess so. Yes, he is a trump. Come, sit down. I will swing in this basket hammock so that I may talk of the wandering exiled knight as he ought to be talked of—slowly, you know."

"Yes. You said he was a trump, Jack. Well?"

"Yes, he is a whole-hearted trump. He went away for no other reason than to give you a chance to fall in love with someone else, me perhaps."

"Yes, Jack, and what else?"

"You were woman enough to stick to the first love."

"I did not mean that. Please stick to the old tune."

"You are insatiable on that subject and I will not speak of Terry again this night, I'll be blessed if I will; so there, now."

"Never mind, Zell! Terry will himself. Dear little one, and so you have loved your Terry through all."

From the shadows Terry came to Zell. After that first greeting all were without words for a while. Zell's Terry, her strength, had returned.

"Say, did you bring another goddess with you this time?"

"I had no need to. Zell was waiting for me. And you have a grand party to-night. I have been waiting an hour for the guests to depart that I could announce myself, but when you came here and Jack threatened such cruelty I had to come forth. What is it, Zell, have you become the silent one? Speak to me, Zell."

"I cannot: it is enough to be near you and hear your voice. You will not leave me again, will you?"

"Let me tell you, Zell, and you, old boy, I have an idea."

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it. ●

NEWEPAPER MEN BROKE FAITH.

Newspaper Men Have Told What They Promised to Suppress.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 11.—There has been a manifest breach of faith on the part of certain officers connected with the Borden murder case because of the broad publication of indelicate matters which were purposely suppressed at the preliminary hearing. In the published story there were many needless inaccuracies and some new facts. These have prompted some newspaper men to tell what they were asked to suppress. A local paper says of Lizzie Borden that while traveling in Europe she overdrew her letter of credit and a man prominent in business circles honored the draft. When her father's attention was called to it he commented very harshly on his daughter's extravagance. This statement shows that, while Mr. Borden might have been loving, he was not an indulgent parent.

Some years ago Miss Josie Rodman was very intimate with Lizzie Borden. Miss Borden attempted to persuade Miss Rodman, who was in failing health, to make a will in her favor, promising at the same time to make her will in favor of Miss Rodman. Mr. Jennings drew Miss Rodman's will, but it has not been shown that Lizzie Borden was a beneficiary by it. Some other statements of alleged new evidence are discussed in the papers.

The Government's case has been injured by to-day's development. Whether Miss Borden is guilty or innocent, it is felt that continued excitement will tend to make a fair, impartial trail difficult and will tend to shatter respect for the authorities among the public.

THE FALL RIVER CRIMES.

NEW EVIDENCE AGAINST LIZZIE BORDEN.

They May Be Mere Newspaper Yarns, and They May Have Facts to Sustain Them—A Despatch from Fall River Which Casts Discredit on the Reports.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—The Globe publishes a 13-column story from Fall River setting forth in detail new and, startling evidence for the prosecution in the Borden murder case, which it says is in the hands of the police and is to be given by 25 new witnesses, who will testify for the state at the coming trial. The evidence is forthcoming from people who stand high in the communities in which they live.

Briefly stated, the new evidence is as follows: John H. Murphy, who resides in Bedford-street, Fall River, will testify that he was standing on the sidewalk close to the Borden house when Mr. Borden entered his yard about 1.40 o'clock in the morning of August 4, and he saw him a minute later ushered into the lobby by Bridget Sullivan; that while Mr. Borden was walking in the yard he saw a window blind of the room in which Mrs. Borden's body was afterwards found cautiously opened by a young woman who had that same morning told him when he called at the Borden house about 9.30 o'clock that her "father" had gone down town and would not be back until noon or later. This woman he has identified as Lizzie A. Borden. The window Mr. Murphy designates as the one in which he saw Lizzie is so situated that she must have been standing over the mutilated remains of her mother at the very time that her father was about to enter the house.

The next witness of importance is Mrs. Gustave F. Ronald of Pawtucket, R.I. About 9.40 on the morning of the murders she was wheeling her baby carriage near the Borden house, when she heard a terrible cry or groan. She looked up at the Borden house and saw in a room through a partially open window a woman whose head was in part covered by a rubber cape or hood, whose face she saw plainly, as the distance was short. This window is the same as the one pointed out by Mr. Murphy. Mrs. Ronald was almost that minute approached by Peter Mahaney. He likewise had heard the groan, seen the woman at the window, who wore the peculiar head covering, and recognized her as the younger daughter of the Borden family, all members of which he knew well by sight.

Augustus Gunning, at the time a lodger in Mrs. Churchill's house, is said to have seen Lizzie Borden in the window at the same time and under the circumstances. These witnesses, The Globe says, fix Miss Borden at her mother's side almost at the minute when she probably was killed, and when Lizzie, according to her own statement, was elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Chase of Fall River, and Miss Abigail Manchester, their daughters, were friends of the eldest Bordens and visited them on the evening previous to the murder. They overheard, it is stated, a quarrel between Lizzie and her father. All heard Mr. Borden say: "You can make your own choice and do it to-night. Either let us know what his name is or take the door on Saturday, and when you go fishing, fish for some other place to live, as I will never listen to you again. I will know the name of the man who got you into trouble."

Lizzie is said to have replied: "If I marry this man will you be satisfied that everything will be kept from the outside world?"

Then the visitors were announced and conversed with Mr. and Mrs. Borden on the subject of the quarrel.

Mr. Borden said: "I would rather see her dead than have it come out."

G. Romaine Pittson, a wealthy New York dealer in machinery supplies, has made affidavit that a few days prior to the murder Mr. Borden consulted him as a friend about Lizzie, whose trouble he related in detail.

Mrs. George J. Sisson of Fall River is said to have heard Lizzie say to Bridget Sullivan, the hired girl, "Why don't you say how much money you want to keep quiet?"

Bridget's answer was, "I don't know what you mean, but you are not the girl I took you to be."

George Sisson, it is said, will swear that less than a month before the murder Mr. Borden told him that he had made a will giving Emma and Lizzie $25,000 cash, which was more than he would have allowed them but for his wife's intercession.

Bridget Sullivan will, it is claimed, corroborate the story of the quarrel between Mr. Borden and Lizzie; also that she heard—the night before the murders—Morse and Lizzie talking about a will. Also that on the afternoon of the murder Lizzie whispered to her, "Keep your tongue still and don't talk to these officers and you can have all the money you want."

Detective McHenry and his wife will, it is said, give important evidence, which relates in part to the story of the row between Lizzie and Emma Borden in the matron's room, in which the former accused the latter of having "given her away."

This tale, it is said, will be corroborated by the McHenrys, who overheard and saw the affair through a hole in the wall, especially prepared by the authorities. It is claimed that in this quarrel Lizzie kicked Emma several times on the leg.

A BUTCHERY IN GLASGOW

A WOMAN MURDERED AND HER BODY MUTILATED.

The Suspected Murderer Is a Gardener and His Room, Where the Deed Was Done, Had the Appearance of a Shambles—The Victim Unknown and the Murderer a Fugitive.

GLASGOW, Oct. 12.—The most horrible murder in the criminal history of this city was committed Monday at West Lodge, a villa on the Albert-road, in Pollokshields, on the outskirts of Glasgow. A woman, still unidentified, was mutilated after the method of "Jack the Ripper," was dismembered, and the pieces of her body were buried in the villa garden. McEwan, the gardener, who, doubtless, is guilty of the crime, has disappeared.

West Lodge is one of the finest suburbs of Glasgow and is surrounded by a garden some 125 feet deep on every side. McEwan, with the assistant gardener, McDougall, lived in a separate house, and when not busy at the villa did odd jobs in the neighborhood. He is a native of County Down, Ireland, is about 30 years old, and although occasionally a heavy drinker he has borne a good reputation. He is a man of great physical strength.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning McDougall knocked at McEwan's door to wake him, as he has done for the last six years. McEwan responded with unusual promptitude.

"All right, Tom. I won't get up yet, I am tired."

McDougall went away and worked in the garden until 9 o'clock, when he returned to arouse McEwan. His knocks were not answered and he forced the door. He found the walls, ceilings, furniture, floor spattered profusely with blood. The clothes from the two beds were scattered over the floor and were sprinkled with blood. Red finger marks streaked the side of one of the beds and the door. There was not a piece of furniture or an article of clothing which was not blood-stained.

McDougall ran coatless and hatless and crying in his terror to the police station and told his story.

After fortifying him with brandy the police took him to West Lodge with them. From the room they followed a bloody trail to four fresh-made mounds in the garden. In a flower bed, from which the plants had been removed, they found, about two feet under the ground, the mutilated and unjointed arm of a woman. In a similar bed they uncovered the trunk. It was absolutely devoid of all internal organs. Beside the trunk was the woman's left arm, also unjointed. In another flower bed they found the missing organs and the legs, unjointed as were the arms. The trail led from this last bed to a tool house. There, under a pile of rubbish and tools, was a biscuit box containing a fragment of a large saw, the teeth still dotted with flesh and blood and several smaller pieces of the woman's body. The police say that the box was used by McEwan in transporting the limbs and the organs from his room to the garden.

A search of McEwan's room revealed several razors, apparently unused for some time and an ax, recently washed, but still showing slight blood stains. McDougall was unable to give any information as to McEwan or the disposition of the body, for he was working at the time on the opposite side of the house, as was shown by the fresh-turned earth. He believes that when he knocked at 6 o'clock that McEwan was carving up the body, as McEwan's voice indicated that he was wide awake.

So far as can be judged from the remains of the body, McEwan's victim was robust, of medium height, about 30 or 35 years old. Her clothing was well made and of good material. McEwan probably took her to the house after 6 o'clock, for at that time McDougall called upon him and found him alone. This is the last time McEwan was seen by anybody near West Lodge. How and when McEwan induced the woman to enter the house and what was his motive in the murder are mysteries.

It was reported immediately after the news of the murder got out that McEwan was "Jack the Ripper," and at the time of the "Ripper" murders he was absent from Glasgow, but these reports are discredited. McEwan was engaged to marry a respectable girl, who is maid in a Glasgow family. The mother when she heard of the murder supposed that her daughter was the victim and ran to West Lodge. She could not identify the clothing as her daughter's, however, and this evening the girl was found.

The police say that McEwan had little money and will soon be captured. The woman's body has been put together as well as possible, and now lies at the morgue waiting identification.

MERCIER COMMITTED.

There Are Three Charges Against Him Of Malfeasance in Office.

QUEBEC, Oct. 12.—Count Mercier was by Judge Chaveau, committed to stand his trial before the Court of Queen's Bench in three more cases in which charges of malfeasance in office have been brought against him, as follows: In the case of the Baie des Chaleurs Railway upon a warrant made payable to the order of J. C. Langelier and released by Mr. Mercier over his simple signature, not officially, but for J.C. Langelier. Second, an official check based on this warrant, made payable to the order of J. C. Langelier and endorsed by Mr. Langelier, and by Mr. Mercier himself, afterwards deposited to his own credit for his own personal and private advantage.

The second charge is for appropriating provincial moneys for his own use. In the third indictment His Honor said he would commit the defendants for malfeasance in office for having illegally accepted and received the sum of $301,355 from Mr. Pacaud when he must have known that the sum was part of a subsidy that he himself intended to have voted by the legislature under the pretence of aiding in the construction of the Hereford Railway.

Other misapplications of public moneys form the gravamen of the remaining counts in the indictment.

CRUSTS AND SCALES

Hair and Eyebrows Fell Off. Doctor and Many Remedies No Benefit. Entirely Cured and Hair Restored by Cuticura.

My wife has been troubled for years with dry crusts and scales on her head and eyebrows. After seeming to lie dormant for years in her system, it broke out over a year ago in all its fury. Her hair came out in big patches, her eyebrows all fell off, and she presented a pitiable condition. We tried almost everything, but she continued to get worse. Then we tried one of our best physicians, but all to no purpose. Finally my wife believed that the CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. After she had used nine boxes of CUTICURA, and about a dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and four bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, she was cured entirely. Her hair came on again, and to-day she has as fine a head of black curly hair and as smooth skin as any lady in Allentown. Her eyebrows are heavier than they ever were, her scalp is free from dandruff, and her health is excellent. Now for the benefit of those suffering with same disease, or to those who may doubt the truthfulness of this statement, write me, inclosing a stamp, and I will cheerfully answer. I am sure that the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured my wife, for she used nothing else during the four or five months she used them. FREEMAN STOKKER,

THE NEWBLISS MURDERS

CORONER'S ENQUIRY INTO THE KILLING OF THE LUCKYS.

The Evidence So Far is of a Circumstantial Nature, Nothing Being Adduced Directly Fixing the Crime on the Prisoner—The Inference, Though, is Very Strong That He is the Man.

IRISH CREEK, Ont., Oct. 13.—The prisoner Lucky was brought here yesterday from Smith's Falls in charge of Chief McGowan and Detective Greer. Coroner Veaux opened the inquest at 9.30 o'clock. The whole village was astir with excitement, and when the van arrived with the prisoner a general rush was made for the party. The inquest was held in an old blacksmith's shop and the interior was crowded with villagers and others from the neighboring districts

The first witness called was Francis Mill, a civil engineer from Brockville, who was sent out to the scene of the tragedy by the coroner to make a drawing of the foundation of the house and locality. The sketch was shown to the jury and pronounced to be a correct drawing of the ground. Mr. Mill's examination was very short.

The next witness called was John James Lucky, jr., who gave some very interesting and important evidence. He deposed that he was a farmer by occupation and resided next to his father's lot in the Township of Witley and within a mile of Newbliss village. Questioned as to whether his father was a wealthy man or not he stated that he was considered quite wealthy for a farmer. When asked as to the relations existing between himself and his father he stated that on one occasion he had a slight dispute with him, but the matter was afterwards settled by the father paying over to the witness a sum of money which he owed him. Cross-questioned as to a will made by the father, witness stated that his father spoke about making a will, and he (witness) said he would be glad to give him counsel, and asked him to do well by Charlie, the prisoner, and his sister, as he himself was well off and did not require anything. Witness last saw his sister on Saturday morning just before he left the house for Smith's Falls. She had been sewing for his daughter since the Wednesday before and left about 10 minutes to two, just before the fire was discovered. The witness further acknowledged that his father made two or three wills, and that he understood the last one was not as favorable to Charlie as the previous one. Questioned as to what the father's feelings were towards the son Charles, witness said with much emotion that his father considered Charlie to be a good boy, and further, said the witness:

"He was my favorite brother until the last few days."

Witness said that he had not seen the prisoner for two years. Two years ago he worked for him for a month or two in the spring and also worked for his father, but since that time he had been working all over, with no settled home. Witness did not think there was any great ill-feeling between Charles and his father.

"About six years ago Charlie shot himself in Toronto, and I went up to see him and brought him home. Afterward I told him (Charlie) I think you know more of this thing than I do, meaning the shooting, and he put his hand to his back and said:

"There is a bullet in my body that would not be there if it was not for father." [Sensation.]

Mr. Lucky's examination closed and Mr. Andrew Parker, farmer, was called to the witness stand. He told how he had met Mr. Lucky, deceased, in Smith's Falls on the morning of the tragedy. He was then going home and he (the witness) just nodded to him. Mr. Parker stated that when he arrived home about 1.45, Mr. Lucky had not reached his home. Shortly afterwards he was noticed coming home, and about 15 minutes after that again fire was noticed at the Lucky house, and witness and others ran over. The doors were fastened and the house was ablaze inside. Witness kicked in the door and discovered the bodies, but was unable to get them out until they were burned so badly he could not recognize them. The bodies lay very near together, the daughter close to the door. Witness could not recognize the prisoner as he had not seen him in two years.

Isabella Parker corroborated her father's story and her statement did not vary much from his. She informed the court that Mary Ann Lucky was in the habit of wearing an upper set of false teeth, but could not identify the set produced in court as the one usually worn by the deceased. Several more witnesses were examined, but their evidence was almost the same as that of the previous ones, with the exception of one young man who testified to finding the bloody ax at the time of the fire. The ax was produced in court and identified by the witness as the one he picked up at the fire when trying to save the property. Witness stated that there was a break in the handle and he caught his hand on it and received a slight wound, but not sufficient to cause a large flow of blood.

During the examination of the witnesses the prisoner preserved an indifferent air, and did not betray the slightest sign that his mind was at all troubled. He sat with his eyes fixed upon the coroner and the table and seldom raised them to look around. At 12 o'clock the inquest adjourned for lunch. The prisoner was taken to the hotel chained to Chief McGowan and ate a hearty meal.

In the afternoon several important witnesses were examined, the most of them being from Smith's Falls. Mr. J. Giles, shoe dealer, identified the slippers worn by the prisoner as a pair purchased by a young man in his store on the evening of the 8th inst. He had a private mark on them. Witness was not able to identify the prisoner as the purchaser of the slippers.

Mr. Polk, the farmer who was instrumental in effecting the arrest of Lucky, described his meeting with the prisoner on the Smith's Falls-road on the same evening that the stranger purchased the slippers. Witness positively identified the prisoner as the man whom he met on the road.

Mr. Willis, the proprietor of the Palace Hotel, Smith's Falls, identified the prisoner as a young man who reached his hotel on Saturday night, the 8th inst., and asked for a room. He described the nervous action of the man and related the story of his arrest by Chief McGowan a few hours later.

Chief McGowan told the story of the arrest of Lucky in detail, and described the guilty manner of the young man when accused of the crime. The vest worn by the prisoner was produced and blood stains pointed out by the constable. Mr. McGowan's evidence was very lengthy and at its conclusion the prisoner objected to some of it, but upon hearing the constable's remarks read over he came to the conclusion that the chief was right.

At 6 o'clock the witnesses had not all been examined and an adjournment was made.

The court opened again at 7 o'clock, but no witnesses were called and the coroner instructed the jury to retire and consider the verdict. His address to the jury was an admirable summing up of the evidence. The jury was out about 20 minutes and brought in a verdict of guilty. There was no dissension whatever, and everybody appeared satisfied with the decision. The prisoner received the verdict with great calmness. He was immediately handed over to Constable Rose of Brockville, who took him down on the evening train. If everything is ready by Tuesday the trial will commence on that day, but in the event of additional evidence being required the case will have to stand over until the spring assizes open. The prisoner was not represented by counsel, he having been advised to say nothing at present.

THE COLUMBUS CELEBRATION.

Recognition of the Event on Both sides of the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—At sunrise salutes were fired and flags hoisted over the buildings where the visiting military is quartered. At 9 o'clock every foot of space along the long line of march, from where even an infrequent view of the marching thousands could be had, held a human face. A million people were placed and jammed together in one continuous mass from the battery to Fifty-ninth-street, where the procession was eventually disbanded. The sidewalks were impassable; every window, even up in the tenth and twelfth story of towering buildings, was crowded by those who could afford to pay the fabulous prices demanded by the owners. Thousands at extortionate rates obtained seats on stands, varying in size from the tiers upon tiers of seats erected by the city on the public squares to the piles of drygoods boxes on a dray wagon drawn up at a corner. Two dollars was cheerfully paid for a small box on the curbstone. At 10 o'clock the grand marshal, Gen. McMahon, gave the command "forward march," and the mounted platoon of the flower of New York's "finest," which formed the vanguard of the procession, moved slowly up Broadway.

CALVERLEY'S FEAT.

He Crosses the Gorge of Niagara on a Wire in the Presence of Thousands.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 13.—As Clifford Calverley, the Toronto boy, who but recently made his appearance as a high wire walker, left the Elgin House this afternoon on his way to the cable on which he was to cross the Niagara gorge, he was asked by a reporter how he was feeling. "Feeling," replied the young fellow, "why I never felt better in my life, and if this wind doesn't prove too troublesome I'm going to give you a good performance." He looked fit, and was in the very best of humor, laughing and chatting merrily with the crowd of friends by whom he was accompanied from the hotel to the wire.

The latter, a new one purchased for the occasion, and measuring in length 1000 feet, was stretched near the Suspension Bridge. It had been put up by Peer, the man who some years ago assisted his father to suspend the rope upon which Blondin made his great walk, and who also put up the cable on which the late S. J. Dixon crossed the Falls.

As soon as he reached the wire young Calverley received a hearty ovation from the large crowd of spectators who had gathered on the bridge and on either side of the river.

Throwing off his overcoat he appeared attired in blue tights, pink trunks, collar and cuffs, trimmed with silver lace, and wore a cloth peaked cap.

After casting a hasty glance at the several guy ropes this daring young athlete, who but three or four months ago was practising rope-walking on a thin cord in a garden attached to the house in which he resided in Pembroke-street, picked up his balancing pole and shook hands with a few of his personal friends in the coolest possible fashion.

Calverley possesses a nerve of iron, and there was not the slightest indication of fear on his part as he stepped on to the wire There was a breathless silence, however, on the part of the onlookers, who appeared to realize more than did Calverley himself the serious import of one false step.

There is a peculiarity about Calverley's walking, inasmuch as he proceeds across his wire in the same style as he walks along the street. There is no feeling his way—he steps out fearlessly and with a long stride, and by those well qualified to judge he has been described as the most graceful walker who has ever stepped on a high wire.

It was 3 o'clock when he started on his perilous journey. He was introduced to the vast crowd by Mr. E. S. Jackson of Toronto, and the announcement that he intended to lower the 12½ minute record was received with loud cheering.

Calverley started off at a rattling pace, lowering down towards the centre of the rope, which swayed considerably. The walk was accomplished in breathless silence, and when he reached the American side in 6 minutes 3 seconds a mighty cheer went up, which was repeated as he again appeared on the wire to go through a variety of clever tricks. He laid down, knelt, balanced his pole on his right foot, performed the frog walk backwards as well as forward, stepped over his balancing pole, carrying it for a long distance behind him. He then hung by his knees, and then amid tremendous cheers he made his celebrated dive, suspending head downwards over the boiling gorge.

When he left the rope for the last time the cheering from both sides of the river and from the bridge, which was crowded, was deafening, and it was with the greatest difficulty that he succeeded in reaching his hotel.

WITH THE HONORED DEAD

THE INTERMENT OF TENNYSON IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY.

Celebrations in Many European Capitals and a Great Display in New York—Even in Australia They Celebrate the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Discovery of America.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Yesterday, with all the honors that the church to which he belonged could pay, the remains of the greatest poet England has yet produced in latter days were laid in their final resting-place beneath the historic Westminster Abbey.

Long before the hour set for the services to begin, an immense crowd began to gather in the vicinity of the abbey. A dense mass of people assembled in the south palace yard, between the abbey and the house of parliament, while an equally large crowd packed the streets to the north and east of the abbey. At 10 o'clock the doors of the abbey were swung open and the ticket-holders were admitted. The congregation comprised men eminent in all walks of life—statesmen, clergymen, authors, artists, members of the dramatic profession, men whose names are household words wherever the English tongue is known.

Many of those who entered the building carried wreaths which were placed in the Jerusalem chamber with those already deposited there. The Jerusalem chamber contained a mass of most beautiful flowers, including 200 superb wreaths and crosses. Among the tokens was a beautiful design sent by Princess Louise.

Among the most notable floral gifts was a wreath sent by Mrs. Gladstone on behalf of her husband and herself. This was composed of sweet-smelling leaves from the Gladstone gardens at Hawarden and was made by Mrs. Gladstone's own hands. Attached to the wreath was a card on which was written the following couplet:

And in the vast cathedral leave him,
God accept him, Christ receive him.

The Queen sent a wreath composed of laurel leaves, tied with a broad bow of white silk ribbon. A card was attached to the wreath on which, in the Queen's own handwriting, were the words: "A mark of sincere regard and admiration from Victoria, R.I."

Her Majesty also sent an everlasting metallic wreath of laurel with the letters V., R.I. in gilt, worked into a monogram, and bearing the words: "A tribute of affectionate regard and true admiration from the sovereign."

Promptly at 12 o'clock the procession was formed in the Jerusalem Chamber. It was headed by two officials of the abbey. Then came the coffin, borne on the shoulders of stalwart men, while the pall-bearers, Henry White, Secretary of the American Legation; Lord Salisbury, the Very Rev. Henry Montague Butler, Sir James Paget, Lord Rosebery and Prof. Froude, marched on either side.

The chief mourners followed, headed by Lady Tennyson and Hallam Tennyson, Mrs. Hallam Tennyson, Mrs. Birrell, Lionel Tennyson's widow, and the grandchildren of the dead poet followed in the order named. Included with the chief mourners was the nurse who attended Lord Tennyson in his last illness, wearing the hospital uniform. Then came the household servants. Representatives of the Queen, the Prince of Wales and other royal personages were present. Among the notables in attendance were James Bryce, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, John Burns, the labor member of Parliament, and Henry Irving, the actor.

As the procession moved the deep-toned abbey bell began to toll, and as the mournful sound swept over the city the coffin, followed by the mourners, was carried slowly around the cloisters, which were lined with boys from the Westminster school.

When the procession reached the main door of the abbey it was received by the dean, the Very Rev. George Granville Bradford, Canon Duckworth, Canon Farrar and other members of the clergy. As the cortege passed up the aisle, along which were ranged boys in uniform from the Gordon Home, in which Lord Tennyson was always deeply interested, the solemn words: "I am the resurrection and the life," of the burial service were heard, and then the choir broke forth in the processional hymn.

Upon reaching the chancel the coffin was placed on a rest just below the altar. This rest was covered with a beautifully-embroidered cloth. On it was a crown of flowers and the words of the last verse of Crossing the Bar, one of the last poems written by Lord Tennyson.

Canon Duckworth opened the service for the dead, after which the choir chanted the 19th Psalm, "The Heavens Declare the Glory of God and the Firmament Showeth His Handiwork." The lesson of the day was read, and the choir sang Crossing the Bar, which had been set to music by John Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster Abbey. The effect was most beautiful, and many of those present were moved to tears by the words of this poem. Then the choir sang the latest poem written by Lord Tennyson, "The Silent Voices," the music of which was composed by Lady Tennyson This poem consists of only 10 lines, beginning:

When the dumb hour, clothed in black,
Brings the dreams about my bed,
Call me not so often back,
Silent voices of the dead.

Lord Tennyson dedicated this poem to his wife only 10 days ago. After this singing was finished the coffin was relifted, and, followed by the choir, the procession moved to the poet's corner, where the pavement had been raised next the grave of Browning. The sides of the grave were lined with purple and white cloth. By the side of the grave the choral parts of the service were sung. The remainder of the service, the committal to the grave, the prayer and collect were said by the Dean. Then the hymn Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty was sung, and the benediction was pronounced by the Right Hon. and Most Rev. Edward White Benson, Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of All England and Metropolitan.

Following the benediction the Dead March in Saul was played on the organ, and as its strains filled the abbey the mourners slowly dispersed.

The services, although extremely simple, were very impressive. The weather was fine, and the bright sunshine streaming through the windows of the abbey rendered artificial light unnecessary. The rendering of Lord Tennyson's poem by the choir greatly affected the congregation. Immediately after the service was concluded there was a great rush to the grave. A number of police were obliged to form a cordon about the grave.

The Orangemen of the village, or rather the members of Brersford Lodge No. 112, have decided to fix up their hall. Paint, paper, new seats, carpets and curtains will transform it into one of the nicest country lodge rooms in the county, if not in Ontario.

We must congratulate the popular paper for which we act as correspondence on its improved appearance in new attire. "Upward and Onward" seems to be the objects aimed at in its management, and if the new "dress" denotes that aim then it is well up at the top of the pole, which will have to be spliced if a higher climb is intended.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse, till the pain was almost unbearable, and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do no intend to be without this valuable remedy if I can help it.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

From Our Own Correspondent,

PRESENTATION—On Monday evening last the congregation of Bethel church met at the residence of Mr. Robt Hanbidge, the object of their meeting being to show Mr. and Mrs. Hanbidge in a tangible way, the nigh estimation in which they were held, and appreciation of their services in connection with the church. After an hour or two of social enjoyment, Mr. S. Matchett, on behalf of the congregation, in a short address stated the object of their visit, and expressed the high esteem and sincere regard which was felt for them throughout the community and especially for Mr. Hanbidge as class leader of the congregation. He then presented Mrs. Hanbidge with a beautiful hanging lamp, and Mr. Hanbidge with a complete set of Clarke's Commentaries. Though taken completely by surprise Mr. Hanbidge made a suitable and very feeling reply; disclaiming all honor accredited to himself, and saying that all had been done, not in the hope of earthly reward, but in the hope that souls might be benefitted thereby. The party then partook of a sumptuous repast, provided by the ladies of the congregation, and after singing "Shall we meet in Heaven," and being led in prayer by Mr. Geo. Stewart, the meeting broke up, each one feeling that they had spent a profitable and enjoyable evening.

CANADIANS DO NOT CARE FOR SUCH A TREAT.

SCENE: Scotch Churchyard.

Ancient native to stranger: "Aye, ye may weel say't; it's a bonnie place, a bonnie bonnie, place. In my young days it wis considert a great treat to be buried here!"

With us in Canada, lonely churchyards and beautiful cemeteries have no special attractions for the living. The living bury the dead in these places, but have no wish to be laid there themselves. All who are suffering from sickness and disease make every possible effort to keep away from these resting places of the dead.

Often the efforts of the sick and diseased are misdirected and futile. The weak, nervous, and broken down in body, who vainly seek health through the common patent medicines of the day, will soon find that they are working in gross darkness. The dyspeptic and sleepless who are placing confidence in any of the quack nostrums of our times, are hastening to the grave.

To avoid the agonies of disease and suffering, and the terrors of the grave, the wise and prudent use Paine's Celery Compound when a cure is desired. No other remedy given to mankind can so effectually check disease and banish pain. This heaven-given medicine is near every sufferer in Canada. It guarantees a cure in every case; it takes up those who are pronounced incurable, and works wonderfully for all such suffering mortals. If you value life, give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial. It will cure.

The ladies in connection with the Methodist Sunday-school, Fraserville, intend giving a tea on the evening of Tuesday, October 18th. Tea served from 4 to 7. Addresses are expected by Rev. W. R. OMEMEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The general pubiic health is good.

Farmers are very busy taking up their roots and vegetables, which are reported a fair crop. Apples are a fair yield.

The markets are open, but not much grain is moving.

Threshers report large quantities of oats and peas.

Our township fair last Thursday and Friday was very good. The patent medicine vendor from Peterborough kept up the excitement with his wild hoots. The boys tried to emulate him, but lacked in "Tone" and finish.

Very much sympathy is felt for Mr. John Morrow and family in the sad bereavement of his son's death. He had many friends and acquaintances in Omemee and vicinity who will deeply regret his demise.

The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian church promises to be very interesting. They will be held on Sunday, 23rd, and the festival on the 24th. The musical part of the programme promises to be of unusual excellence.

Prof. Seward, of Peterborough, is meeting with great success in the musical classes here.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Komp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

The day after a debauch, or any intemperate indulgence, a single teaspoonful of the Father Mathew Remedy will remove all mental and physical depression. 1d

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

A Fine Musical Organisation.

Reno & Ford's typical farmers' band paraded the principal streets of the town to-day and played several fine selections at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Their renditions were splendid and immensely delighted the large number of hearers. The slide trombone solo was the best ever heard in Peterborough. The costumes of the musicians were very grotesque, their habiliments being of every kind, size, make-up and finish. The company, which is twenty strong, are registered at the Grand Central, and to-night will produce the sensational comedy drama "Joshua Simpkins" at the opera house.

"Joshua Simpkins."

A crowded house, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather, saw Reno & Ford's Company in the Yankee comedy entitled "Joshua Simpkins" at the opera house last night. The play was good throughout. The characters, without an exception, were well taken. H. Miller Howard as "Josh" was a typical farmer from "way back." D. E. Potter, as "Samantha Twitter" kept the audience in an uproar whenever he made his appearance. Miss Lettie Wright in the role of "Effie" sings and dances gracefully. The scene on the dock at the Potomac river, and in the interior of Uncle Josh's saw mill, were novel and exciting. Another feature of the evening was the fine orchestra accompanying the company.—Ballston Spa Daily News, Aug. 26, 1892. In Bradburn's Opera House, Thursday, Oct. 13th.

Sorry to See Him Depart.

A pleasant and agreeable surprise awaited Mr. W. F. Harris, late storekeeper of the Edison Works, at the White House early last evening, when a deputation representing all the departments of the Edison Works waited upon Mr. Harris and presented him with a well filled purse of money as a token of their esteem and regard for him during his stay among them. Mr. W. E. Medland, of the stores department, made a few happy remarks and Mr. A. T. Tilley made the presentation. Mr. Harris made a grateful reply, thanking the boys for their kindness and accepting the gift. Their love for him would always remain a green spot in his memory. Afterwards refreshments were served, and songs and speeches made a pleasant hour or two pass rapidly by. Mr. Harris leaves for Toronto this evening, where he has accepted a fine situation. His many friends will wish him success.

MOVED AGAIN.

We are always on the move! We never let our goods stay long enough on the shelf to gather dust. Out they must go! For the present our headquarters for the great bankrupt stock of dry goods etc., will be just across the Arcade and opposite Garvey's. We are bound to make the goods move out faster than ever, if low prices will do it. Come early and get bargains.

JAS. DOLAN.

How About the Dry Goods Trade?

Reports are current that there is to be a revolution in the dry goods trade of Peterborough shortly, and Dame Rumor has it that prices will be knocked flatter than the proverbial pan-cake before the snow flies. Well! all this kind of talk is all very well for a little bit of gossip, but any one who has been noticing the output of goods at Mr. J. J. Sheehy's store recently, will see at a glance that he has got a pretty firm hold on the confidence of the purchasing public in this vicinity. The people evidently have been reading his advertisement, which is to be found in this paper. Mr. Sheehy informs us that his trade so far is certainly encouraging; and why should it not be thus? His goods are all fresh from the best looms of Canada and foreign markets. The public are given to understand that it is no trouble to show goods. If, for instance, a lady buys a pair of French kid gloves at a dollar or over, and on trying on for the first time they should burst, why bring them back and get a new pair. In a word, the situation of the store is right, the attention is right, the goods are right, and the prices are right. Wool blankets are now going at bargain prices.

Collegiate Literary Society.

The election of officers of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society, which has been re-organized for the coming season, took place yesterday afternoon. The number of candidates was legion, and each had a host of friends and admirers to spur him or her on to victory. The only officer who had peace and rest throughout the five days' hard-fought campaign was the Honorary President, Mr. C. Fessenden, B.A., who was re-elected by acclamation. The voting took place by ballot and had all the air and bustle of a Dominion contest, even if there were not as much boodling and bribery indulged in. Following is the result of the polling:

President—Wm. Craig,
First Vice-President—Miss Mary Fife.
Secretary—Arthur Laing.
Treasurer—H. Burnham.

Each form elected its own committees, and these committees will meet the executive this evening to decide upon a programme, and for the date of the opening meeting of the society. A course of lectures will also be given under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society this season, and the lectures will doubtless be fully as successful and educative as they were last year.

A Fire in a Dangerous Quarter.

This morning a few minutes before three o'clock an alarm of fire sounded and the brigade quickly responded. A shed on the custom house lot belonging to Mr. E. Phelan and adjoining the kitchen of the old roughcast dwelling house recently purchased from Mr. Phelan by Mr. T. Bradburn, was all in a blaze and burning in a lively manner. The fire was a very hot one and worked its way through the partition, covered with tin, into the wooden shed adjoining Mr. H. Denne's flour and feed store in the Balmoral House block. The fire also burnt through and into one of the stalls in the sheds of the Balmoral House. The blaze was in a very dangerous quarter, and had it not been for the quick service of the brigade a great deal of damage might have resulted. Mr. Denne's store and Mr. Cavanagh's hotel came near receiving a scorching. Mr. Phelan's loss is about $40, with no insurance. Mr. Denne's loss is not so heavy by fire as by smoke and water. In the shed to the rear of his premises were about sixty or seventy bushels of potatoes, 200 grain bags, etc. His loss on flour most of which was wet, bran, shorts, grain and potatoes will amount to $300 or $400, partially insured. The effect of the smoke is marked all over the Balmoral hotel and many of the window blinds, curtains and bed clothing were scorched and blackened. Mr. Cavanagh estimates the damages at $300, insured. It was only by care that the stables of the hotel escaped unscathed. The damage to the hotel building, which belonged to the Chamberlen estate, is slight.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

COLUMBUS DAY AT THE CONVENT.

A Splendid Programme Presented—In Honour of the 400th Columbian Anniversary.

Yesterday was the four hundredth anniversary of the landing of Columbus upon the soil of the Western World and planting thereon the cross, the symbol of modern civilization, which flourishes only under its shadow. The day was duly observed at the Convent here. The Sisters had very quietly and unostentatiously prepared a splendid programme, eminently apposite to the occasion, which the children presented with fine effect at 3.30 o'clock in the presence of His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, Rev. Father Rudkins, Rev. Father Scollard, Rev. Father Collins, Rev. Father Desaulniers and a large number of the parents of the pupils. The following programme was presented in a most satisfactory manner by the pupils, and the entertainment was considered by those present as one of the best ever presented at the Convent, and well worthy of being repeated.

PROGRAMME:

Greeting song.
"Preparations for Voyage," by Primary pupils
"Landing of Columbus," ... pupils of Form III
Operetta, "World's Fair," ... pupils of Form II
"The Last Hymn," (musical recitation) ... pupils of Form IV
Drama, "The Power of a Mother's Love."
Song, "Columbia my Land."
Dialogue, "Gomez and Secretary."
Vocal solo, "Nearer My God to Thee," ... Miss L. Jackson
Tableau vivant, "Interview of Columbus at the Court of Barcelona."

In the operetta the "World Fair" the pupils carried appropriate flags and the effect was exceedingly pleasing, especially taken in connection with the elaborate decoration of the hall whose walls bore upon them the flags of the chief countries of the world.

At the close of the programme His Lordship very cordially congratulated the children upon the excellent manner in which they had presented the programme. The fine example of elocution it afforded spoke not only very highly for the talent of the pupils but reflected great credit upon the painstaking training of the good Sisters.

Dr. Brennan, chairman of the Separate School Board, gave a brief but comprehensive and address, embodying a brief sketch of the landing of Columbus, and the important results that had flowed from it, presented in the graceful poetic diction which the doctor employs with such good effect.

The entertainment was without doubt the best that has ever been presented in the Convent halls, and in its sphere formed a fitting commemoration of one of the most momentous events in the world's history.

Guy Brothers' Minstrels.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Guy Brothers minstrel show on their first appearance in Montreal last night. The entertainment was very pleasing, the six Guy Brothers themselves all being first class vocal and terpsichorean artists. Messrs Vanerson and McDonald brought down the house with their comical performances on the horizontal barette. The songs, dances and bones and banjo specialties of Messrs. G. R. and W. H. Guy were very clever and thoroughly enjoyable. Taking the show as a whole, it was well worth seeing. Their orchestra is a strong feature. Another entertainment is to be given this evening, and if merit counts a large audience should be present.—Montreal Daily Herald, September 23rd, 1892.

Renounced Single Blessedness.

A happy event was solemnized in St. John's church shortly after six o'clock last evening when Mr. Walter J. Wiggett led to the altar Miss Gertrude May, daughter of Mr. A. Grover Heath. Rev. C. B. Kenrick, curate of St. John's, officiated performing the impressive ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming, and was assisted by Miss Jennie Harmer. Mr. Samuel Forster performed the duties of best man. After the nuptials the bridal party repaired to the residence of her parents, corner of King and Stewart streets, where a splendid wedding repast was partaken of. The bride's presents were handsome and costly, testifying to the high esteem in which she was held. Mr. and Mrs. Wiggett left at 9 o'clock per G. T. R. for an extended wedding tour. Returning they will take up their residence in Peterborough, where their many friends will wish them many joyous returns.

Gratifying to all.

The high position attained and the universal acceptance and approval of the pleasant liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs, as the most excellent laxative known, illustrate the value of the qualities on which its success is based and are abundantly gratifying to the California Fig Syrup Company.

AMBULANCE CORPS DINE.

They Held Their First Annual Banquet at the Palace Restaurant Last Night—The Corps Made Their Popular Sergeant, W. F. Harris, the Recipient of a Handsome Present.

The Ambulance Corps of the 57th Battalion held their first annual dinner at the Palace Restaurant last night and it was a great success. Though gotten up on less than 24 hours notice, still everything passed off in a capital manner and a more enjoyable time could not be desired. Graham Bros. the popular proprietors of the Palace provided an excellent spread and furnished a multitude of good things which were relished by the keen appetites of the thirty guests present. After all had partaken of the rich repast the tables were cleared and then began the toast list, interspersed with humorous songs and fine music which filled in a very pleasant evening. Mr. W. F. Harris, Ambulance Sergeant, filled the position of chairman. On his right was Colour-Sergt. L. Hall and seated at his left was Pte. S. Sharp. Bandmaster Millar acceptably occupied the vice-chair. The following toast list was honoured and responded to in joyous tones and with many happy allusions to the efficiency of the ambulance corps.

"Queen and Governor-General," responded to by all singing God Save the Queen in loyal strains.

"Officers of the 57th Battalion," proposed by vice-chairman Millar. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the officers, most of whom were unable to be present on account of the short notice given them, and having contracted other engagements, the toast was responded to in a neat speech by Sergt. Harris.

"Army and Navy," responded to by Staff-Sergt. Robt. Hay, D.F.B.

"Ambulance Corps," proposed by vice-chairman Millar, and reponded to by Ptes. Sharp, Patterson, Gray, and Duncan, and Sergt. W. F. Harris.

At this stage a pleasant incident occurred, when Pte. M. Gemmell read the following address, and Pte. George Fitzgerald made the presentation of a handsome smoking outfit, on behalf of the corps, to their retiring sergeant, Mr. W. F. Harris. Following is a copy of the address presented:

To Sergt. W. F. Harris, Ambulance Corps, 57th Battalion Peterborough Rangers:

DEAR FRIEND,—Permit us to address you thus as we feel you have always acted towards us a friend and we have thoroughly appreciated it. It is not necessary to tell you how sorry we are to part with you and how hard it will be to find anybody to occupy your place. Under your supervision the Ambulance Corps have arrived at an enviable position among such corps in the Dominion, so much so as to call forth very complimentary remarks from the inspecting officer at Kingston. We hope to be able to maintain that position. Only a day or so ago we learned that the officers of the battalion were very well pleased with your efforts and expressed themselves as being very sorry to see you sever your connection with the battalion; allow us to offer this small token, expressing inadequately our feelings of regret, and hoping that in your new, yet old home, you may have the success we so heartily wish you.

On behalf of the ambulance corps.

Sergt. Harris made a feeling reply, thanking the men for their kindness, and said it was hard to part with such warm friends as the men in the ambulance corps. The toast of "The Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 57th" was responded to by Ptes. Gemmel, Hall, Logan, and Bandmaster B. F. Miller. "The 57th Battalion Band" was replied to by Bandmaster Miller; the toast of "The Ladies" by Ptes. Gemmell, Bletcher and Fitzgerald. "The Press" by F. D. Mackay of the Review and Geo. Van Blaricom of the EXAMINER, and the "Host and Hostess" by Mr. Graham finished the list of toasts all of which were duly honored and heartily responded to. During the evening songs were given by Sergt. W. F. Harris, Bandmaster Miller, Pte. Haggart, Mr. Wm. Bowman, Mrs. and Miss Bowman, mouth organ solos by Pte. Bletcher and other musical events, all of which were much enjoyed and loudly applauded. Sergt. W. F. Harris leaves this evening for Toronto, where he has accepted a lucrative situation. His many Peterborough friends will wish him success in the Queen city.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

NORWOODS' EXCELLENT EXHIBITION.

The Annual Show of the East Riding Agricultural Society A Good Exhibit in all Departments Splendid Weather A Large Attendance The Enlarged Grounds.

The annual exhibition of the East Riding Agricultural Society was held at Norwood on Tuesday and Wednesday. The weather was all that could be desired. The exhibit was a good one all round—in some departments surpassingly fine. The attendance was large and in every way the exhibition was a success. Tuesday was given over chiefly to the placing of exhibits and to the work of judging the interior department.

The second day was blessed with fine weather—in fact the directors of the East Riding Society seem to be pets with the clerk of the weather bureau, for they invariably have queen's weather for the second day of the show any way. From an early hour the grounds which, by the way, have been enlarged by the addition of about 2½ acres on the south side, presented an animated appearance and shortly after noon the crowds from town and country began to pour into them. There was a large attendance from Peterborough, the train having to be held at the station to permit of the passengers being supplied with tickets.

THE EXHIBITS.

There was in stock a large and excellent exhibit. The various classes, Ayrshire, Durham Holsteins and Jersey being very well represented, especially the three latter. Robt. Reesor, of Markham, had a fine herd of fifteen Jerseys, and Messrs. F. Birdsall & Son had also a good exhibit of Jersey's. There was a good show of horses also, but perhaps hardly up to the mark of the other live stock departments. A splendid show of sheep was on hand, in both short and long wools and there was a good show of swine also. The poultry department was well filled and comprised several fine specimens. Altogether the outside exhibit was a fine one, in excess of the previous year. In this connection the addition of the new grounds was a great advantage.

THE INSIDE EXHIBITS.

This was also highly creditable. There was an excellent show of apples, and of roots and vegetables a splendid display; the late season of holding the exhibition permits their full maturity. The show of grain was also good. The ladies department was very largely filled, both fancy and useful work being very creditably represented. The domestic manufactures made also a fine display.

Messrs. F. Tyler and T. Howard showed a fine quantity of harness.

Mr. J. Hendren had on exhibition Karn pianofortes and organs, whose good qualities were effectively exhibited by the artistic playing of Miss Sperry, town, organist of the Norwood Methodist church.

Mr. A. Davidson, of Norwood, had a fine display of Singer Sewing machines in operation, and the facility and excellence with which they performed their work are worthy of the admiration they attracted. On the whole the "palace" contained a display which was a credit to the Riding and well worth a visit.

MISCELLANEOUS EXHIBITS.

The Peter Hamilton Agricultural Works had a good exhibit in charge of Mr. A. R. Nicholls, consisting of an Ideal Seeder, a scuffler and three ploughs, the IXL, the Combination and No. 4.

H. Owens, Peterborough, exhibited his model pumps and a Knoll washing machine with Eureka wringer attached.

B. Bennem, of Warkworth, showed a top buggy and a covered phæton of his manufacture.

W. Richardson showed a churn power—for the dash churn—something to lessen the labour of churning.

Chas. O'Reilly showed "Percival" ploughs and scufflers.

P. W. Stevenson showed for W. and A. Knox a Holt Pea Harvester—an attachment for a mower.

W. P. Plant, Norwood, showed a root cutter, a straw cutter and mower, land roller, turnip seeder and school desk, all his own manufacture.

J. J. Turner & Son, town, had a fine exhibit of tents, including their new hunting tent with pipe of iron stove forming the centre pole, canoe sail set, and assortment of camp chairs, waterproof clothing, flags, etc.

O'Reilly & McNicholl show a farm wagon, and M. T. Conley, of Madoc, exhibited Bell and Doherty organs and a Raymond sewing machine.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

During the afternoon the speeding events took place. They were not of a very exciting character, and the following summaries are sufficient to indicate the results:

In the open trot there entered two horses:

Billy W., John Baskin, Norwood	1	1	1
Whirl wind F. H. Davis	2	2	2

In the green trot the horses of the following owners entered with the appended results:

Fred McKee	1	1	1
J. F. Tweed	2	2	2
B. Brennan	3	dr.
Job Humphries	4	3	dr

NOTES.

There were no less than three phonographs doing a good business on the grounds.

The Norwood band furnished liberal music.

The ladies of St. John's church, Norwood, had a dining tent, which furnished excellent meals, and was well patronized.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Oct. 13th, 1892.

At the police court this morning Fred Adlum and Percy Brundrette were brought up for trial. Mr. E. A. Peck appeared for Adlum. Both prisoners pleaded guilty to their respective offences, Adlum for stealing $4.65 from Mrs. E. Dunsford's grocery, corner of Sherbrooke and Reid street, and Brundrette for taking $1.50 of the stolen money from Adlum's possession whom he had instigated to commit the crime. The magistrate, notwithstanding, heard the evidence. Albert Cairns, a young boy who was summoned as a witness but against whom Chief Roszel had laid no information, testified that he had stolen 10c from Mrs. Dunsford and cigars from Mrs. Bullen's grocery because Brundrette had told him to do so. The magistrate read Kairns a severe lecture and he promised to steal no more. The court remanded Brundrette to gaol until Tuesday next for sentence. Adlum was allowed to go to appear next Tuesday for sentence.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

TERRY DENVER.

A New Canadian Story by Nancy Nugent.

"Are you sure, Jack?"

"Now, don't make fun, Terry, it is not becoming to slow people. I have an idea, and a good one, too. Here goes: Can't you too oddities be married in an odd way. To-night and in the garden. The four hundred are here and so is the Bishop. Great gravy, Terry, why don't you applaud and say what an abundant idea."

Terry looked questioningly at Zell, and Zell smiled assent. How well they understood each other.

"Yes, Jack, let it be as you wish. Send Shem to us, then you make the announcement to the guests. Have them gather, we will have the ceremony in the garden just before this little arbor. It will be more like the Tarn life, will it not, Zell? We will stand alone and Shem will give Zell to me. You understand, Jack?"

"Yes, and I won't be long, either. But, Terry, give me your hand just once in single blessedness. Now that the end has come, I feel quite weak."

The impulsive fellow carried Terry's hand to his lips, then left in search of Shem. Shem came and welcomed Terry in his quaint, earnest way, then watched the guests gather around the arbor. Jack had only said a wedding was to take place to close the evening, and all were speculating as to who it could be. The bishop came a little later, having to send for his surplice and other essentials. He was now waiting, and Terry came from the arbor and took his place, and still they did not know. Terry was never suspected of such a thing. Shem, more sedate and serious than ever before, led Zell to Terry's side. A moment of deep silence ensued, then they seemed to see how things were, and someone as enthusiastic in their liking for Terry as Jack, called out: "Hurrah for Denver's success." The spirit of rejoicing spread, and a genuine cheer followed. A most unfashionable, unpremeditated performance at a wedding. But that cheer spoke volumes and volumes in Terry's favor. The bishop raised his hand and asked for attention.

"Your joy at Mr. Denver appearing in this ceremony is quite right, but let me proceed." Solemnly the beautiful rite of the Church of England marriage ceremony was read, and Zell was

THE CEREMONY IN THE GARDEN.

Terry's wife. Shem was the first to take her hand to wish her well.

"And thou art Zell Denver. Thou art now a happy wife my little mountain daisy. Let me wish thee well."

CHAPTER XVI.

HEM was favorite with all, and his words brought tears to many eyes. One year has gone. Jack is married. Terry and Zell Denver are happy. Some say in a very practical way. They had not gone for a trip, but just settled down and lived sensibly one whole year. Now in the month of June they were going away to spend the summer—but where? Only those who were going with them knew the where. To his summer residence, north of Peterboro, was all the public knew. Shem, Jack and Nettie Boyd, Mrs. Odell, another woman and an old friend of Terry's, a Dr. Meade, were the guests who had been asked to go with him to the Tarn for the summer. They are all settled at the Tarn, Zell and Terry with their attendants in the house, the guests at Ishmael's cave. The story of Zell's life was a never-dying interest to all, and long and often had they searched for the records of Ishmael's work but found nothing. One morning Terry and Shem watched the sun rise as Zell and Terry so often had done a year before. They were restless and worried, and it was not of choice they stood there alone.

"Mrs. Denver will see you now, sir," a maid said, and Shem was left alone. Terry hastened in and went to Zell.

"My dear little wifey," was all he said.

"Terry, will you kiss our baby?" and the mother love thrilled pathetically through her voice. He knelt beside the bed and first kissed Zell, then touched softly the baby lips of his first born.

"Now take it in your arms, Terry, then call Shem. He will be so pleased."

Terry took the warm diminutive bundle of lace, in his arms, then called Shem. Zell smiled to see him gather the tiny stranger close to him, and lay his face to the little one and say tenderly, proudly, my little daughter. Then Shem came.

"Art thou well, my child, art thou well?"

"Yes, yes. Never mind me, Shem. See, there is our baby, look at it. You two must select a name for her. What an honor I confer upon you? What will you call her?"

Shem and Terry looked at each other and both said—

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

"August Flower"

Biliousness, Constipation, Stomach Pains.

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years; first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried but to no purpose. At last a friend recommended August Flower. I took it according to directions and its effects were wonderful, relieving me of those disagreeable stomach pains which I had been troubled with so long. Words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold your August Flower—it has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Such a medicine is a benefaction to humanity, and its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia or biliousness

TENNYSON'S FUNERAL.

The Remains Taken to London and Deposited in the Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Lord Tennyson often expressed his aversion to hearses, and yesterday when his body was removed from Aldworth the coffin was carried from the house by old servants and placed in a small cart waiting to receive it. The relations then formed in procession behind the cart and started for Haslemere station. Their journey was a slow one, and the whole distance was made on foot by the mourners. Nothing more simple could have been conceived. As the cortege moved along the men who were met with removed their hats and women bowed their heads until the mournful procession had passed. When Haslemere station was reached the coffin was placed in a special saloon car that was waiting. The mourners then entered and in a few minutes the train started for London. Lady Tennyson, Hallam Tennyson and the other members of Lord Tennyson's family accompanied the body.

Owing to the ignorance of the public as to the time at which the train would arrive only a few persons were gathered in the Waterloo station when the cars rolled in. The coffin was at once removed from the car, and without ostentation of any kind was placed on an ordinary van, and in this homely conveyance was quietly borne to Westminster Abbey, its final resting place.

A large number of persons had gathered about the entrance to the abbey, and it was with difficulty that the policemen detailed for duty there succeeded in forming a passage from the van to St. Faith's Chapel, where the body will remain until the funeral takes place to-day.

There was a great crush for admission to the abbey, but only a few privileged persons were permitted to enter.

Canon Duckworth and others of the clergy attached to Westminster Abbey received the mourners and gave directions for the arrangement of the coffin.

Mrs. Hallam Tennyson placed a handsome floral wreath on the coffin.

Canon Duckworth then offered a brief prayer and the simple ceremony was ended.

The Two Emperors Meet.

VIENNA, Oct. 12.—Emperor William arrived here at noon yesterday. As His Majesty sprang to the platform the Emperor of Austria stepped forward and the two rulers threw their arms about each other and kissed repeatedly. The people gave the German Emperor an enthusiastic welcome.

Russia's Aims in The Pamirs.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says: The official Turkestan Gazette, describing the expedition under Colonel Janoff, frankly admits that the object of the expedition was to expel the Afghans and Chinese from the Pamirs, which region, it says, is claimed by Russia under the convention made with Great Britain in 1872-73.

THE COLUMBUS CELEBRATION.

Another Fireworks Display in New York Last Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Dazzling lights burned on the towers of the Brooklyn Bridge last night and from the big span rose rockets, bombs and all the other pyrotechnics.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women were out to see the wonders of the night. The East River was full of tugs, ferry boats, excursion boats and every kind of craft that could carry passengers. On the high buildings in New York and Brooklyn thousands were gathered to view the spectacle.

From the top of a high building near the New York end a search-light was used to send a message across the river.

Parade of Catholic Societies.

The parade of the united Catholic societies of this city, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Newark, Yonkers and other suburbs was viewed by undoubtedly a million of people to-night, who crowded the streets it passed through. Fully 30,000 men and boys were in line, carrying handsome banners and illuminated transparencies, mostly bearing religious symbols. The American flag was conspicuous throughout the whole parade, while the ancient flag of Spain was also visible in the display.

Columbus Celebration in Cuba.

HAVANA, Oct. 12.—The Columbus celebration in Cuba will begin to-day. Preparations have been made on an extensive scale. All the public buildings and many business houses and private residences are lavishly decorated with flags and bunting and numerous handsome designs illustrative of the discovery of America. Various fetes and other entertainments and brilliant illustrations have been planned.

Admitted to Bail.

TORONTO, Oct. 12. — Chief Justice Galt yesterday granted an order admitting to bail Park Ellis of Niagara Township, who is at present in St. Catharines jail charged with stealing a bay mare on October 8 from a farmer of the same township. Bail was fixed at $1000, the prisoner in $500 and two sureties in $250 each. The Attorney-General consented to the order.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Those who keep their blood in a pure and healthy condition need have little fear of any disease attacking them. It is the enfeebled, run-down system upon which disease fastens its fangs. THE MUTILATOR CAUGHT

THE GLASGOW MURDERER IN THE HANDS OF THE POLICE.

The Fugitive, When Stopped by Gamekeepers of an Estate Where He Was Trespassing, Attempted to Commit Suicide, But Was Prevented—His Victim Was a Woman of the Town.

GLASGOW, Oct. 13.—It was reported yesterday that the police had arrested a man named McNeilly, who was seen on Monday night in company with McEwen, who, it is alleged, killed the woman whose body was found in the garden of a mansion.

McNeilly, in an interview, said he and McEwen met the woman Monday night. McEwen persuaded her to accompany him to West Lodge, the scene of the murder. McNeilly declared he slept in another room and saw nothing of the woman and McEwen after they retired. Early in the morning McNeilly arose and left the house. He denies having seen the murder committed or having taken any part in it. After several measures had been adopted without result to establish the identity of the woman, the police of the city were ordered to look at the remains and see if they had ever seen the victim before. Several of them recognized her as a person of loose character. The detectives learned McEwen had been seen going in the direction of Paisley and they followed close on his heels.

This afternoon they found him lying beside the road half way between Glasgow and Paisley. He had evidently found the chase becoming too hot for him, and fearing arrest had attempted to kill himself.

Particulars of the Capture.

The particulars of McEwan's capture are these. Some gamekeepers on Sir John Maxwell's estate to-day saw a stranger trespassing on one of the fields. They stopped him and questioned him, but he refused them an answer. He made an attempt to escape, but the gamekeepers' suspicions were now aroused and they made a move to detain him, when he jerked out a small knife and began hacking away at his throat, but was deterred by the gamekeepers from completing his suicidal intent. He soon became exhausted by his struggling and by loss of blood. The men overpowered him and stopped the flow of blood so far as they were able and took him to a police station, where it was found he agreed with the description of McEwan, and in fact he proved to be the man wanted.

The murdered woman has been fully identified. Her name was Elizabeth O'Connor and she was of the class who seek their livelihood on the pavement.

HOW THEY DO IT IN TOLEDO.

An Aldermanic Ring for Exacting Bribes from Companies.

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 13.—The trial of John W. Dailey, one of the councilmen indicted last July for accepting a bribe, was begun yesterday. The first witness for the prosecution was Ransom P. Swain, one of the indicted councilmen. He testified that soon after the municipal election last spring a ring was formed among certain members of the Board of Councillors to exact bribes for the passage of important legislation. In the ring were 10 councilmen and ex-City Clerk Faskins. Meetings were held and Faskins was selected as the tool of the ring to "interview" representatives of companies and contractors wanting legislation passed. Prices for the passage of certain legislation were fixed as follows: Standard Oil Co.'s ordinance, $22,000; Pluto Oil Co.'s ordinance, $3500; Paragon Refining Co.'s ordinance, $5000; Warren-Scharfe Asphalt Co.'s ordinance, 10 per cent. of the amount of the contracts; all other local legislation 7 per cent of contracts. August McKim, for the Pluto Oil Co., had offered their ring $25,000 in the company's stock for the passage of the ordinance allowing them to pipe the city, but the councilmen had demanded money.

MR. M'NEILL IN ENGLAND.

A Difference of Opinion Regarding His Sheffield Speech.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Sheffield Independent contains a long article dealing with the address delivered by Mr. McNeill, a member of the Canadian House of Commons, and a well-known Imperial Federationist before the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce. The Independent remarks that Mr. McNeill is a good speaker, but has a poor opinion of the intelligence of Englishmen if he thinks they propose to quarrel with their largest customers for the sake of a small raise in prices for themselves. Canada promises to smother us in corn, but if Canada reduces the hostile tariff now existing against Britain, its action will be a very practical evidence of good-will. There is nothing in Mr. McNeill's address calculated to beguile anyone not already an infected protectionist.

The Sheffield Telegraph (Conservative) says Mr. McNeill's speech was no gossamery fabric. The facts were marshalled with the skill of an abld general. It was the sort of speech which will set people thinking. Conservatives should be especially grateful for Mr. McNeill's utterances.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 25c. and $1.

UNITED STATES EXPORTS.

The Returns Show a Decrease as Compared With Last Year.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The monthly statement of exports of farm products shows that there was a decided falling off during the month of September and the first quarter of the present fiscal year in our exports of breadstuffs as compared with the same periods of last year, when Europe was suffering from widespread failure of the crops. The decrease in exports exceeded $14,000,000 for September, and $25,000,000 for the quarter ended with the month of September, but by reason of the large exports made last winter and spring the total for breadstuffs the last nine months is more than $38,000,000 in excess of the first nine months of 1891. The exports of corn show a falling off, being for September 1,000,479, against 1,846,676 in 1891 and for the first quarter of this fiscal year 3,386,750 against $4,708,247 in 1891. The value of the exports of cattle and hogs from the United States during the first quarter of the present fiscal year is $8,532,212, an increase of $141,089.

The exports of beef and hog products for the quarter show also an increase compared with the same period last year.

The exports of dairy products for the month of September were $999,281, a decrease compared with the same month of 1891 of $147,370.

SHOT DOWN BY A CROOK

DETECTIVE PHAIR OF LONDON FATALLY INJURED.

He Reprimands a Man in the Street for An Indecency, and Afterwards Getting Into a Struggle with Him is Fired Upon Twice and Probably Fatally Wounded.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 14.—About 2.30 o'clock yesterday Detective Phair, while on his way back from dinner, observed a semi-intoxicated individual committing a nuisance in Richmond-street, opposite St. Peter's Cathedral, and reproved the man, who was a stranger to him, for such an imprudent act. The man, whose name is since learned to be John Burke, gave Phair some "back chat" and threatened to shoot him it he did not mind his own business. The man had the appearance of a tough character, and Phair walked a few doors north and telephoned to the police station for the patrol wagon. After doing this the detective walked towards the man, who again commenced a fusilade of abuse, and he arrested him. Burke and the officer had a rough and tumble struggle and Burke was getting the worst of it, when a boy about 15 years of age (since ascertained to be a son of Burke's chum) ran towards the door of the Huron Hotel and called a thick-set man out, as Jack was getting the worst of it. This man, who gives his name as Thomas Wilson of Toronto, went to the rescue of Burke, who says he hails from Guelph, and kicked Phair while he was in the ditch struggling with Burke.

The latter in the meantime ran off a short distance and Phair tackled Wilson and was getting the better of him, when Burke returned and assaulted the officer and in the scrimmage shot him in the left side. The shock completely unnerved Phair. The two men ran north a little and then east towards the park, firing their revolvers at P. C. Boyd and others, who had arrived on the scene, as they ran. Sergt. Crawford arrived at the park in a private carriage belonging to Mr. Woods just in the nick of time. As he came up to them they both pointed their revolvers in his face, but fortunately he was able to knock them both down with his baton. At this moment the patrol wagon came up with Detective Rider, P. C. Toohey, P. C. Woolway and Sergeant Adams and the two men were captured. P. C. Birrell, who was off duty, had meanwhile arrived on the scene and had laid hold of one of them and they were taken to the station.

Detective Phair was picked up by neighbors and carried into Morley's butcher shop in Richmond-street, where his injuries were attended to by three medical men. It was found that at least one of the bullets had taken effect in his body in the region of the heart. Both the prisoners were covered with blood, the result of their desperate tussle with Sergeant Crawford. One of them, John Burke, was insensible when taken from the patrol wagon at the station. The other, Wilson, had his ear split open. There were three men and a boy in the gang, and they arrived here yesterday afternoon. They have a quantity of new clothing in their possession, and it is supposed to have been stolen from some country store.

A boy named Robert Corbett, employed by Mr. Leigh, plumber, saw the scuffle, and told a reporter he was just running out to give one of the men a kick when he saw the revolver. Immediately he stepped back and was just in time, for at that moment a bullet whistled through one of the windows not a foot from him, and lodged in the wall inside the store.

The medical men endeavored to locate the bullet in Phair's body this evening, but were unsuccessful. The ball struck the eighth rib and glanced downwards, but its exact location is not known. He lies in a very precarious condition to-night and the doctors, fearing inflammation, hold out but little hope of his recovery. Phair has been on the police force over 30 years and has few equals in the Dominion as a vigilant and fearless officer. He has two sons and two daughters living, all grown up. The utmost sympathy is expressed for him and the family.

Reported Very Low.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Late last night Detective Phair was reported as very low and it is very doubtful whether he will recover. The doctors have as yet been unable to extract the bullet.

THE DALTONS' SUCCESSORS.

Robbers Hold Up a Train and Rob the Express Car.

COFFEYVILLE, Ks., Oct. 14.—When the Missouri Pacific train due here at 1.25 last night stopped at Caney two men boarded the engine, covered the engineer and fireman with rifles, ordered them to pull out two miles and stop. They compelled the engineer and fireman to uncouple the express car and pull it half a mile further. Express Messenger Maxwell had blown out the lights and barred the doors. When ordered to open the doors he refused. The robbers compelled the engineer to go in front of them into the car, while they covered Maxwell with a gun. Having got the money in the safe, which amounted to several thousand dollars, they backed off and disappeared.

THE CASE OF LIZZIE BORDEN.

The Detective Who Supplied The Boston Globe Yarn Tries to Explain.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 14.—Private Detective McHenry, the author of the Borden romance published in The Boston Globe, is now endeavoring to show the Fall River authorities that he was working in their behalf. McHenry says his only object in leading the reporter off on a wild goose chase was to find out just where the reporter stood and how far he was aiding the Government or the defence in his detective work. McHenry denies having received any money from The Globe man.

SALE OF TIMBER LIMITS

HE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT REALIZES A LARGE SUM.

The Property All Located in the Nipissing, Algoma, Thunder Bay and Rainy River Districts—The Largest Price Ever Paid for a Timber Berth in the World.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Spirited was the bidding, big the prices paid, and numerous the buyers present at the sale of timber berths by the Ontario Government Crown Lands Department yesterday. Six hundred and thirty-seven square miles were sold, and the provincial treasury will be augmented by $2,308,475 as a result. Only three berths were withdrawn, and one of these was subsequently sold. The result is taken as an indication of better times.

Buyers were present from most of the Canadian lumber centres, and the United States was well represented, but the pace was apparently rather too fast for them, only a few out of the 50 berths sold falling to their bids.

There was practically no comparison between the result of yesterday's sale and that of 1887, the last. Then the highest price paid per square mile was $6350, while yesterday $17,500 was the maximum. This was for berth No. 6, Township of Peck, and the total amount the buyers, Gilmour & Co. of Trenton, will have to pay for it will be $205,625.

The largest aggregate price paid for any one berth was $373,650. The limit was knocked down to Mr. G. W. Pack of Alpena, Mich. This is said to be the highest price ever paid for a berth in this or any other country.

Some of the Bidders.

KILLED BY A TROLLEY CAR.

A Little Boy at Hamilton Dies of the Injuries He Sustained.

HAMILTON, Oct. 14.—The second fatal accident which has occurred here since the introduction of the trolley electric car took place last evening between 5 and 6 o'clock. The victim this time was a little boy not quite 3 years of age named Harry Andrews, who ran in front of a car at the corner of Simcoe and James-streets, and before Motorman John Allen could stop the car both legs of young Andrews were run over near the hips. The youth was taken to the city hospital immediately after the accident and both legs were amputated, but he died under the operation. The boy's parents live at 448 James-street north, almost opposite to where the accident happened. As far as can be learned no blame can be attached to the street railway employes, as the boy attempted to cross the track when the car was only a few feet away. An inquest will be held by Coroner Woolverton.

THE GAS WAS TURNED ON.

A Brantford Manufacturer Found Dead In a Room at the Kirby House.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 14.—David Thomas, aged about 45, awning manufacturer of this place, was found dead at 6 o'clock last evening in room 68 Kirby House. Deceased returned from Rockton Fair late last night, took a room at the Kirby House and retired between 12 and 1 o'clock. The chambermaid had been trying to get into the room, but failing to do so she got up to the fanlight over the door, where she found a very strong smell of gas. She immediately informed the proprietor, who at once gained an entrance to the room and found Thomas lying dead on the bed, the room full of gas. Coroner Kerr was notified and immediately summoned a jury, who, after viewing the body, adjourned till to-morrow.

A BANKER DISAPPEARS.

His Debts Are Supposed to Have Embarrassed Him.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Mr. George Pyke, who has been for years connected with the Imperial Bank and for some time past accountant of that institution, left the city on Monday for parts unknown.

Mr. Pyke was about 42 years of age and received a good salary. He was married and had two children and for some time lived at 65 Major-street. A few months ago he moved to Howland-avenue, where Mrs. Pyke at present resides.

Mr. Jennings, assistant manager of the Imperial Bank, said yesterday: "Pyke was an unobtrusive, gentlemanly man of quiet tastes. I think he must have been speculating latterly and so encumbered himself with debts that he has had to leave the city for a while. I am glad to say that his books and accounts are perfectly straight and he has been guilty of no dishonesty as far as we are concerned."

G.T.R. OFFICERS CUT OFF

SUPERINTENDENT STIFF AND HIS STAFF DISPENSED WITH.

The Entire Office Wiped Out As a Result of Sir Henry Tyler's Visit To Canada—No Provision Made For the Re-Employment of Those Dismissed—Good Results Expected to Follow.

HAMILTON, Oct. 14.—Notification was received yesterday from Montreal that the position of superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway is to be abolished, and Superintendent Stiff and his large staff have received notice that their services will no longer be required. The announcement will be received with surprise and regret by the citizens of Hamilton, for it is a measure that will seriously affect this city. The news naturally spread consternation in the superintendent's department, for though rumors of a change of some kind have been circulating ever since the recent visit of Sir Henry Tyler no one expected such a sweeping decapitation. As a result of the order 11 officials and clerks are dismissed and the office entirely abolished.

Superintendent Stiff returned from Montreal this morning bringing the news and also the official order from the general manager. In his letter Mr. Seargeant states that the abolishment of the department is purely a matter of economy in order to reduce the working expenses of this division as low as possible. It has been decided to centralize the work by giving Superintendent Stephenson of the northern division charge of the whole system from Portland to the St. Clair River, including the tunnel and Suspension Bridge. The departments of Engineer Hobson and Mechanical Superintendent Domville are not affected by the new order of things. They will simply be under the direct control of Superintendent Stephenson at Montreal.

The superintendent's staff here consists of the following: Charles Stiff, superintendent southern division; Joseph Wallace, chief clerk; Ernest Alexander, secretary to Mr. Stiff; T. M. Moore, secretary to Mr. Wallace; Miss McCulloch, clerk; R. P. Leslie, baggage clerk; W. Grayson, traffic inspector; A. R. Lovell, enquiry clerk; Miss A. Baine, office clerk; H. McLorie, assistant clerk; Miss L. Cusack, operator. These employes have received notice, to take effect on Nov. 1. Mr. Stiff is under a year's engagement and consequently will receive a year's salary if he is allowed to go Nov. 1. Nothing has been said as to room being made in other departments for any of those discharged, but it is hardly likely that the company proposes to entirely dismiss old and trusted employes such as compose the staff of this division. Superintendent Stiff has been in the employ of the old Great Western and the southern division of the Grand Trunk for 22 years, and Mr. Wallace, his chief clerk, has been here since 1873. Both are highly esteemed and popular gentlemen, and many expressions of regret were heard on the streets this afternoon at their hard luck in thus being made the chief victims of the economic process of paring down expenses. It is hoped that the company will manage to retain the services of such experienced and able officials in some responsible capacity.

For Hamilton merchants and shippers the change means that all complaints and traffic arrangements will have to be made to Montreal, instead of having the advantage of personal attention here.

Superintendent Stephenson is expected here in a few days to take over the division, including the N. and N. W. Engineer Hobson has been sent for to go to Montreal, and the rumors are renewed that he is to be made chief engineer of the system.

It is also said that within a few months tenders will be let for a handsome new passenger station to be erected at King-street.

OTHER G.T.R. CHANGES.

Mr. Edmund Wragge, Toronto, Believed of Control of the Train Service.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—The Tyler ax has begun its work and as a result there is trepidation in the ranks of the Grand Trunk officials. Mr. Charles Stiff, Superintendent of the Great Western division of the G.T.R., has been retired and his headquarters in Hamilton have been abolished. No one will take his place, but his duties will be assumed by the General Superintendent, Mr. James Stephenson. Mr. Stiff has been 28 years in the service of the Grand Trunk Railway and assumed the position he has been retired from in 1876. This is the most important change to be made in the personnel of the high officials of the company.

The next in order is Mr. Edmund E. Wragge, local superintendent, with headquarters in Toronto. He gives up the control of the whole train service under his erstwhile control, which is handed over to General Superintendent Stephenson. In future he will devote his time to the arrangements in connection with the proposed big union depot in Toronto.

These are the changes which have already taken place, and more are to follow. "You can say," said a prominent official of the Grand Trunk, "that the staffs of the superintendents will be greatly curtailed, in fact, Mr. Stiff's staff will to a great extent be dispensed with. One or two superintendents will be released. One has gone already; other retrenchments will take place in due course of time, and when they do I will let you know."

The rumor of the above developments began to gain ground in railroad circles yesterday afternoon. Many scouted the idea of the retrenchments as totally unfounded, but the official announcement, which will be issued in a day or two, will change their opinions.

Another result of the tour of inspection is the pronounced intention of the directors to and management to concentrate the outside business as much as possible in Montreal, as instanced in the changes which have taken place in Stratford. The fuel foreman, Samuel Turner, and S. A. McCutcheon, timekeeper, and several clerks in Superintendent Tiffin's office have been released. There are reports of other changes in the staff, but so far there have been no developments.

LUCKY'S DEFENCE.

It is Likely That the Case Will Go Over to the Assizes.

SMITH'S FALLS, Ont., Oct. 14.—Mr. J. R. Lavelle of this place has been retained by prisoner Lucky, as counsel, to represent him at his coming trial. The evidence for the defence will hardly be ready by Tuesday, even though the Crown may be ready to proceed. Since his conviction last night Lucky has preserved his usual indifference. Mr. Lavelle left for Brockville last night to arrange matters.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system, continual disorder results in kidney consumption which is Bright's disease. dw

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse, till the pain was almost unbearable, and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do no intend to be without this valuable remedy if I can help it.

News About Town.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with Coughs, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The large bottles are 50c. and $1.

A man's wife should always be the same especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they say and their husbands say so too! dw

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

The Edison Sewer.

Work on the Edison sewer is progressing apace, about a dozen men working at the contract. Yesterday 54 feet was excavated and pipe laid for that distance on Rink street. The pipe is now being laid in six inches of concrete, which makes the pipe as solid as if set in a stone bed. The contract requires that 304 feet of the sewer along Rink street be laid in concrete, which covers the wet bottom through Spaulding's Bay.

They Go to Port Hope To-morrow.

The Peterborough Rugby team will go to Port Hope to-morrow. Following is the team:—Backs, Poussette, Waters, Carmichael, Alexander, Parker; quarter, T. H. Dumble, Murray, Taylor, Heap, G. Boucher; left wing, Begley, Burnon, Drope; forwards, W. M. Loucks, Tilley, Beers, and one to be yet selected. The team goes to play the Trinity College School team and they expect to give their opponents a rattling good game. A number of friends of the club will accompany the boys to Port Hope. This afternoon the junior Rugbyites will play the seniors a great practice match.

An Impressive Confirmation Service.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, attended by Rev. Father Scollard of the Cathedral, the Hastings Star says, arrived in town by the afternoon train on Saturday. For several weeks past a large number of children of both sexes had been under preparation for receiving the sacrament of confirmation, and after His Lordship's arrival the children underwent a final examination, each one receiving a card, and early on Sunday morning the children to the number of 51 girls and 44 boys assembled in the church, the former dressed in white, with white veils and wreaths. The mass was celebrated by Father Scollard, and after the last Gospel His Lordship ascended the altar attired in the emblems of episcopal authority (mitre and crozier) and addressed the candidates for confirmation. At the conclusion of the ceremony His Lordship read the epistle and gospel of the day, taking his text from the latter (Matt. ix, 7-8) "Son be of good cheer; thy sins are forgiven thee." Before dismissing the children His Lordship asked the girls if they would be attentive and regular in their religious duties, and the boys to promise that they would abstain from the use of intoxicants until they were 21 years of age. The promises were sincerely given by all. In the evening at vespers Father Scollard preached an eloquent sermon.

An Unusual Death-Rate.

At this season of the year there are always many deaths, particularly among children, from summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentry, cholera morbus, cramps, etc., but this season the cases seem to be unusually frequent and fatal, and every one ought to know that a sure and speedy cure can easily be obtained by taking a teaspoonful of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER in sweetened water (hot water is the best), every half hour until relieved. This remedy has never been known to fail. Full directions are with each bottle. It is kept by every respectable druggist. New big bottle old popular 25c price.

The Grandmaster Coming.

A letter was received this morning from Rev. T. W. Joliffe, Bowmanville, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows, stating that he would pay an official visit to Otonabee Lodge on Monday evening next. All Oddfellows and visiting brethren in town are cordially invited to attend. It will be remembered that Grand Master Joliffe while in town a few weeks ago, was invited to address the Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows, but was unable to comply with the invitation, owing to a previous engagement.

More Kind References.

The following is what the Bowmanville Statesman has to say of our new dress:—The Peterborough EXAMINER has donned a new fall dress bought from Messrs. Miller & Richard, Toronto. One can nearly always tell how much "go" there is in a town by a peep at its local papers. Judging by THE EXAMINER we conclude that Peterborough is one of the "most livest" towns in Canada, and the same journal is a great credit to such a wide-awake town. We rejoice over our contemporary's onward march and improved personal attire.

He is Anxious for a Race.

Mr. Madden Howard, an Indian of Hiawatha, is anxious for a canoe race. He says that he is prepared to meet Gardiner Nicholls, John or George Taylor on a mile straightaway course in best and best canoes, either single or double, for a purse of $50 a side. Howard states that he has beaten the Taylor's in time past, and would like a matched race with them now as he thinks he can outpaddle his opponents quite easily. He is prepared to put up a forfeit at any time that anyone signifies their willingness to race with him.

MOVED AGAIN.

We are always on the move! We never let our goods stay long enough on the shelf to gather dust. Out they must go! For the present our headquarters for the great bankrupt stock of dry goods etc., will be just across the Arcade and opposite Garvey's. We are bound to make the goods move out faster than ever, if low prices will do it. Come early and get bargains.

A Prohibition Club Organized.

The meeting called last evening in the Y.M.C.A. Hall to organize a club on the lines of the Advanced Prohibition movement, was well attended, Dr. Fife presided. Mr. W. G. Fee, organizer of advanced prohibition clubs, was present for the benefit of those who were not present at the previous meeting, again explained the workings of the order, and the aims and objects in forming such a club. The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

President—Francis Mason.
Vice-President—John Carlyle.
Secretary—Chas. L. Trotter.
Treasurer—P. H. Green.

The canvassing committee did not report, owing to the absence of some of the members. This committee, which solicits signatures and memberships for the club, is composed as follows:—Messrs. C. L. Trotter, (temporary chairman) Stewart, Powell, Martin, Moore, Parker, Carlyle, W. J. Mason, J. J. Hartley, Wolstenholme and Mesdames Paton, Price, Martin and Miss M. J. Sanderson. Another meeting will be held in a few days when the other committees will be appointed.

A Highly Creditable Performance.

Last evening Reno and Ford's sensational comedy drama, Joshua Simpkins, which was produced at Bradburn's Opera House was an unqualified success. The house was literally packed with one great mass of humanity from orchestra to entrance, in fact it was the largest house which has greeted any show here in some months. To say that the large number went away well pleased with what they had seen and heard would be expressing it mildly. The play throughout is humorous, novel, varying and exciting and from the scene of Skinner's Tavern at Wild Briar Hill in the first act to the quaint old-fashioned Simpkins' homestead in the last the interest and enthusiam of the house never failed. The characters are all splendidly taken and well supported. Mr. H. Miller Howard in the role of "Joshua Simpkins," impersonates a seemingly inexperienced and not very brilliant yeoman, but who is able, nevertheless, to cope with the scheming of "city sharpers," and baffle them in their insidious intrigues. Mr. D. E. Porter, as "Samantha Twitter," is untutored, uncultured and blushingly modest, evoking outbursts of merriment at every movement. Miss Lillie Wright is a pretty actress, a nice singer, and a graceful dancer. Miss Lucy Revere, also possesses a fine soubrettee voice, and was heard with great gratification in her song and dances. The remainder of the caste display merit aad ability. The first-class orchestra accompanying the company, and the sawmill and Potomac river scenes, are additional features, which enhance the pleasure and success of the production.

The Advertising

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason because it is true; it always appeals to the sober, common sense of thinking people because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which, in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills.

Served with a Writ of Injunction.

This morning John Burnham, Q. C., acting at the instance of Alfred McDonald, proprietor of the Point St. Charles sawmill, served town clerk Cobb with a writ asking for an injunction to restrain the town from discharging sewage matter into the lake at the point proposed, by the Edison sewer, at present under construction. The law requires that a writ be served on the corporation, giving notice that an injunction to restrain will be applied for before said injunction is actually applied for.

Guy Brothers' Minstrels.

A large and appreciative audience greeted the Guy Brothers minstrel show on their first appearance in Montreal last night. The entertainment was very pleasing, the six Guy Brothers themselves all being first class vocal and terpsichorean artists. Messrs Vanerson and McDonald brought down the house with their comical performances on the horizontal barette. The songs, dances and bones and banjo specialties of Messrs. G. R. and W. H. Guy were very clever and thoroughly enjoyable. Taking the show as a whole, it was well worth seeing. Their orchestra is a strong feature. Another entertainment is to be given this evening, and if merit counts a large audience should be present.—Montreal Daily Herald, September 23rd, 1892.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased, to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Nervous Headache

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

EVEN AT THE FINISH.

Norwood and Peterborough Score One Goal Each at Football.

Yesterday the Peterborough football team went down to Norwood to play the return match with the High School club there. The match took place in the agricultural grounds. It began precisely at three o'clock and a large crowd was present which cheered impartially the brilliant plays whenever made by either team. Following are the names of the players:

NORWOOD.		PETERBOROUGH.
McBride	goal	Thompson
Simpson, J Finlay	backs	Christie, Birdside
F Finlay, Andrews, Graham	halves	Wasson, Fisher, Cunningham
Gordon	centre	McCabe
Stephenson, Fraser	right wing	Hay, W Dumble
B Hendron, Rutherford	left wing	W Hendron, F Hendron

The game was a very fast one throughout and the contest from start to finish was keen and exciting. The Norwood boys had the best of the game during the forepart of the first half and by fine work made it warm for the Peterboroughs but after a few minutes more the home team awoke to a sense of duty and began to get on their muscle. A few minutes before the close of the first half Stephenson sent the pig-skin between the goal posts by a straight kick from centre. Neither side scored during the remaining time but the home team had the play in their favor and made many but fruitless attacks on the Norwood boys goal. In the second the play was very even and some good kicks, passing and rushing was done on both sides. After playing for some time, Hendron passed from the wing and McCabe charging the goal keeper knocked it through. Time should have been called at 4.40 o'clock but the referee payed no attention to this and at 4.50 o'clock the Norwood's managed to kick another goal making the score 2 to 1 in their favor but the Peterborough's disputed the last goal and would not allow as the teams had played ten minutes over time. The game therefore ended evenly one goal for each side. All the home team played well, especially Christie. The forwards of Norwood were better than their backs. Simpson, Anderson, Rutherford and Fraser put up the best work for them.

THE RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

ANNUAL PRIZE MEETING A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Most Successful Matches Ever Held—The Winners of the Various Matches—A Large Number of Entries Splendid Shooting—List of Prizes—News Notes on Range and Rifle.

The annual prize meeting of the Peterborough Rifle Association was held yesterday and the matches were the most successful ever held in the history of the Association. The number of entries in each of the several matches was larger than ever before and the shooting done was the best on record. Riflemen from Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg and Bowmanville were present to take part, but as the records will show the home marksmen carried off most of the honors. All the matches were concluded yesterday and everything being taken into consideration the day was one of the best that could be desired. In the Association match there were 28 entries but Private Geo. Fitzgerald carried off the glory and won the Bankers' Challenge Cup, of 1877, value $25 which is to be held by the winner for one year and to become his personal property on winning it three times, twice of which must be in succession. The fouling was dry and the weather fine. The light was bright and shone brilliantly on the barrels of the Snider-Enfields of the riflemen, interfering with their aim. The breeze at 200 yds. was not very strong but at 500 ranges interfered more. The County match was captured by Pte. D. Belleghem, taking 61 points out of a possible 70. The wind at 400 and 600 yards was tricky and from the rear shifting from left to right. Pte. Belleghem holds the Cox cup, value $30, tenable for a year and said trophy becomes personal property of winner on same conditions aforementioned in the Banker's challenge cup. The extra series match was won by Capt. W. H. Hill. It was shot all day at 400 yard ranges, small target, with 18 inch bull's eye. Messrs. Hill and Cameron scored 47 each out of a possible 50. The matches closed at 5.30 o'clock with the light quite dark. At noon the light was too bright. The wind all day long was more or less tricky. Fouling was dry. Very few Martini rifles were used in the matches. Pte. A. Curtis won the nursery match, while C. Curtis and F. Bartlett tied for the prize awarded on the highest aggregate of Association and Country matches. Following are the scores:

THOUGHTLESS AND SELFISH PEOPLE IN PUBLIC GATHERINGS.

The man or woman who insists upon attending church, concert or opera while he or she is suffering from a troublesome cough, is (to put it very mildly) thoughtless, mean and selfish. The church-goer and the music-loving wish to hear and take in every word and note that comes from preacher, singer and instrument. This cannot be accomplished if some individual is coughing violently in the audience. Very often we have seen three or four such unmannerly mortals disturb and disquiet a large audience.

There is no necessity for this coughing and interruption if the sufferers are wise and think of the comfort of others. The most violent and stubborn cough and sore throat can be overcome in a very brief space of time, if Harvard Bronchial Syrup is used.

This scientific remedy works in a wondrous manner. Its action is often instantaneous, and sufferers generally are delighted with results. Harvard Bronchial Syrup has reached the top round of the ladder of fame in Canada owing to its marvellous cures in cases of colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and affections of the bronchial tubes. Try a bottle of Harvard, reader, if you are suffering with a cough or sore throat. One trial will make it your future friend and trusted remedy.

EARLY AUTUMN SCENES

Poetically Described as Viewed From Lakefield Highlands, Peterborough County.

Signals of nature are swaying
In tops of the maple trees,
A flame, the branches are saying
Wonderful thing to the breeze.

They tell that summer is reigning
At height of her regal state,
That the days of blight and waning
With the sternor autumn wait.

They hint that the year's completeness
Will pass, as passes the day;
That verdure, beauty and sweetness
Pass under the rod of decay.

Russet is touching the birches,
And amber the ironwood tree,
Maroon, the ivy that reaches
And droops from the old belfry.

The orchards of pear and apple,
Their color and wealth unfold
As dyly the artists dapple
With scarlet, and bronze and gold.

In grandeur rolleth the river,
Giving its radiant sheen
To pictures, which Nature, ever,
Paints from the highlands of Queen.

The pink and the green of the clover
Spread out to the cedar hedge,
And graceful trees bend over
To dip in the water's edge.

And thus the story is swelling—
Story of bloom and decay;
Signals around us are telling,
"All things are passing away."

Thrice welcome the myriad sources
That bear to the one who waits,
With Prophecies' certain voices
A glimpse through the Golden Gates!

THE PROHIBITION CLUB.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice by the papers, and by "Club Rules" which have fallen into my hands, that an effort is being made to form a club in connection with the idea of "advanced prohibition." I am heartily in sympathy with any movement having for its object the complete suppression of the liquor traffic, believing it to be a monstrous evil and a foe to both moral and material advancement, but the means employed should avoid the doing of evil that good may come. I notice that the pledge of the proposed Prohibition Club contains restrictions that come within the violation of the principle stated in the foregoing sentence:—"I solemly promise that I will not give my vote or influence to any candidate for parliamentary honours whose party is not distinctly pledged to the complete suppression of the liquor traffic." This is an example of a good cause being injured by bad advocacy. The franchise is given to our citizens to be exercised according to the individual judgment of the possessor, and every man is bound to exercise his soiemn trust. So strongly is this fact recognized that a movement has gained a wide advocacy, seeking to make the use of the ballot compulsory. Yet we find that this pledge, if adhered to (for party predilections will give it a strong wrench), tends to disfranchise persons who take it. Suppose that a parliamentary election occurs in which neither party is "distinctly pledged" and refuses to be pledged. Suppose again that one candidate worthy of the utmost confidence supports a party whose platform aside from the "distinct pledge," demands the support of every good citizen. And suppose the other candidate is a moral reprobate with a rotten record, supporting a party morally bankrupt and also with a rotten record—the enthusiast who has unthinkingly signed the advanced prohibition pledge is disfranchised, and reduced to the civil status of a minor or an idiot; he cannot vote, and by refusing to vote for the good candidate of the good party, he really votes for the rotten candidate of the rotten party. It is easily possible that an unscrupulous candidate and a reckless party, eager to gain or retain power, will make any promise, will sign any pledge, and the man who signs the advanced prohibition pledge either disfranchises himself or risks being made the catspaw of designing politicians, who will promise anything to suit their purpose, and will, with equal readiness, break any promise to suit their purpose. Every good citizen should do all in his power, legitimately, to promote the national adoption of prohibition, but no good citizen has a right to sign away his liberty of action and place himself, bound hand and foot by a cast iron pledge, at the mercy of a rascally candidate or a rascally party who or which will promise anything to get votes. Paul the Apostle of the Gentiles gave a decided negative to the question, "Shall we then do evil that good may come?"

PETERBOROUGH HUNT CLUB.

Their Annual Meeting Held — Officers Elected — An Organization for the Protection of Game.

The first annual meeting of the Peterborough Hunt Club was held on Wednesday night last. Although the club has been in existence for the past few years, still it was only a year since that the club was properly established into a vigorous organization, and formed on the basis of a Joint Stock Company. The organization has formulated by-laws and a constitution. The club recognizes the importance of the protection of game. The objects of the club are recuperation and health, the enjoyments of canoing and to encourage sport and systemmatize fishing, hunting deer and other game in season and to counsel, advise and assist against the wanton destruction of game at any time. The following gentlemen compose the club: Messrs. H. C. Winch, R. E. Wood, R. A. Morrow, T. E. Bradburn, H. LeBrun, G. W. Hatton, Alex. Elliott, R. B. McKee, R. H. Fortye, A. Stevenson and Alex. Patterson.

The officers elected were:
PRESIDENT—H. C. Winch.
CAPTAIN—R. A. Morrow.
TREASURER—Alex. Elliott.
SECRETARY—Geo. W. Hatton.

The members of the club will leave on a deer hunting expedition about Nov. 1st, and will be absent for some weeks. The aims and objects of the club are laudable and the institution promises to be a vigorous and prominent one which will make its influence felt and observe and preserve the game laws not only themselves but also recognize that others do likewise. Its annual meeting will be held on the second Friday of October each year but special meetings may be called at any time by the officers.

SILVERWARE! SILVERWARE!

THE lining from the cloud was dropped at CHINA HALL and has been manufactured into an immense collection of handsome and useful articles, such as Silver Tea Sets, Five O'clock Sets on Salvers, Tilting Jugs, Pudding and Centre Dishes, and dozens of dainty articles admirably adapted for Wedding Presents. We all know how hard it is to choose a suitable present for a man, but at CHINA HALL the difficultly is solved. How would a Blotting Roller do, with handle of Oxodized Silver, a Pack of Cards in a Silver Case, Silver Soap Boxes and Collapsion Cups for travelling. Letter Scales of delicate Filagree Silver, Calendars and Candlesticks for any gentlemen's own room, and quaint little Silver Tubs for matches. The only difficulty is which to choose amid such profusion—prices remarkably low. Our stock never showed such a variety in Bake-Dishes and handsome Side-Dishes, the latter having lock-handles on the lids, by removing the handle, instead of one dish, behold two. Nothing makes a dinner-table look handsomer than bright silver and cut glass—ask to be shown our stock of both and you will be surprised. Come in and look at our Triplicate Mirror in a Mahogany Frame, with Oxodized Silver backs—it would make a handsome present and as it is the only one in town there would be no danger of a duplicate. Each Saturday morning CHINA HALL will place on its Bargain Table its weekly snap. This offer to be valid for one week only. Our bargain this week is a Silver Castor at $3.00—the best value for the money ever offered in Peterborough.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

Immigration Resumed.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—In accordance with Montreal advices British and Scandinavian immigration will be resumed at Liverpool yesterday. Emigrants' friends here complain of the delays due to the imperfect arrangements at Grosse Isle. There are some fears that the possibility of the renewal of these difficulties will deter some from emigrating this year, though in any case the movement of emigrants is not large at this time of the year. The Dominion Line is booking through United States points.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Board of Trade returns show that exports to Canada increased one per cent. in the nine months ending with September, and imports from Canada increased 16 per cent. Butter increased £25,000, cheese £29,000 and wood nearly a million sterling.

They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

He Could Not Get Away.

A weary old man dropped with a sigh into a seat in the street car. At the other end three or four young men were talking and laughing.

"They have just returned from their vacation," said the tired man to his next neighbor.

"They seem to have enjoyed it."

"Yes, they seem to. They work in the same store as I do."

"Ah!"

"Yes. They have all been away now—everybody in the store—clerks, bookkeepers, and heads of departments, even the cash-boys and the wrappers and the porters. Everybody has had his vacation—but me."

"All but you?"

"Yes."

"Well, I should think your employer would let you off too."

The old man shook his head.

"What's the reason he won't?"

"Well," replied the weary man, with another sigh, "you see, I'm the proprietor myself."

A Phenomenon on Wheels.

The young man had been especially sassy on the subject of his prowess as a bicycler, and he bet money that he could make a showing that would startle somebody. Arrangements being completed, he started off on a 25 mile trip through the country. Nobody knew exactly what happened, but several hours later a conglomeration of young man and bicycle was slowly brought into town on a hay waggon. In the evening a friend called and found him in bed, done up in splints and bandages.

"Hello," he exclaimed, "what's the matter?"

"Took that bicycle ride to-day," groaned the phenomenon.

"Did you break the record?"

"No," and here he added some unintelligible word, "but I broke everything else." It cost $27 to repair the wheel. The other doctor hasn't sent in his bill yet.—Detroit Free Press.

Hemorrhage Five Years.

"I have been ill for "about five years, "have had the best "medical advice, "and I took the first "dose in some doubt. This result-"ed in a few hours easy sleep. There "was no further hemorrhage till next "day, when I had a slight attack "which stopped almost immediate-"ly. By the third day all trace of "blood had disappeared and I had "recovered much strength. The "fourth day I sat up in bed and ate "my dinner, the first solid food for "two months. Since that time I "have gradually gotten better and "am now able to move about the "house. My death was daily ex-"pected and my recovery has been "a great surprise to my friends and "the doctor. Two Deaths at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 13.—There were 14 new cases of cholera and two deaths here Tuesday.

Accused of Swindling.

ST. MARY'S, O., Oct. 13. — Perry Wright, a prominent young Mercer county farmer, was arrested at the instigation of Miss Ella Shipman of Celina for obtaining money under false pretences. Recently he approached Miss Shipman and asked her for a loan of $35. This she agreed to do upon condition that she was to receive a note for the amount, payable in 30 days with 8 per cent. interest. He gave her the note and represented it to her as being what she requested. She presented the note for payment and was informed of its worthlessness, the note reading 30 years without interest instead of 30 days with interest.

Charged With Seduction.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Henry E. Veitch, who lives with his father, Police Constable Veitch, at 466 Gerrard-street east, was arrested yesterday charged with the seduction of a girl named Florence Amelio, whose parents live at No. 8 Robert-place.

The relatives of the girl have been searching for Veitch for some days and threatening to shoot him on sight. A couple of nights ago so hard was he pressed by them that he had to seek refuge in Wilton-avenue Police Station, finally eluding his pursuers by leaving by the back door and scaling back fences.

No Change in Mrs. Harrison's Condition.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Aside from the fact that Mrs. Harrison is a trifle weaker last evening, there is no material change in her condition.

A Virginia Lynching.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 10.—The negro Philip Young, who murdered Walker Glass on Saturday, was lynched near Palmyra last night.

Favor the Canadian Route.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 12.—The Government seems to be inclined to renew for another year the subsidy for the mail service between San Francisco and Sydney pending the making of arrangements for service by the Vancouver route as suggested by Canada.

THE PRINCE ATTACKED.

He is Censured For Not Attending Tennyson's Funeral.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Star yesterday makes a covert attack on the Prince of Wales' absence from the Tennyson service. It was announced two days ago that the Prince would be present, but he did not attend. The Star prints a letter saying that the Prince of Wales prefers to go shooting or to attend the Newmarket races to attending the funeral of such a man as Tennyson. The writer protests as a patriotic taxpayer that the Prince of Wales finds the popping over of helpless birds more congenial employment than attending funerals of great men, and urges that his dereliction on this occasion should not be allowed to pass without official protest.

Another Fake Concern Goes Under.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—The short term orders here continue to topple. To-day a bill in equity was filed against the Sexennial League, in which it is alleged that the order is insolvent, and asking that a receiver be appointed.

New Cases at Buda Pesth.

BUDA PESTH, Oct. 10.—During the past 12 hours 14 fresh cases of cholera and three deaths from the disease have been reported here.

Several Deaths in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—In this city and suburbs yesterday 20 fresh cases of cholera were reported to the authorities. During the same time seven persons died from the disease.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

NO TIME TO WRITE.

A Brief Note From "The Household Drudge" to Her "Lord and Master."

INDEED the lot of woman is hard. Has it not been dinned into our ears since we were young?

She is the slave and serf of selfish man. Hers is the work that never ends. She is the one who, to give ease and comfort to her worst half, the brute! and let him dally in the lap of ease and luxury, must sacrifice her young life, her beautiful hands, her everything else and carry one on the altar of work.

At the very latest curl of the hot wave I picked up a letter in the street which bore eloquent testimony to these pathetic facts. I hate to print it, because it bears so heavily upon the laziness of paterfamilias and the ease and luxury with which he surrounds himself at the expense of his family. I do not like to give my own sex away, as it were. But the stern sense of duty nerves me on. So here goes.

BERKSHIREVILLE, MASS, Aug. 4, 1892.

MY OWN DEAREST, DARLING HUBBY.—You do not know how lonely we all are without you. Why don't you just drop your hateful business and come up here for a week or two? I am sure the old store would keep right on running if you were not in it.

Did you send the check for fifty dollars for the board last week. It has not put in an appearance.

It seems dreadfully stupid here. There are only three or four nice young men in the place. Of course I have no trouble in keeping them out of the hands of the young girls, for they know that I have no designs upon them, and feel correspondingly at ease in my society. Besides, I rather think they like me.

Those children will be the death of me yet. Here am I trying to economize and they all the time making trouble and expense. I have just paid a sewing woman two dollars for mending their stockings and putting new seats in their pants. Last night Raphael knocked over one of the Etruscan ewers in my bedchamber. The landlord says he regrets exceedingly the accident, as the set was a very rare one, and he shall be forced to put down ten dollars in my bill for the broken pitcher.

It has been awfully hot here, and we have suffered dreadfully. If Mother Eve had been here last night I verily believe she would have slept without the fig leaf. I envy you the big, cool house in the city all to yourself.

Calipso broke my bottle of hair bleacher last night. Wish you would go to Madame Reubens and get another bottle and send it up by express. While you are about it you might as well have her put up the usual set of toilet necessities, the $15.50 set, as I am nearly out. She will understand.

We had a delightful excursion yesterday to Hornswoggle Mountain and picnicked in the glen. A mosquito bit me just between the shoulders, where I could not possibly reach it to scratch, and I suffered excruciating agonies all night. I was just able to reach it with my shoehorn, and that was all. The man charged $16 for the wagon, and as I had so many children I had to pay half. Isn't the price rather high? By the way, I am all out of money, and if you want me to do what is right and proper by the collection plate you must send me some right away.

There is going to be a grand hop here next Saturday and I have positively nothing fit to wear. I wish you would get the pearl colored slippers out of the second drawer in the back room bureau. Take them to Blank's and ask them to match the color with some of their gros grain $3.50 silk and send to me at once. There is a very nice and killingly cheap dressmaker here, and I guess with prompt work on your part that we will pull through.

I have signed a subscription paper for $5 to put a new coat of paint on the Episcopal church here. Please send check for the amount. It looks more respectable to give in that shape, and there is no mistake about the donor. Make check payable to me so I can indorse it.

You poor, dear boy! I wish I had time to write you a nice, long letter, but I have been invited by Jack Assford to take a ride to Blumtum Mountain, and so for today you must put up with this horrid little scrawl. You must be dreadfully forlorn keeping bachelor's hall without a servant, and yet I suppose we must economize until you get a rise of salary. I almost died laughing at your description of how you sleep in an unmade bed and try to cook over that horrid little gas stove.

Elsie, my nurse maid, said this morning that she wanted to go back to the city. She seemed quite set on going, and I had to bribe her with an offer of $5 more a month in order to keep her. It would be impossible to get a girl here.

Well, good-by. There are several little commissions I wanted you to do for me, but Mr. Assford is calling now and I have not got the time to think of them.

Your lonely little wife,
EVANGELINE.

As I read this pathetic and sorrowful little missive tears came to my eyes. I pictured the round shouldered, bald headed little brute to whom it was addressed, and I wanted to shake him and say "You tyrant! Are you not ashamed to live in luxury and ease while your devoted wife, the mother of your seven children, is wearing out her young life among the Berkshires?"—New York Herald.

A CHICAGO MURDER.

A Toronto Bartender Fatally Shot In a Row.

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—Charles Lockhart, who arrived in Chicago two weeks ago from Toronto and has relatives in Brighton, Ontario, and Joseph Kreige, a waiter from St. Louis, quarreled in a saloon at No. 78 East Adams-street yesterday afternoon about a small sum of money which Kreige had loaned to Lockhart, and the trouble resulted in Kreige shooting Lockhart in the right cheek. The bullet passed through the roof of Lockhart's mouth and lodged in the left side of his neck. He was taken to the County Hospital, and it is feared that he will not recover.

IT IS NOT PROBABLE.

Mr. T. M. Daly Will Not Be Mr. Dewdney's Successor.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—A rumor was in circulation yesterday that Mr. T. M. Daly, M.P. for Selkirk, is to be appointed Minister of the Interior, succeeding Mr. Dewdney. This is not probable. It is more likely that Mr. J. C. Patterson, on Mr. Dewdney's retirement, will be called to the portfolio. It has not yet been settled that a Northwest member will be taken into the ministry, but if such be decided upon it will be only in a junior position.

BERKMAN'S BREAK FOR LIBERTY.

The Anarchist Said to Have Been Wounded While Trying to Escape.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 14. — Anarchist Berkman, who is confined in the Western Penitentiary at Wood's Run, Lower Alleghany, for assaulting Chairman Frick of the Carnegie Steel Company, made a desperate attempt to escape Saturday evening. When the prisoners were marched from the workshops to their cells at 6 o'clock, Berkman, who was in the middle of a line from the mat shop, made a dash for liberty. He gained the wall and jumped, landing on the brick pavement 45 feet below, apparently unhurt. As he picked himself up and tried to stagger away Guard Young fired and hit him in the leg, bringing him down.

Several stone-masons working on some new buildings opposite saw the prisoner jump and rushing over held the Anarchist until the officers came around by way of the gate. Berkman, it is said, is now in the hospital with a broken leg.

The prison officials deny that any attempt to escape was made, and say Berkman is in the hospital sick, but the story given above comes from good authority.

THE LIFE GUARDS MUTINY.

A Newspaper Article the Cause of All the Trouble.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—An echo of the recent mutiny in the Life Guards was heard yesterday.

The day after the mutiny a member of the regiment named Marshall posted in the canteen an article on the mutiny published in The Star and wrote above it, "Comrades, stick together."

Corpl. Bayliss knew that Marshall did this, but failed to report the matter to his superior officer. Both men were arrested and yesterday they were tried by court-martial.

Marshall admitted that the charge against him was true, and said that his act was a foolish one that was committed wholly without premeditation.

The court decided that Corpl. Bayliss would be sufficiently punished by being deprived of his stewardship of the canteen, and the sentence was imposed upon him. Marshall was also found guilty, but his sentence was deferred.

The Big Four Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Eight new men went to work yesterday in place of striking switchmen in the Big Four yard. The yardmaster says four trains moved this morning and three yesterday at noon. Sixty policemen were on duty and not a striker was to be seen.

Officials for the Capital-Shamrock match.

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—A meeting of the Lacrosse League to decide on the officials for Saturday's match was held yesterday afternoon. The delegates present were: Shamrocks, Crowe; Capitals, Stuart; Cornwalls, Porteous; and Torontos, Ross Mackenzie. Mr. Shepperd, president of the league, presided. The officials selected were: Referee, William Pollock of Cornwall; umpires, W. Aird and Fred Larmouth.

A Montreal gentleman who has just arrived from Ottawa announces great excitement there. Numerous kinds of badges are for sale, and pictures of the team are to be seen in every shop window. The value of reserved seat tickets has risen to $2.50.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1.

THE TRIAL OF MRS. DEACON.

He Hopes to Fasten a Charge of Criminal Adultery Upon Her.

GRASSE, France, Oct. 14.—The suit of Edward Parker Deacon against his wife began here yesterday. The trial is taken to prove criminal adultery on the part of the defendant in order that the plaintiff can apply for a divorce. At 7 o'clock in the morning the doors of the Court House were besieged by a large crowd of people eager to gain admission to the court room. At 8.30 o'clock the doors were opened, and in a few minutes every available inch of space in the court room was occupied. There was much discussion among the people as to whether Mrs. Deacon would appear in person to defend herself, or whether she would allow judgment to be entered against her by default.

Maitre Somango, Mr. Deacon's counsel, was unavoidably absent and his place was taken by Frank Pllatte, an advocate from Nice.

CHOSEN FOR THE CABINET

MR. T. M. DALY, OF SELKIRK, THE NEW MAN.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney to Be Appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia — Mr. Patterson Will Succeed Him, With Probably Mr. Daly as Secretary of State

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—It is understood on pretty good authority that Tom Daly, M.P. for Selkirk, who arrived here yesterday, has been sent for and will shortly enter the Cabinet as representative for the Northwest in place of Hon. Mr. Dewdney, who will be appointed Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia. Mr. Daly will probably take the portfolio of Secretary of State and Hon. Mr. Patterson will be promoted to the Interior.

A statement of the public debt for the first three months of the current fiscal year shows a decrease in the debt since the 30th of June of nearly two millions and a half, although the expenditure on capital account has increased half a million on account of the Soo Canal.

This is Not Official.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—Sir John Thompson will become Premier upon the return of Premier Abbott from England. He will be strengthened by Mr. W. R Meredith, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and Hon. A. R. Angers, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec.

MANITOBA'S GREAT CROP.

Wheat Shipments From the Northwest Are Enormous.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Wheat shipments are growing to enormous proportions. An idea of the wheat traffic now passing through the city over the C.P.R. for the East will be given when it is stated that yesterday 1200 cars were asked from this city by outlying stations in the west. It would seem that an effort is being made to send the whole crop to Fort William before navigation closes. If it keeps up until Dec. 1 and the boats are running till then 5,000,000 bushels will be moved east in the next six weeks.

Fine weather has enabled all threshing to be pushed forward, and as the elevators at different points become filled there is constant demand for shipment. It would require thrice the carrying capacity of the C.P.R. to satisfy the present demands of wheat shippers, but the railway company is making a big effort to meet the emergencies. 450 cars having been sent to stations on Wednesday and yesterday.

The G.T.R. Changes.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—There is nothing new regarding the changes to be made in the Grand Trunk staff here, beyond what was announced yesterday, except that it is said that Assistant Engineer Holgate of the Northern and Northwestern Division will also go. Numerous rumors are afloat as to the changes in the departments of Mr. Hobson and Mr. Domville, but they are mostly surmises indulged in by those who don't know much about the matter. No further changes have been announced, and those who are most likely to know say that no others are in contemplation.

Dead at a Railway Station.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 15.—A man about 60 years of age, whose name is said to be Albert Halberstadt, died yesterday while sitting in a chair at the Centennial Hotel, G.T.R. Station. He had in his possession a ticket for Chicago, and was either under the influence of liquor or insane, as he had been acting very strangely. He had a gold watch and about $50 in his possession in the morning, which cannot now be found. It is claimed that he was robbed by a tramp who was in his company. A post-mortem and coroner's inquest is being held.

Discovery of a Comet.

MOUNT HAMILTON, Cal., Oct. 15.—A very faint comet was discovered by Prof. E. E. Barnard at the Lick Observatory on Wednesday night by photography. Visual observations last night show the comet to be about one mile in diameter. It is of the 13th magnitude, and is moving southeast 1 degree 43 minutes daily. Its position last evening at 7 hours 20 minutes, standard Pacific time, was 8 degrees ascension, 19 hours 34 minutes north, declination 12 degrees 30 minutes. This is the first comet to be discovered by the aid of photography.

Death of a Veteran Journalist.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 15.—Mr. J. B. Trayes, for a long time the editor and proprietor of The Times, died yesterday. The deceased was prominently connected with the Masonic Order, being a P.D.D.G.M. of the district.

Roman Catholics Excluded.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 15.—The Board of Education of this city has adopted a resolution, after a fierce fight, practically excluding Catholics from teaching in the Detroit public schools.

Work or Bread.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A manifest has been issued calling upon workmen out of work to march in procession behind the Lord Mayor's show Nov. 9, and afterwards to force a way into Trafalgar-square for the purpose of holding a meeting there to give formal expression to a demand for work or bread.

The Tennysons Return Thanks.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The wife and son of the late Lord Tennyson desire through the press to return heartfelt thanks for the many messages of condolence they received on the death of Lord Tennyson. It would be impossible, they say, to thank each sender individually. They can only say: "God bless all for the love and reverence shown the memory of him who above all things loved love."

SLAVIN TO BE EXECUTED.

THE CORNWALL MURDERER TO PAY THE PENALTY.

James Slavin, Alias McMahon, Who Wilfully Shot and Killed Constable Davy in September Last, Found Guilty and He Will Be Sent to the Gallows on Dec. 16.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 15.—James Slavin, murderer of Special Constable John R. Davy, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Armour to be hanged on Dec. 16, 1892.

James Slavin, who usually passed by the name of McMahon, is a native of Cornwall, his parents residing near the station. John Slavin, father of the prisoner, is a pensioner of the British Government, having been through the Crimean and Chinese wars. He is a highly respected resident of the town, and feels very keenly the terrible position in which his son's rashness has placed him. The prisoner is a young man about 24 years of age, of medium height and fair complexion. His younger days were spent in Cornwall, where he learned the trade of harness-making under Thomas McMahon, in the shop owned by Mr. Davey, whom he is charged with killing on Sept. 6. He also worked at harness-making in Lancaster. Slavin left for the west in the fall of 1886, obtaining work on the Canadian Pacific Railway works near Sudbury. He was a member of the Cornwall Junior Lacrosse Club, and was considered a quiet, easy-going fellow and a favorite with his associates.

The crime for which he will give up his life occurred on Sept. 5. From a quiet young man Slavin had degenerated into a drunken rough, who was dangerous because he always carried a revolver. On the day named he was "fighting drunk" and using his pistol freely, and on Constable Davy attempting to arrest him he shot the officer dead. There is little sympathy for the criminal.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS.

A Body Found Near Victoria, B.C., Proves to Be That of Dr. James Cox of Brooklyn, N.Y., Who Suicided.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Telegrams from Victoria, B.C., announce the finding in a grove near that place of a body supposed to be that of J. W. Conrad Cox, formerly of Brooklyn. Everything seems to point to suicide. There was a bullet-hole in the forehead and the hands, which were crossed behind the back, clasped a revolver. Letters and papers found in the clothes gave the dead man's address as 51 New-street, New York.

Dr. James Cox was a well-known accountant and translator. He was about 60 years old and lived with his daughter at 426 Sixth-street, Brooklyn. On the morning of July 18, 1891, he left his house ostensibly to go to his place of business at 61 New-street, but from that day to this, as far as is known, he has not been seen by any of his relatives or acquaintances.

It was not until three months after Cox went away that a possible explanation for his disappearance was found. At that time Frederick Bronson, treasurer of the American horse exchange, began a suit against the missing man. Judge Ingraham granted an injunction against all the property Cox owned in this state. Similar steps were taken in New Jersey.

Cox had been the accountant of the Exchange for many years. One of his duties was to receive the money belonging to the Exchange and deposit it in the Knickerbocker Trust Company. Mr. Bronson made affidavit that in this way Cox received more than $20,000, of which amount he appropriated to his own use $16,800.

When this defalcation was discovered, renewed efforts were made to locate Cox. He was finally traced to lower California, where all trace of him was lost.

According to those who knew Cox, farming was the hobby which probably consumed the money which he is alleged to have embezzled from the American Horse Exchange. Cox was a man of rare culture, and apparently led a most exemplary life. He could translate 25 and interpret nine languages. He was a chess expert and a member of the Manhattan Chess Club.

He owned a magnificent farm at Richland, N. J. He bought this property so that his son could take charge of it. Cox was a crank on the subject of fine poultry and fruit. He spent thousands of dollars in planting trees on the place and in equipping a complete poultry yard.

The children of Mr. Cox have moved from 426 Sixth-street, Brooklyn. It was said at his old place of business, which is now being conducted by F. I. Stott, who was formerly his chief clerk, that nothing had been heard from Victoria in regard to the finding of the body. The office was closed yesterday, but it is supposed that any telegram which might have been sent would have either been left or delivered today. When Cox went away he is known to have taken with him nearly $600. Whether he had a larger amount no one can say. Mr. Stott said that from the description of the man found at Victoria, he is almost sure the remains are those of the missing translator. He also said that he did not know what had become of the different members of Mr. Cox's family.

A Partial Solar Eclipse.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Dr. Morrison of the Nautical Almanac Bureau of the Government says the most important astronomical phenomenon of the year will be the partial solar eclipse on Oct. 20. If the day be clear the partial eclipse will be visible throughout nearly the whole of North America. The eclipse cannot be total anywhere, as the moon's umbra does not intersect the earth.

Protestant Episcopal Church Convention.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15.—At the Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church Friday Rev. Dr. Joseph Carey of Albany made a report to the convention on behalf of the deputation sent to represent the general convention at the Provincial Synod of Canada held in Montreal on Sept. 15. Dr. Carey spoke of the fruitful results of these interchanges of brotherly visits.

Sale of The Pall Mall Gazette.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The price paid for The Pall Mall Gazette is stated at $100,000. Its former owner, Mr. Yates Thompson, sold it because he was finally tired of spending money for a party that gave him nothing.

Socialist Demonstration.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—On Sunday, Nov. 13, the workmen's clubs and socialist societies which figured in the Trafalgar Square riots of five years ago will reassert their right to hold public meetings there by a monster demonstration. No official intimation has been made by the Home Office that the demonstration will not be permitted.

TRADE DURING THE WEEK

Bradstreets Reports a Satisfactory Condition of Business.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Bradstreets to-day will say: The bank clearings this week aggregate $1,177,000,000 at cities throughout the country, about 2.7 per cent. less than last week, and about the same as in the week a year ago. Wheat prices have danced a little this week, due to bearish reports of stocks available, followed by reduced estimates of our probable net surplus for export and increased estimates of probable European wants.

Exports of wheat this week (flour included) equal 3,625,000 bushels from United States seaports, both coasts, as compared with 4,017,000 last week and 4,093,000 bushels in the second week of October, 1891. The gross earnings of railways during September aggregate $30,000,000, or 3.1 per cent. more than in that month last year. For nine months the gross earnings aggregate $375,666,000, or 6.5 per cent. more than in a like portion of 1891. The movement of raw wool is not active, and holders are firm in their demands, believing the small takings at London for America, about 6000 bales, with relatively small domestic stocks, tend to strengthen the situation. A good volume of trade exists with dealers in staple cotton goods and mills are running on full time.

Stock prices tend to advance on symptoms of increasing interest in the American market on the part of foreign investors. The fact that railroad earnings are well sustained and traffic abundant also creates bullish sentiment. The firmer rates for money have less influence owing to freer offerings on the part of outside and foreign financial interests.

At Montreal the tendency of iron and steel to advance has also shown itself and orders for spring drygoods are liberal. At Quebec (city) shoe manufacturers have had a very prosperous year. Tanned leather tends to higher prices. From Toronto word comes of a satisfactory trade among dealers in drygoods, hardware and groceries. Receipts of barley are increasing, but the export demand is slack. Halifax, Montreal and Toronto bank clearings this week aggregate $21,000,000, a decrease of about 14 per cent. from the total last week, but an increase when contrasted with the like aggregate a year ago of 20 per cent. There were 36 business failures in the Canadian Dominion this week, as reported to Bradstreets, against 36 last week and 50 in the like week of 1891.

A BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

The Attempt to Compromise With the Big Four Strikers Fails.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15.—At the meeting of the striking Big Four switchmen Friday, at which committees from the Cincinnati, Dayton and Springfield switchmen of the same road were present, the resolutions agreeing to a compromise were rescinded and the strikers again demand the Cincinnati scale and hours. This was done upon the assurance that the men at Dayton, Springfield, Cincinnati and Indianapolis will go out in 24 hours if their demand is not acceded to by the company. It is reported that the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio switchmen gave notice to their companies that if their demands are not complied with in 48 hours they will strike. It now looks as though a big strike would be inaugurated to-morrow morning.

A Prominent Resident of Dundas Dead.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—Hugh Moore, one of the oldest and perhaps the wealthiest man in Dundas, died at 7.30 a.m. yesterday. He had been in feeble health for some years and had for a long time been unable to leave his bed. His death was caused by natural decay; he had reached the good old age of 86 years.

Hugh Moore was a resident of Dundas for half a century, and was for many years one of the leading merchants of the town. He is survived by one son and five daughters, among whom are Mrs. J. G. Bowes of Hamilton and Mrs. J. G. Crow of Dundas.

FELL UNDER THE WHEELS.

A Young Lad Killed While Stealing a Ride On the Grand Trunk.

TORONTO, Oct. 15. — Elijah Russell, aged 14, whose father is a manufacturer of wire sieves, and who has been living in Toronto for some time past, attempted to beat his way to Guelph on a Grand Trunk train yesterday morning. He alighted from the train at Acton station and as it was pulling out attempted to get on it again. He must have missed his hold in some way and fallen under the cars, which ran over his right thigh and hip and the lower part of his body and smashed his right arm between the elbow and the shoulder. The lad was picked up from the cattle guard into which he had fallen, but only lived a short time.

CHICAGO FAIR DEDICATION.

Seating Capacity Provided for 60,000 Persons.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The vast crowd that will assemble at the World's Fair dedication exercises will assemble in the manufactures building. There will be seating capacity for 60,000 persons, with scarcely one-third of the building occupied for the purpose, so that nearly 200,000 will find room in the other parts. Forty-seven car loads of new chairs for the spectators have arrived. Two hundred and fifty electric lights of 2000 candle power each were suspended this afternoon from the roof in clusters of four and six. A force of 700 men were employed in the manufactures building preparing this.

The Great Editor Chosen.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 15.—Henry Watterson has accepted an invitation to deliver the dedicatory address at the World's Fair.

Francois, the Bomb-Thrower.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The French Anarchist Francois, who was arrested yesterday, was arraigned to-day in the Police Court in proceedings taken to secure his extradition to France on the charge of murder. Francois protested his innocence, but the magistrate remanded him until Thursday.

The Double Scull Race.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—A party of about 200 aquatic enthusiasts will leave the city for Orillia to-day to see the double scull race between Jake Gaudaur of Orillia and George Hosmer of Boston, the champions, and Hanlan and O'Connor of Toronto, the ex-champions, for the title of champions. The betting rules at even money and very few large wagers have been reported.

CHOSEN FOR THE CABINET

MR. T. M. DALY, OF SELKIRK, THE NEW MAN.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney to Be Appointed Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia—Mr. Patterson Will Succeed Him, With Probably Mr. Daly as Secretary of State

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—It is understood on pretty good authority that Tom Daly, M.P. for Selkirk, who arrived here yesterday, has been sent for and will shortly enter the Cabinet as representative for the Northwest in place of Hon. Mr. Dewdney, who will be appointed Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia. Mr. Daly will probably take the portfolio of Secretary of State and Hon. Mr. Patterson will be promoted to the Interior.

A statement of the public debt for the first three months of the current fiscal year shows a decrease in the debt since the 30th of June of nearly two millions and a half, although the expenditure on capital account has increased half a million on account of the Soo Canal.

This is Not Official.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—Sir John Thompson will become Premier upon the return of Premier Abbott from England. He will be strengthened by Mr. W. R. Meredith, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, and Hon. A. R. Angers, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec.

MANITOBA'S GREAT CROP.

Wheat Shipments From the Northwest Are Enormous.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Wheat shipments are growing to enormous proportions. An idea of the wheat traffic now passing through the city over the C.P.R. for the East will be given when it is stated that yesterday 1200 cars were asked from this city by outlying stations in the west. It would seem that an effort is being made to send the whole crop to Fort William before navigation closes. If it keeps up until Dec. 1 and the boats are running till then 5,000,000 bushels will be moved east in the next six weeks.

Fine weather has enabled all threshing to be pushed forward, and as the elevators at different points become filled there is constant demand for shipment. It would require thrice the carrying capacity of the C.P.R. to satisfy the present demands of wheat shippers, but the railway company is making a big effort to meet the emergencies, 450 cars having been sent to stations on Wednesday and yesterday.

The G.T.R. Changes.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—There is nothing new regarding the changes to be made in the Grand Trunk staff here, beyond what was announced yesterday, except that it is said that Assistant Engineer Holgate of the Northern and Northwestern Division will also go. Numerous rumors are afloat as to the changes in the departments of Mr. Hobson and Mr. Domville, but they are mostly surmises indulged in by those who don't know much about the matter. No further changes have been announced, and those who are most likely to know say that no others are in contemplation.

Dead at a Railway Station.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 15.—A man about 60 years of age, whose name is said to be Albert Halberstadt, died yesterday while sitting in a chair at the Centennial Hotel, G.T.R. Station. He had in his possession a ticket for Chicago, and was either under the influence of liquor or insane, as he had been acting very strangely. He had a gold watch and about $50 in his possession in the morning, which cannot now be found. It is claimed that he was robbed by a tramp who was in his company. A post-mortem and coroner's inquest is being held.

Discovery of a Comet.

MOUNT HAMILTON, Cal., Oct. 15.—A very faint comet was discovered by Prof. E. E. Barnard at the Lick Observatory on Wednesday night by photography. Visual observations last night show the comet to be about one mile in diameter. It is of the 13th magnitude, and is moving southeast 1 degree 45 minutes daily. Its position last evening at 7 hours 20 minutes, standard Pacific time, was 8 degrees ascension, 19 hours 34 minutes north, declination 12 degrees 30 minutes. This is the first comet to be discovered by the aid of photography.

Death of a Veteran Journalist.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 15.—Mr. J. B. Trayes, for a long time the editor and proprietor of The Times, died yesteoday. The deceased was prominently connected with the Masonic Order, being a P.D.D.G.M. of the district.

Roman Catholics Excluded.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 15.—The Board of Education of this city has adopted a resolution, after a fierce fight, practically excluding Catholics from teaching in the Detroit public schools.

Work or Bread.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A manifest has been issued calling upon workmen out of work to march in procession behind the Lord Mayor's show Nov. 9, and afterwards to force a way into Trafalgar-square for the purpose of holding a meeting there to give formal expression to a demand for work or bread.

The Tennysons Return Thanks.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The wife and son of the late Lord Tennyson desire through the press to return heartfelt thanks for the many messages of condolence they received on the death of Lord Tennyson. It would be impossible, they say, to thank each sender individually. They can only say: "God bless all for the love and reverence shown the memory of him who above all things loved love."

SLAVIN TO BE EXECUTED.

THE CORNWALL MURDERER TO PAY THE PENALTY.

James Slavin, Alias McMahon, Who Wilfully Shot and Killed Constable Davy in September Last, Found Guilty and He Will Be Sent to the Gallows on Dec 16.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 15.—James Slavin, murderer of Special Constable John R. Davy, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Armour to be hanged on Dec. 16, 1892.

James Slavin, who usually passed by the name of McMahon, is a native of Cornwall, his parents residing near the station. John Slavin, father of the prisoner, is a pensioner of the British Government, having been through the Crimean and Chinese wars. He is a highly respected resident of the town, and feels very keenly the terrible position in which his son's rashness has placed him. The prisoner is a young man about 24 years of age, of medium height and fair complexion. His younger days were spent in Cornwall, where he learned the trade of harness-making under Thomas McMahon, in the shop owned by Mr. Davey, whom he is charged with killing on Sept. 6. He also worked at harness-making in Lancaster. Slavin left for the west in the fall of 1886, obtaining work on the Canadian Pacific Railway works near Sudbury. He was a member of the Cornwall Junior Lacrosse Club, and was considered a quiet, easy-going fellow and a favorite with his associates.

The crime for which he will give up his life occurred on Sept. 5. From a quiet young man Slavin had degenerated into a drunken rough, who was dangerous because he always carried a revolver. On the day named he was "fighting drunk" and using his pistol freely, and on Constable Davy attempting to arrest him he shot the officer dead. There is little sympathy for the criminal.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS.

A Body Found Near Victoria, B.C., Proves to Be That of Dr. James Cox of Brooklyn, N.Y., Who Suicided.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Telegrams from Victoria, B.C., announce the finding in a grove near that place of a body supposed to be that of J. W. Conrad Cox, formerly of Brooklyn. Everything seems to point to suicide. There was a bullet-hole in the forehead and the hands, which were crossed behind the back, clasped a revolver. Letters and papers found in the clothes gave the dead man's address as 51 New-street, New York.

Dr. James Cox was a well-known accountant and translator. He was about 60 years old and lived with his daughter at 426 Sixth-street, Brooklyn. On the morning of July 18, 1891, he left his house ostensibly to go to his place of business at 61 New-street, but from that day to this, as far as is known, he has not been seen by any of his relatives or acquaintances.

It was not until three months after Cox went away that a possible explanation for his disappearance was found. At that time Frederick Bronson, treasurer of the American horse exchange, began a suit against the missing man. Judge Ingraham granted an injunction against all the property Cox owned in this state. Similar steps were taken in New Jersey.

Cox had been the accountant of the Exchange for many years. One of his duties was to receive the money belonging to the Exchange and deposit it in the Knickerbocker Trust Company. Mr. Bronson made affidavit that in this way Cox received more than $20,000, of which amount he appropriated to his own use $16,800.

When this defalcation was discovered, renewed efforts were made to locate Cox. He was finally traced to lower California, where all trace of him was lost.

According to those who knew Cox, farming was the hobby which probably consumed the money which he is alleged to have embezzled from the American Horse Exchange. Cox was a man of rare culture, and apparently led a most exemplary life. He could translate 25 and interpret nine languages. He was a chess expert and a member of the Manhattan Chess Club.

He owned a magnificent farm at Richland, N. J. He bought this property so that his son could take charge of it. Cox was a crank on the subject of fine poultry and fruit. He spent thousands of dollars in planting trees on the place and in equipping a complete poultry yard.

The children of Mr. Cox have moved from 426 Sixth-street, Brooklyn. It was said at his old place of business, which is now being conducted by F. I. Stott, who was formerly his chief clerk, that nothing had been heard from Victoria in regard to the finding of the body. The office was closed yesterday, but it is supposed that any telegram which might have been sent would have either been left or delivered today. When Cox went away he is known to have taken with him nearly $600. Whether he had a larger amount no one can say. Mr. Stott said that from the description of the man found at Victoria, he is almost sure the remains are those of the missing translator. He also said that he did not know what had become of the different members of Mr. Cox's family.

A Partial Solar Eclipse.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Dr. Morrison of the Nautical Almanac Bureau of the Government says the most important astronomical phenomenon of the year will be the partial solar eclipse on Oct. 20. If the day be clear the partial eclipse will be visible throughout nearly the whole of North America. The eclipse cannot be total anywhere, as the moon's umbra does not intersect the earth.

Protestant Episcopal Church Convention.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 15.—At the Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church Friday Rev. Dr. Joseph Carey of Albany made a report to the convention on behalf of the deputation sent to represent the general convention at the Provincial Synod of Canada held in Montreal on Sept. 15. Dr. Carey spoke of the fruitful results of these interchanges of brotherly visits.

Sale of The Pall Mall Gazette.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The price paid for The Pall Mall Gazette is stated at £100,000. Its former owner, Mr. Yates Thompson, sold it because he was finally tired of spending money for a party that gave him nothing.

Socialist Demonstration.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—On Sunday, Nov. 13, the workmen's clubs and socialist societies which figured in the Trafalgar Square riots of five years ago will reassert their right to hold public meetings there by a monster demonstration. No official intimation has been made by the Home Office that the demonstration will not be permitted.

TRADE DURING THE WEEK

Bradstreets Reports a Satisfactory Condition of Business.

NEW YORK, N.Y., Oct. 15.—Bradstreets to-day will say: The bank clearings this week aggregate $1,177,000,000 at cities throughout the country, about 9.7 per cent. less than last week, and about the same as in the week a year ago. Wheat prices have danced a little this week, due to bearish reports of stocks available, followed by reduced estimates of our probable net surplus for export and increased estimates of probable European wants.

Exports of wheat this week (flour included) equal 3,625,000 bushels from United States seaports, both coasts, as compared with 4,017,000 last week and 4,093,000 bushels in the second week of October, 1891. The gross earnings of railways during September aggregate $30,000,000, or 3.1 per cent. more than in that month last year. For nine months the gross earnings aggregate $375,666,000, or 6.5 per cent. more than in a like portion of 1891. The movement of raw wool is not active, and holders are firm in their demands, believing the small takings at London for America, about 6000 bales, with relatively small domestic stocks, tend to strengthen the situation. A good volume of trade exists with dealers in staple cotton goods and mills are running on full time.

Stock prices tend to advance on symptoms of increasing interest in the American market on the part of foreign investors. The fact that railroad earnings are well sustained and traffic abundant also creates bullish sentiment. The firmer rates for money have less influence owing to freer offerings on the part of outside and foreign financial interests.

At Montreal the tendency of iron and steel to advance has also shown itself and orders for spring drygoods are liberal. At Quebec (city) shoe manufacturers have had a very prosperous year. Tanned leather tends to higher prices. From Toronto word comes of a satisfactory trade among dealers in drygoods, hardware and groceries. Receipts of barley are increasing, but the export demand is slack. Halifax, Montreal and Toronto bank clearings this week aggregate $21,000,000, a decrease of about 14 per cent. from the total last week, but an increase when contrasted with the like aggregate a year ago of 20 per cent. There were 36 business failures in the Canadian Dominion this week, as reported to Bradstreets, against 36 last week and 50 in the like week of 1891.

A BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

The Attempt to Compromise With the Big Four Strikers Fails.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct 15.—At the meeting of the striking Big Four switchmen Friday, at which committees from the Cincinnati, Dayton and Springfield switchmen of the same road were present, the resolutions agreeing to a compromise were rescinded and the strikers again demand the Cincinnati scale and hours. This was done upon the assurance that the men at Dayton, Springfield, Cincinnati and Indianapolis will go out in 24 hours if their demand is not acceded to by the company. It is reported that the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio switchmen gave notice to their companies that if their demands are not complied with in 48 hours they will strike. It now looks as though a big strike would be inaugurated to-morrow morning.

A Prominent Resident of Dundas Dead.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—Hugh Moore, one of the oldest and perhaps the wealthiest man in Dundas, died at 7.30 a.m. yesterday. He had been in feeble health for some years and had for a long time been unable to leave his bed. His death was caused by natural decay; he had reached the good old age of 86 years.

Hugh Moore was a resident of Dundas for half a century, and was for many years one of the leading merchants of the town. He is survived by one son and five daughters, among whom are Mrs. J. G. Bowes of Hamilton and Mrs. J. G. Crow of Dundas.

FELL UNDER THE WHEELS.

A Young Lad Killed While Stealing a Ride On the Grand Trunk.

TORONTO, Oct. 15. — Elijah Russell, aged 14, whose father is a manufacturer of wire sieves, and who has been living in Toronto for some time past, attempted to beat his way to Guelph on a Grand Trunk train yesterday morning. He alighted from the train at Acton station and as it was pulling out attempted to get on it again. He must have missed his hold in some way and fallen under the cars, which ran over his right thigh and hip and the lower part of his body and smashed his right arm between the elbow and the shoulder. The lad was picked up from the cattle guard into which he had fallen, but only lived a short time.

CHICAGO FAIR DEDICATION.

Seating Capacity Provided for 60,000 Persons.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The vast crowd that will assemble at the World's Fair dedication exercises will assemble in the manufactures building. There will be seating capacity for 60,000 persons, with scarcely one-third of the building occupied for the purpose, so that nearly 200,000 will find room in the other parts. Forty-seven car loads of new chairs for the spectators have arrived. Two hundred and fifty electric lights of 2000 candle power each were suspended this afternoon from the roof in clusters of four and six. A force of 700 men were employed in the manufactures building preparing this.

The Double Scull Race.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—A party of about 200 aquatic enthusiasts will leave the city for Orillia to-day to see the double scull race between Jake Gaudaur of Orillia and George Hosmer of Boston, the champions, and Hanlan and O'Connor of Toronto, the ex-champions, for the title of champions. The betting rules at even money and very few large wagers have been reported.

AN ANGLO-CANADIAN MIRACLE

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Mr. James Ingram Relates the Story of His Sufferings and Release—Restored After the Best Doctors had Failed.

The fame of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is not confined to Canada and the United States, but extends also across the ocean, and from the mother land comes a letter from one who learned the value of this great remedy while in Canada, and who now, although thousands of miles away gratefully acknowledges what Pink Pills have done for him after medical aid and all other remedies had failed. His letter cannot fail to bring hope to other sufferers as it assures them that in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills they may look for a cure even in cases pronounced by the most eminent medical specialists as incurable.

Rhiorderen, Monmouthshire, Eng.
Nov. 20th, 1891.

To the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Canada:

Gentlemen,—It may surprise you to receive this letter from across the ocean but I would not be doing my duty did I not write to thank you for the noble medicine called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and to let you know what they have done for me after four years suffering, and when all other medical aid had failed. My trouble occurred while in Canada, and I was treated by several doctors and in the Montreal General Hospital by Drs. Smith, Molson and Macdonell. I first felt the effects of the disease, which the doctors pronounced diabetes, in January, 1890. I used many remedies and tried numerous doctors, with the only result that I grew poorer in both health and pocket. At last in despair I went to the General Hospital for treatment, but the result was no better, and on the 30th of April, 1891, I left that institution a poor broken-hearted, downcast man, Dr. Macdonell having informed me that they had done all they could for me. I continued to live on in misery until about the middle of August, when I saw in the Montreal Star an article telling the story of a man who after spending hundreds of dollars, had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and found a cure. Drowning men, they say, will catch at a straw, and it would be impossible for me to express the gratitude I feel for the hope that man's story gave me. I at once bought a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from Mr. R. Birks, druggist, on McGill street. Before I had finished it I felt that Pink Pills were helping me, and I procured four more boxes. These almost restored me to health, and through the kindness of Mr. O'Brien of the harbor works, I was given a light job on the harbor wharf, and was again able to earn my living. I made up my mind, however to return to the land of my birth, and on the 5th of November, sailed for England. The passage was rough, and I caught cold, which set me back somewhat, but I am again regaining strength. I find that I cannot get the Pink Pills here, and I want you to send me a supply, as under no circumstances would I be without them, and you may be sure that I will glady recommend them to my friends both here and elsewhere.

Yours gratefully,
JAMES INGRAM.

Dr. William's Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of any nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. Dr. Williamt' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Change is Welcome.

GENTLEMEN, — For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B.B.B. I can eat heartily of any food, and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

Plenty of Fish and Game at Idyl Wild

A correspondent writes stating that there is an abundance of fish, partridge and duck at Idyl Wild this season. Recently Mr. Taylor, of Chemong Park caught 32 bass, averaging 4 pounds each in the short time of less than two hours in front of the hotel. Mr. Taylor shipped them to the Toronto market to be sold. Mr. Arkles, manager of the Idyl Wild Hotel, shot 7 partridge before breakfast on Tuesday last while standing in the doorway. Mr. Arkles states that the birds are numerous and that there is fine duck shooting at Idyl Wild Bay, which is situated directly to the rear of the hotel. Manager Arkles who runs the house, which has good accomodation in connection with Calcutt's line of steamers has added five new skiffs and is prepared to furnish guides for hunting parties at a moderate rate. The prospects for a successful hunt or fish at Idyl Wild are inviting and tourists are sure of a warm reception, as well as lots of fish, partridge and ducks.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

Victoria Carbolic Salve is a wonderful healing compound for cuts, wounds, bruises, burns, scalds, boils, piles, &c.

Back-Ache.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system, continual disorder results in kidney consumption which is Bright's disease. dw

Dyspepsia.

There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, Indigestion.

and Constipation we have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed." ●

Died in a Dentist's Chair.

BARRIE, Oct. 14.—Mrs. W. J. Davison of the 4th line Innisfil, went with her husband to Allston to get some teeth extracted. Dr. Sutherland, dentist, advised her not to take chloroform and asked her to let him extract some and have others taken out subsequently. But she was timid, and declined, and then went to Dr. McCullough's office, who examined her and thought she could take chloroform with safety. He therefore administered it to her, and Dr. Sutherland extracted her teeth. During the operation she partially revived and said she was very tired, when some more of the drug was administered. She did not again revive, and all attempts by artificial respiration to recall the departed spark of life failed, though continued for a number of hours. The remains were conveyed to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of Elmgrove. The deceased was 30 years of age and leaves behind two small boys.

CORBETT'S TROUBLES.

Uneasy Rests the Head, etc.—Crowds Make the Champion's Life Miserable.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—"Uneasy rests the head that wears a crown," is a saying that Jim Corbett has learned the truth of to his cost since he knocked out the "big fellow" at New Orleans. The reigning king of prize fighters arrived here yesterday and registered at the Continental Hotel, where he will remain for several days preparing for his appearance in his new play, "Gentleman Jack."

Yesterday afternoon when Corbett ventured out to purchase a new hat he only went a few doors from the Continental, but was recognized, and soon the crowd that collected around the hat store blockaded the street, despite the fact that two policemen did their utmost to keep the hero-worshippers moving. To escape the crowd Corbett was compelled to leave the store by a rear door and enter his hotel by means of an open window from the alley.

Anticipating this flank move, the crowd had collected in the billiard room of the Continental and almost created a panic in their attempt to see the new monarch of the pugilistic ring.

Corbett wished to play a game of billiards with one of his friends, but was refused permission to do so by the manager of the Continental billiard room, as his presence put an end to all the other games. Corbett became somewhat "hot" and went to the office, where he called for his bill, saying that he would not stop at a hotel where he could not enjoy the same privileges as other guests. Chief Clerk Avery, upon hearing the complaint, apologized for the conduct of the master of ceremonies of the billiard room, and assured Corbett he could play whenever he wished.

In speaking of the report that Sullivan was anxious to again meet him in the prize ring Corbett said:

"I am ready and willing to meet Sullivan at any time. If he is unable to put up a stake or secure backers for that purpose I will meet him for a purse of $25,000 and will not require a forfeit or stakes unless he is able to make one."

"Will you meet Jackson or Mitchell?"

"I certainly will so soon as my theatrical contract expires, which will not be for a year. I will post a forfeit to meet all comers and will defend my present position, champion of the world, against all comers. First come first served will be my rule. I bar no one whom I am free to fight."

What is Called Justice in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 14.—The four negro boys from 18 to 20 years old arrested for the murder of Richard Johnson and his grown daughter and the burning of their house near Bell's Landing on Monday night last confessed their guilt. They said that their purpose was a rape of the young lady and robbery of the old man. They were placed in jail at Monroeville, but a number of citizens took them from jail to a point six miles east of Alabama River and shot them to death.

SCIENTIFIC DROPS.

A trolly line is now operating between Marseilles and St. Louis, France, and one was opened in Bremen recently.

A London firm finds a windmill the most economical means of securing the motive power necessary to run a dynamo.

Recent experiments in France on the velocity of propagation of electric waves give a mean velocity which is almost exactly that of light.

In speaking of the solidification of a body by cooling, Professor Dewar says that water can be made to become solid by the evaporation of a quarter of its weight.

Through a pneumatic tube 700 miles in length letters are whirled between Paris and Berlin in thirty-five minutes—at the speed of twenty-five miles a minute.

Investigations of rain drops lead to the conclusion that some of the large drops must be more or less hollow, as they fall when striking to wet the whole surface enclosed within the drop.

As compared with gas illumination the advantages of electricity on health is the result of two things: In the first place, the electric light does not draw on the oxygen, and in the second place it gives off no noxious gases.

A telegraph and cable company has recently been chartered for the purpose of laying and maintaining telegraph and submarine cables from points on the coast of Virginia to New York and to the islands of San Domingo and Cuba.

The different manufacturers of incandescent lamps are greatly interested in the decision which will soon be given in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which it is expected will conclusively settle the question as to who is the inventor of the incandescent lamp.

It is reported from England that a form of ball-bearing has been applied to the spindles of textile machinery, and by its use the high rotative speeds have become possible. From 8,000 revolutions per minute is the speed usually obtained, and it is claimed that speeds as high as 16,000 can be reached.

On the subject of the swaying of lofty chimneys it is declared to be absurd to hold that a chimney, say 400 feet high, would sway sixteen inches. The slightest vibration is felt when on a tall chimney, and one inch and a half is thought to be about the extreme amount of swaying that takes place.

Some authorities insist that the great toe ought to project farthest, others that it should not project quite so far as the second toe; while others, again, maintain that the two should be of equal length. It is well known that in antique statues the second toe is usually the longer of the two, whilst the first is longer in living men.

It is said by scientists to be a fact that all our senses do not slumber simultaneously, but that they fall into a happy state of insensibility one after another. The eyelids take the lead and obscure sight; the sense of taste is the next to lose its susceptibility; then follow smelling, hearing, and touch, the last named being the lightest sleeper and most easily aroused.

The introduction of electric traction is responsible for a depression in many small trades, because of the replacing of 30,000 horses employed on the various lines a few months ago. Blacksmiths, harness-makers, hay dealers and brush manufacturers living in the vicinity of some of the big systems are the principal complainers. One prominent New Jersey horse brush manufacturer reports a decrease of 20 per cent. in his business owing solely to this cause.

The new method of series parallel control for street car motors, of which mention was made some time ago, has been recently tested by the West End road, of Boston, with very gratifying results. A 21,500-pound car, equipped with the old style rheostat, was run nine round trips on a track measuring about six miles, at an average speed of 5.84 miles per hour, while a 21,650-pound car, equipped with the new controller, made eight round trips at an average rate of 5.4 miles per hour. The former consumed 10,700 watt hours, with an average electrical horse-power per round trip of 13.5, while the latter consumed by 7,566 watt hours, and required but an average of 9.5 electrical horse-power per round trip. The car with the series-parallel method of control thus required only 70 per cent. of the power used by the car with the rheostat—a saving of 30 per cent.

The Newspapers to Investigate.

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Commenting on the statements made by The Globe, the other papers agree in stating that the assertion that Lizzie Borden has been unchaste is demonstratably untrue. They agree, too, in the conclusion that many of the alleged witnesses whose testimony was anticipated have no existence in fact.

The Globe says that upon investigation it is satisfied that the statement published yesterday concerning Miss Borden's physical condition is not true. The Globe also says that there are other inaccuracies in the alleged new evidence, which was sold to its reporters for $500 by Detective Edwin McHenry of 26 College-street, Providence, who has been actively engaged in looking up evidence presumably to benefit the Government side of the case. The Globe adds: "The story may be wrong in some other minor particulars, but the weight of the evidence favors the main facts as true. And now for the purpose of ferreting out the murderer in the Borden case The Globe has engaged the best detective talent available."

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Those who keep their blood in a pure and healthy condition need have little fear of any disease attacking them. It is the enfeebled, run-down system upon which disease fastens its fangs. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have no equal as a blood builder, nerve tonic, and preventive of disease. Thousands of grateful people testify to the wonderful powers of this remedy. Take no substitute or imitation. Of all dealers or by mail at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Med. Co. Brockville Ont.

Cheap Flannels at Thos. Kelly's.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. Thos. Kelly in another column, announcing the purchase of an extensive stock of flannel. The number of yards and the different grades are enumerated in his advertisement, and the prices at which this stock is offered would indicate that Mr. Kelly had made a very lucky purchase. Coming at this season of the year when the demand for flannel is at its best, housekeepers will certainly feel this to be a boon to them. Read the announcement and remember that these cheap flannels are only obtainable at THOS. KELLY'S, corner of George and Simcoe streets. 3d-1w

JAS. DOLAN.

Won the Stallion Race.

Mr. Wm. Clancy, owner of the trotting stallion "Mambrino Mitchell," has received a letter from Mr. Wm. Mace, of Ottawa, informing him that Mr. Jas. White's four-year-old stallion, "Karl Mambrino," which is the get of Mr. Clancy's horse and the first stock of "Mambrino Mitchell" ever put on the track, succeeded in taking the great stallion race at the Central Fair in three straight heats in a field of seven competitors. The track was very wet and marshy in places, consequently the time was rather slow—2:47, 2:51 and 2:55. "Karl Mambrino" showed fine speed. Such well known stallions as "Lord Stanley," "Seigbert Wilkes" and "Professor S." were distanced.

Obituary.

The EXAMINER records with regret the death of Mr. Henry Pethick, which took place at his late residence 548 Bethune street this morning. He was a native of England, where he was born 74 years ago, and from which he came to Canada when a young man, settling first in Peterborough, where, in connection with Mr. W. Brownscombe, he conducted a pottery business for some years; later removing to Smith, where he carried on farming till about fifteen years ago, when he returned to town again, where he has since resided. Mr. Pethick married a sister of Mr. Wm. Brownscombe, who survives him, their union being unblessed with children. In religion Mr. Pethick was a Methodist, and in politics an earnest Liberal. He was of a quiet, retiring disposition and sought only to do his duty faithfully in the private walks of life, where he won the high respect and esteem of all who knew him. The funeral takes place on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

He Wants to Get a Race.

Mr. Madden Howard, of Hiawatha, the well known Indian canoeist, is in town to-day, and gave THE EXAMINER a call. He stated that he was exceedingly desirous of arranging a canoe race with John or George Taylor, or Gardiner Nicholls. He desires to meet any one of those parties on the following conditions: Race to take place on Little Lake, before Nov. 12th; distance of course a mile, with turn to the left; racing canoes to be alike, 16 feet long, and made after the same model; double bladed paddles to be used. Mr. Howard wants the race to be for $50 a side and is prepared as soon as any of his opponents signify their willingness to meet him in a matched race under the conditions named, to post a substantial forfeit with Mr. J. Clancy, of the Peterborough house, the same amount to be covered by his opponent.

Died in Denver.

The sad intelligence was received in town yesterday that Mr. Thos. Niblock, a former respected citizen of Peterborough, had died in Denver, Colorado, on the 4th inst. Deceased was 57 years of age and leaves a wife and two grown up children, a boy and a girl. Deceased was born in Ashfield, County Cavan, Ireland, and when quite young emigrated to Canada and settled in Peterborough with his parents. Mr. Niblock was for some time a clerk in the dry goods store of Mr. W. A. Scott. Mr. Niblock was for fifteen years a prominent merchant of Lindsay, where he lived, and was, during his stay there, a partner of Hon Jno. Dobson. In 1887, on account of failing health, Mr. Niblock and family removed to Denver where he was extensively engaged in mining and stock raising until the time of his death.

Mr. Pakenham, who for some months past has been the drum-major of the 57th Battalion band, was tendered a farewell in the band hall last evening. He will be greatly missed by his scores of friends especially on the lacrosse, football and baseball fields, where he was a clever player. Mr. Pakenham was also librarian for St. Luke's Sunday-school. His many friends will wish him the best of success in the Forest City and will congratulate him on attaining such a responsible position.

A Voice From the Canadian Press!

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

PROHIBITION.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—In yesterday's issue I notice a correspondence, referring to the pledge of the proposed Prohibition club, which meets with my approval. The object of the pledge is worthy of all possible commendation, but its defects are such as pointed out by "Prohibition." When public sentiment is ripe for prohibition it will be demanded with a vigour which no party or government can resist. I fail to see any good results that can follow people pledging themselves not to vote till they get a such a candidate and you have no guarrantee—candidate and party pledged to prohibition. Elect unless he gives a money bond larger than any "inducements," the liquor interests will hold out—that he will vote for prohibition. Remember Hon. George Foster, the present Minister of Finance. In common with thousands of others, pinned my faith to him, because he was pledged to advance temperance interests. But in selling himself body and bones to the liquor interests he sold the temperance and prohibition parties without hesitation. "Prohibition will never be secure" by pledging electors to put on political shackles. It will only come when the people, as a whole, make governments believe that they, the people, are in earnest in demanding it.

Yours, etc.,
MORAL SUASION.

THE PLAGUES OF EGYPT.

"The waters change to blood; next, frogs arise;
Dust turns to lice; and then come swarms of flies;
Lo! murrain strikes the beasts, but Goschn's free!
Lo! boils beset the man, save, Israel, thee!
Then fires the thundering hail; then locusts bite;
Then comes three days of one unbroken night;
The first-born's midnight death, from cot to throne,
Winds up ten plagues that make Egyptians moan."

These terrible plagues were sent to the Egyptians owing to the stubbornness of Pharoah their king. His great sin was in "not letting the Israelites go."

We have in our midst, to-day, thousands of men and women who "harden their hearts"; they will not receive wise counsel and timely warnings. These men and women are harboring and nursing the seeds of disease and death. Advice and warnings come to them in thunder tones, that they may be free, sound, healthy and happy, if they use Paine's Celery Compound. We have all seen the results of this neglect to eradicate the seeds of disease. The plagues come; we see nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, rheumatism and neuralgia doing their work; and often—very often, paralysis, insanity and death wind up the awful scene.

If our people would avoid disease they must banish all the symptoms which they are now experiencing—they must "let the troubles go," through the use of the only remedy that can work with power and satisfaction.

Paine's Celery Compound is the only medium known that can safely conduct the suffering ones through the troubled sea of disease and land them safely in the haven of health and joy.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, every one in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

OBITUARY.

The Late John Brooke Trayes, of the Port Hope "Times."

On Friday THE EXAMINER announced the serious illness, to-day the death of Mr. J. B. Trayes, proprietor of the Port Hope Times, and for over thirty years a prominent figure both in the press sphere and public and social life, is recorded. He was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland, where he was born on July 31st, 1842. Ten years later he came to Montreal with his parents who settled in Montreal. At the age of 11 he entered the office of the Montreal Pilot as an apprentice under the seven-year system. The result was that he mastered every branch of the trade. In 1862 he came to Port Hope to accept the foremanship in the office of the British Canadian, established in that year. Five years later he purchased the paper and changed its name to that it now holds. He was married twenty six years ago to Marianna Gaudrie, his now sorrowing widow, by whom he had several children, two only surviving him—William, at home, and Agnes, wife of Mr. Eudore Painchaud, of Montreal.

Mr. Trayes was actively connected with the Canadian Press Association many years. He was elected a member of the executive committee in 1877, and on through the offices of vice-president (2nd and 1st) to that of president in 1880. He has since been on the executive committee and was for several years assistant secretary. An active worker, he shared in the agitation which resulted in the removal of the postage on newspapers, and was a member of the deputation to whom is due the amendment of the Ontario libel law by the legislature a few years ago. He was a Conservative in politics. He was Past Master of the Ontario Masonic Lodge and a Past Officer in the Grand Lodge, also a prominent Oddfellow, being a Past Grand of Durham Lodge, No. 78, and a member of the Royal Arcanum. The EXAMINER extends to the bereaved family its sincerest sympathy in the bereavement that has fallen upon them.

Young, of Keene, alias F. C. Austin, committed for trial for counterfeiting, has levanted.

The eclipse should be observed generally if the sky is clear.

No means have been taken by the manufacturers to push the sale of their "Myrtle Navy" tobacco except giving from time to time a simple statement of facts connected with it in the public press. The large and rapidly increasing demand for it has been the result of the experience of smokers which these statements suggested. Their advise to business men is to advertise largely if they have the right article to back up the advertisement with.

Growing Acorns in Water.

To grow an acorn in water, a hyacinth-glass or pickle jar is suitable. Choose a fine, healthy looking acorn, and crocket with moderately coarse cotton a little network case just large enough to hold it. Take off the cup and put the acorn, point downwards, in this little bag, closing it at the top, and make a loop of cotton of chain stitch, about two inches long, according to the depth of the jar, to hang it up by. Cut a narrow piece of wood, of a size that will lie across the top of the jar without slipping in; pass it through the loop, and thus hang the acorn, point downward in the glass, which must have just enough water in it so the tip of the acorn scarcely touches it. Keep the jar in a dark cupboard till the acorn has sprouted, and then put it in the light, just as you would a hyacinth, being careful that you keep the water always at the same level. This will live a long time if properly managed. An ordinary sweet chestnut can be grown, in the same way.—Housekeeper.

This Is Getting Up a Stew.

A certain cookery book lately issued will not be apt to be popular, because among what is called "Facetious Items" it gives the following: "If your wife faints do not spoil her dress by dashing a jug of water over her. Loudly kiss the back of your hand. She will immediately revive and wants to know whom you are kissing. Do not tell her, and she will not faint any more."

Overheard at the Ball.

Miss Pitoful—Yes, that is Mrs. Lalelle—a most extravagant woman! I know for a fact that every penny her husband earns goes on her back.

Mr. Sharpshins—Ah! then judging by her costume this evening, her husband is not making a large income.

champion among fisherwomen. She is a very beautiful woman as well as a clever angler and starts out daily for whipping the brooks for trout or the lock for salmon, in a pair of tweed knickerbockers, a tweed kilt, a loose coat with many pockets, woollen stockings, and coarse, bob-nailed shoes.

In Austria steeplechasing is a favorite amusement with great ladies, of whom the most daring is the Countess Ugarte, one of the ladies in waiting to the Empress of Austria. They Must Not Die.

It is simply an outrage to let young people die who are attacked with pulmonary troubles and incipient consumption when Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save them. It should be shouted from the house tops that supposed incurable consumptives can be cured by the use of this extraordinary preparation. The rebuilding process commences in the system the moment the Emulsion is taken. It is curious to watch the effects upon emaciated persons who begin to fill out and make new blood as often as Miller's Emulsion is administered. In an incredibly short time cadaverous looking patients again look natural and healthy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at all drug stores.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

STARTLING FACTS FOR OUR PEOPLE.

Terrible Warning and Great Hope—A Flood of Light for Those in Darkness and Misery.

If it were possible to collect reliable statistics regarding sickness, suffering and disease in Canada, our newspaper readers would be astonished beyond measure.

No epidemic known to our people has ever worked such desolation and misery as in our country as the common ailments of our times are now working.

Nervousness, sleeplessness, general debility, dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism, have laid a heavy hand on our men and women; even the young have felt the terrible agonies of these diseased and treacherous troubles. Thousands in our Dominion are bound with the chains and fetters of suffering; and thousands of once happy homes have been robbed of sunshine and joy.

Sorrow, darkness and pain, have entered our Canadian homes, cutting down the rich and poor alike. The object of this article is to spread hope, fresh inspiration and courage.

Our great aim is to dispel gloom, sadness and agony of mind, by pointing the prisoners of disease to that rescuer and deliverer, which has already removed heavy and deadly burdens from millions of suffering mortals on this North American continent.

To accomplish this object in a convincing way, it will be necessary to furnish our people with facts and truths which the skeptics of our day cannot disprove or mock at.

To-day, it is our privilege to publish the testimony of a well-known Canadian gentlemen, one held in held in high esteem by his friends and countrymen—a citizen of honor, truth and uprightness.

Mr. Isaac W. Stockwell, Postmaster of Danville, P.Q., was for twenty years a victim of nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and general debility. His condition at times was alarming; and the amount of suffering endured during those long years, can never be fully estimated. A score of years in the toils of agony and suffering, and no cure from physicians or other sources, was sufficient to bring on despair and crush every struggling hope. Notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Stockwell failed so often in his endeavours to find a cure he never lost courage.

At last a good angel of mercy passed by, and whispered, "Son, be of good cheer, thy prayers for now life and health are answered, take thou of this god-given remedy and be restored." The precious medicine recommended to Mr. Stockwell was Paine's Celery Compound; it was well and faithfully used, and accomplished a mighty work.

It only remains for us to give the public of Canada Mr. Stockwell's letter of testimony in favour of nature's wondrous preparation.

It reads as follows:

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

GENTLEMEN,—Twenty years ago I overheated myself in the hayfield, which brought on nervousness. I consequently became restless and weak, and suffered from loss of appetite, low condition of blood, and general debility.

I could not go out in winter, as the cold affected me so much on account of my low condition. I consulted many physicians, but received no perceptible benefit.

Two years ago I commenced to use Paine's Celery Compound. I have used twelve bottles and the result is the nervousness has left me; my nerves have resumed their former strength; I sleep and eat well; the blood courses through my veins as when I was young; I can now stand the winter's cold; and, in a word, I am a new man.

I would specially recommend Paine's Celery Compound to those who are suffering from insomnia and nervousness; they will find it a wonderful restorative.

Respectfully yours,
ISAAC W. STOCKWELL,
Postmaster, Danville, P.Q.

Are you satisfied with the strong proof and testimony contained in this cheering letter, poor sufferer? Are you thoroughly convinced of the great efficacy of the remedy that wrought such a magnificent cure in Mr. Stockwell's case? If you honestly think Paine's Celery Compound can meet your troubles with success, banish at once all doubts, stubbornness and false pride, and take hold of the life giver. Inaction on your part may mean injury to your friends and family, and loss of your own life.

Trust no longer in medicines that have deceived you, and which have prolonged your suffering. Cast them out forever and wisely follow Mr. Stockwell's example: then will new life, vigor, happiness and pleasure, be your reward.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Worse and Weaker.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse, till the pain was almost unbearable, and I became very weak. Some friends advised Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and after I had taken the first dose I found much relief and it did not fail to cure me. I do no intend to be without this valuable remedy if I can help it.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

A Review of the Inspectorship Controversy by Mr. Dumble.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—The citizens, who are all interested in our school system, will have read with interest the proceedings of the school board at its recent meetings, and will have learned that the harmony, which for many years characterized its sessions, has given place to a stubborn contest over the question of the inspectorship.

That an intelligent view of the matter may be presented, I would crave leave to offer to the public through your columns a few statements in relation to the schools, believing that a discriminating public will sustain the action of the minority in opposing the will of a majority in respect to their future government.

I have been on the school board longer than any other member (save Mr. Stevenson), and I am sure I will be credited with always trying to do the very best in my power to advance the interests of the people whom it is my duty and pleasure to serve. Sometimes I have felt constrained to take a line of action which was to myself personally unpleasant, and though almost standing alone I finally succeeded in bringing about changes which have resulted in great benefits, and in reference to my action it will, I think, be conceded by all that it was no argument against the correctness of my position that I was for a long time in the minority. It has been justly said that "Minorities are generally right," but, without resting on that proverb, I would say that no inference as to the right or wrong of any action can safely be drawn from the numerical support it may receive. Let deductions be fairly drawn from careful consideration of facts. I believe in reference to our schools that of the facts alone is wanted to secure support of the position recently taken by the minority on the school board. Now as to the facts:

Four years ago W. E. Tilley, M.A., Ph.D., was appointed Local Inspector of the Peterborough schools. Dr. Tilley had been principal of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute for years, he was then appointed inspector of the schools of West Durham, and he came to us with ripe scholarship and much experience. The law requires from a public school inspector that he shall make at least two visits a year to each school. After Dr. Tilley had been with us some time the board realizing the benefit of his services stipulated with him for extra time and attention to our schools and slightly increased his salary, which even now is only $350 a year. During Dr. Tilley's inspectorship the schools have not only increased in numbers but in efficiency—a regular and constant improvement has characterized them—until to-day they are second to none in Ontario.

In making this bold statement I challenge contradiction and refer to the published result of the government examinations and to the testimony of gentlemen of wide experience in educational matters.

In view of this satisfactory state of things people will naturally ask what justification there can be for advocating a radical change in our system. Some time ago it was found that certain members of the board were crying down our public schools, constantly carping and making insidious comparisons between them and the neighboring schools—comparisons the more invidious because unfair and untrue. These gentlemen finally secured the appointment of a committee to consider matters to improve the schools, and as a result a long report was brought in recommending amongst other things that an inspector should be employed who to the schools, inspecting etc. Mr. Hill the chairman of that committee justified his recommendation on the ground that Toronto, Ottawa, Port Hope, Lindsay, and other places had such officers, that he had recently been at Lindsay and he had ascertained that the Lindsay public schools were far in advance of ours.

When questioned he was compelled to admit that he had not entered a Lindsay school; he had simply talked with the chairman of the board who was loyal enough to his own town to extol the schools. He was also compelled to admit that the gentlemen who was over the Lindsay schools and who only supervised and did not teach, was also principal of the County Model school and drew a large part of his salary from that source; and the fact appeared also that Lindsay had a local inspector in addition whom they had to pay.

We now know for a fact that the Lindsay public schools are greatly inferior to ours, and in the recent examinations were a long way behind us.

Surely, then, what Mr. Hill learned in Lindsay would not justify in abandoning our system for one which has made so poor a showing. Port Hope is in exactly the same position as Lindsay, and though they have good schools, yet Peterborough in comparison can afford to retain their present methods.

Now as to Toronto, with its 200,000 inhabitants, it has but two inspectors; Ottawa, with nearly 50,000 inhabitants, has but one. In the recent government examinations these cities did not make as good a showing as Peterborough (population considered). Nor, has it been shown that any town or city in Ontario having the entire services of an inspector has any advantage over us. Why, then, make a change, especially when that change involves an additional expenditure of at least $1000 of the people's money? But Mr. Law and others, while admitting that our schools are good, say that they can be made better. True they can, and they can also be made worse. No great discovery, say they, can be had without experiment. True; but until it is demonstrated that a change will be for the better, is it wise to abandon that which works well and has proved successful? Is it wise to risk $1000 when there is no proof that an improvement will be accomplished? Mr. Hamilton says the schools are run on a bad system. He and Mr. Law would

RUN THEM AS THEY RUN THEIR SHOPS

—they would have one head man, a walking boss, over all. Mr. Law would have him visit everyone of our twenty-five rooms every day or two (!) and help the teachers!

The gentlemen forget that the school system in Ontario is the best in the world—that it has developed and improved from year to year until we have it as it is.

Just examine the facts. The pupils of each room are under their teachers, the teachers under the headmasters of the several schools, all the teachers under the Inspector, and the yearly Government examinations testing all their work. Surely that is pretty good supervision.

Some of the majority complain that some of the rooms are overcrowded—is the inspector responsible for that? We simply want more school accommodation and that rests with the board.

Again they say some of the teachers are weak—admitted—what do you expect for $250 a year? We employ in our first forms our young girls who have had little experience, but these with experience acquire skill—but all our teachers are legally qualified and after a year's teaching go to the model and training schools. Some of our teachers, who were a little weak, under of the inspector and aided by the training he gives them, have become our best teachers. I remember an instance where a teacher who was reported against by the inspector was deliberately re-appointed by some of this majority, but taken all together our teachers are good and faithful servants. The employment of teachers is in the hands of the board and it is unfair to charge upon the inspector the result of our own doings.

Two months ago the majority voted for the adoption of a report which meant the dismissal of the inspector, the vote was 9 to 7. The chairman declared the vote lost, whereupon Mr. Hamilton and others denounced his conduct in strong language, and charged two men with "ruling the board." The Chairman did the only thing in his power, for the school law reads as follows:

Inspectors in cities and town separated from the county shall be appointed by the Board of Public School trustees, and shall be subject to dismissal by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council or by a majority of the members of the board, in case of inefficiency or misconduct, or by a vote of two-thirds of the board without cause, and no such Inspector shall be re-appointed without the concurrence of the party who dismissed him.—Ontario Statutes of 1891, Cap. 55, Sec. 157.

The nine members did not constitute two-thirds of 15 members, and the Law, not the two men who were the minority, controlled the board. Again, having tacked on to the resolution certain grounds for dismissal which were not true reasons or charges of incompetency or wrong-doing, the vote stood 7 to 4. Again, the law made the vote inoperative, for 6 is neither half the board nor two-thirds. Mr. Wrighton, as chairman, cannot ignore the law of the land. Why then abuse him?

AT THE LAST MEETING,

I have never hesitated to incur reasonable expenditure where I thought the result would justify it, but in this case I know that there are not many legally qualified Inspectors of such standing that they would be acceptable to us at a less salary than $1500 a year. If we do employ such a man, he must be a better man than any in our staff, or he would be useless, and such men who are legally qualified are not going a begging. If the gentlemen were trying

TO MAKE AN OFFICE FOR A FRIEND

I would understand them, but on any other grounds I don't understand why a little town like ours, which gets the services of an inspector who is recognized throughout the province and at the Department of Education as one of the very best inspectors in the province, at $350 a year, should be willing to pay from $1,200 to $1,500 for an inspector. We want new schools and more teachers; the $1,000 which it is desired to throw away would pay four new teachers at $250 each. Surely there is more pressure on us for better and more accommodation than for a fancy inspector, who would perhaps reduce us to the standing of some of our neighbors.

Where a usage prevails that is satisfactory the parties who seek a change must prove that a change will be beneficial, and that circumstances justify it. The gentlemen who advocate spending $1,500 where we now spend $350, must prove to us that we are suffering from evils and that the increased expenditure will abate them

AND SECURE BETTER RESULTS.

They have not done it, they cannot do it. During the last two years a great many families have moved to Peterborough from Toronto, Lindsay, Cobourg and other places, the children have gone to our schools and it has all but invariably been found that such children were unable to enter the grade in our schools which they held before coming here. The fact is significant—our schools are better—and they are improving. Abraham Lincoln advised not to "swap horses when crossing a stream." How much less desirable it is to "swap" when the steed we ride is carrying us to victory. Dr. Tilley one month ago got his new duties defined—duties by the way nearly all of which he had always observed; is it manly or fair to dismiss him when he had loyally accepted them and was ambitiously endeavouring to perfect our schools for which he had already done so much? Let us continue on; we are on the right road. None is more desirous of achieving success than our inspector. Let us help him and work together in harmony and we will not only retain our present proud position, but accomplish even better things.

Nothing but the importance of this matter leads me to trespass at such length upon your columns. Thanking you for the space,

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
D. W. DUMBLE.

IS YOUR HOME AN EDEN WITH BABY?

Baby can be made a joy in the home, if the mother thoroughly understands how to care for it. Some mothers make baby a nuisance, owing to ignorance regarding its care and management.

Mothers who do not know how to feed their babies in a sensible and proper manner, incur terrible risks and responsibilities. Infants of careless and ignorant mothers, soon become cross, peevish and sickly. Although fed with plenty of food, they are starved—starved because the food is unwholesome and unfitted for weak digestion.

Wise mothers use Lactated Food for the little ones, and the results are always pleasing and satisfactory. Regularity in feeding and in quantity of food given, produces health and strength. Such babies become hearty and happy, they sleep well, and are free from all the troubles of ordinary babyhood. Babies who are fed on Lactated Food are treasures in the home—mothers are happy, and are relieved from scores of cares and worries, and home is an Eden.

Mother, is your home happy and peaceful with baby? If not, try Lactated Food at once, and all will be well in the future.

Would You Buy,
If the Prices Were Low?

Most men who do not own houses would become owners if they could do so at a moderate cost.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

I have one house, well built, good location, Aylmer street, between Townsend and Rink streets—$2,500. Look it up. Will have two on Dalhousie street, work now going on.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town. In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds—to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION
Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:
1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

THE PRINCE OF WALES BLAMED.

He Attended the Races Rather Than Tennyson's Funeral.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The fact that the Prince of Wales absented himself from the funeral of Lord Tennyson on Wednesday in order that he might attend the Newmarket races is provoking considerable comment. His action is specially dilated upon by certain Radical journals, which appear anxious to make a sensation similar to that occasioned by the baccarat scandal.

Since the Tranby Croft affair public opinion has been very sensitive in regard to the conduct of the Prince of Wales, but the public takes a very common-sense view of the Prince's present action. The efforts being made to arouse feeling against him will fall flat. It is generally felt that his partiality for the lighter side of national life is so marked that to show deep regret over the death of Lord Tennyson would be mere hypocrisy.

Those agitating against his absence, however, contend that his presence was necessary, not as an expression of his own personal feeling, but as next head of the nation assisting at a national event.

The Prince of Wales will before the end of the month make his first appearance in public since the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. He will open the new wing of the hospital at Paddington.

A LONDON SUICIDE.

Carried Dying Into a Hospital in Handsome Evening Dress.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Morning gives the following particulars of a mysterious case of suicide:

A woman, who was formerly a music hall artiste, appearing under the stage name of Selby, committed suicide in a house in Cavendish-square, London, on Sept. 14 under mysterious circumstances. The case was hushed up at the time, but it has since transpired that a gentleman—whose name The Morning withholds—a well-known director of public companies, left her just a moment prior to the time she committed suicide.

She wrote her name on one of his cards while she was dying in the hospital. He appeared at the inquest as a witness and made a statement of what he knew about the case. Among other things he testified that he heard the report of a revolver as he was passing out of the door of the house occupied by the woman.

The doctor in the hospital, who attended the patient when she was brought to the institution, says that she was received at about 2 o'clock in the morning. She was attired in a handsome and stylish evening dress when she was carried in. He at once made an examination and found that she had been shot in the abdomen and that she was in a very critical condition.

Everything possible was done to save her life, but in spite of all care and attention she died from her injuries after lingering in pain for 16 hours.

Her real name was Ahlers and she was a native of Jersey. She had a daughter 17 years of age.

THE HOME RULE FUND.

Parnellites and McCarthyites Dispute as to Its Possession.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The proposal made by the Parnellites that the Paris fund be placed in the hands of a committee of three members from each section of the Irish Parliamentary party has fallen to the ground owing to the action of the Parnellites in insisting that a claim be admitted of charges which consist of law costs and debts of the National League amounting to over £20,000. The McCarthyites insist that the claims of the evicted tenants be a first charge on the fund. Neither side seems disposed to yield in this matter and the deadlock continues.

THE QUEEN ASKED TO ACT.

Protestants Who Oppose a Roman Catholic Lord Mayor.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Londoners who oppose Mr. Knill's election as Lord Mayor on the ground that he is a Catholic have decided to make a final attempt to prevent his assuming the office. The Anti-Popery Association has prepared a petition to the Queen praying her to refuse to confirm the selection of Mr. Knill on the ground that he has publicly declared he owes first allegiance to the Pope. There is not the slightest chance of the petition being granted, and the petitioners will probably receive a well-merited snub.

A SEVERE EARTHQUAKE.

Roumania and Bulgaria Badly Shaken Up.

BUCHAREST, Oct. 15.—Violent earthquakes were felt in many places in the Balkans. They were strongest in Roumania. The shocks were felt for 15 seconds in the city, for 30 seconds in Gallitz and for 90 seconds in Oltenisa. The last named town is on the Danube, 35 miles southeast of Bucharest, and the residents were panic-stricken when they felt the earth swaying beneath their feet, and many of them rushed to the market-place to escape the danger of being killed by falling buildings. No loss of life has been reported.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 30c. and $1.

The special stake for 5-year-olds and under, $5000—Alix 1, Florida 2, Constantine 3. Best time 2.12½.

The Kentucky stakes for 3-year-olds, mile heats 2 in 3, $2500—Directum 1, Belleflower 2, Czar 3. In the first heat Directum tied the world's race record for 3-year-olds. Time by quarters: 32½, 1.04½, 1.39½, 2.13½. Second heat 2.13½.

The Capitals Or Shamrocks To-Day.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—A big contingent of lacrosse enthusiasts left the city last evening per G. T. R. and C.P.R. for Montreal to see the match between the Capitals of Ottawa and Shamrocks of Montreal for the championship of the Five-Club League.

Reports received state that the interest taken in this match in the east is unprecedented and that the value of the gate on the M.A.A.A. grounds will almost aggregate $6000. The Capitals are a very slight favorite in the betting.

CRUSTS AND SCALES

Hair and Eyebrows Fell Off. Doctor and Many Remedies No Benefit. Entirely Cured and Hair Restored by Cuticura.

My wife has been troubled for years with dry crusts and scales on her head and eyebrows. After seeming to lie dormant for years in her system, it broke out over a year ago in all its fury. Her hair came out in big patches, her eyebrows all fell off, and she presented a pitiable condition. We tried almost everything, but she continued to get worse. Then we tried one of our best physicians, but all to no purpose. Finally my wife believed that the CUTICURA REMEDIES would cure her. After she had used nine boxes of CUTICURA, and about a dozen cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and four bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, she was cured entirely. Her hair came on again, and to-day she has as fine a head of black curly hair and as smooth skin as any lady in Allentown. Her eyebrows are heavier than they ever were, her scalp is free from dandruff, and her health is excellent. Now for the benefit of those suffering with same disease or to those who may doubt the truthfulness of this statement, write me, inclosing a stamp, and I will cheerfully answer. I am sure that the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured my wife, for she used nothing else during the four or five months she used them.

ANOTHER SHOOTING CASE

A BOARDING HOUSE KEEPER FATALLY WOUNDED.

He Lodges Two Bullets in His Victim's Body—He is Supposed to Be Insane—Now in the Custody of the Police—The Woman Still Living.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 17.—Citizens had scarcely recovered from the excitement caused by the shooting of Detective Phair in London when they were met with the report of an equally cold-blooded shooting at home, which will in all probability also end in the death of the victim.

John D. Sullivan, who for the past two years has been engaged by George D. Prentice to manage his billiard room, boards at Miss Lizzie Henderson's, Centre-street. Two weeks ago he was brought before the magistrate on a charge of breaking a lamp and dishes at the boarding house. He was then locked up and charged with being insane, but after two weeks confinement without further symptoms and Miss Henderson declining to appear against him, he was discharged.

It appears he wanted to marry her, and she says he was jealous of her and told her Saturday morning if he saw Mr. W. Webb of the M.C.R. shops, living near by, in the house as he did Friday he would shoot her.

The prisoner is about 38 years of age, while his victim is about 50.

Saturday morning Miss Henderson called him to breakfast. On coming down they had words as mentioned, when he at once pulled out a revolver and opened fire on her in quick succession firing four shots, one lodging in the door, one going through her arm and shattering the bones of her wrist and one entering the body at the bottom of the stomach, passing through the liver and lodging under the ribs on the left side.

Miss Henderson ran screaming into her neighbour's, Mrs. Birdsall.

Detective Heenan, policeman Palmerston and Chief Fewings were soon at the scene when they found Sullivan in bed with his drawers on and he denied all knowledge of the shooting. His revolver was found in the bottom of his trunk with four chambers empty, a cartridge in his pocket fitting the revolver as also did the shot in the door. None of the other boarders heard the shooting.

Sullivan was at once placed in jail and the ante-mortem statement of Miss Henderson taken by P. M. White, in which she stated the facts as already given.

To prisoner's counsel she said she had said to people she believed the prisoner to have been insane when he broke her furniture some weeks ago. This morning she noticed a wild look in his eyes when he came down stairs, and she can attribute his shooting only to jealousy.

The victim was very low this evening. She is a daughter of the late Peter Henderson of Westminster and has conducted a boarding house for many years. John Henderson of West Lorne, formerly a hackman of this city, is a brother, and Mrs. Clay of Wardsville is a sister.

The prisoner was for many years an employe on the Michigan Central Railway, and prior to that lived in Buffalo, where his brothers and sisters now reside.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 16.—At a late hour last night Miss Henderson was still living and said to be slightly improved.

A WAGON RAN OVER HIM.

Fatal Accident at Hamilton on Saturday.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—A fatal accident occurred about 2.30 p.m. Saturday at the grain wharf west of MacNab-street, on the bay front. A number of wagons heavily laden with grain for the wharf were arriving there to discharge, and one of these ran over Mr. Dougherty, who lives near the corner of Bay and Picton-streets. The wheel crossed right over the man's chest, crushing him and inflicting injuries of an internal nature, which resulted in his death in a few minutes.

Mr. Dougherty was taken to his home and Dr. McCabe was summoned, but death resulted before the physician arrived.

Storage Batteries in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct 17.—It is promised now that storage battery electric cars will be running on the Second-avenue street car line before the winter is over. They may be put on before the Broadway cable cars are. The storage battery to be used possesses points peculiarly its own, and if what the inventors claim is true the trolley will be regarded as utterly valueless beside it.

The Borden Case.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 17.—City Marshal Hilliard was at home Saturday after spending most of the week in the vicinity of Boston, Providence and New Bedford on business connected with the Lizzie A. Borden case. Being asked whether the Government case had been strengthened or weakened by the disclosures revealed during his absence from the city the Marshal said: "Well, the case has certainly been strengthened, but in what particular, I cannot tell you now." From the Marshal's manner there is reason to believe th Government has some important evidence at has not even yet been hinted at in the newspapers.

A Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—At 3.15 p.m. yesterday a defective flue caused a big fire in Peter-street, Montreal. Sufferers are: J.J. Vipond & Co., wholesale fruits, $8000; B. Goldstein, tobaccos, $2000; De Laval Cream Separator Company, $2000. One fireman was badly cut by falling glass. Loss covered by insurance.

T. M DALY'S ELEVATION.

TO BE SWORN IN AS MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR.

Parliament Will Be Called for the Despatch of Business Early in January. Probably On the 12th—Canada to Erect a Building for the Display At the World's Fair.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Thomas Mayne Daly will be sworn in as a member of the Privy Council at noon to-day and appointed Minister of the Interior in place of Hon. Mr. Dewdney, who has resigned to accept the Lieutenant-Governorship of British Columbia.

It is understood that Parliament will be called for the despatch of business early in January, probably the 12th.

Professor Saunders, Canadian Commissioner to the World's Fair, left for Chicago to-night to attend the dedication ceremonies this week. He was accompanied by Mr. Ewart, assistant chief architect of the Public Works Department, who will superintend the commencement of the construction of the Canadian building.

The Northwest Satisfied.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17.—News of the appointment of Mr. Daly to the Cabinet is received with much satisfaction, but occasions little surprise, as Mr. Daly has for some time been regarded as a future minister.

THE LOCKUP WAS COLD.

A Man Arrested at Dunnville Sues the Town for Damages.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—At the Cayuga Assizes, which open on Oct. 31, a unique suit for damages will be tried. On April 22 Seaman Tisdale was arrested near Dunnville on a charge of cattle stealing. He alleges that he was put in the Dunnville lockup, where he was first nearly suffocated and roasted by a big fire and smoky pipes while he had to yell for help to the passers-by on the street. He had almost fainted when E. Lalor, reeve of the town, and the constable came and opened the doors. The pipes were not properly fixed, however, and again he had to endure partial suffocation while the fire went out. Then he was nearly frozen. Between the heat and excitement of the early part of the night and the severe cold of the early morning he was made seriously ill and his health was injured. He was subsequently acquitted of the charge. In consequence of the treatment he was subjected to he has sued the town of Dunnville for $2000 damages. J. W. Nesbitt, Q.C., of this city has been retained as counsel for the plaintiff.

A SKUNK FARM.

At Two Dollars a Skin it Pays Better Than Wheat or Corn.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Oct. 17.—The oddest industry in Monroe County is skunk farming, and it is carried on in the eastern part of the county by M. Luther Michaels at a snug profit. Mr. Michaels grew weary of trying to raise corn and wheat and turned his attention to black skunks. He captures all he can, and these multiply after he has shut them in a field enclosed with wire netting. There are about 650 skunks on the farm now, and Mr. Michaels hopes to increase the number to 1000. The profit comes from the skins. A prime black skin is worth $2 and finds ready sale. He will slaughter 300 of them this fall to cheapen the cost of wintering his stock.

MURDERED BY CHINAMEN.

A Small Boy Strangled and Thrown in a Cesspool.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—The body of Fernando Quijada, a young son of a well-known farmer and property-owner of this county, was discovered in a cesspool in Chinatown last night.

Death was caused by strangling, and it is believed the boy was enticed by Chinamen into an opium joint and murdered. The Spanish-Americans threaten to raid Chinatown unless the murderer is produced by his countrymen.

MR. DRYDEN'S OPPONENT.

The Conservatives of South Ontario Nominate Robert Miller, Jr.

WHITBY, Oct. 17.—A meeting of Conservatives in South Ontario, held in the Council Chamber here Saturday afternoon, nominated Robert Miller, jr., candidate for this riding in next general election to the Legislative Assembly. Owing to wet weather and busy season attendance was not as large as expected. J. L. Smith, president of the Local Liberal-Conservative Association, acted as chairman. N. F. Patterson, Q.C., in nominating Miller, asked it as a privilege on the eve of his leaving the country that he might name a man who can redeem South Ontario. William Jeffrey seconded Miller's nomination. There were no other names proposed and it was carried with much enthusiasm.

Suicide at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 17.—About 10.30 a.m. Saturday George Warfield, a Wagner car porter, discovered the body of a man lying under a tree north of the Niagara Falls Brewery, at the foot of High-st. Warfield's first impression was that the man was drunk, but he soon found that he was dead, and Coroner Walsh was notified. The man was 5 feet 10 inches in height, smooth shaven and wore ordinary working clothes. In one of his hands was clutched a 38-calibre Smith & Wesson revolver, and his finger was still on the trigger. An examination showed that a bullet from it had passed almost through his body, entering at the chest and resting against the skin of the back.

Coroner Walsh went to Buffalo this afternoon and found that the suicide was Henry Van Leaven, aged 18 years. He was a harness maker by trade and yesterday had trouble with his foreman. He then determined to kill himself. Van Leaven's brother will come to this city to-morrow and take the remains to Buffalo.

Guardsman Marshall's Offence.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The court martial that tried Private Marshall, a member of C Squadron of the 1st Life Guards Regiment, for posting in the canteen an article published in The Star on the recent mutiny of the squadron at Windsor, to-day sentenced him to 18 months' imprisonment and dismissal from the regiment. Marshall acknowledged that he had posted the article and that he had written above it the words, "Comrades, stick together!" but he pleaded that the offence was committed without premeditation. Corporal Bayliss, who had charge of the canteen, and who, though he saw Marshall post the article, did not report the fact to his superiors, has been deprived of his stewardship of the canteen.

A WILY WOMAN'S VICTIM

AT HER SOLICITATION HE BECOMES A FORGER.

Consul-General Domingo Ruise of the Republic of Ecuador Falls in with Sharpers, Who Induce Him to Commit a Crime Which May Land Him in the Penitentiary.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Consul-General Damingo Ruise of the Republic of Ecuador, who was arrested on two charges of forgery, was taken to Jefferson Market Police Court Saturday. Ruise is 71 years old. His son and his lawyer were with him. It was disclosed in court that ruise has been in the hands of sharpers who have fleeced him out of $60,000 and in their greed for more money induced him to endorse the two $1000 notes bearing the forged signatures of Consul Gustave Preston'

Prominent among the conspirators was Mrs. Beartha Laws, his adopted daughter, who lives in fine style. She has also been arrested. It seems the old man has fallen completely under the influence of the woman and has blindly obeyed her bidding for some time. He first became acquainted with her through an advertisement. His wife was in the country and his daughter in Europe and he advertised for a housekeeper. She was engaged in that capacity because extremely affectionate, and made him believe she was his daughter by a woman not his wife, and finally got him to adopt her as his daughter. All this time she was the wife of William Laws, a bookmaker. The rest of the story is easily guessed. No disposition was made of the case.

WON BY THE SHAMROCK'S.

The Capitals Defeated by Three Games to Two.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—The Shamrocks succeeded in winning the lacrosse match that has caused more excitement in Canada than any other game played heretofore. Both teams were in the pink of condition, and although the betting was 10 to 7 in favor of the Shamrocks the two teams were too equally matched for such odds to be given. The day was perfect, and the largest crowd ever present on a lacrosse field witnessed the match. The gates were opened at 11 o'clock, and from that time until 2 a steady stream of people poured into the grounds. It is estimated 7000 were present. The game started at 2.30. The teams:

Capitals—Crown, Patterson, Taylor, Devine, H. Carson, James, Bissonnette, Carleton, G. Carson, Kent, Murphy, Ketchum, Capt. Stewart.

Shamrocks — Duggan, Murray, Bark, Moore, Dwyer, Hinton, Kelly, Neville, McVey, O'Meara, Tansey, Tuckey, Capt. Polon.

Referee—William Pollock, Cornwall. Umpires—W. Aird and F. Larmonth.

The Caps had won the toss and played down field.

The first game was decidedly in favor of the Capitals, who had had the best of the play, and Carleton finally scored the game for the caps in 19 minute. The Ottawa crowd went wild over this.

The second game short but brilliant. The Shamrocks made a sudden spurt at the goals and in the absence of Crown from his post O'Meara put the ball through the Capital goals. Time, 5 minutes.

There was intense excitement when the game was started. After some brilliant playing on both sides, Ketchum scored the third for the Capitals. Time 16½ minutes.

The fourth game was a strong one on both sides. The Shamrocks put forth all their exertions, but the Capitals had the best of the gold play, and there were several narrow escapes on both goals. The ball was finally brought down to the Capital flags, and after a sharp scrimmage was put through by O'Meara. Time, 13 minutes.

The excitement was now at fever heat and kept up till the fifth was called the match now stood two games each, with 35 minutes left, and it was a toss-up who would win the next game. The Shamrocks succeeded in scoring again in 18 minutes, and the vast crowd rushed pell-mell on to the field and an indescribable scene ensued. Thousands of hats waved in the air, every one cheered and gesticulated. After much difficulty the field was again cleared, the referee announcing there were 7½ minutes left to complete the two hours. This was played, however, without a game being scored.

The result is as follows: First game Capitals, time 10 minutes; second Shamrock, time 5 minutes; third Capitals, 16½ minutes; fourth Shamrocks, time 18 minutes; fifth Shamrocks, time 15 minutes.

DETESTS CLERGYMEN.

Slavin, the Cornwall Murderer, Callous to the Last.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Slavin, the Cornwall condemned murderer, when he was removed to jail from the court house Saturday night, said to the guard: "There is no doubt about it; I shot Jack, and am now going to pay for it. I have been running without brakes for a long time, and no man can do this without coming to a sudden stop."

The prisoner then turned to jailer McDonald and said: "Well, I have made a bolt on you, and I know I did what was wrong. I was then here as a prisoner and you allowed, as you thought, a man that was to be my spiritual adviser, to come in. Now I am here as a convict, and give you positive orders not to allow a spiritual man of any kind into my apartments. When I want them I will let you know. I am not an angel, you well know, nor have I wings. You will please bear this in mind. The jury have found me out a sinner and I am going to die as such."

Slander Suit at Dundas.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—M. Malone, acting for Mrs. Allen, a Dundas widow, has entered an action for $2000 against Mrs. Reid, keeper of the toll-gate on the road to this city. The plaintiff claims damages for slander and alleges that Mrs. Reid said she was no better than she ought to be, only putting it in a more concise and definite shape, that carried a serious imputation on her chastity. She also alleges that Mrs. Reid said she kept a disreputable house.

Mrs. Allen is the mother of the unfortunate girl who suicided in a house of ill-fame at Tiffin, Ohio, last spring.

A Boodler Convicted.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 17.—In the case of John Daly, the member of the city council charged with bribery, the jury was out only about one hour, and returned a verdict of guilty. This is the first of the seven cases and means a conviction in all of them. Daly's attorney immediately filed notice of appeal. The verdict gives universal satisfaction.

FALL EXHIBITION AT APSLEY.

Annual Exhibition of the Burleigh and United Townships Show — A Two Days Show Suggested — The Prize List.

On Wednesday the annual exhibition of the Burleigh and United Townships Agricultural Society was held at Apsley. The morning of fair day having been cold and dreary, prevented a number of the members living at a distance from driving in their stock, which made the show of cattle, sheep and swine rather defective, but the hall was well filled, there being a fine display of roots and vegetables, fruit, ladies' work, etc. It is the belief of many that the directors would be justified in making the show a two-days one. The distance of the residence of many of the exhibitors and the shortness of the days making it impossible to secure the presence of all the available stock. Taking it altogether the Apsley exhibition was fairly successful. Following is

CATTLE TRADE EMBARGO

A MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND WHICH WILL AFFECT CANADA.

They are Promoting a Bill to Quarantine All Foreign Live Stock Except Such as are Intended for Slaughter — An Effort to Keep Out American Store Cattle.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A movement is on foot among cattle breeders providing for the quarantining of all foreign live stock, except such as are intended for slaughter. The movement is chiefly directed against the admission of American store cattle. The Live Stock Journal, an influential organ, strongly supports the movement.

The paper considers the estimate that from 100,000 to 150,000 head of cattle would be imported if the present restrictions were removed to be too moderate, but even that number would inflict a heavy blow on the British breeders. It urges the Government to take the same course in regard to America as it adopted towards Holland, when three months were allowed to elapse before applications to admit cattle in Great Britain were granted.

HARDIE AND THE PREACHERS.

A Socialist Tells Congregational Ministers What He Thinks of Them.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Mr. Keir Hardie, the labor member of Parliament, who it is said owed his election to Mr. Andrew Carnegie's liberal contribution to his campaign expenses, and who created a scene by coming to the House in a band wagon and wearing a dirty skull cap during the session, has again brought himself into notoriety. At the opening of the autumnal assembly of the Congregational Union at Bedford the Rev. Dr. Leach, in the course of a discussion on the subject of the relations of the Church to labor problems, said that he had heard Mr. Hardie, lecturing in a chapel, declare that Christianity was dead and that he was glad of it. At this point in Dr. Leach's address, Mr. Hardie, who was in the gallery, arose and interrupted the speaker with a demand to be allowed to say a word in his own defence. Without awaiting definite permission Mr. Hardie climbed nimbly down from his seat and gained the platform. By this time there was an uproar in the audience, cheers being mingled pretty equally with hisses at the action of the intruder. Order was soon restored, however, the efforts of the chairman in that direction being aided by the general desire to hear what the bold and unconventional labor representative had to say. Mr. Hardie started out by correcting Dr. Leach's version of what he had said in the chapel sermon. He stated that he had not thanked God that Christianity was dead, but that what had at one time passed as Christianity was dead. He rejoiced that the Christianity of the schools was defunct. He thanked God that the Christianity of Christ was coming to the front. Having made this explanation, Mr. Hardie, shaking his fist energetically towards his audience of ministers, shouted: "You of the old school, preach only to respectability in your churches. You forget the writhing, suffering humanity outside." [Cries of "No, no," and uproar.] "The men and women of the slums," continued Mr. Hardie, "are being driven to hell and you lend them no helping hand." This was too much for the parsons, and with one accord they arose and shouted out a protest against such a charge. Mr. Hardie tried to regain a hearing, but in vain. The curiosity of the meeting had been fully satisfied, and the labor agitator was obliged to retire.

THE LITTLE ONES AT HOME.

That Dreaded Croup!

Have you a little one in the home who is subject to croup—one who takes cold easily, and coughs frequently? If so, let us strongly advise you to procure at once a bottle of that celebrated Harvard Bronchial Syrup, a preparation which emanates from old Harvard University.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup has, in the past, saved the lives of hundreds of dear children when attacked by dangerous croup. The action of this grand cough remedy is so quick, that any serious attack of croup can be easily overcome when the remedy is at hand.

Young children love it, owing to its pleasant taste. We can with faith and honesty recommend it, because it is sure and certain, and perfectly pure and free from all dangerous narcotics. As far as perfection of manufacture and purity of ingredients are concerned chemists say it stands far ahead of all others.

Mothers, we earnestly commend it to your consideration; your child's life may depend upon one 25c. bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup.

Worms cause much sickness among children. Freeman's Worm Powders prevent this, and make the child bright and healthy. dw

A REVERSE FOR GLADSTONE

A Unionist Carries a Division of Gloucestershire.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The election to fill the vacancy for the Cirencester division of Gloucestershire in the House of Commons, caused by the death of Arthur Brend Winterbotham, who was returned by the Gladstonians at the general election, was held yesterday and resulted in a victory for the Conservatives. This election will reduce Gladstone's majority in the House to 39. The Conservative candidate was Col. Master, who was defeated by Mr. Winterbotham at the last election, while the Gladstonian candidate was Harry Lawson. The vote stood—Master, 4277; Lawson, 4274. The contest was regarded as a very important one.

A Severe Blow to the Liberals.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The defeat yesterday of Mr. Lawson (Gladstonian), who contested the Circencester division of Gloucestershire with Col. Master (Con.), is keenly felt by the Liberals, who though they expected a tough fight, hoped to retain the seat. This is the first loss the Liberals have sustained since the general elections. Following their reduced majorities in the by-elections in Leeds and Bedford it is certain to make a marked impression on the public, while it will stimulate the Conservatives to contest every election where there is the smallest chance of victory. The local Liberals refused to believe they were defeated. They insisted upon a recount, which was made during a scene of feverish excitement, enormous crowds surrounding the hall. The Conservatives were overjoyed when the result was announced.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds—to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling, Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

AT OPERA HOUSE TO-NIGHT.

Attempt at Incendiarism.

Sometime during Friday night last a dastardly attempt was made to set fire to the storehouse of the Wm. Hamilton Manufactring Company in the western yard in which the hundreds of patterns of the firm are kept. Shavings were saturated with coal oil were fired in two separate places. One of the fires smouldered out itself and the other was discovered just in time to prevent disastrous results. The flooring was burnt and some of the patterns. The job must have been done by some one familiar with premises as the perpetrators of the underhand deed seemed to know just where to put their hands on things. In the opinion of some it was the work of tramps.

A Costly Ride on the Cars.

Geo. Patterson, of Cavanville, was up before the County Police Magistrate on Saturday afternoon charged by Mr. Ross, a constable of the C.P.R., with attempting to beat his way on an express train and using profane language before the passengers on the 8th inst. It appears that Patterson got on the train at Peterborough to go to Cavanville and when asked for his fare refused to pay and when insisted upon by the conductor he used grossly abusive and insulting language to the "knight of the steel punch." Finally assisted by a constable p: esent the defendant found money to pay his fare. Before the court Patterson pleaded guilty and said he was so drunk he did not know what he was doing. The magistrate levied a fine of $5 and costs, $13.70 cents in all.

We are always on the move! We never let our goods stay long enough on the shelf to gather dust. Out they must go! For the present our headquarters for the great bankrupt stock of dry goods etc., will be just across the Arcade and opposite Garvey's. We are bound to make the goods move out faster than ever, if low prices will do it. Come early and get bargains.

They had Better Take Warning.

It is understood that some parties, friends of a man who was committed to goal by the police magistrate to await his trial at the Fall Assizes, are circulating reports about that they are going to have a certain lady witness, who gave very material and important evidence for the Crown in the case arraigned on the charge of perjury, stating that her evidence was false. These parties had better take fair warning as they are perpetrating a dangerous practice in seeking to intimidate a witness in the case by this means and their actions may result in unlooked and somewhat costly consequences which they will care not to face.

Cheap Flannels at Thos. Kelly's.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. Thos. Kelly in another column, announcing the purchase of an extensive stock of flannel. The number of yards and the different grades are enumerated in his advertisement, and the prices at which this stock is offered would indicate that Mr. Kelly had made a very lucky purchase. Coming at this season of the year when the demand for flannel is at its best, housekeepers will certainly feel this to be a boon to them. Read the announcement and remember that these cheap flannels are only obtainable at THOS. KELLY'S, corner of George and Simcoe streets. 8d-1w

COLUMBUS AT THE CATHEDRAL.

The Solemn Mass of the Holy Trinity Celebrated in Memory of the Discovery of America.

Yesterday morning in compliance with the bull of his Holiness, the Pope, directed to bishops, the solemn mass of of the Holy Trinity was celebrated at St. Peter's Cathedral in presence of a large congregation, in honour of Columbus and his discovery of America. The celebrant was Rev. Father Scollard. Rev. Father D. O'Connell was deacon, Rev. Father Desaulniers sub-deacon, and Rev. Father Rudkins master of ceremonies. Appropriate and special music was produced by the choir. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor preached the sermon which was pronounced one of the best and most eloquent addresses ever delivered by His Lordship here. He gave a brief sketch of the career of Columbus, incident to the enterprise that led to the momentous event of the discovery of America. Special reference was made also to the great blessings that followed the great event—involving the blessing of the spread of Catholicity to new and hitherto unknown lands. The address was full of instruction, earnest injunction and wise counsel, and was listened to with rapt attention. At 8 o'clock mass his Lordship delivered substantially the same address in a briefer form.

NEW BOOKS AT THE MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

List of New Books Recently Added.

The following is a list of new books added to the library of the Mechanics' Institute: "Land of the Lion and the Sun,"—Wills; "Himalayan Journals," Hooker; "Recollections and Letters of Ernest Renan,"—Hapgood; "Through Russia on a Mustang,"—Stephens; "He Fell Among Thieves,"—D. Christie Murray; "Younger American and Canadian Poets,"—Roberts. The additions of new books will be noted from day to day as they arrive. The directors are taking especial pains to keep the library up to the mark, and it is now in the best possible condition consistent with the funds at the disposal of the officials. The public should bear in mind what a mine of interesting reading the library represents. The small sum of $1.50 secures the privileges of the library for a whole year—an exceedingly insignificant sum considering the advantage of free access to a library of seven or eight thousand volumes of well selected books, and the use of a commodious, comfortable and well lighted reading room. The public cannot be generally aware of the advantages, in the way of intellectual improvement and enjoyment, the Mechanics' Institute affords, or they would more freely avail themselves of its privileges.

BEATEN AT PORT HOPE.

The Trinity College School Team Defeat the Peterborough's on Saturday by a Score of 25 to 5 Points—A Graphic Account of the Game and the Trip.

The Peterborough boys left by the 11.50 train. Three of the very best players—including Packenham, the star runner—were unexpectedly and unavoidably kept home, and had to be replaced at the last moment by Carmichael, Grubbe and Orde, of the junior team. At the end of an hour and a half of the usual mild and decorous smoking car amenities, the "braves" were welcomed at the Port Hope station by a deputation of collegians and escorted to the St. Lawrence Hotel. After indulging, in spite of the captains entreaties, in a Barmacides feast, such as in itself accounted no small measure for their subsequent defeat, the guests leave the busy thoroughfare and are driven to the college about a mile and a half to the north. The huge shade trees in front, the fine old three-story red brick structure with its many Gothic turrets, balconies and buttresses, its long dark corridors, its bright, beautiful chapel, and the domitories with their scarred beds and ridged desks telling many an interesting tale and irresistibly reminding one of Tom Brown's school days at Oxford—all this the visitors enjoyed heartily, the Loucks brothers, as "old boys," in particular.

At 3.30 they were called out to the field of battle and lined up with their opponents as follows. In size and weight the blue-and-whites from Peterborough were perhaps a trifle outmatched:

Peterborough.		Trinity College School.
Carmichael	backs	Jones
Alexander, Boucher, Brennan	halves	Seagram, Broughall, Locke
Dumble	quarters	Cartwright
Heap, Drope, Boers, Parker, Orde, Grubbe, Taylor	wings	Loscombe, Wolverton, Campbell, Andrews, Syer, Lottridge
E. B. Loucks, W. M. Loucks, A. E. Tilley	forwards	Watson, McKenzie

For the first ten minutes we looked like easy winners. The ball was at once rushed well forward into Trinity territory and kept there till Boucher at length with a fine rush secured a "touch down." The "try kick" proved a failure. By the time they had thoroughly roused the white vests to their best efforts. The Peterborough's inferiority began to be seen and grew more and more apparent right up to close of the game. They added but a "rouge"—a single point—to their score. In the first place they were almost invariably out-scrimmaged. The forwards would be broken through by big Watson, and Dumble the active quarter-back would be effectually prevented from picking out and feeding the half-backs. The ball was then either scrimmaged or dribbled over the line. Never once did the Collegians score through a long run from the field. When, however, the blue and white quarter-back did get the leather and his half-backs did get a kick, Alexander in particular shone this first half, then the "wing" forwards were so systematically "blocked" in their attempt to "follow up" that the backs generally had ample time to return the ball to Peterborough territory. This was the "game" throughout.

The score at half-time was read as 7 to 5 in favor of the College. The visitors, however, complained bitterly of the referee's decision against them in the make of a "touch-down" made by Drope. This "touch-down"—in itself 4 points—would, from its position, almost surely have been converted into a "try"—4 more; and there s no telling how this reversal of the figures might have told on the spirits of the two teams and on the final score. Again, a very serious dispute had arisen, that, at one time, threatened to end the game prematurely, over the referee's interpretation of the "off-side rule." Whether right or not in their protest, the visitors lost heavily.

The second half was played in a drizzle that soon soaked the leather and spoiled the passing and the "throwing in." The College tactics were the same only more successful, excepting three occasions, when Boucher made good rushes, the ball was seldom in Trinity territory. The score of the whole game was 25 to 5.

In this half one of the Peterborough boys after protesting in vain against his opponent's illegally close "blocking," lost his temper for a moment. "What'll I do?" he appealed to his friends, "the umpire won't listen to me." "Smash him! Smash him!" "Smash him, eh?—all right, I'll SMASH him!" The umpire, however, at length interfered and saved the Trinity man's life.

As compared with the Upper Canada boys that had Waterlooed Peterborough the Saturday before, the Trinity College School stands thus: Their forwards and wings excel in "dribbling" and "blocking;" with the exception of Seagram, their backs are inferior in both kicking and passing. On the whole the Intercollegiate match will be a close one.

Another point of comparison less pleasant to make: Port Hope Collegians are neither so rough and "scroggy" nor so noisy and disputatious as the Toronto Collegians. Their gentlemanliness, their careful refraining from undue exultation, their hospitality after the match, combined with the vanquished's own reflection that they had been playing without three of their brightest "stars," completely removed the sting of defeat. If not completely, then the royal supper at the St. Lawrence did the rest most amply.

THE lining from the cloud was dropped at CHINA HALL and has been manufactured into an immense collection of handsome and useful articles, such as Silver Tea Sets, Five O'clock Sets on Salvers, Tilting Jugs, Pudding and Centre Dishes, and dozens of dainty articles admirably adapted for Wedding Presents. We all know how hard it is to choose a suitable present for a man, but at CHINA HALL the difficultly is solved. How would a Blotting Roller do, with handle of Oxodized Silver, a Pack of Cards in a Silver Case, Silver Soap Boxes and Collapsion Cups for travelling, Letter Scales of delicate Filagree Silver, Calendars and Candlesticks for any gentlemen's own room, and quaint little Silver Tubs for matches. The only difficulty is which to choose amid such profusion—prices remarkably low. Our stock never showed such a variety in Bake-Dishes and handsome Side-Dishes, the latter having lock-handles on the lids, by removing the handle, instead of one dish, behold two. Nothing makes a dinner-table look handsomer than bright silver and cut glass—ask to be shown our stock of both and you will be surprised. Come in and look at our Triplicate Mirror in a Mahogany Frame, with Oxodized Silver backs—it would make a handsome present and as it is the only one in town there would be no danger of a duplicate. Each Saturday morning CHINA HALL will place on its Bargain Table its weekly snap. This offer to be valid for one week only. Our bargain this week is a Silver Castor at $3.00—the best value for the money ever offered in Peterborough.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

My Experience in Bread-Making.

When I was married I knew nothing about bread-making, but I had no end of recipes, that seemed so simple that I was filled with the sublime assurance of success. Alas! When I look back on the trials I made, every one of which proved a failure, I am reminded that my husband had infinite patience, and also the digestion of an ostrich or he had not lived to eat of the better food which I am now able to set before him. To insure success, first secure good yeast cakes, and secondly pay no attention to the directions on the package, but in the morning (room will do), when you have mashed potatoes, take a teacup half full of them and add boiling water until when beaten together they are like mush; set away to cool, and when lukewarm stir in half a yeast cake dissolved in warm (not hot) water. set it by the fire to lighten. It should be foamy light in two hours.

At four o'clock take a quart of warm water in a pan, add two or three large spoonfuls of shortening, one of white sugar, a small spoonful of salt and your cup of yeast; stir in flour to make a thick batter, beat until smooth and set in a warm place to rise. At bedtime mix into one large loaf, kneading as long as you please, the longer the better, provided you add no more flour than is absolutely necessary to keep it from sticking to the board or your hands. Return to the pan which should be a deep one, cover closely with another pan or tin (never a cloth) and let remain until morning, when all you will have to do will be to shape it into loaves, let rise, and bake. This suits me the best of any way that I have ever tried, and it has the advantage of being out of the way early in the morning, thus giving me the forenoon for something else.

Don't think that a dissolved yeast cake will do as well, for it will not. In the yeast is the secret of success, and the foregoing recipe, if faithfully followed, will give you light, sweet and moist bread, the three great requisites of good bread.—Housekeeper.

Tidy Up the Farm.

In travelling through the country, when a tidy-looking farm is passed, with fences in good order, buildings looking neat and trim, trees trimmed and clean, we know the resident is a person who takes pride and interest in his farming, and that it pays him to do it. It takes but a few days each year to keep the brush out away from the fences, to nail up a board here and there that may have become loosened, to keep the fences up straight, with no weak places to tempt the stock to press through into the owner's or neighbors' fields of grain or grass, to put the implements under shelter when not in use, to pick up boards lying about the barn and house, to trim the fruit trees and cut out all dead or dying branches, to mow the lawn at least once each year, to arrange all gates so that they will freely swing on their hinges, to have a well-kept garden, a good supply of small fruit, and pump in good working order, a good supply of dry wood under shelter, to keep the roadsides mowed and bushes cut down, to keep the outlet of expensive underdrains open, to clean out all open ditches, to look after the stock frequently. All these things take but a little time, and they increase the cash value of the farm. If you have, in the past, neglected these things, resolve that you will reform, and that strangers, in passing your door, may at least mentally say, "A good farmer resides there!" Possibly it will not allow as many leisure hours at the corner grocery, but others will take your place there, and you are adding to the worth of your earthly possessions, and to your standing as a man.—American Agriculturist.

Origin of the Kilt.

There is no dress like the kilt—in the opinion of the Highlander. It is a costume of abbreviated length and many colors. We never knew until the other day whether it was the size or the colors which endeared it to the Gaelic mind. We have since found out that it is beloved of Scotchmen on account of its glorious history. A Dundee man has made the remarkable discovery that the kilt was worn in the garden from which our erratic father was expelled. "Adam and Eve sewed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons." That was the beginning of the kilt; and as the leaves withered and decayed, one variety before another, the tartan colors were born.—The Million.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

GREAT STORMS IN ENGLAND.

The Land Flooded and the Rivers Overflowing Their Banks.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The wind blew with renewed fury in the northwestern portion of the United Kingdom last night. Several piers of the river Tyne were damaged by the storm. Many vessels continue to take shelter there. A terrific sea is running in the Irish Channel, and the mail boats plying between England and Ireland have been greatly delayed. Large tracts of land in the north of Wales have been flooded and crops still in the fields have been ruined. Several rivers in Westmoreland and Derbyshire have overflowed their banks and adjacent low lands are submerged.

The storm is still raging furiously and there is no prospect of an early abatement. The gale now extends from Yorkshire, in the north of England, bordering on the North Sea, to Ireland. Immense damage is being done by the terrific wind.

STATEMET OF MR. M'NEE.

For eight years I was troubled with a sore on my leg which resulted from having it broken. The doctors kept me in bed five months trying to heal it up, but all to no purpose. I tried all sorts of liniments, salves, ointments, pills and blood medicines, but with no benefit. In 1883 it became so bad that I had to sit on one chair and keep my foot on another for four months. I could not put my foot on the ground or the blood would rush out in a stream and my leg swelled to twice its natural size. Eleven running sores developed on it, which reduced me to a living skeleton (I lost 70 pounds in four months. Friends advised me to go to the hospital, but I would not, for I knew that they would take my leg off. The doctor then wanted to split it open and scrape the bone, but I was too weak to stand the operation. One old lady said it had turned to black erysipelas, and could never be cured. I had never heard of Burdock Blood Bitters then, but I read of a minister, Rev. Mr. Stout, who had been cured of a severe abscess on the neck by B.B.B., after medical aid had failed, and I thought I would try it. I washed the leg with the Bitters, and took them according to directions. After using one bottle I could walk on crutches, after taking three I threw away the crutches, took a scythe and went to work in the field. At the end of the sixth bottle my leg was entirely healed up; pieces of loose bone had worked out of it and the cords came back to their natural places again. That was nine years ago and it has never broken out since. I can walk five miles to-day as fast as anyone, and all this I owe to B. B. B., which certainly saved my leg if not my life. I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Give B. B. B. a trial and it will cure you as it did me.

Yours truly, WM. MCNEE,
St. Ives P.O., Ont.

Mr. F. C. Sanderson, the druggist, of St. Marys, Ont., certifies to the entire truthfulness of the remarkable statement made by Mr. McNee, and says that several other wonderful cures have been made in his district by this unrivalled remedy for bad blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation and all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood. dw

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the Cough that had hung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.

OTHER MOONS THAN OURS.

Dean Swift's Remarkable Guess About the Satellites of Mars.

The moons of Mars were discovered a few years ago through the telescope of the Naval Observatory at Washington by Prof. Asaph. He will be actively interested in the observations of that planet and its new-found satellites which will be made in August next by astronomers all over the world. Since the discovery of the moons in 1887 this is the first opportunity afforded for examining them, inasmuch as they are so small as to be perceptible only at close range. Once in every fifteen years Mars reaches its nearest point to the earth. Eight weeks hence it will be within 35,000,000 miles of us, whereas its greatest distance is 141,000,000 miles. Great interest attaches to the matter because this sister world is so much like our own in respect to its climate and other conditions, that it may reasonably be supposed to be inhabited.

There are at least twenty moons in the solar system. Saturn alone has eight, and Jupiter possesses four, ranging from Europa, just about as large as the orb of terrestrial night, to Ganymede, greatest of all known moons, with a diameter of 3,480 miles, whereas the moon belonging to this world is only 2,160 miles through.

Though our moon is supposed to be dead and cold, similar conditions are not assumed to govern all the satellites of the sister planets. Some of these pertaining to Jupiter are believed to emit light of their own, showing that they are still hot. However, astronomers are usually eager to find evidence of life on other spheres, even discovering on the earth's attendant orb apparent traces of mighty works of engineering artifice—the imagined creation of races of beings long extinct—such as the stupendous bridge that appears to span a crater of the moon volcano called Eudoxus.

Eclipses are every-day affairs on Jupiter. Three of its satellites are eclipsed at every revolution of that mighty globe; so that a spectator there might witness during the Jovian year 4,500 eclipses of moons and about the same number of eclipses of the sun by moons. One of Saturn's moons, called Mimas, about half the size of the earth's satellite, is so close to the planet in its circling that it seems to cross the face of the latter at an astonishing rate of speed. Of the seven others, Titan has a diameter of 3,300 miles; Iapetus, 1,800 miles; Rhea, 1,200 miles; Dione and Thetys each 500 miles, while Enceladus and Hyperion are very little fellows. Several of them in the sky together, with the flaming ring of star dust stretched athwart the heavens, must make a gorgeous spectacle by night on the Saturnian sphere. Through the telescope it is very interesting to watch the shadows thrown upon Jupiter by that giant planet's moons, observation of the eclipses of which furnished the first data for estimating the velocity of light. Uranus has four little moons—Ariel, Umbriel, Titania, and Oberon—which, funnily enough, rise in the north and set in the south. A single diminutive one, belonging to Neptune, traverses the sky from southwest to northwest. Neither Mercury or Venus has any satellites.

But the most interesting of all moons are the two that attend Mars, each about sixty miles in diameter. That planet is just one-half the size of the earth; its surface is divided into continents and seas, having as much land as water. It has an atmosphere, clouds frequently concealing its face, and its seasons are about the same as here, though the winters are colder. Because one of its moons travels around it three times as fast as Mars itself turns, it appears to rise in the west and set in the east, while the other, really circling in the same direction at a speed comparatively slow, rises in the east and sets in the west. Thus both moons are seen in the heavens at the same time, going opposite ways.

One of the most remarkable guesses on record was made by Dean Swit, who a century before the moons of Mars were discovered, made Gulliver say of the astronomers of Laputa: "They have found two satellites which revolve about Mars, whereof the innermost is distant from the planet exactly three diameters of the planet; the former revolves in the space of ten hours and the latter in twenty-one and one-half hours." In fact, the inner moon is 10,000 miles from Mars, whereas—the diameter of the planet being 4,000 miles—Gulliver's estimate would place it at 12,000 miles. For the other moon he gives 20,000 miles for the distance, which is really 15,000 miles. The time of revolution for the inner moon is actually seven and one-half hours, and for the outer one thirty hours. Prof. Hall has named these moons Deimos and Phobes, after the attendants of the god Mars, who are mentioned in Homer's "Iliad."—Providence Journal.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1892.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulater for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

FOWLS NEED CUT BONE

FIFTY CENTS PER POUND NOT BAD FOR BROILERS.

A Pullet That Laid Her First Egg Before She was Four Months Old—Danger in Artificial Butter—Tidy up Your Farm and do not Loaf at the Corner Grocery.

"How much fresh cut bone can I feed my flock of about 60 fowls," writes one of our readers, and another asks, "how often can I feed cut bone to fowls?" while still another asks "how old should chicks be before I can feed green cut bones and how much can I feed them at a time?" With our cutter we can cut up about 60 pounds of fresh bones in an hour, and that quantity would be sufficient for a feed for 600 fowls, or 1,000 chickens a third to one-half grown. This we estimate from the fact that 25 to 30 pounds gives us a good feed for 300 fowls, and as we feed it twice a week only, one can understand they do not become sated with it; in fact they run for it eagerly and eat it as though they loved it and would be glad to get more.

How often should it be fed? We feed two times a week, Wednesday and Saturday. Our valued friend, Dr. Gebring, who understands the physiology of the animal, "hen," a great deal better than we do, wrote us some time since that he was feeding one good feed of it to his hens three times a week, which would make one-seventh of all their food. We begin feeding it regularly to chicks when they are two to three weeks old, but we frequently throw a handful to chicks but two or three days out of the shell, and they enjoy it. As we have lean trimmings, which we boil and chop fine, we prefer that the youngest chicks have their animal food supply from those, as they can eat them better. We mix them with bread crumbs, or some other ration, and as the cut-bone is a little coarse for baby chicks to handle, we give the preference to meat-trimmings for them.

In conclusion we urge our readers to feed fresh cut bone to make chicks grow and make hens lay. If you haven't a bone cutter get one, or club with one or two neighbors to get one, or get one and rent it to your neighbors at 10 cents an hour. A good bone cutter is a most valuable addition to the farm machinery, and will pay for itself in a short time, both in eggs and in greater growth of chicks.—Farm Poultry.

Danger of Artificial Butter.

If the substances used in manufacturing butter came from healthy animals we should not have much to say, and there would be very little fear of the transmission of disease; but since in this line of business dishonest dealers often take damaged fat, or even fat coming from animals that have died from infectious diseases, artificial butter may in reality be a dangerous thing for daily family use. The germs of anthrax, glanders and other diseases can stand the action of a temperature of from 30 degrees to 50 degrees Centigrade for two hours, whether the butter has been filtered or not, and for twenty-four hours at 30 degrees.—N. Y. Herald.

The First Pullet's Egg.

We ran an experimental hatch in one of our incubators in February, bringing out about 40 chicks February 23rd, and on June 17th found that a Brown Leghorn pullet of that family had laid two eggs. As she laid again on the 19th it is fair to presume her first egg was laid about the 15th, at which time she was a week under 4 months old. That is a pretty good record for early laying!

Prices of Broilers.

On April 13th broilers weighing three pounds per pair, and under, were quoted in New York market at fifty cents per pound, and those over three pounds per pair were quoted at forty-five cents per pound. On the opening of May choice lots sold as high as sixty cents per pound. During the middle of March broilers were quoted at thirty cents per pound wholesale, and as a broiler should weigh a pound and a half, the price of one chick is forty-five cents. But the quotations from the price current do not indicate the real selling price. The farmer who knows as much about selling as he does of raising his broilers, will get fifty cents per pound for them, if they are of the right quality. While this has been going on, men have stood waiting for something to do which would pay. These prices might be obtained by men in Maine as well as in New York, if they only wanted them enough to follow the same exacting conditions. It is brains above muscle that makes the difference between twenty-five and fifty cents a pound for chickens. It's brains above muscle that marks the dividing line between twenty and thirty cent butter. The brains help to a better quality and a bigger price. It's the old, old story repeated, and when once it gets a foothold in a man's mind it is pretty sure to make a larger man of him, and this insures the benefits.—Maine Farmer.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

FIGHT WITH A MANIAC.

He Plunges Both Hands Into a Bed of Red Hot Coals—Brothers In Deadly Contest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Edwin Brush, 25 years old, lay strapped to a cot in the Jamaica Town Hall Saturday night with both hands hidden in bandages. His insane shrieks could be plainly heard by pedestrians in the street.

Brush was sitting in the parlor of his brother's house Saturday with an apple in his hand. He had been talking with his elder brother, Walter Brush, when he became greatly agitated, and Walter fearing trouble, sent his sister-in-law out for help.

The young man suddenly bounded to the centre of the room with a shriek that was heard a block away. "I'm going to burn this apple," he shouted, and held up the apple in his outstretched left hand.

As Walter sprang toward him Edward ran out of the room into the kitchen. Without a moment's hesitation the maniac grasped one of the red-hot stove lids with his bare hands and tossed it aside with a chuckle. A bed of blazing coals were uncovered.

"Burn! burn!" he shrieked, and plunged his left hand, still holding the apple, deep into the red-hot coals.

Walter seized him and a desperate struggle began. The maniac fought with superhuman strength. Grasping the red-hot cross-bar of the stove he defied the efforts of his brother to drag him away. The noise of the struggle alarmed their aged mother, and she tried to aid Walter. But they were not successful. The kitchen was filled with the odor of burning flesh, and the fight went on. Finally the maniac's grip relaxed, and his brother forced him back and threw him to the floor.

He had held on to the cross-bar until his left hand was burned in two, and his right became useless. But his struggles were not over yet. With his fleshless stumps he fought his brother, and the two rolled over and over across the kitchen floor. They had fought for five minutes when the younger Mrs. Brush returned with Captain Benjamin Ashmead of the Jamaica police.

Walter was almost exhausted by the struggle, but his brother showed no signs of fatigue. Additional help was summoned and the maniac was overpowered. He was taken to the Town Hall and bound to a cot and his injuries dressed by a physician. His right hand was burned to the bone, and the left one was almost entirely gone.

The Brush family are well-known in Jamaica. They have lived there for several generations. Edward has been ill with chills and fever for several months, and recently his family noticed that he acted queerly. Nothing serious was apprehended, but a strict watch was always kept on him. He will be taken to the Middletown Insane Asylum to-morrow morning.

THE EGLINTON SHOOTING.

After a Long Struggle the Victim Dies of His Wound.

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Death has at last claimed William Jones, the victim of the Eglinton shooting affray. Dissolution occurred at 10.50 o'clock Saturday night.

The struggle was a long one, with the odds against the injured man. The shooting occurred on the night of Sept. 27 and the following evening he was admitted to the Toronto General Hospital. Forty-eight hours after the shooting gangrene of the most virulent type set in and no hope of saving the man's life was entertained. Jones, in his moments of consciousness, was told that he must die, but he stoutly denied that he would. A week ago it looked as if he knew more than the doctors, he having improved to such an extent that the possibility of amputating his leg was discussed.

About 10 days ago Jones made an ante-mortem statement, in which he stated that on the night of the shooting he had gone to Britton's house to collect $1.50 due on some hogs he had sold. He also acknowledged throwing stones at the windows.

A few days ago Jones' robust constitution gradually weakened as the vital fluid became more and more impregnated with poison generated in the injured limb, until Saturday night, when, as already stated, death ensued. He was unconscious up to the time of his demise.

Saturday Coroner Johnson held a post-mortem examination on the remains, and later in the afternoon the body was taken away by Undertaker Young.

Herbert Britton, the young man whom Jones alleges to have fired the fatal shot, was arrested the day following the fracas, but was liberated on bail by Justice of the Peace Jackes.

An inquest will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Oulcott's Hotel, Eglinton.

A CASE OF INFANTIC DE.

The Body of an Infant Left on a Doorstep.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Saturday evening a young son of Francis J. Pendergast, corner of York and Maitland-streets, left his home, and returning in about 10 minutes was surprised to find a basket on the walk between the gate and the doorstep. Naturally he picked it up and carried it into the house to see what the contents were. The only occupant was a baby. Dr. Macarthur was summoned and found life extinct, although he could not say that the child was dead when found. It was apparently about a week old, had been naturally born and was well nourished. The infant was dressed comfortably and neatly. There is no clue to the persons who deposited the basket and its human contents where they were found.

YOUNG LUCKY'S DEFENCE.

His First Move Will Probably Be For a Stay of Trial.

SMITH'S FALLS, Oct. 17.—The interest in the Lucky murder has increased to a considerable extent since the suspected murderer has been lodged in jail to await his trial and the events of the inquest are still the chief topic of conversation in town. The prisoner still maintains his composure and shows not the least sign of breaking down. He apparently slept well Saturday night and partook of a hearty breakfast Sunday morning. He spends a large portion of the time in reading his bible and claims it has always been his custom to do so. He also freely converses with Jailer McDougall, yesterday voluntarily broaching the subject of the murder, and vigorously protested his innocence. From what we can learn it is almost certain that when he is brought up at the assizes Mr. Lavelle of Smith's Falls, who has been retained to act as counsel, will ask for time to prepare a defence, but whether it will be given or not remains to be seen. Mr. Lavelle arrived in town yesterday, and this morning had a long interview with Lucky.

Mr. J. R. Lavell was interviewed Saturday afternoon, and stated that he had been employed by the prisoner to make a defence, and several incidents have occurred during the inquest and since that would lead him to believe that a strong defence can be made. He would work hard on the case from now forward, but owing to the shortness of the time between now and the assizes he would be unable to properly prepare it, and would apply to the judge for adjournment. Mr. Lavell also stated that he had also been asked by the relatives of the prisoner to act for him. Mr. John Lucky, jr., had stated to him that he would find out the perpetrator of the tragedy if it took him all his life, and if it were his own brother, he was prepared to see him pay the penalty. During the prisoner's interview with his lawyer this morning he appeared to be very cheerful now that some one was taking an interest in him and also strongly protested his innocence.

Detective Greer in Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Detective Greer of Toronto, who has been quietly working on the Lucky murder case since the close of the inquest at Irish Creek, arrived in the city last evening. Papers were served on ex-Detective Harry Montgomery, Head Turnkey Granger of the jail and Ald. Devlin. The latter's evidence, the detective thinks, will be damaging against the prisoner, Charles Lucky. Should he be able to identify the $5 bill which prisoner had in his possession when arrested the case will undoubtedly go hard against the accused.

Loaded Up the Wrong Way.

COBOURG, Ont., Oct. 17.—One kind of weights to buy with and another to sell with is an old trick, and the vigilance of Mr. Slattery, one of the Deputy Inspectors of Weights and Measures for the district, exposed a case in the Police Court Saturday morning, a butcher named Thomas Thompson having been found guilty of having false and unjust weights in his store. The scale he bought with had two weights so loaded with lead that they were 16 lbs. in his favor. He was found guilty and fined $20. The scale was confiscated.

SWORN IN AS A MINISTER

MR. T. M. DALY NOW A MEMBER OF THE CABINET.

He Attends His First Cabinet Council—Hon. Mr. Dewdney Has Been Appointed Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia and Will be Sworn in in November at Victoria.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—Mr. T. M. Daly was sworn in Monday and attended his first council, at which Mr. Dewdney was appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, to take effect on Nov. 1, when he will be sworn in at Victoria. Hon. Mr. Daly will leave for Manitoba about the end of the week to run his election. It is expected that he will be opposed. He has retained as private secretary Messrs. A. Chisholm and W. McGirr, who acted as private secretary for the Minister of the Interior and Superintendent-General of Indian affairs respectively.

Hon. Mr. Carling returned from a visit to Grosse Isle, where arrangements were made for boring for potable water. A suggestion was made with regard to the buildings to have arranged the same as on shipboard for cabin, intermediate and steerage, so as to keep each separate, but the matter is not quite decided.

An order in council was passed appointing Col. Irvine, formerly commissioner of the Northwest Mounted Police, warden of the Manitoba Penitentiary, and Mr. D. D. Burke deputy warden. Mr. G. L. Foster, who has been acting warden since Mr. Bedson's death, returns to Ottawa to resume his duties as Accountant of Penitentiaries. He has been highly complimented by the Minister for the manner in which he discharged the duties of warden for the last 18 months.

A cable was received from Sir John Abbott at Moville this morning saying all is well.

No reply has been received yet from Newfoundland regarding the fixing of a date for the trade conference at Halifax.

Well Received in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Ont. 18.— Mr. Daly's appointment to the Cabinet is received with great satisfaction throughout Manitoba. He will certainly be re-elected unopposed The Winnipeg Free Press says that although he was not its choice among the present members, it having favored Mr. Ross, still he has many excellent qualities, practical knowledge, capability, youth and great energy.

OTHER CABINET CHANGES.

The Retirement of Sir John Abbott Will be the First Announcement.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—Further changes in the way of Cabinet reconstruction may be expected at an early date. Sir John Abbott's retirement will be the first thing announced and in his place as the English speaking minister of Quebec, the Cabinet have about settled on Mr. W. B. Ives, the member for Sherbrook. After that the public may not be surprised to hear some of these days that Hon. John Carling is to retire and that Dr. Montagu of Haldimand become his successor. Biter him the next man on the cards for Cabinet preferment from Ontario will be Clark Wallace of West York. Of course these are only on the books or may be delivered or changed somewhat. But to those who are thoroughly posted as to the situation they are very likely things to happen. Another likely change is that the new senator, Dr. Ferguson, will be made Privy Councillor without portfolio and take the leadership of the Senate in the event of Sir John Abbott's retirement.

FOUND MANGLED ON THE RAILS.

A Former Resident of Stoney Creek Killed Near Clifton.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 18.—Early yesterday morning the terribly mangled body of a man was found on the Grand Trunk Railroad at Morrison's Crossing, 2½ miles west of Clifton. From a certificate found on his person, which showed that he carried a life policy of $1000 in the Home Circle, it was learned that his name was John Anderson, a blacksmith, who formerly resided at Stoney Creek, about 40 miles distant, but who recently has been a resident of Cleveland, Ohio. Although as far as can be learned no one was aware of the accident at the time it occurred, it is reasonably certain that he was killed by the train from the West due at Clifton at 3.10 this morning, as the engine was covered with blood. Yesterday Anderson's pocketbook, containing a small sum of money and some checks, and the works of his watch were found in the ash heap where the ashpan of the engine was emptied. There is much mystery attending the case. One of his legs were missing and yesterday a leg was found in an open sewer near the river bank, at least 15 rods from the Grand Trunk yard. The limb must have been carried and thrown in the sewer, and there is strong suspicion of foul play. Anderson was known to have been visiting in Canada and had started for Cleveland. His son James of Cleveland has been notified and Coroner Morse of Drummondville has taken charge of the remains.

Veal Must Pay Duty.

A HOAXER'S WILD TRICK

THE ALLEGED JOKE OF A RAILWAY TELEGRAPHER.

There Was a Strike on a Branch of the Santa Fe Line and an Operator Wrote Out an Order, Forging the Signature Calling Out All Operators on the Main Line—A Serious Affair.

TOPEKA, KA., Oct. 18.—All the telegraph operators on the Santa Fe system, about 900 in all, struck yesterday in response to an order from Chief Ramsay of the Order of Railway Telegraphers. The trouble is on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railway in Texas, which is operated by the Santa Fe. The operators of the Texas line, several hundred, have had a schedule for increased wages before the officials, but the new schedule has not been allowed. The Santa Fe operators have struck in sympathy with the Texas operators. No trains are moving in Texas. The train despatchers on the Santa Fe proper are taking stock trains in transit to division points, where they will leave their keys also.

The M. P. Operators, Too.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17.—The telegraph operators on the Missouri Pacific railroad will, it is learned upon good authority, strike this afternoon.

RATHER A SERIOUS JOKE.

How a Joker Stopped the Working of a Great Railway.

TOPEKA, Oct. 18.—The great strike of the telegraphers of the Santa Fe Railway was the result of a hoax. The operators were informed by Chief Ramsay of their order at 9 o'clock last night that the order directing them to strike was a forgery.

The operators immediately returned to their keys, and the work of straightening out the tangle began. Operator Baker, after reading the accounts in the morning's papers of the strike on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe division of the Santa Fe system thought he would play a joke upon the manager of his office. He wrote a message ordering a strike and after signing Chief Ramsey's name to it laid it on manager Sweet's desk. It was sent out along the line and the alleged joke was complete. About 2000 operators stopped work. It was a serious piece of business for the Santa Fe road. For 12 hours their business was at a standstill and an immense amount of traffic was lost to it. O'Brien, the joker, has been discharged.

HE CAME HIGH.

And as He Didn't Prove Satisfactory She Had Him Arrested.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Charles A. White, representative of The London Illustrated News, was arrested in this city on Saturday charged with the embezzlement of $50,000. The charge is preferred by his wife, formerly Mrs. Nagle, who resides in Cheyenne, Wyo. White was taken to the Jefferson Market Court to-day and remanded; he will probably be extradicted to-morrow. White, in the first instance, was also charged by his wife with having kidnapped her 16-year-old son, George Nagle, with ulterior designs upon his fortune.

Telegraphic despatches were sent Supt. Byrnes by her attorneys that the lad was being secreted at the St. James Hotel in this city, and upon their subsequent corroboration by the Cheyenne chief of police, two detectives were detailed upon the case. When they called at the St. James for the lad, however, they learned that White had left for Rock Island, Ill., and that the boy had been sent to his mother.

This was about a month ago, and nothing was heard in the matter until Saturday, when the Sheriff of Cheyenne arrived with requisition papers and a warrant under which White was arrested on the embezzlement charge.

White, it appears, met Mrs. Nagle, a wealthy widow, about a year ago while both were visiting Hot Springs. The acquaintance soon culminated in marriage, and White, as Mrs. Nagle alleges, obtained from her shortly afterward, by threat and duress, $15,000 in cash and a promissory note for $75,000. In addition, he embezzled from her $40,000 worth of stocks and bonds, and immediately upon disposing of these White fled.

White alleges that his matrimonial consent was purchased for $100,000, of which but $15,000 was paid in cash; the remainder was to be paid as soon as the window could convert her securities. It was for the purpose of securing this balance, White says, that Mrs. Nagle gave him her note for $75,000 and ample collateral security.

A DISHONEST FREIGHT CLERK.

An Employe of the I. C. R. in Custody for Embezzlement.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 18.—Albert A. Dodge, cashier in the freight department of the I.C.R., was arrested this morning on the charge of embezzling about $5000 funds of the railway. Dodge is a young man, and has been 15 years in Government employ. His salary of $500 a year was not sufficient for his mode of living, his downfall being caused by his keeping company with fast women. He was arrested in a house of ill-fame. The whole amount was taken inside of a month. The police found $500 in his boarding-house, and a memorandum of the different amounts and dates on which they were taken. It is thought that the woman with whom he has been living may have part of the money in her possession.

FIGHTING IN AFRICA.

A Warlike Tribe Attack a German Station and Kill Many.

ZANZIBAR, Oct. 18.—Advices from the interior state that the Wahehe tribe, which last year massacred a German expedition, under Lieut. Von Zelwiska, killing 300 men, has just attacked the German station at Nipwapwa, on the road to Usagara. The Arab governor, two Germans and two British Indians were killed and many were wounded. It is reported the natives have made attacks on other European stations.

Backing for Jackson to Meet Corbett.

BOSTON, Oct. 18.—Capt. Cook of this city has received a telegram from The London Sportsman under date of Oct. 16, stating that the National Club of London offers £4000 for a glove contest between Champion James J. Corbett and Peter Jackson, and guarantees Jackson all the betting and backing that Corbett requires and will consent to any time for the meeting which the competitors may decide on, although preferring the end of spring or late in April. Capt. Cook has wired the telegram to Corbett.

SLAYER OF LEWD WOMEN

NEILL'S TRIAL BEGUN AT THE OLD BAILEY.

The Treasury Recognizes the Importance of the Case by Assigning Attorney-General Sir Charles Russell, Bernard Coleridge, H. Sutton and Mr. Gill to the Prosecution.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The trial of Thomas Neill, on charges of wilful murder in connection with what are known as the Lambeth poisoning cases, opened before Justice Hawkins yesterday in the Old Bailey. The Attorney-General, Sir Charles Russell, Bernhard Coleridge, H. Sutton and Mr. Gill appear on behalf of the Treasury, and the prisoner is defended be Mr. Georghan and H. Warburton.

The case excites intense interest. The prisoner walked composedly into the dock, whence he surveyed the crowd with an air of the greatest unconcern. The indictment charged Neill with having murdered Matilda Clover, Ellen Donworth, Alice Marsh and Emma Shrievell, attempting to poison Louisa Harvey or Harris, and attempting to blackmail Dr. Broadbent and Dr. Harper. Neill was asked to plead. He responded in a firm tone.

"Not guilty."

Sir Charles Russell said he did not think there was sufficient evidence to connect Neill with the murder of the Donworth girl, who had been found in a dying condition in Waterloo-road, but in justice to the prisoner the facts relating to that case, so far as known, would be stated. Sir Charles Russell began his speech at 1.30 and did not conclude until 3.45.

At 5 o'clock the court adjourned until to-morrow.

THE DUKE OF YORK'S VISIT.

But the Tour Will Not Be Made Until After His Marriage.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Speaking of the proposed visit of the Duke of York to the United States, the Prince of Wales is reported as having said:

"It will be a great pleasure to me to have my son make the acquaintance of the people in the great cities of America. I regard it as an absolute part of the education of British Princes to see and know the United States, and especially as heir to the throne.

"But the delicate state of the Duke of York's health and the importance of his life with reference to the dynasty, will necessitate postponing the tour until after his marriage and the succession is assured. Then he will go.

"My own memories of America are among the happiest of my life. I thought at the time of my trip American women were the prettiest in the world and I am of the same opinion still."

THE QUEEN IS ILL.

Tennyson's Death Said to Have Been a Shock to Her.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Queen Victoria is reported to be suffering from shock occasioned by the death of Lord Tennyson. She feels keenly the loss of the Poet Laureate. He was a favorite whom she always regarded as a friend.

In her letter to Lady Tennyson the mistress of Windsor said that all her dearest friends were passing away, leaving her isolated. Her Majesty has suffered, however, when death has visited friends and relatives, and she has been a mourner many times since the Prince Consort passed over to the great majority.

There are indications that Sir Theodore Martin will be appointed Tennyson's successor. It is understood that the Queen will, as a matter of form, secure Mr. Gladstone's advice before naming the new Post Laureate, but Martin will probably be honored.

A P. & O. STEAMER WRECKED.

The Bokhara Cast Away in the China Sea—Many Lives Lost.

HONG KONG, Oct. 18.—The Peninsular and Oriental steamship Bokhara has been totally wrecked. The steamship struck on a sand island of the group known as the Pescadores or Fisher's Islands, called Pheng Hoo by the Chinese, in the channel of Fokien in the China Sea. The weather was terrible, and the raging waters quenched the fires on the steamer. The steamer became unmanageable and sank, and the commander and a majority of the officers and crew were lost. Twenty-three persons only were saved. It is feared that those who were lost were mostly Europeans. The survivors will reach Hong Kong on Tuesday morning next. The steamship Ancona has proceeded to the scene of the wreck. The cargo of the Bokhara was a valuable one. It comprised a large amount of specie and a large consignment of silk.

Thirty-Four Saved.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 18.—It has been learned that 34 persons were saved from the ill-fated steamship Bokhara.

Mr. Gladstone's Eyesight.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Mr. Gladstone consulted the oculist, Dr. Granger, a few days ago on account of the condition of his eyesight, which has recently caused him much uneasiness. It will be remembered that during the general election in July last Mr. Gladstone was hit in the eye at Chester by a missile thrown by a woman. Although the effects of the injury seemed to have disappeared in a few days, it was believed that the eye was permanently damaged. Mr. Gladstone became so alarmed over the increasing weakness of his eyesight that he was easily persuaded to consult the oculist. Dr. Granger, after a careful examination, reported that he could detect only the slightest increase of opacity in the crystalline lense of the injured eye, and he assured Mr. Gladstone that he would retain good eyesight for many years to come. The doctor also declared that Mr. Gladstone was in excellent health.

THE PRIZE PUMPKINS.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly give me space to refer to a matter, that, while personal, affects the honour of the judges and directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition and which requires some explanation from the latter.

As you are no doubt aware Messrs. Grafton & Co. gave a special prize of a suit of clothes for the best two pumpkins exhibited at the Peterborough Exhibition. Among other entries was my own. After the judging was over I observed that no prize tickets were placed on the pumpkins and immediately called the the attention of the president to the matter and his reply was that the tickets may have been overlooked but the entry numbers were what guided the judges. Before leaving the grounds I took the entry number (117) of my pumpkins to Miss Collins, assistant secretary, and her reply was that it corresponded with the judge's books and that my pumpkins took the first prize. I left the pumpkins at Grafton's store on my way home as per the conditions of the prize (that they became the property of the donor). I waited for two weeks for the order from the secretary. However, to my astonishment, I was informed that the order for the clothes was given to Mr. H. C. Garbutt. In speaking with the president, his remarks do not coincide with the secretary's, and it is necessary for the good name of our exhibition that some explanation be given. My punpkins are so far superior to Mr. Garbutt's that no judge acting with any degree of honesty could do otherwise than grant me the prize, no matter how partial he might desire to be. As both my exhibit and Mr. Garbutt's are now on exhibition at Mr. Grafton's store, I leave the public to draw their own conclusions. I am satisfied to await the verdict of any unbiased farmer in the matter, or am willing to leave the matter to the donor of the prize, Mr. Grafton.

The honour and success of the Peterborough Exhibition can only be accomplished by fair dealing. I await the reply from the directors before saying anything further.

Yours truly,
ANDREW FAIRBAIRN.

NATURE'S TINTED GARB.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—During the month of August, the whole public was kept in ecstatic admiration of the beauties of scenery to be enjoyed by taking a short trip on any of several routes, for a day from Peterborough. But with the return of fall the whole rage for fresh air and scenic beauty fled from public thought. I think this a pity. I do think the impressions received from a trip around the lakes or down the river now, would not fade half as soon from the mind, as those obtained on a sultry day or in warmer weather, although it might have been more productive of personal comfort. Why, sir, just spend an hour on any fine day this week in walking to the top of the Armour Hill to the east of Ashburnham, and if you do not think with pleasure for months to come of the many beautiful scenes to be had from thence, I have only to say there is not much poetry in your make-up. Who can conceive of more beautiful landscape pictures than would be afforded almost any fine clear day this week by a trip around the lakes from Chemong to Peterborough? One would require, of course, to be prepared with comfortable clothing, and then the magnificently beautiful colouring of the woodland, islands and shore would have to be seen to be even partially appreciated. Who is the person or who are the parties to inaugurate an annual Indian summer excursion around the lakes or some other suitable direction?

Yours, etc.,
CITIZEN.

A SATISFACTORY CHOICE.

Sir James Mathew, President of the Evicted Tenants Commission.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—It is recognized on both sides of the political camp that Mr. Morley made a good move in appointing Justice Mathew to the presidency of the Royal Commission on evicted tenants in Ireland. Sir James is an Irishman, and a nephew of Father Mathew. He has never taken an active part in political life, but his friends well know he is a Liberal and a Home Ruler. So high is his reputation on the bench, so unimpeachable his integrity, that no whisper of dissent breathes over this ground. Justice Mathew was raised to the bench 11 years ago. Some surprise was expressed at the time, since he was at the junior bar, but the selection was abundantly justified. A Roman Catholic, he is the third judge of his faith appointed since the Catholic Emancipation. He is married to a daughter of a Kentish County vicar. It is understood that the commission gazetted last night will promptly get to work so as to be able to submit their report to the Cabinet in time for the ministers to meet Parliament with definite proposals on the subject.

WHEN WOMEN BOARD.

Time Hangs Heavily, Therefore They Are Prone to Gossip

Every woman ought to possess her own home, no matter how small or how grand it is. Still she should possess one place to call her own, and one which keeps her sufficiently employed to prevent her getting into mischief. That sounds, perhaps, a little harsh, but any truthful, observant person will coincide with the writer in pronouncing a boarding house a hotbed of gossip and imaginary ailments.

Women thus situated have not enough to do to keep them occupied. Their beds are made in the morning, their rooms dusted and their meals served with no planning on their part; therefore their days are given over to the ripping up of a gown, a few letters to write, perhaps a dressmaker in the house for a day or two spring and fall, and the remainder of their idle hours taken up in fancy work and visits to each others' rooms that result in untold gossip and imagination of bodily ailments. A new arrival furnishes food for conversation that lasts until the next one comes or someone already installed does something that the council of three or ten regards with disapproving eyes.

Her gowns, her jewels, her visitors and her domestic relations are touched upon with unsparing harshness. They sit in judgment on actions that they know nothing regarding their incentive, and condemn or extol according to the limitation of their own horizon, while if they were to be believed they are at the very verge of death, so numerous and changing are the ailments which they have ample time to note, though busier mortals endure or fail to notice at all symptoms which these women boarders magnify into terrifying complaints. If one needs rest then, indeed, is life in a boarding house an apt prescription, but for a healthy, active woman there can be nothing so positively deadening mentally and morally as the passive existence she is there forced to lead.—Philadelphia Times.

Pax Sine Pace.

Pause here, sure here is peace:
Noon, and the drowse of noon;
Waters in slumbrous tune;
Meadows with kine at ease;

Pools where clear waters flow—
Pools where the shining trout
Flicker; while in and out
Dackling the shadows go.

Smoothly the river glides
Seaward; through tangled grass
Swaying its waters pass;
Blue at its heart abides;

Blue of the placid sky;
Set in soft graces between
Green banks, and shadowed green
The great depths of heaven lie.

Lo! from its silver lair
Hunting the Summer-fly,
Gleaming a curve on high,
Glances a trout in air;

Lo! from the blossomed thorn
Swiftly on wings a-whirr
Flashes the kingfisher:
Straightway that trout is torn.

Peaceful this place you say?
Fool! it is red with strife;
Ruthless, and swift, and rife,
Slayers come here to slay.
—Good Words. Hamish Hendry.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Aphorisms.

There is no time in life when books do not influence a man.—Walter Besant.

The highest type of character is that which is made up of feelings so luminous that the man takes a more elevated path than he could ever do if he were bound down to rules and precedents.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A man's task is always light if his heart is light.—Lew Wallace.

Children sweeten labors, but they make misfortunes more bitter; they increase the cares of life, but they mitigate the remembrance of death.—Bacon.

The most certain sign of wisdom is a continual cheerfulness. Her state is like that of things in the regions above the moon, always clear and serene.—Montaigne.

The worthless and offensive members of society, whose existence is a social pest, invariably think themselves the most ill-used people alive, and never get over their astonishment at the ingratitude and selfishness of their contempories.—Emerson.

Like talks best with like, works best with like, and enjoys best with like; and it cannot help it.—J. G. Holland.

Avoid that which an enemy tells you to do; for if you follow his advice, you will smite your knees with the hand of sorrow. If he shows you a road straight as an arrow, turn from it and go the other way.—Saadi

Commerce in Africa.

The commercial outlook cannot as yet be measured statistically. But we reflect on a region directly affected of 150,000 to 200,000 square miles, with a still greater area to the north indirectly affected, and a population perhaps of 6,000,000 and already capable of indefinite augmentation—with a still greater population to the north—with a tropical climate and considerable rainfall—with a soil of varying fertility, yet fertile on a general average—with typical African products, such as ivory and india rubber and beeswax, known to be abundant—with at least two navigable rivers—all this connected with a mighty lake. Here, then, is a field of future commerce; here will spring up a demand for British manufactures. Let Lancashire and Yorkshire see to all this for the sake of their own prosperity.—Sir Richard Temple, in the Fortnightly Review.

A Graduate of Toronto University Says

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

A Deputation Come to Town.

Mayor W. J. Jacques, of Trenton, and several members of the Trenton town council were in Peterborough yesterday and registered at the Grand Central Hotel. Their mission here was to view our waterworks system and gain pointers as well as instructions in this line, as the town of Trenton has for some time been seriously contemplating constructing a first class system of waterworks. Mr. J. E. Belcher and Superintendent W. Henderson took the delegation in hand and showed them the system and pump house, and also the town. The visitors went away well pleased with both.

Fire, Water and Light Committee.

The members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee met last night and transacted some business. Complaints of electric lights going out and also of poor lights in various parts of the town have been made by several residents to members of the committee and others. The secretary of the Peterborough Light and Power Company was present and promised to see that the arc lights are kept burning all night. He stated the company intended furnishing the town with better light than ever. A complaint from the keeper of the stables to the committee was not dealt with but the matter was referred to the chief of the fire department to deal with. One or two accounts were passed when the committee adjourned.

Guy Bros.' Minstrel Company.

Guy Brothers, the noted elite minstrels, appeared at the opera house last evening to an exceedingly large house. The company furnished as good a minstrel show, in all its phases and specialites, as has ever been produced in Peterborough. Their songs, dances, jokes, tumbling, acting and personations were perfect and novel, immensely delighting the hundreds present. The trapeze artist was especially good, and executed some wonderful tumbling. The contortions, Indian club swinging, and acrobatic performing were taking features. The six Guy Brothers, who never fail to take a house by storm, concluded the performance by a laughable sketch "Trouble in the House." The vocal and terpsichorean numbers of the entertainment, and the superb music rendered were especially good. The minstrels left here this morning for Cannington.

THE THREE LINKED BRETHREN

Welcome Their Grand Master on His Official Visit to Otonabee Lodge Last Night—Address Delivered and Reception Tendered.

There was a very large gathering of Oddfellow in the rooms of Otonabee Lodge No 13, last evening it being the occasion of the official visit of Rev. T W. Jolliffe, of Bowmanville, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge I.O.O.F., for Ontario. The distinguished brother of "Friendship, Love and Truth" arrived at nine o'clock and was driven to the lodge room in company with Bro. J. Nugent, P. G. The Grand Master was received with grand honours in the usual form, and extended a cordial welcome by Bro. W. Patterson, N. G. Otonabee Lodge. The Grand Master then took his seat and watched attentively the work of the lodge team conferring the initiatory degree upon two candidates. Bro. T. W. Joliffe then delivered an eloquent and masterly exposition on Oddfellowship, which was listened to with rapt attention and heartily applauded at intervals. He congratulated the lodge on the fine work done by its degree team. He spoke of his duties as Grand Master and the different lodges in his jurisdiction which he had visited officially, and expressed the great pleasure to pay his first official visit to Otonabee lodge. The speaker thanked the brethren cordially for their reception. He answered conclusively the various objections raised against the Order and spoke at length upon the emblematic three links, "Friendship, Love and Truth," and dwelt upon the noble principles to which he referred in an able manner. He drew many lessons from the watchword of Oddfellows, referring to the ritual on which to found his remarks. At the close Bro. Dr. Bell, P.G. G. M., moved, seconded by Bro. T. W. Workman, a hearty vote of thanks to the speaker for his impressive address, to which Bro. Joliffe responded in a grateful mood. Short addresses were also added by Bro. R. J. Stewart, D.D.G.M., Norwood Lodge, Bro. Harris, P. G., Belleville Lodge, and Bro. A. McFarlane, P. G., Peterborough Lodge. Bro. D. H. Moore, P. G., and Grand Rep., was unable to be present owing to illness. At the close about eighty brethren repaired to the lodge dining room, and partook of a tasty spread provided by Bro. Hooper. Several songs were sung, and the happy gathering dispersed at 1.30 o'clock.

When about twenty miles this side of Chicago, his train, running at fifty miles an hour to make time, ran into an open switch and was derailed, but fortunately without serious injury. Mr. Walton escaped from his car by crawling through the window. Mr. Walton states that the World's Exposition buildings are "immense," and in their extent and beauty are even, as buildings, 'well worthy a visit to Chicago, to see. The Canadian buildings are large and splendid structures.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Oct. 18th.

At the police court this morning Percy Brundrette and Fred Adlum, the two youths who were remanded for sentence appeared. The magistrate addressed some earnest words to the youthful offenders and pointed out to them that the path which they were treading would soon place them behind prison bars for a longer period than probably they would care to stay. The boys had been before him on other occasions, and he would give them one more chance to reform and strive to do better by leading honest, industrious lives. He then allowed Brundrette and Adlum to go on suspended sentence, they agreeing to go to school regularly.

Richard Dwyer, of Douro, who on Tuesday last made a clumsy attempt to commit suicide by plunging in the river, was allowed to go by the magistrate, the prisoner promising to remain at home and desist hobnobbing with old man Bacchus in the future. Dwyer's son was present and promised to see that his father was taken care of.

Two young men were charged with attempting to develop their pugilistic attainments on George street on Friday night last. They pleaded guilty and were each fined $2 and costs.

Cheap Flannels at Thos. Kelly's.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. Thos. Kelly in another column, announcing the purchase of an extensive stock of flannel. The number of yards and the different grades are enumerated in his advertisement, and the prices at which this stock is offered would indicate that Mr. Kelly had made a very lucky purchase. Coming at this season of the year when the demand for flannel is at its best, housekeepers will certainly feel this to be a boon to them. Read the announcement and remember that these cheap flannels are only obtainable at THOS. KELLY'S, corner of George and Simcoe streets. 3d-1w

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better. Suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

THE BOARD OF HEALTH'S COMPLAINTS.

Mr. Pearse in his opening remarks to the members of the Board spoke as follows:

I have received a petition from 37 property owners and residents of the town adjacent to the Little Lake, in which it is stated that they (the petitioners) view with alarm the proposed sewer from the Edison Works into the Little Lake, as they are firmly convinced that it will be prejudical to health, and praying that the Board will take steps to stop the said sewer and prevent the lake being made a cesspool. Believing it to be the duty of this Board to not only enforce its resolution (based on the Provincial Act) in reference to the pollution of streams, but also to do all in its power to protect the health of its citizens. It was my intention to call a meeting of the Board of Health and urge on its members that it was the obvious duty of this Board to at once take action in the direction of complying with the reasonable request of the petitioners and suggesting to the Board that the directions given by Dr. Bryce in his letter of April 22nd be strictly enforced."

Mr. Pearse then read the letter in which the Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health says that the local Board may require of every one who has a drain discharging in the creek that there be placed at its end a coarse sand or fine gravel filter of a yard at least in extent at its mouth, through which the clarified water may pass into the stream. Such receiving filters ought to be divided into two parts so that each would have time to be aerated by being used alternately. Such must be covered and have a fresh air inlet low down and another deliving into the upper chamber. Mr. Pearse, continuing, said: With this intention I called at the office of Mr. Cobb, and he handed me a letter from Dr. Bryce, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, addressed to the secretary. Dr. Bryce states in his letter that he writes at the request of Mr. MacDougall, consulting engineer for the town, with regard to the probable difficulties arising from the construction of the Rink street sewer. Dr. Bryce, after stating that he observes that the temporary outfall, that is until the same can be connected with a system of sewerage, will be in a bay in the Little Lake, but that under no circumstances will such a disposal be permitted unless as a temporary relief, and that he presumes there is no doubt at all that not only the trunk sewer portion of the work be completed within a year, but that other parts, such as that on George street, will likewise be under construction. "Who the party is," said the chairman of the Board of Health, "who has such clear and prophetic knowledge of what the intention of the council, not yet elected, may be, I do not know. The present council by abandoning the arbitration respecting the right of way through Monaghan has I think clearly indicated that they have no intention to do anything more in the matter. I heartily wish that I could say that I feel assured that the work which Dr. Bryce is sanguine will be done within a year, would not be done in five years. The decision arrived at by the council committee on Friday last was that the Provincial Board in notifying this Board of its approval of the outlet for the Edison sewer had taken the matter out of the hands of this Board and that consequently this Board is powerless to take any action on the petition and it agreed to the calling of this meeting for the purpose of placing on record on the minutes of the Board a resolution to that effect. "It further seems to me" said Mr. Pearse "that this unhappy contingency might have been avoided had Dr. Bryce consulted this Board before allowing Mr. MacDougall to influence him in the matter. In this case the wishes of the residents of a quarter of the town which has an abnormally high death rate have been entirely disregarded notwithstanding the number of petitioners and the urgency of their petition, the committee of the Board have concluded that it is useless to go contrary to the Provincial Board, that body having without consulting the local Board granted permission to the town (at as it appears at the instigation of an employee of the town) to go on with this sewer. I suggest that this Board protest against the complete disregard of the dangers to the health and wishes of those who reside in the locality of the proposed outlet of this sewer."

THE COUNCIL HAS DONE ITS DUTY.

Mr. Pearse in the course of further conversational remarks, intimated that the council had not done its duty properly in the matter of sewerage and assisting the Board of Health to carry out its resolutions.

This called Mayor Kendry to his feet and the chief magistrate of the town launched out in a five minute speech, a vigorous vindication of the actions of the town in reference to sewerage. He said the town was not responsible, as had been charged by Mr. Pearse, for constructing the Edison sewer and depositing its contents in the lake. The town had a contract to complete with the company, and any one knew that if it was not carried out to the letter that the company would come on them for damages. The council had submitted a system of sewerage to the people, which they believed was the most perfect and complete system possible, and the best they could propose. The bylaw had been defeated by the apathy of the ratepayers, less than 25 per cent. of them taking any interest in the matter, and the fault, consequently, remained with the people and not with the council. He had voted for the sewerage scheme, and he ventured the assertion that all the members of the Board had not done so. It was their intention to make the sewer a part of the general system, but this they could not do, and what was it but for them to complete their contract? Mr. Kendry repeated that the citizens had no one to blame but themselves in this matter.

COUNCIL NEGLIGENT IN OTHER MATTERS

Mr. Pearse said he would repeat that the council had not done their duty. He did not mean in the matter of sewerge, but in other things that had engaged the attention of the Board. In the first place they had not helped the Board to carry out Dr. Bryce's instructions of placing a filter of coarse sand or gravel at the mouth of all private drains conneting with the creek. He had asked Chief Roszel if he would carry out the instructions of the Board re prosecuting all who used the George street drain and and creek for sewage purposes, and the sanitary inspector said that if it was a matter on which he deemed it right to seek advice from the council, he would do so. Some years ago they had passed a resolution to remove abbatoirs from the town, and the chief had not carried out their instructions in this either. The chief had two masters to serve, he was the servant of the council as well as the Board of Health, and hence when either of their interests conflicted, he was precluded from doing his duty as instructed by the Board. Concluding, Mr. Pearse remarked: "I know this council is not responsible for putting in the Edison sewer, but I say if the council would at all assist us we would make the Edison people retain their filth at their own premises as indicated by Dr. Bryce."

Mayor Kendry—We are carrying out our contract in constructing the sewer.

Mr. Pearse—Yes, you are carrying out a contract which you were not responsible for.

Mayor Kendry—The council know what they are doing in the matter. The Board of Health never tried to work in conjunction with us.

Mr. Pearse went on to explain how he had called a hasty meeting of the Board on the eve of a council meeting, and they had presented a memorial to the council, which was not taken into consideration. "But the council claimed," said the speaker, "they had other business to transact. They were making arrangements for a little entertainment and they took no notice of us. I think the least thing they could have done was to have considered matters if they did not act.

The Mayor—We met for special business, and a motion to take up other business was voted down, and how could we?

Mr. Perrse said they had met the committee and the matter of purchasing an ambulance and putting ventilation traps in the sewer was referred and recommended to the council, but that body had not considered these matters. It seemed as if anything coming from the Board was unworthy of notice.

Mayor Kendry—The council thought an ambulance was too expensive. We have ordered the sewer to be flushed, and the matter of traps is held over till next spring.

Mr. Pearse asked if the council intended to go on with the bylaw, why did they abandon the arbitration? The scheme might change, but the principle remained.

Mayor Kendry—To put matters correctly before you, I asked the town solicitor to be present. He will explain.

RESOLUTION TO PROVINCIAL BOARD.

Mr. Shortly urged his resolution at this juncture, and Mr. Edwards was not given a chance to speak. Mr. Shortly after some discussion moved, seconded by Mr. Hall the following resolution:

Whereas it is proposed to build a sewer from the Edison works emptying into Little Lake and whereas a petition has been received by the Board from a number of propery-holders and residents adjacent to the Little Lake in which they state that they view with alarm the prosposal to construct said sewer on the ground that it will be prejudicial to health and request this Board to take steps to prevent the Little Lake being made a cess pool and whereas the Provincial Board of Health has approved of said work under certain conditions, and thus taken the matter out of our hands, therefore this Board does not feel empowered to take any action re said petition, and that the secretary forward a copy of this resolution and petition to the Provincial Board of Health."

HE OPPOSES THE RESOLUTION.

Mayor Kendry was opposed to the resolution being sent to the Provincial Board of Health. The council and the Board of Health should work together in a matter like this; their interests were one. Passing such a resolution might be a very serious matter. If anything was sent to the Provincial Board of Health let it be the petition of ratepayers against the output of the sewer. The Board should refer this matter to the Provincial Board the same as they had done other similar matters.

Mr. Shortley's resolution was carried.

FILTER AT END OF EDISON SEWER.

The following resolution was moved by Dr. Fife, seconded by Dr. Brennan: that this Board suggest to Dr. Bryce that he confer with Mr. MacDougall, the engineer, to ascertain if a filter could be placed in the Edison sewer to prevent solid excreta passing into the river in the way suggested in a letter of Dr. Bryce, date April 27th, 1892, to the chairman of the Board.

Mr. Hall thought that the creek should be included in the resolution; more matter was deposited into dead water there than in the Edison sewer. The Provincial Board of Health had for a year been contemplating a complete system of sewerage for the town, and there was no use putting the town to the expense indicated by the resolution. The Provincial Board had taken charge of it, and let them take hold of the matter entirely.

The Mayor said it was the intention of the council to put a series of questions at election time before the people re sewerage system, purchase of waterworks, etc. The question was defeated last time because the people and council were divided on the issue. After some further conversational discussion the Board adjourned, Dr. Fife's motion remaining unput.

STORMS IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Enormous Damage Done Along the Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The storm that set in over Northern England, Scotland and Wales night before last threatens to cause as much damage as some of the phenomenal gales and rains that passed over the country last autumn. The telegraph lines are down in every direction, and communication with some of the coast towns is greatly interrupted. Tidings of disaster continue to be received, and loss of life by shipwreck is beginning to be reported.

The fishing yawl James A. Anderson was capsized Saturday in a heavy squall in the Firth of Forth, Scotland, into which she was putting for shelter. She had a crew of five men and all were drowned.

Much damage has been caused by the floods At Leeds the River Ayre has got out of its banks and overflowed the adjoining country. In some places the railways leading into the town are submerged. Houses in the lower portions of Leeds and in Holbrook and Hunslet, on the south side of the Ayre, have been flooded, and in many cases their occupants have left them, fearing that they might fall. A number of craft at various places along the coast have broken from their moorings and sunk.

At Malton, on the River Derwent, it has rained continuously for 40 hours, and the storm shows no sign of abatement. The Rye and Derwent rivers have overflowed, and the country for miles is inundated. Half the crops still unharvested are submerged, and vast areas of pasture land are impassable except in boats. Much alarm is felt at Doncaster at the rapid rise of the River Don, and every precaution is being taken against an overflow.

A later despatch says the water continues to pour in a flood over the banks of the River Derwent, and hundreds of the cattle and sheep that feed on the mosses are in great danger of being drowned. Large parties of men and boys are out driving live stock to other ground.

At Burham, which is nearly surrounded by the River Wear, the water is very high. The railway bridge has been swept away by the torrent, causing a heavy loss, and further damage is apprehended. When the bridge fell a freight train was just going on it, and the engine and loaded cars went to the bottom of the river. The train hands had sufficient warning of the impending disaster to make their escape.

The storm is also making itself felt in the Channel. The Deux Gamins, a French lugger, has been blown ashore on the island of Guernsey, where she broke up. All her crew were drowned.

At Wakefield, near Leeds, several people were injured by the explosion of gas in a hotel. The basement was flooded by the overflow from the River Wear, and it is supposed that the water displaced the metre, allowing the gas to escape. The house was completely wrecked. The injured were taken to the hospital.

Japanese Signs.

"The Japanese," says Eli Perkins, "have a mania for putting up English signs, and they flood your rooms at the hotels with English cards. And such English! The Japanese have no impressive mood, and they generally express an idea negatively that we express positively. One day I said to the waiter:

"Kishi, the rolls are cold."

"Yes," he said. "a good deal of not cooling the cakes is good."

A conspicions notice at the Kioto hotel reads:

"On the dining-time nobody shall be enter to the dining-room without the guests allow."

One of the articles in the municipal laws of Kioto reads:

"Any dealer shall be honestly by his trade. Of course the sold one shall prepare to make up for the safe package."

A Tokio dentist's circular reads:

"Our tooth is an important organ for human life and countenance, as you know; therefore when it is attack by disease or injury artificial tooth is also very useful. I am engaged in the dentistry and I will make for your purpose."

The printed label on the bottle of claret at Nikko reads:

"Weak man who is not so hard of his stomach takes notice of his health ever must use this wine usually."

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

A DRIVING ACCIDENT.

A Party of Ladies Thrown from a Carriage in a Runaway.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 14.—Whilst driving just outside the city at noon yesterday Mr. W. S. Watson, with a party of ladies, met with a serious accident. On descending a steep hill near Dunn's Bridge the pole slipped from the neckyoke, allowing the carriage to run on the horses and causing them to become unmanageable and run away. On reaching the foot of the hill the rig was overturned, throwing the occupants violently to the ground. Miss Downie, daughter of Rev. Mr. Downie of Berlin, had two ribs broken and Miss Fennel, also of Berlin, received a severe blow upon the head, which rendered her insensible, while Mr. Watson was dragged for some distance, the others escaping with a severe shock. The vehicle was badly wrecked.

An Election Petition Dismissed.

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 17.—Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock Justices Falconbridge and Street opened the court for the hearing of the North Perth election case. Outside of the court officials there was not a dozen spectators in the court room. Owing to the fact that a bill of particulars was not filed no evidence could be offered. The petition was dismissed without costs.

Threw away His Crutches—A True Account of a Remarkable Event.

STATEMET OF MR. M'NEE.

For eight years I was troubled with a sore on my leg which resulted from having it broken. The doctors kept me in bed five months trying to heal it up, but all to no purpose. I tried all sorts of liniments, salves, ointments, pills and blood medicines, but with no benefit. In 1883 it became so bad that I had to sit on one chair and keep my foot on another for four months. I could not put my foot on the ground or the blood would rush out in a stream and my leg swelled to twice its natural size. Eleven running sores developed on it, which reduced me to a living skeleton (I lost 70 pounds in four months. Friends advised me to go to the hospital, but I would not, for I knew that they would take my leg off. The doctor then wanted to split it open and scrape the bone, but I was too weak to stand the operation. One old lady said it had turned to black erysipelas, and could never be cured. I had never heard of Burdock Blood Bitters then, but I read of a minister, Rev. Mr. Stout, who had been cured of a severe abscess on the neck by B.B.B., after medical aid had failed, and I thought I would try it. I washed the leg with the Bitters, and took them according to directions. After using one bottle I could walk on crutches, after taking three I threw away the crutches, took a scythe and went to work in the field. At the end of the sixth bottle my leg was entirely healed up; pieces of loose bone had worked out of it and the cords came back to their natural places again. That was nine years ago and it has never broken out since. I can walk five miles to-day as fast as anyone, and all this I owe to B. B. B., which certainly saved my leg if not my life. I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Give B. B. B. a trial and it will cure you as it did me.

"August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction into your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money is yours, and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed. She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

An Enterprising Freeman.

A curious tale is told regarding Sir W. Harcourt's eyesight. A wily journalist wanted to know the truth about Sir William Harcourt's eyes. So he called on the right hon. gentleman's oculist, and pretending to need assistance, begged for an examination of his organs of vision. He described his symptoms minutely, and dropped the observation that he understood his friend Sir William Harcourt had put himself under the skilful treatment of so able a medical adviser. The oculist was puzzled after his examinations, and could only tell his patient to get a certain kind of spectacles, and to return to him somewhat later. "Good gracious!" exclaimed the wily one "you do not mean to tell me that my eyesight is as bad as Sir William Harcourt's?" "Oh, no," replied the simple oculist, "Sir William has already lost the sight of one eye, and the other is already affected." Chuckling the journalist paid his fee, bowed himself out, and was happy in the possession of exclusive information.

The Amateur Poet.

Of all the acquaintances one makes in this world the amateur poet is, to my thinking, the most objectionable. Of course in making this statement it is open for anyone to urge that it is a simple matter to get rid of objectionable acquaintances, but the parties who would say no know very little about poets. No one could give the cold shoulder to a poet—he wouldn't take it, and it's not always convenient to give him in charge of the police. I have the misfortune to live next door to one of these misguided men, and he has my very soul harrowed and ploughed into misery. I cannot shake him off. Every other evening he "just knockr off a little thing," and he comes to get my opinion of it. I'm not a critical judge of poetry, but I know what pleases me, and his doesn't. Such a versatile demon as he is too. He can rhyme about anything. If he takes a journey by train he is sure to come back with "Lines on a Railway Porter's Trousers," or "Ode to a Smoking Compartment."

Treat Critics With Silence.

Replies to critics are not usually judicious. A critic dispraises a book, as a rule, because he dislikes it, because there is a pre-established want of harmony and correspondence between his mind and the author's, because the contact of their intelligence is not agreeable, but clashing and discordant. He then seeks for the reasons of his antipathy, and states them in the form of general law, or taboos; but at bottom he is in the position of the poet who did not care for Dr. Fell. Thus there is no possibility of converting the critic by a reply. You cannot persude him that you have humor if you do not make him smile, nor that you excel in pathos if at your pathos he only grunts indignantly. So far, then, replies to reviewers are destined to be failures; but they may instruct the public, and illustrate the principles of criticism, and of literary art, these evanescent, these intangible principles. — National Review.

Extraction of Perfumes.

Six methods of extracting perfumes are known. The first is expression by means of a special press, which is applicable without too great loss of fruit skins rich in essential oils, such as orange and citron peel, previously grated. Another method is that of distillation, which consists of heating flowers with water in a boiler. The essential oil is volatilized and is condensed with the vapor of water in a worm and Florentine receiver. The water usually goes to the bottom and the oil floats. The oils of neroli, rose, patchouli, geranium, lavender, caraway, etc., are obtained in this way. The process is not applicable to the delicate perfumes of the mignonette and the violet, and for them recourse is had to maceration of the flowers in animal fat or mineral oils, which have the property of absorbing odorous substances, and are then washed in alcohol. The flowers are usually heated in the fat or the oil for a variable number of hours. For perfumes which cannot endure a high temperature the petals are placed between frames of glass coated with fat. This is the process of enfleurage. The pneumatic process, which consists in causing a current of perfumed air or carbonic acid to be absorbed by coatings of lard on glass plates, appears not to have given satisfactory results. Another process consists in dissolving perfumes in very volatile liquids, like sulphuret of carbon, chloroform, naphtha, ether, or chloride of methyl and volatilizing the solvents, which can be done at a low temperature in a vacuum. The last method has given very satisfactory results in the extreme delicacy and great accuracy of its returns.—Popular Science Monthly.

If you wish to secure a certain and speedy result, when using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, be careful in observing the rules of health, or the benefit may be retarded. A fair and persistent trial of this medicine never fails, when the directions are followed.

IF sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take. dw

"SIAMESE" TWINS FROM INDIA

Radica and Doddica, Two Little Girls to Be Seen in Chicago.

The new Siamese twins do not come from Siam. They are natives of Orissa, in India, and the following description is sent to the Pall Mall Budget by a correspondent who saw them in Poona. They are to appear in London previous to fulfilling their engagement at the world's fair, Chicago. The names of the children are Radica and Doddica. The two little girls are 3½ years old, and are really pretty children. The peculiarity of their connection is that there is a flexible bony attachment from breast to breast, and below this there is visceral connection. There is only one navel. The children were born in a caul. If food is given to one the other is satisfied, and if medicine is administered to the one the other is affected, but not to the same extent as to the one to which it was given. The most curious circumstance is that when a sentence is begun by one child the other frequently finishes it. When sleeping one child lies on her back and the other on her side, which gives an idea of the flexibility of the connection. The children are very good friends and seldom quarrel. For their age the twins are particularly intelligent. They have been taught English for the last three months, and although they do not speak more than a few simple words, they seem to understand it fairly well already. The twins have excited a good deal of interest among the medical profession in India, and there is little doubt that their appearance in London and in America will be welcomed by scientists no less than by the unscientific sightseer.

THE LAUREATESHIP.

The Nomination to the Post Rests With Her Majesty.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The demand that the office of Poet Laureate shall lapse grows in volume and in support from influential quarters. It is primarily based on the poverty of the materials at hand for the selection of a successor. Mr. Swinburne is, by common consent, first named, but there are circumstances connected with his life and published works that make the situation a little embarrassing. If the gift were in the hand of the Premier or controlled by the House of Commons the difficulty would be easily settled by making no appointment. It is the Queen who nominates to the post, which literally belongs to the Royal Household. Unless she has changed her view since it was last expressed, she will not sanction cutting off this ancient appanage of the court. There will certainly be another Poet Laureate, not improbably Sir Theodore Martin, whose claim to succeed the author of "In Memoriam," "The Idylls of the King," lies in the fact that he wrote the "Life of His Royal Highness the Prince Consort."

In the Same Boat With the Prince.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Land and Water, commenting Saturday upon Gladstone's absence from Lord Tennyson's funeral at Westminster Abbey, says that if Mr. Gladstone is so old that he cannot walk up the aisle of a well-warmed church he must be a great deal too old to be entrusted with the affairs of a great empire. The real cause of his absence, Land and Water adds, was his soreness at the Poet Laureate's denunciation of his Irish policy. The paper further adds that Mr. Gladstone this year omitted to pay a visit to Aldworth, Lord Tennyson's residence. This was the first time in many years that Mr. Gladstone had failed to visit the Poet Laureate.

A Significant Burglary.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—Burglars broke into the postoffice here Saturday and stole the night cash bag. It may be that money was the only object of the thieves, but it is significant that a number of letters, many of which were addressed to Lord Houghton, the Viceroy, Mr. John Morley, the Chief Secretary for Ireland, and other occupants of the Viceregal Lodge, were destroyed.

After Physicians Had Failed.

Mr. W. A. Mallory, of Mallorytown, Ont., says:—"My daughter suffered for years from a most distressing and annoying Catarrh. Her case was under the treatment of eminent physicians in the United States and Canada. Two months' use of Nasal Balm has had more beneficial effects than all former treatments combined. From all dealers or by mail, postpaid, at 50c. and $1 a bottle. G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

PAIN from indigestion, dyspepsia and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking Carter's Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this. dw

Never allow the bowels to remain constipated lest serious results ensue. National Pills are unsurpassed as a remedy for constipation. dw

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

RUINED FAR FROM HOME.

A Hamilton Woman's Plaint Against an Auburn Man.

HAMILTON, Oct. 18.—On July 14 Austin Devoe of Auburn, N.Y., came to Hamilton ostensibly to engage a servant girl. He called at a local registry office and after a couple of hours' negotiations he succeeded in hiring Sarah Baker. Devoe said he was a married man with a small family, and agreed to pay the woman $10 a month. The registry office man thinks that Devoe told him that his name was Vevoe, and that he lived at Auston, N.Y., which was named after his father.

Believing that everything was all right the woman went with Devoe. When she arrived at Auburn the first discovery she made was that Devoe was unmarried. It is alleged that when the man got her home he took advantage of her helpless position and accomplished her ruin. When Miss Barker got an opportunity she escaped, and was taken care of by a rich lady, who, after hearing her story, supplied the funds to prosecute Devoe. The Hamilton woman consulted a lawyer, who issued a writ for $5000 damages against Devoe.

The case is set down for trial at Auburn, N.Y., to-day, but it will likely be postponed until the January term. Last week Devoe was in the city obtaining evidence for his defence. He claims that it is a case of blackmail, and that the plaintiff is no better than she should be. Two Hamilton women, Mrs. Myall and Mrs. Merritt, have gone to Auburn to swear against Miss Baker, but their evidence will be contradicted by other Hamilton people, who will testify as to the woman's good character. It is claimed that Miss Baker was not only deceived, but she had her goods stolen and hired a detective to recover them.

The Report Confirmed.

PARIS, Oct. 18.—A despatch to The Temps from Zanzibar confirms the reported attack on the German station at Mywaywa. The Temps' despatch adds that the German commander and a large number of Arabs were killed. The Wahehas pillaged the station and took off with them large quantities of cloth. Many other goods were burned.

Ottawa Sports Suffer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—Ottawa sports got hit heavily over Saturday's lacrosse match. A good many thousand dollars changed hands. One Rideau-street merchant is credited with mortgaging his farm for a thousand, which all went on the Capitals, and the rumor was current last night that he has left town and will assign.

Over 11,000 Persons Were Present.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—The gross receipts of Saturday by the lacrosse match amounted to $4638.45. The expenses amounted to $715.45, leaving $3923 to be divided among the clubs. The total number of persons present within the gates was a little over 11,000.

HE BLOCKED THE TRAINS

The Freak of a Ribulous Operator at Dunkirk, N.Y.

DUNKIRK, N.Y., Oct. 18.—John Howell, the night operator in the Nickel Plate yard office, blocked the road last night, and the yards were jammed with freight cars which had been stopped by signals. When the day operator went on duty at 6 a.m. he found a note from Howell, in which the latter said he was tired of work and he would not come back.

Howell, it has been learned, left his office about 11 o'clock and went on a drunk. He had been drinking during the evening and boasted he was going to raise Cain with the road before morning. When he left he set the signals against all trains on both tracks and opened his telegraph keys.

It took several hours to clear the yards. The train dispatcher has been sending orders all night which had not been received. Howell has not been seen since he left the office.

Quarantined Her Voice.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A Vienna correspondent reported a singular occurrence resulting from the adoption of vigorous sanitary measures at Temesvar in Hungary.

The town authorities, anxious to ward off cholera, ordered that the theatre as well as other public buildings be thoroughly disinfected with chloride of lime.

The theatre stage was so soaked with the disinfectant that at Saturday night's performance all the members of an operatic company playing there were made ill by the fumes.

The prima donna broke down while singing an aria and was obliged to leave the theatre. The performance was then suspended.

A Turfman Gets Six Years.

COLUMBUS, S.C., Oct. 18.—The sensational trial of the well-known turfman, James H. Morrow, who was arrested at Rockville, Md., in August and brought here, charged with committing a criminal operation upon his sweetheart, Miss Collie Flower, a beautiful girl 18 years of age, who died in this city last July, came to an end Saturday. The jury, after being charged by Judge Wallace, retired at 11.50, and in 25 minutes returned with a verdict of guilty. Morrow was then sentenced to six years at hard labor in the penitentiary. An appeal was noted.

Funeral of the Late Mr. J. B. Traves.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 18.—The funeral of the late J. B. Traves was very largely attended. The Rev. Edwin Daniel, rector of St. John's Church, conducted the service at both the residence and the cemetery. The funeral was conducted by the officers of the Ontario Masonic Lodge, of which the deceased was a prominent member. Many members of the order were present from Cobourg, Millbrook, Peterboro, Newcastle, Orono and Bowmanville. The officers and members of Durham Lodge, I.O.O.F., of which institution Mr. Traves was a member, turned out in a body.

Suicide at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Ont., Oct. 18.—About 8 o'clock yesterday James Mitchell, Hope-street, a retired farmer, nearly 80 years of age, who has been ill for some time past and in a very despondent state of mind, committed suicide by cutting his throat from ear to ear. He leaves an aged widow, one daughter and several grandchildren.

The Alleged Perpetrator of the Murders at Newbliss is Arraigned and Makes Pleadings at Brockville—He Shows No Emotion and Appears to Take Matters Calmly.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Oct. 19.—At 3.45 yesterday the grand jury returned a true bill against Charles S. Lucky for murder. There was intense silence when Samuel Reynolds, clerk, was reading the finding. The judge ordered the prisoner to be brought up. In a few minutes he made his appearance in charge of Deputy Sheriff Smart and Constable Robertson. He carried a black Christy hat and walked with a steady step. He was not handcuffed and judging from the appearance of the man one would have thought he was being arraigned for nothing more than a common assault. After entering the docket he was in the act of sitting down when the clerk asked him to remain standing. Lucky faced the court with a steadfast eye. He appeared nervous, besides being very pale. The clerk read the indictment of wilfully murdering his father and asked:

"Are you guilty?"

Prisoner: I am not guilty.

Clerk: Are you ready to proceed with your trial?

Prisoner: "I am not ready."

To each of the three separate indictments he made similar replies in very broken tones. So much so that parties standing near the dock thought he would break down.

The prisoner still standing, his counsel John R. Lavell arose and said "Your Lordship, In the matter of the prisoner being charged with these indictments, I make application for a postponement of the trial, as the prisoner has not had sufficient time to prepare a defence for the trial.

Lucky watched Mr. Lavell during the time he made the above remarks.

His Lordship: "Mr. MacLennan, what have you to say to say to Mr. Lavell's motion."

Mr. Maclennan: "Having in view the fact that only ten days have elapsed since the murders were committed I think the prisoner should be granted a postponement. I therefore consent."

His Lordship: "I think so, too. A postponement is granted, but the prisoner will have to remain in jail until the next court."

Mr. Lavell—"The prisoner only asked for an adjournment after I brought considerable persuasion to bear upon him, and showed him the necessity for it."

When the prisoner stepped from the docket, closely watched by three officers, he held a short conversation with his counsel. He was then quickly taken down to the cells. Before passing out of the court room he gave an occasional glance towards the crowd of spectators.

A MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

The Man Was Not Murdered But Was Killed By the Cars.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 19.—Regarding the finding of John Anderson's body on the railway track, it has become known that he boarded a train going west from here shortly after midnight, but as he was on the wrong train the conductor put him off just outside of the freight yards with two negroes, who had no money. It is thought Anderson was intoxicated and continued to walk ahead on the track when he was met by the east-bound train about 3 o'clock and run over. The accident was not discovered at the time, however, but when the train reached here blood was seen spattered over the bottom of the cars. As the ash pan under the engine was being cleaned out at the roundhouse his pocket book and part of his watch were found in it.

Later on one of the man's legs was found near this end of the Suspension Bridge in a hole. It had probably been carried here by the engine and dropped near the track and afterwards dragged to the hole by a dog. It was first feared that Anderson might have met with foul play at the hands of the negroes, but they were seen fully 15 minutes before Anderson met the train going in another direction. Excepting the face and head, the body was torn to pieces and strewn along the track. Undertaker Morse took charge of the remains, but does not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. Anderson carried a $1000 policy with the Chosen Friends of Stony Creek, a place near Hamilton. He had two tickets from Hamilton to Buffalo and $2.65 in money. His relatives in Cleveland have been notified.

DETECTIVE PHAIR WILL DIE.

Efforts Made to Sustain His Vitality Until His Son Reaches Him.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 19.—Detective Phair may live for a day or two yet and every effort will be made to sustain vitality until his son James arrives from San Francisco. He is expected on Thursday but it is feared that he will be too late to see his father alive. All the dying man's near relatives are present. The victim remains unconscious. The effects of the inflammation are seen in the swollen condition of his body. Opiates are administered to deaden the pain.

Nothing more is known of the history of the prisoners beyond that they are confirmed crooks. Wilson admits that he has only done three weeks' work in eight years and has lived the rest of the time by thievery. As for Burke the fact that he was sent down for six months for burglary in Woodstock a couple of years ago is a sufficient indication of his character.

The Reform Candidate In Peel.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 19.—The Reformers of Peel met in convention yesterday to nominate a candidate in the interests of the Mowat Government to contest the county at the coming election, rendered necessary by the resignation of Mr. K. Chisholm, who has resigned after representing the county for 20 years to accept the appointment of County Registrar.

There were 150 delegates present every polling sub-division being represented J. Smith and J. C. Snell were the only gentlemen placed in nomination, and the choice of the convention fell upon Mr. Smith. It is expected the election will take place shortly, probably within a month.

Killed in a Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—During a glove fight in the rooms of the P. Garrigan Association William Neary, aged 21, was struck several times in the head and body by William McGarry. He became unconscious and was removed to his home. Medical aid was summoned, but Neary died shortly afterwards. McGarry was arrested.

G. T. R. HEADQUARTERS.

THE FORCE WILL BE CONCENTRATED AT MONTREAL.

The Reorganization Which Has Been in Progress for Some Time Has That Object in View.—The General Superintendent Will Have His Headquarters There.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—In an interview yesterday General Manager Seargeant set at rest the several rumors which have been floating around in connection with Chief Engineer Hannaford and his possible replacement by Mr. Joseph Hobson, the constructor of the St. Clair Tunnel.

"There is no truth whatever," said the General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, "in the rumors respecting Mr. Hannaford and Mr. Hobson. I have heard the reports floating around, and simply tell you that there is nothing of truth in them."

"What changes are in contemplation?"

"I will say this. On and after Nov. 1, Mr. Charles Stiff having retired from the position of superintendent of the southern division, Mr. James Stephenson will assume the duties of superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway system east of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers. His headquarters will be here in Montreal.

"Mr. W. R. Tiffin will be assistant superintendent of the western district, taking in the lines from Windsor to Niagara Falls, Buffalo, B. & G., L. H. and B. main line, Stratford to Sarnia, St. Mary's to London and Port Stanley, Harrisberg to Tilsonburg and the Welland, Sarnia, Petrolia and Allanburg branches. Mr. Tiffin's headquarters will be in London.

"Mr. D. Morrice will be assistant superintendent of the Central district, embracing the lines from Stratford to Belleville, Toronto to Hamilton, Port Dover to Georgetown and Wiarton and Harrisburg to Southampton, Kincardine and Durham, also Galt, Elmira, Harwood and South Norfolk branches and Toronto belt lines. Mr. Morrice's headquarters will be in Toronto.

"Mr. J. W. Webster will be assistant superintendent of the northern district, comprising the lines from Scarboro to Port Hope via Peterboro, Toronto to Nipissing Junction and branch lines to Midland, Coboconk, Haliburton, Lakefield, Jackson's Point, Madoc, Belleville, Penetang, Meaford, Georgetown, Collington and Whitby, with headquarters at Orillia.

"Mr. J. M. Riddell will be assistant superintendent of the eastern district, embracing the lines from Belleville to Portland and Point Levi, Montreal to Rouse's Point, Moore's Junction, Massena Springs and Valleyfield; also Kingston, Jacques Cartier, Doucets, Norway and Lewiston branches, with headquarters at Montreal.

"Mr. Peter Clark having retired from the position of assistant mechanical superintendent Mr. John W. Harkom's jurisdiction will be extended to the eastern district.

"Thus the line," continued Mr. Seargeant, "is divided as to assistant superintendents into western, central, northern and eastern districts, the whole under the superintendence of Mr. Stephenson. These are all the changes at present made and all statements with reference to Mr. Hannaford, Mr. Hobson and the changes at Belleville are only fallacious. There is no truth whatever in them."

"Touching Mr. Wragge's position."

"Mr. E. E. Wragge, local manager at Toronto, had hitherto the superintence of trains and the belt line. He has been relieved of these functions, but his other duties of a representative character in Toronto continue unchanged."

A CASE OF SEDUCTION.

A Peculiar Case At the Brockville Assizes.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 18.—Mulligan v. Thompson, a seduction case, was the first on the list at the Assizes Tuesday. When a jury had been sworn, Mr. Pepper, Q.C. for plaintiff, stated the facts of the case. He said the action was brought by Mrs. Mulligan against a young man named Thompson for the seduction of her daughter, Mrs. Catharine Clark, who was living with her mother when the alleged seduction took place.

The defendant is a storekeeper in Gananoque. The plaintiff came to his store to buy a pair of boots and was taken upstairs to try them on, when, it is alleged, the defendant seduced her. An unusual feature in connection with the case is that the daughter of the plaintiff is a married woman but does not live with her husband as they have formally separated. The child alleged to have been the result of the seduction was born five months after Mrs. Clark was married.

Mrs. Mulligan was the first witness sworn. She testified to being the mother of Mrs. Clark. She would not remember when Mr. and Mrs. Clark parted, further than she came to live with her when the separation took place. She knew the defendant. He keeps a store in Gananoque.

Mrs. Clark was the next witness. She said she was first married in 1890. Her child was over two years old. It was born after she was married.

The case then came to a sudden close by the judge refusing to hear evidence regarding the father of the child, seeing it was born after she was married.

The plaintiff's counsel cited several authorities in support of his case, but the judge would not listen to any and rendered the following judgment: "I direct that judgment be entered in this case on and after the fifth day of next Michaelmas sitting dismissing this action with costs if the court shall be of the opinion that I ought to have heard the evidence of Catharine Clark of non-access by her husband, and that someone other than her husband was the father of the child. The defendant consents that he shall be ordered to pay the costs of the motion in the interim."

Tuberculosis in Cattle.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Medical Health Officer Allen returned from Oshawa yesterday. He has been down in that neighborhood for some days investigating tuberculosis reported to be prevalent among some dairy cows there. The doctor only discovered one case. It was of a virulent type, and he ordered the infected animal to be slaughtered at once, which was done.

"The importance to us," said the doctor, "is that some of the dairies down there send their milk supply to this city."

Tore Down a British Flag.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Considerable excitement was created in Wall-street to-day by an unknown man, who tore down a British flag from the front office of the Bank of British North America and after destroying it walked away quietly.

A REPLY TO MR. DUMBLE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—As a contributor to the finances of the town to a considerable amount, I do not like to see Mr. Dumble's letter go unchallenged. While willing to give Mr. D. credit for wishing well to our schools, he, I think, must admit that the other members of the Board are just as much interested in the efficiency of our school system as he is, or can be. It is the first time that I have known Mr. Dumble to preach economy. In regard to making a position for a relative or friend, that is simply imagination of Mr. Dumble's brain. The men who are advocating the employing of an inspector to give his whole time to the work of our schools, are not the kind of men you find grinding axes. The action of the three gentlemen who, when they could not have their own way, lose the temper, and like silly children won't stay in the house, to my mind requires an inspector to give them a little discipline, or a good whipping and be put to bed, and not make a laughing stock of our school board to the world. So far as Dr. Tilley is concerned, if the action of the Board has injured him he has only his friends and himself to blame. If the schools are better to-day than they were three years ago, the ratepayers have the very men who are advocating the appointment of a new inspector to thank for it, and so far as I have heard (and I have taken some trouble to find out the feelings of the people in regard to this matter) the general answer of the public is that they hope Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Hill, Mr. McKee, Mr. Law, Dr. Burnham, and the others who supported them, will never rest satisfied till they have accomplished it.

THE LARGE MAJORITY OF THE CHILDREN

in our schools get only a common school education, and I say then in the interests of common justice let that be the best that can be had, and let the crying shame of our schools be abolished, that all children whether competent or incompetent, because through sickness or any other cause, they fail to pass at the examination, have to remain in the same room for another six months—six months of valuable time to both parent and pupil—before they can again get a chance for advancement. Let this be remedied. I will make as bold an assertion as Mr. Dumble—that there are more boys ruined by this stultifying system than would pay for a dozen inspectors, and if there was no other argument needed for the appointment of an inspector with power to pass pupils when sufficiently advanced, or so far advanced as to be a detriment to them to remain longer in their room, then this, to my mind, amply justifies Mr. Hamilton and his colleagues in the change they propose.

In reference to Mr. Dumble's sneer at shops and shop methods, only a man ignorant of what he is condemning would use such language in reference to the schools increasing in numbers and efficiency under Dr. Tilley. Give him credit for both, although the efficiency, I think, is due to better teachers and a better board of trustees. In reference to comparison with Lindsay schools, if reports are correct, the less said the better. In reference to our school law being the best in the world, it sounds big and does nobody any harm, still the Legislature is constantly amending it.

But the real kernel in Mr. Dumble's letter—and it is a well written letter from his standpoint—lies in this of the 15th: "Some of our teachers who were a little weak, under the kind and helpful assistance of the inspector, Dr. Tilley, and aided by the training he gives them, have become our best teachers."

This is coming to business like business men, but how Mr. Dumble can make this statement and take the stand he does is what I cannot understand, for, if the few hours given to each teacher by the present Inspector on his two or three visits during the year is of such a helpful nature in perfecting our teachers in the art of teaching, there is to my mind, only one conclusion to arrive at, namely that an Inspector giving his whole time to these duties would work marvels in our schools. There would be in the way of greater efficiency, more perfect teaching, better teachers, bringing teacher and pupil more into sympathy with each other, giving the teachers encouragement in their work and an ambition to excel, and if the Board can get such a man for $1500 per year, it would be the best spent money out of the large expenditure in connection with our schools. The teaching and the shaping of the destinies of our children are of far too serious a nature, Mr. Editor, to be counted by dollars and cents. In the interests of the rich as well as the poor, there is no teacher fit to teach, if he has all the learning and education of Christendom, who does not take an interest in the advancement of his pupils. And who is to judge in this matter? Not the trustees, but the Inspector, and what can an Inspector giving three weeks in a year know of this matter? It is unfair to the teachers in our schools who are doing their duty; and this can only be remedied by the Inspector being amongst them continually with aid and encouragement, with power to remedy. I am as much in favour of economy in our schools as Mr. Dumble or any of those gentlemen who went out with him, but not in a matter of such vital importance as this. It means that the making or unmaking of our boys and girls for life is in the hands, to a large extent, of the teachers in our Public Schools, and Mr. Hamilton and his colleagues deserve the thanks of all parents in their efforts to perfect our school system.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am
Your obedient servant,
W. H. MELDRUM.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

THERE is no article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. dw

THE PROTESTANT HOME.

The Annual Meeting Postponed Until Tuesday next—Notes on the Institution for the Poor and Helpless.

The annual meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Protestant Home was not held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Vernon, president, Miss Roper, secretary, and the other ladies were present, but owing to the auditors not having completed their work it was unanimously decided to adjourn and postpone the annual meeting until Tuesday afternoon next, at 3 o'clock, when the secretary's and business reports, as well as the other reports, will be presented, and the officers elected. Yesterday afternoon an EXAMINER man was shown through the Home by Miss Annie Launderville, assistant matron, and was much gratified to find the neat manner and careful methods after which the Home is kept. Everything is clean, neat and comfortable, and all that loving hands and individual interest and attention can do, is done for the comfort and convenience of the inmates. There are in the institution at present 15 aged and infirm inmates, ten of whom are old men, weighed down with the burdens of many heavy years. Some of these poor and helpless ones who are so tenderly cared for have been there for many years. The greatest number ever sheltered at the home was 28 and that some years ago when several emigrants sought protection. The health of the inmates during the past year, the matron states, has been good, very few suffering from any severe ailments. Two inmates have died during the year, one in May last. Last winter several inmates contracted the malady "la grippe" all at the same time and required considerable nursing and care which was cheerfully bestowed by the late lamented and respected matron, Mrs Dillon and her staff of kind assistants. Miss Eliza Launderville, neice of the late matron, and who has been identified with the Protestant Home for some four years was during the recent illness of Mrs. Dillon appointed matron by the directors and is acting in that capacity at present. The assistant matron appointed was her sister, Miss Annie Launderville. The late Mrs. Dillon's demise is deeply regretted by many with whom she was associated for years, and they probably feel more keenly than any the loss sustained in her departure. These aged ones are very lonesome and often give way to great grief so warm a place did Mrs. Dillon occupy in their thought and affections from years of supervision and attention to them.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR DUTY, DEAR MOTHER?

Are you doing your duty to your helpless infant, dear mother? Are you using every possible means to secure for your child health, strength and happiness?

Your are perhaps inclined to complain of your baby's crossness and bad temper. Let us assure you that this is owing to no fault of baby; the fault is yours, simply because baby is not properly fed. Its restlessness and bad temper arise from bad digestion. You are not feeding baby right; it asks for a food that it can relish and assimilate readily. If it could speak, it would say, "Give me Lactated Food."

This favourite Lactated Food is life and happiness to infants. They grow fast and sleep well when it is fed to them; all bad temper and peevishness will be forever banished.

Go dear mother, this very day, and procure a package of this life-giving food, and mark well the change it produces after it is used a few days.

The annual missionary committee meeting of the Bay of Quinte conference was continued and concluded yesterday afternoon in the George street Methodist church. The clergymen and laymen decided to hold their next annual meeting at Tweed in October, 1893.

The proceedings closed by Rev. T. W. Jolliffe moving and Rev. Wm. Burns seconding a hearty vote of thanks to the people of Peterborough for their reception of the members, and to Rev. Mr. Locke for the many kindnesses and attentions he had shown them.

The special committee of the Bay of Quinte Conference also met during the afternoon. Those present were: Rev. E. Roberts, chairman, Cobourg; T. J. Edmison, Belleville; S. J. Shorey, Napanee; O. R. Lamby, Wellington; John S. Clark, Brighton; T. W. Jolliffe, Bowmanville; Jos. Young, Markham; Wm. Burns, Oakwood; T. M. Campbell, Lindsay; Wm. Buchanan, Norwood; W. Johnston, Tweed; J. H. Watch, Oshawa. The committee sanctioned the license and passed a resolution to the effect that Mr. Dickson, an undergraduate in Arts, residing in Brighton, be given the Epsom circuit for work if required, the present pastor being ill now. A young man's appointment who is preaching at Wilberforce was also sanctioned. There have been no changes in circuits or vacancies occured in the conference since the meeting in June, when the draft of stations was made.

The laymen in convention met and selected Mr. J. A. Holgate, Foxboro, as representative to Central Missionary Branch of the Methodist church.

OUR GROWTH!

WITH just pride we point to the two words at the head of this article—our growth—one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town In 1885, we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George Street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase, and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January, 1890, the same untiring, persevering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds---to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George Street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough, for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us 'way back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry goods, to our present mammoth establishment, with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures, reaching to the ceiling. Last October, we treated our customers to an October Discount Sale. Now, we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over,

A DISCOUNT OF 5 PER CENT.

will be given. Remember the store, No 385 George Street.

Yours respectfully,

J. J. SHEEHY.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analysed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

Serenading the Officers.

Last evening the 57th Battalion band were out on a serenading expedition and serenaded two of the most popular officers of the 57th Battalion on recognition of their recent marriages. The musicians played several selections first in front of the residence of Lieut. Schofield, Aylmer street, and then visited the house of Capt. and Adjt. Denistoun on Water street. Both officers treated the members of the band in a handsome manner and gave the boys a hearty reception. An exceedingly pleasant time was spent at both places.

Rugby Rouges.

Word was received to-day in response to the challenge sent Trinity University, Toronto, stating that their Rugby team would be unable to play here this month, but that they hoped to be able to give Peterborough a game in November sometime.

Port Hope town team sent a letter this morning stating they would play Peterborough here on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 10th.

An answer is being awaited from Lindsay as to when they will play the return match with the home team.

The turnout to practice every afternoon now is not large. This should not be, as the Peterboroughs have some good matches to play yet and they should be in trim.

"The Cruiskeen Lawn."

The Empire of Oct. 18th, says of this great Irish comedy drama to be presented in Bradburn's Opera House, on Monday Oct. 24th:—That perennial success, Dan McCarthy's Irish comedy, "The Cruiskeen Lawn," is once again at the Toronto Opera House, and, as on former presentations, it is liberally patronized. The piece is so well known that no description of it need be given. Last evening's rendition was probably more thorough and artistic than its production last season. The extreme fervor of the dialogue was just as successful as ever in evoking applause. Its consummate villians and God-like heroes received the same deep attention from the audience. A novelty was introduced in the third act. Views of well-known pieces of Irish scenery were thrown on canvas, and these proved a popular innovation. Mr. Thomas J. Smith, as Dublin Dan, heads the company. Charles McNurney, an Irish piper, plays the comedy role of Paddy Miles most acceptably. Leonard Rowe, Robert Sheridan and R. F. Sullivan give splendid support. Miss Loi Ripley is the chirpy Nora McGuire, and Miss Grace Hamilton has the difficult role of Kate Carney to play. Maggie Leland is the prettiest widow the Toronto Opera House has seen for some time. The company is an extra strong one, and will do a good business. Matinees will be given to-day, Thursday and Friday.

A Midnight Alarm.

Shortly after eleven o'clock last night an alarm of fire was sounded. The scene of the incipient blaze was very near the fire station in a gangway back of China Hall on Simcoe street. Some evil disposed individual had touched a match to some straw which was lying in packing boxes, and caused a blaze. No damage was done and the brigade's services were not required. Happily the fire was discovered almost as soon as it was started, as the location is a dangerous one.

Salvation Army Volleys.

Commandant Booth and Brigadier Holland of Toronto, visited the local corps on Monday. In the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. parlour, the visiting officials held an officers' council with the officers of the district. In the evening a council of officers and soldiers was held. The councils resulted in much spiritual profit and mutual benefit.

Staff-Capt. McIntyre of Toronto, late in charge of the work in Newfoundland, and an old-time Salvationist, will be here on Saturday and Sunday next.

More Windmills Erected.

Mr. Geo. McWilliams and his staff of men have for the past three weeks been erecting a number of "Queen" windmills around Peterborough. Mr. McWilliams has put in one 36 foot tower for Mr. John Harrison of Asphodel, another, 32 foot tower, for Mr. Samuel Stewart of Cavan, and the third one for Mr. Robert Shaw, of Cavan, which draws water from a well 200 feet deep. This well has a 62 foot tower, making a draught of 262 feet in all. All of these mills have frost-proof drinking tanks attached and are working well.

A meeting will be held this afternoon to re-organize the glee club for the second season. This musical organization had a very successful year, and dispensed some fine glees.

Mr. F. Heap, M. A., will take part in the Keene public school Columbus entertainment.

A Horse-Buying Escapade.

A man by the name of Francois A. Mathieu drove to town on Monday from Haliburton with a horse which he bought. While here he sold the animal to Mr. Thos. Brady for $90. A man by the name of May, from Toronto, however, learning of the affair, appeared upon the scene at night about nine o'clock. It appears that Mr. May holds a chattel mortgage on the mare and efforts were made by Chief Roszel to locate Mathieu. Search was made at several of the hotels, but the man had gone, leaving a horse and buggy which he drove to town with at the Balmoral Hotel. Efforts are being made to effect the horse-seller's capture.

Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors.

The board of Y.M.C.A. directors held their monthly meeting last night at the rooms with a large attendance and president G. J. Early in the chair. The call of Mr. W. F. Chapman, Brantford, to the general secretaryship of the association here was ratified. Mr. Chapman's duties will begin on Nov. 1st, when a public reception will be tendered him. The organization is in a flourishing condition and several more young men will join it this month. The use of excellent baths and a well equipped gymnasium alone more than repays the member for the entrance fee, which is $4 per year.

MOVED AGAIN.

We are always on the move! We never let our goods stay long enough on the shelf to gather dust. Out they must go! For the present our headquarters for the great bankrupt stock of dry goods etc., will be just across the Arcade and opposite Garvey's. We are bound to make the goods move out faster than ever, if low prices will do it. Come early and get bargains.

Ashburnham Brevities.

It is understood that Mr. John Throop, grocer, has disposed of his business to Mr. H. S. Armstrong, who has leased his farm for a term of years, and intends taking up his residence in the village. He will probably take possession of his new business about the middle of November.

Miss M. Sheridan has occupied her pretty new cottage on Carlisle street.

Business is looking up in the village; there were two runaways to record yesterday. A horse belonging to Mr. Hugh McIndoo, butcher, ran away and battered the top of the buggy he was drawing. A team of horses owned by Mr. Smithson of Otonabee, were feeding from the waggon, and were frightened by a passing train, and made a lively race on Brown street.

A New Jewelry Shop.

A new jewelry shop has just been opened at No. 166 Simcoe street which will be carried on by A. Knowles. The stock of watches, clocks, and jewelry is varied and complete. An inspection of the goods is invited whether you wish to buy or not. If you wish your watch or clock repaired satisfactorily go to No. 166 Simcoe street, a few doors west of Fairweather's corner. Mr. G. B. Knowles, who is an expert watchmaker of several year's experience, has charge of this important department of the new business.

Exhibition Pianos Coming.

Two of the handsomest pianofortes ever brought into Peterborough will be on exhibition this week at the piano warerooms of Mr. J. W. Crosby, No. 404 George street. These instruments are from the well known piano factory of the Gerhard Heintzman Company, Toronto, and may be purchased at exceptionally low figures. It is no exaggeration to say that these pianos have no equal in Canada, and all interested should keep these facts in mind and make an engagement to see them and hear them at once at Crosby's.

A Coming Great Event.

Miss E. Pauline Johnson, the talented Indian poet reciter, so favourably known throughout the Dominion for her clever exhibitions will appear at the Opera House here on Monday, Oct. 31st, under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of George street Methodist church. Miss Johnson recites her own compositions. Here is what the Richmond Hill Liberal says:—"Her selections delighted the assemblage and she was encored after nearly every number. She possesses a great gift as an elocutionist and has a wonderful power of magnetism."

Curling Association Meet.

The annual meeting of the Ontario branch of the Royal Canadian Curling Association was held at the Walker House, Toronto, yesterday. Messrs. W. D. McIntosh, Keene; J. D. Flavelle, Lindsay, and E. B. Edwards, Peterborough, were in attendance. The name of the association was changed to the Ontario Curling Association. Mr. J. D. Flavelle was elected a member of the Executive Committee. It was agreed that the following plan of grouping clubs for the primary competition of the Ontario Tankard for 1892-93 be as follows: The following refers to Peterborough and dirtrict: No. 2 District—Stouffville, Uxbridge, Whitby, Peterborough, Orillia, Lindsay, umpire. No. 2 Listrict—Bobcaygeon, Lakefield, Millbrook, Campbellford, Keene, Port Perry, umpire; to be played mainly at Peterborough.

Our Daily Bread.

Mr. G. W. Lowe, representing E. W. Gillett of Chicago and Toronto, the well known manufacturer of "Imperial Baking Powder" and "Yeast Cakes" has been in town for several days and taken many orders for these goods. The exhaustive analysis of baking powders recently made by the Canadian and American Governments has not only shown "Imperial" to be one of the strongest and purest of cream of Tartar baking powders, but these Government reports severely condemn the use of alum baking powders as a dangerous injuriant to health. A word to the sensible housekeeper should be sufficient. All the so called cheap baking powders are composed of alum and phosphates. Ladies receiving the certificates now being distributed in Peterborough, on behalf of the Imperial Baking Powder, should make use of them. They will enable the holder to secure a 10c. can of the Powder for 5c. at any grocer's.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

DUCK-MURDER ON RICE LAKE.

The Depredations of Pot-Hunters—The Games Laws violated—Large Numbers of Ducks Slaughtered by Illicit Methods—The Depredators Driven Out.

Messrs. E. J. Hartley and J. B. Laroque, members of the Peterborough Gun club have returned from a few days duck shooting on Rice Lake—at Rainyy Point. They report ducks rather scarce this season, comparatively few having been shot by honest and legal methods. In conversation a representative of the EXAMINER, was told that the black duck is more plentiful this season than the "fall" duck, and that "pot-hunters" from Toronto had flagrantly violated the game laws. These poachers had, he was assured, bagged about four hundred by the most illicit practices. They were operating in illegal ways for nearly three weeks, almost unmolested, and their illicit spoil—estimated at 400 brace—has been shipped to Toronto for sale. The practices that helped these parties to consisted in the following violations of the game laws: Night shooting and the use of sneak boats placed behind "hides," which admitted of firing directly into the flocks in the feeding beds. The decoys were placed convenient to the "hides," and the duck was slaughtered by the score. These parties also used rafts and entered directly into the rice beds in their eagerness for spoil. These practices have nearly cleaned out the duck on Rice Lake. Mr. Hartley, when he became cognizant of these tallies, laid information against the perpetrators with Inspector Wedlock of Keene, but the parties took alarm and fled, it is supposed in the direction of Linday, presumably repeating the same depredations in the Scugog and other waters.

There are many duck hunters at Rice Lake—several members of the Toronto Game Club and some Americans. These are lawful sportsmen. The latter pay the government a license of $25 for the privilege of shooting the waters of Rice Lake.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Miss Drummond, of Newcastle, Addresses the Faithful Workers' Band in St. Paul's Church Last Evening.

There was a large attendance of the members of the Faithful Workers' Mission Band of St. Paul's Presbyterian church assembled in the lecture room last evening to listen to a missionary address from Miss Drummond, of Newcastle. Miss Hall, President, presided. The meeting opened with a hymn, prayer and the reading of Scriptural passages. The proceedings were informal throughout. The President then introduced Miss Drummond in a few earnest remarks. Miss Drummond is an enthusiastic worker in the cause of missions, and has addressed missionary meetings in Peterborough on two previous occasions. She is the energetic Secretary of the Whitby Presbyterial Society. Her address last evening was helpful and convincing. She spoke principally on "The Two Calls," basing her remarks on the Scriptural quotations, "Come over to Macedonia and help us,"—this being the first call—and "The Master cometh and calleth for thee,"—being the second call from the Heavenly Father. The speaker dwelt upon the millions of benighted people in heathen lands, perishing for the want of the Gospel; and the call of the still, small voice within us to work and labour in the cause of relieving their spiritual distress.

At the close Mrs. Fairbairn, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, spoke a few minutes, giving a refreshing address on Systematic Giving—laying aside a certain amount each week to be devoted to the cause of Christ.

Mrs. Rose and Miss Mary Paterson then sang a duet in a sympathetic manner, Miss Annie Cameron, accompanist.

A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Drummond for her powerful and explicit address. It was moved by Miss Walker and seconded by Miss Paterson.

A collection was then taken up and the meeting closed with a hymn and prayer.

HOW GOOD DAY GETS HIS BREATH.

Air Supplied to His Lungs by Means of an Artificial Tube.

Not many people who have seen the useful sprinter Good Day perform over the local tracks know that the pure free air is drawn into his lungs through an artificial tube in his throat. Royally bred, Good Day gave promise of great things early, but an attack of lung fever made him a hopeless roarer, and he was turned out as worthless. He fell into the hands of Dr. C. W.

THE TUBE DETACHED AND IN POSITION.

Crowley, a St. Louis veterinary surgeon and race horse owner, whose stable is now racing at Hawthorne, Dr. Crowley seemed to feel that Good Day was not lost to the turf and prepared to save him. Incisions were made into the throat and tracheal tube, and the horse began to breathe freely and easily. Two crescent-shaped tubes, scooped out like a shoehorn, were fitted into each other in such a way that one tube passes into the upper part of the treaches, while the other hangs into the lower part. The parts of the instrument that are visible are the shank of the larger horn and the flat, round disks at the outer ends of the horns, snugly fitting against each other so that they look like one disk, three inches in diameter, with an aperture as big as a nickel, through which the air is carried to the lungs. Any one seeing Good Day in his mad flight up the stretch would never know but that he was as sound as the struggling beast behind him.

Dr. Crowley wanted to perform the same operation on El Rio Rey some few years back, and could have saved that grand horse to the turf, but Theodore Winters would not allow it.—Chicago Tribune.

"Catholics First, Americans Afterward."

NEWARK, N.J., Oct. 18.—A sensation was caused at the convention of Catholic societies at the Catholic Institute yesterday when the question of the carrying of flags in the coming Columbus celebration on Oct. 21 came up. A motion had been made to allow certain societies to carry any national flag they desired if they preceded it by an American flag.

Ex-Ald. John Brudder of Harrison arose to his feet and said impressively: "We should have the papal flag first. We are Catholics first and Americans afterwards." An impressive silence followed the remark and no notice was taken of it.

An Orillia Man Drowned in a Well.

ORILLIA, Ont., Oct. 18.—Mr. Thomas D. Moose, a prominent resident of this place, lost his life in a somewhat peculiar manner yesterday. He was fixing his pump when he fell head foremost into the well, which was so narrow that he could not turn, and he was drowned in a few minutes. His wife witnessed the accident and alarmed the neighbors, but too late to render any assistance to the unfortunate man.

Another Long Distance Proposed.

VIENNA, Oct. 18.—The Tageblatt says that a proposition has been made to have a race between Vienna and Rome similar to the one recently run between Vienna and Berlin. The riders will be military officers, and the same conditions as governed the Vienna-Berlin race will apply. The proposal is meeting with warm support.

The principal money prizes in the Vienna-Berlin race were awarded as follows: Lieut. Count Starhemberg, Austrian, $5000; Lieut. Baron Von Reirzenstein, German, $2500; Lieut. Von Miklos, Hungarian, $1500; Lieut. Hofer, Austrian, $1125; Lieut. Csavossy, Hungarian, $075.

What Laboring Men Should Remember.

There are two fundamental principles which members of labor unions are most apt to forget, but which as Americans they should constantly have in their minds. One is, that if one man has a right to labor, so has another. The assertion that a man who does not belong to a labor union has no right to accept work on conditions which a member of a union will not accept, goes against the very essence of that freedom which forms the vitality of our whole political system. The other principle is that the worker is entitled to reward according to the quantity and quality of his work. Some labor unions have made it their policy to secure to the inferior worker a chance equal to that of the superior by discouraging superior efficiency. This policy strikes at the very roots of civilization, for when the skilful, the industrious, the provident, may look for no better chance of reward or advancement in life than the unskilful, the shiftless, the improvident, one of the main incitements to progressive exertion is taken away, and civilization will come to a standstill. Prudent workingmen will take this into serious consideration, and carefully avoid conflicts in which they would be on the distinctly un-American side.—Harper's Weekly.

Threw away His Crutches—A True Account of a Remarkable Event.

STATEMET OF MR. M'NEE.

For eight years I was troubled with a sore on my leg which resulted from having it broken. The doctors kept me in bed five months trying to heal it up, but all to no purpose. I tried all sorts of liniments, salves, ointments, pills and blood medicines, but with no benefit. In 1883 it became so bad that I had to sit on one chair and keep my foot on another for four months. I could not put my foot on the ground or the blood would rush out in a stream and my leg swelled to twice its natural size. Eleven running sores developed on it, which reduced me to a living skeleton (I lost 70 pounds in four months. Friends advised me to go to the hospital, but I would not, for I knew that they would take my leg off. The doctor then wanted to split it open and scrape the bone, but I was too weak to stand the operation. One old lady said it had turned to black erysipelas, and could never be cured. I had never heard of Burdock Blood Bitters then, but I read of a minister, Rev. Mr. Stout, who had been cured of a severe abscess on the neck by B.B.B., after medical aid had failed, and I thought I would try it. I washed the leg with the Bitters, and took them according to directions. After using one bottle I could walk on crutches, after taking three I threw away the crutches, took a scythe and went to work in the field. At the end of the sixth bottle my leg was entirely healed up; pieces of loose bone had worked out of it and the cords came back to their natural places again. That was nine years ago and it has never broken out since. I can walk five miles to-day as fast as anyone, and all this I owe to B. B. B., which certainly saved my leg if not my life. I cheerfully recommend it to all sufferers. Give B. B. B. a trial and it will cure you as it did me.

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." REV. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M.E. Conference, April 25, '90.

The Bicycle the Fastest.

There is no longer any question, says the New York Times, that a man can go faster on a bicycle than on any other contrivance depending upon his efforts alone. Ice skating was formally considered the swiftest way for a man to propel himself, but the bicycle has outdone skater, and now stands far ahead of any other means of propulsion.

Young Johnston's feat may or may not stand as an authentic record. Experts will have to consider all the conditions of the trial and be convinced that the timing was accurate and everything as represented in the despatches before they will place the time on their record books, but even the approved 2.06 4-5 made by A. A. Zimmerman is fast enough to show the phenomenal development of speed this season.

The following table shows the world's records for one mile by various methods of progression :

Bicycling in 1892.

This has been altogether a remarkable bicycling year; indeed, there has been no year since the cycle became a racing machine that has witnessed so many broken records and such wonderful riding. The record-breaking began early in the season, and while Zimmerman was astonishing the Britishers, cyclists where not idle on this side. The new triple machine was given its first trial July 4th, for a mile, with Messrs. Berlo, M.A.C.; George Banker, M.A.C; and W. W. Taxis, A.C.S.N., on the saddles. They are all fast riders, but had never had any practice on the machine, and yet, without pacemakers, they covered a mile in 2.14 4-5 which at that time rode their first quarter in 32 seconds, or at the rate of a mile in 2.08. The last quarter was ridden in 31 4-5 seconds, which if sustained would have placed the time at 2.07 1-5. Since that day Zimmerman has made his wonderful mile, and it seems now as if three men were to practice, they should bring the time down to 2.05 at least.

On the same day Arthur E. Lumsden, a Chicago racer, rode a half-mile in 1.03 3-5, beating Zimmerman's 1.05 made at Herne Hill. And July 15th, Harry Tyler rode a quarter flying start, in 28 2-5 seconds, which lowered all records previously made, including Berlo's 28 2-5. Since then Zimmerman's 27 seconds seems to place the record at the lowest notch.—Harper's Weekly.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, ONT., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—An important test took place Saturday at the naval proving ground at Indian Head. The subject was an armor plate 14 inches thick, made of nickel steel by the Bethlehem Steel Company. It is one of the heaviest plates yet forged, and is a type of the armor to be used on the battleships. This plate was subjected to the attack of a 13-inch naval rifled gun capable of piercing about 15 inches of solid steel, yet the new compound nickel steel 14-inch plate successfully resisted all of the projectiles, which were demolished.

TOPEKA, Ks., Oct. 18.—The following despatch was received yesterday from Grand Chief Ramsey of the O.R.T. now in St. Louis:

"To all operators and despatchers.

"In view of the fact that the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe is operated by the Santa Fe proper, it is thought best that all operators on the Santa Fe should go out as well, as the company refuses to concede the conditions of the G., C. and S. F. schedule."

All trains have been stopped and the road will be tied up until the difficulty can be settled in some way. There are 25 men employed in the Santa Fe general office here and seven train despatchers. The men declared immediately after the strike that 300 operators employed on the St. Louis and San Francisco and the 500 employed by the Atlantic and Pacific would strike unless the Santa Fe came to time.

Quietly Wedded at Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Oct. 18.—At 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon there was a quiet wedding at Highfield, the residence of the late Senator Turner. The bride was Miss Alice Turner, and the groom was Walter Brown of New York. There were no bridesmaids or best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Fletcher, and only the immediate relatives were present, no guests being invited. It was the desire of the family that the marriage should be celebrated as simply as possible. The bride is the third daughter of the late senator. Mr. Brown is the son of a former well-known citizen, John Brown, who was at one time a member of the large wholesale firm of McKay, Brown & McKenzie. He holds the position of auditor of the Metropolitan Telephone Company of New York. After the ceremony the young couple left for the east on their marriage trip.

Had for the Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The St. James' Gazette says an American bullock slaughtered at Deptford a few days ago was found to have been suffering with pleuro-pneumonia in an aggravated form.

Suffocated in a Mine.

PALMERO, Oct. 18.—Six miners were overcome by damp in Duero yesterday. Two gendarmes and a woman, who attempted to rescue the miners, were also overcome. All perished.

After Physicians Had Failed.

Mr. W. A. Mallory, of Mallorytown, Ont., says:—"My daughter suffered for years from a most distressing and annoying Catarrh. Her case was under the treatment of eminent physicians in the United States and Canada. Two months' use of Nasal Balm has had more beneficial effects than all former treatments combined. From all dealers or by mail, postpaid, at 50c. and $1 a bottle. G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1. dw

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvey affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flaks. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing, Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

THE POISONER'S TRIAL.

CONTINUATION OF THE EVIDENCE AGAINST NEILL.

Prisoner's Counsel is Regarded as a Very Able Man, Who Will Make a Strong Fight for His Client's Life—Neill Takes Matters Coolly, But Watches the Witnesses Intently.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Neill case excites the most intense interest and the court room was crowded, many of the audience being young women of the class to which the alleged victims of Neill belonged.

Lord Mayor Evans and the sheriffs of London sat on the bench beside Justice Hawkins. Scattered here and there about the court room were a number of fashionably dressed ladies, who were evidently attracted to the scene by morbid curiosity. As Neill sat in the dock it was seen that his beard and mustache had grown abundantly, greatly improving his appearance; but his face, nevertheless, betrayed an unhealthy paleness. This may, however, have been due in a great measure to his confinement while awaiting trial.

As the trial proceeded a slight nervous twitching was discernible at the corners of his mouth. He wore colored glasses. When he pleaded to the indictment his voice betrayed no tremulousness, his tone being clear and firm. His characteristic coolness was shown when, after saying that he was not guilty, he moved the chair in which he had been sitting in the middle of the dock to the end, where he sat down without waiting for the judge's permission. The angle of the dock and the back of the chair made a comfortable corner, and here Neill sat listening intently to Sir Charles Russell's speech, all the while shading his eyes with his hand.

Sir Charles said he did not think there was sufficient evidence to connect Neill with the murder of the Donworth girl, who had been found in a dying condition in Waterloo road. But in justice to the prisoner the facts relating to this case so far as known would be stated.

Sir Charles said that among the witnesses for the prosecution were two girls named Masters and May who saw Neill enter the lodgings occupied by the Clover girl. They knew Neill so well that the jury would have no doubt on hearing their evidence that there was no room to dispute his complete identification.

Neill, who followed the Clover girl into her room, left the house later in the evening, but he (Sir Charles) wished to say that there was no direct evidence that they met again that evening. The girl left the house also, and returned at 3 o'clock the next morning, when she died.

Sir Charles added that he wished to emphasize the fact that Neill asked his landlady's daughter to ascertain if the Clover girl had died from the effects of poison at a time when no one suspected that she had been poisoned. Neill had also charged Dr. Broadbent with poisoning the girl with strychnine, when nobody except the murderer knew that strychnine had been employed to kill her.

Sir Charles then gave many details of Neill's visit to America and his friendship on his return to London with Haynes, who acted as a spy on Neill's actions. Neill told Haynes that the son of Dr. Harper had poisoned Louisa Harvey, who, Sir Charles continued, was alive and would give evidence against the prisoner.

Some of the Evidence.

Edward Levi identified Neill as a physician he had known in Chicago, Ill.

Elizabeth Masters was called and sworn. She testified that she was a married woman, separated from her husband. On a Tuesday night at the beginning of October last year she remembered a gentleman speaking to her at Ludgate Hill. She went into the King Lud public house with him, and from there to Orient Buildings, Hercules-road. She recognized the prisoner as the man. She then went to Gatti's Music Hall, and while there saw a friend of hers named Elizabeth May. The prisoner wore a flat top felt hat and had on a waterproof. While at Gatti's he told her that he was a student at St. Thomas' Hospital, and that he had come from abroad. He showed her two photographs, one of which he said was of his father and the other of his mother. He took off his hat to show her that he was like the photograph. She looked at him and noticed that he was cross-eyed, and that he was bald. He told her that he was staying at a hotel in Fleet-street. After the performance was over the witness, the prisoner and May left the music hall together and rode to Ludgate Circus. Neill said he would write to her in a few days when he was settled, and took down her address. He said he was going to leave the hotel and take some rooms.

Following a Girl.

On the following Friday she received a letter from him. She showed the letter to Elizabeth May. She kept it for some time and then destroyed it. The letter said he would call between 3 and 5 that afternoon and would expect to see the letter when he came, and that she was not to destroy it. About 3 o'clock that afternoon the witness and May were looking out of the window and saw the prisoner coming along the pathway. There was no name on the letter, but only initials. The prisoner was dressed in a dark suit and had on a silk hat. He then appeared to be following a girl. The girl had a white apron on with straps across the shoulders, was carrying a basket and was walking toward Lambeth-road. She knew the girl by sight, having often seen her pass the house. She saw the girl look back and smile at the prisoner. A photograph of Matilda Clover was here shown to the witness and she identified it as the picture of the girl she saw the prisoner following.

Continuing the witness said that she and May went down to the street to what Neill did, and they followed him and the girl. She saw the girl go to No. 27 Lambeth-road. She stood at the door with the handle in her hand and waited for the prisoner, who went up to the door and went in with her. The witness and May waited for about half an hour to see if he came out. He did not, however, come out, and they went away. She did not again see the prisoner, but her friend May spoke to her about him.

Shortly after she heard of the death of the girl, whose name she learned was Matilda Clover. That was about a fortnight or three weeks after she saw Neill following her. The next time she saw him was at the Police Court. She had never seen the girl, who lived at No. 27 Lambeth-road, under the influence of drink. She heard at the time what it was said she had died from. She heard nothing about strychnine until shortly before the inquest.

Before the trial began Neill was visited by his solicitor, Mr. Waters. Neill was in good spirits, and declared that he believed he would be cleared without a doubt.

Mr. Geoghegan, Neill's counsel, is a man of great skill, and is a well-known figure in criminal cases.

The next witness was John G. Kirkby, assistant to Mr. Priest, a chemist. He testified that about the beginning of October last he made the acquaintance of Neill, who said he was a student at St. Thomas Hospital. The prisoner had since purchased nux vomica of him on several occasions.

Dr. Graham, who attended Matilda Clover, testified to the facts of her illness. He was called in to prescribe to counteract the effects of hard drinking.

The questions put to the witness appeared to indicate that the defence intend to dispute the charge that the Clover girl was poisoned with strychnine as charged.

Emily Sleaper, daughter of Neill's landlady, testified that Neill habitually took opium. Dr. Thomas Stevenson testified to having discovered traces of strychnine in the intestines of the exhumed body of Matilda clover. The symptoms of her death, as recited to him, were consistent with both strychnine poisoning or delirium tremens. After examining a few minor witnesses the court adjourned.

Mangled Under the Wheels.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—Yesterday morning Thomas Mahon, a G. T. R. brakeman, fell between two cars of a train about a mile west of Stony Creek, and was killed. Mahon was not missed until the train arrived at Merritton, when the conductor telegraphed to Stony Creek, asking that a search be made for the missing man. Telegraph Operator Jones of Stony Creek went back along the track and found the body. It was frightfully mangled. It had been run over by several cars of the train from which Mahon fell, and also by another train which followed.

The unfortunate man's home was in London, and the remains were taken to that city this morning. It was decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

The Eight-Hour Movement.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—The Bricklayers' Union of this city will establish an eight-hour work-day on Nov. 1. This is the first branch of the building trades in Massachusetts to obtain the eight hour work-day. The men, in order to gain their object without a strike, have agreed to sacrifice one hour's pay.

OFFENSIVE ECZEMA

Suffered Terribly. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Cured in Four Weeks by Cuticura.

I have a boy, fifteen years old, born in Fishkill, portrait enclosed, who had the eczema so offensive that I could not stay in the room with him. The poor boy suffered terribly. His feet were terribly sore, he could not wear any shoes, and had therefore to stay at home from school. When he put on repair of dry stockings in the morning, they would in one hour be saturated with moisture and very offensive even in the coldest weather. The disease began to spread over his body, especially his hands and fingers. The thumbs on both his hands became stiff and as useless as two withered sticks of wood. It would be useless for me to try to tell the suffering this boy endured. I took him to two different doctors, both gave him lots of medicine, but all to no use. He grew worse. I therefore despaired of ever having him cured. One day I saw the great benefits promised to those who would use CUTICURA REMEDIES. I went right away to the drug store and bought them. I must confess I had but little faith in them. However I used them according to directions, and to-day I say truthfully to all the world, if you wish to publish it, that my son is entirely cured, thank God and thank the discoverers of CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cured him in four weeks as sound as a gold dollar.

CHICAGO'S VAST CROWD

WAITING FOR THE DEDICATORY CEREMONIES.

The City a Great Hive of Humanity Gathered From All Parts of the Country—A Reception at the Auditorium—Roman Catholic Dignitaries Received With Honors.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A city filled with people, brilliant with lights, alive with the impulse of an anniversary which none now living will see again, is Chicago last night. The inauguration of the World's Columbian exhibition festivities was marked to-night by a brilliant reception and ball in the great hall of the Auditorium. On behalf of the other patrons and of the patronesses of the ball, Major-Gen. Miles, Mayor Washburne, H. K. Fairbank, George M. Pullman and Marshall Field had invited 4000 citizens of various states to participate in a reception tendered to the President, Vice-President and ex-Presidents of the United States, the representatives of foreign Governments, Governors of states and territories and other distinguished guests. Thousands of electric lamps were reflected in the lake from the towering buildings, and Michigan-avenue was alive with people content to stand closely packed for hours viewing the notables as they arrived to attend the reception.

In the Auditorium building the great steel fire curtain of the stage had been lifted and the stage flooring had been extended over the entire orchestra pit. Behind the proscenium arch the lower tier of boxes had been extended in a circle around the rear of the stage. Above this temporary circle of boxes at its centre were four other boxes occupied by the orchestra. A silken banner of the Spanish royalty was suspended directly over the centre of the stage. It had a cross in its middle and around that were the initials and arms of Ferdinand and Isabella. On either side and immediately over the boxes were 10 banners in bunting, each containing the initials of the King and Queen of Spain in the time of Columbus. The panel in front of the organ and between the boxes and proscenium arch was decorated with a large United States shield surmounted by a stand of colors, the Stars and Stripes in the middle and flanked by the flags of all the American republics. The corresponding panel on the opposite side bore the shield of Spain, surmounted by the Spanish colors. In this were shown the flags of every nation in the Old World, the colors of Spain and Italy being given preference in the arrangements.

From Alabama wild smilax had been brought, a car load in all, to festoon the face of the balcony and gallery. It was hung in festoons in front of all the boxes and along the balcony and gallery front. This was caught up with alternate rosets of red and yellow ribbon. Above the panels at either side of the proscenium arch were banks of palms and ferns. In the centre section of the main balcony, entirely hidden from view by ferns and other potted planted, Sousa's military band was at 9 o'clock waiting to furnish music for the grand march.

Great Crowds in the Street.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The trains bearing the Cabinet officers, members of the Supreme Court and foreign diplomats arrived shortly before noon, and the distinguished visitors were tendered a royal reception by the city, state officials and the general public. The city is already filled to overflowing, yet hundreds are arriving every hour. Every hotel, boarding house and lodging house is full. The sidewalks are almost impassable. What will be done with to-morrow's crowd is a grave question, as thousands will have to sleep in the streets to-night. The main feature of to-day's part in the week's festivities is the reception to be tendered to-night by prominent citizens of Chicago to their guests. The Auditorium theatre has been transformed into an immense dance hall, where the decorations are principally in Spain's red and yellow, and the banquet halls are elaborate with smilax, festoons and flowers.

The Church Dignitaries.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Cardinal Gibbons and party, who arrived in the city yesterday from Baltimore, were met at South Chicago by a number of well-known gentlemen representing the World's Fair and Columbus Club. The distinguished party of arriving guests was made up of Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satolli (the papal delegate to the Columbian Exposition), Monsignor O'Connell, rector of the American College at Rome; Bishop Keane, rector of the Catholic University of Washington; Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Kain of Wheeling, W. Va., and several secretaries. The Citizens Committee of the World's Fair had for chairman Hon. A. J. Onahan, and the Columbus Club Committee was led by President W. A. Amberg. There was a hearty greeting.

Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satolli and Monsignor O'Connell were driven directly to Archbishop Feehan's home on the Lake-shore and will be his guests during their stay. Bishop Kain and Archbishop Ireland went to the Grand Pacific Hotel, and Bishop Keane went with his friend, Fr. Riordan of St. Elizabeth's Church. Another distinguished party of ecclesiastics which arrived was that of Archbishop Corrigan and suite from New York. They will be entertained by Mr. Redmond Prindiville.

The Great Military Parade.

It was estimated yesterday that in the great civic parade, which will take place to-day, at least 100,000 men will be in line, under the direction of General Joseph Stockton and General Miles. The procession will include all the distinguished guests in the city in carriages.

THE POISONER IN PERIL.

A ROPE IN SIGHT FOR THE PRISONER NEILL.

He Gave His Capsuled Pills to Girls of the Street, Who Went to Their Lodgings and Died—The Evidence of An Ottawa Man to Whom Neill Admitted Poisoning.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—This was the third day of the famous murder trial, and there was no diminution in the crowd in the court room. The case appears to have a peculiar fascination for the girls who belong to the class among which Neill found his victims, and many of them have been present each day.

The case was resumed to-day by the prosecution calling John Patrick Haynes, who testified that he became acquainted with Neill through his visiting the photograph establishment of Armstead & Co. of Westminster Bridge-road, of which firm Haynes was a member. Neill was very eccentric. A friendship sprang up between them, and Haynes found that Neill was very free with his money. By going out with Neill Haynes learned of many of his amours. Afterwards Neill showed Haynes a notebook, in which were entered, among other things, the initials of the women who had been poisoned, with the dates of their deaths. There were initials which he said referred to Ellen Dodworth, Matilda Clover and the girls Marsh and Shrivell, and there were also the initials "L. H.," which he said meant Louise Harvey. Haynes heard Neill declare that young Harper had murdered the girls. Subsequently Haynes and Neill were riding together when they heard newsboys shouting: "Arrests in the Stamford-street case." Neill was greatly excited and dismounted at Charing Cross, where he bought several copies of different papers. He appeared to be much relieved when he found that the newsboys' cries referred to the Stamford-street "Road to ruin" case. Haynes further testified that he had seen Neill take morphia, strychnine and opium on many occasions.

A Witness from Scotland Yard.

Sergeant Patrick McIntyre of the criminal investigation department, Scotland Yard, was the next witness examined. He testified that he made the acquaintance of Neill early in May. The prisoner knew who and what he was. He told him he was a doctor of medicine, and had studied at St. Thomas' Hospital. He stated that he had been to Dublin, and had afterwards gone to America. McIntyre met him on Westminster Bridge on May 19 and said: "Good morning, doctor. How are you getting on?"

He replied: "I have been troubled with detectives following me the last two or three days."

After some general conversation McIntyre asked him if there was any reason why detectives should follow him. He replied that the only reason he knew was that he happened to have some improper photographs about him. He asked McIntyre if he would make enquiries and ascertain why he was being watched. McIntyre told him he would do so. Neill told McIntyre that he had on the previous evening met a woman on the Westminster bridge road, and that she told him that the police had sent her to make his acquaintance and find out who he was, as they believed he was connected with the Stamford-street poisoning case. That was the last reference to the affair. Neill said that about a month before the last inquest on Marsh and Shrivell he met a man as he was leaving his lodgings in the morning, who introduced himself as a detective and said his name was Murray. This man questioned him as to his knowledge of Harper and his associations with women. He said the man Murray produced the letters addressed to the girls Shrivell and March at Stamford-street. The letters, he said, warned the girls to be careful of Dr. Harper or he would poison them, as he had done the girls Clover and Harvey.

Neill loaned him a photograph of young Dr. Harper. McIntyre told Neill he had been requested to obtain specimens of his handwriting, and at his dictation he wrote a number of words. They afterwards talked over the Stamford-street case. After some further discussion McIntyre said: "Doctor, you seem to be pretty well acquainted with this matter." He said: "Yes, I have followed it closely in The British Medical Journal." McIntyre met Neill at another time at the corner of a street in the Westminster Bridge-road. He said he was going away at 3 o'clock and asked if he would be arrested if he left London. McIntyre told him he could not say, but if he would walk with him to Scotland Yard he would make enquiries. They walked some distance over the bridge, when Neill stopped and said: "I am very suspicious of you, and will go no further. I believe you are playing me double. You sent a woman to meet me at The British Medical Journal office." McIntyre said he had not done so. Neill asked McIntyre to return the photograph of Dr. Harper and promised to meet him at a public house in the Westminster Bridge-road, but failed to appear.

She Was Engaged to Neill.

Laura Sabbatina, who was engaged to marry Neill, was called. It was readily seen that her affection for Neill had not been killed by the hideous charge made against him. She gave her testimony in a low, faltering voice, which grew stronger as her evidence proceeded. Her evidence was similar to that given at the preliminary hearing.

A Police Inspector Testifies.

Inspector Harvey of the criminal investigation department testified as follows: I have had charge of the investigation into the matters relating to the deaths of Ellen Dodworth, Alice Marsh, Emma Shrivell and Matilda Clover. The first I knew of Matilda Clover being poisoned was on April 28. I went to 88 Lambeth-road and took down a statement, and from subsequent inquiries laid statements before the Treasury, and an order for the exhumation of the body of Matilda Clover was made. The police did not know what was the cause of her death until after Dr. Stephenson reported. Inspector Harvey was asked if anyone could have known that Matilda Clover died from poisoning except the one who poisoned her.

He replied: "No, certainly not. I was present when Inspector Tonbridge arrested Neill on a charge of sending letters containing threats to Dr. Harper. I did not know of the letter to Dr. Broadbent till after the arrest of Neill."

Inspector Tonbridge gave evidence corroborating the testimony of the previous witness and giving details of the facts that led to the arrest of Neill.

Indications of Poisoning.

Dr. Thomas Stevenson of Guy's Hospital, lecturer on medical jurisprudence and one of the analysts to the Home Office, was called. On an order from the solicitor to the treasury he had, he said, made an analysis of the contents of the stomach of the exhumed body of Matilda Clover.

The body was generally in a very good state of preservation. The organs were healthy and gave no indication of the cause of death. He removed for analysis the stomach, bowels, liver, spleen, kidneys, brain and the fluid from the chest cavity. By chemical analysis he detected strychnine in the bowels and the chest cavity, and a frog was killed by strychnine so obtained. He found 1-10 of a grain of strychnine, a full medical dose, left in the stomach, and from that quantity he inferred that a fatal dose had been administered.

The symptoms of the girl's fatal illness were then recited to him and Dr. Stevenson said that they were consistent with strychnine poisoning. They were also consistent with delirium tremens, but tetanic convulsions could, with a little care, be easily distinguished from epileptic convulsions. Altogether the symptoms were those of poisoning with strychnine.

The fact that the girl, before she had convulsions at all, said that she knew she was going to die was in itself an indication of strychnine poisoning. It is a peculiarity of that poison that people who have taken a fatal dose feel that they are going to die even before the first convulsions come upon them. A fatal dose of strychnine, he said, would be a grain, but less than half a grain had been known to kill. The time it would take to kill would depend upon the form in which it was administered. Given in a capsule it would take longer, as the capsule would have to dissolve.

In the same manner the action would be retarded if the poison were given in an ordinary pill. He would expect symptoms of strychnine poisoning in an hour. The tincture of nux vomica usually contained about half a grain of strychnine to the liquid ounce, so that in two ounces of nux vomica there would be a fatal dose of strychnine. Two ounces of nux vomica could be reduced by the simple process of boiling down to about six or seven grains of residue, in which would be contained the strychnine. Nux vomica also contains in less quantity another poison called brucia. He had found strychnine in a case belonging to Neill.

What Neill Told McCullogh.

John Wilson McCullogh of No. 374 Slater-street, Ottawa, stated that he was a traveler for Messrs. Jardine & Co., grocers, Toronto. At the end of February and the beginning of March of the present year he was staying at Blanchard's Hotel, Quebec.

While there he made the acquaintance of Neill, whom he knew as Dr. Cream. They occupied rooms on the same floor. A day or two after McCullogh reached the hotel he felt ill and told Neill so. The latter said he would give him something that would make him all right again. McCullogh accompanied him to his room and Neill took from a drawer a quantity of pills. He gave McCullogh one from a bottle labelled "blue mass."

Neill afterward handed him an antibilious pill. Neill told McCullogh that he had obtained the pills from a firm in the State of New York and was going to have a sample case made for use in London. He saw several photographs in Neill's room. Neill said that one of them was the photograph of Laura Sabatina, a young woman whom he was going to marry when he returned to London.

He took from a cash box a copy of his father's will, some gold coins and a bottle. Referring to the bottle, he asked: "Do you know what that is?"

McCullogh replied in the negative and Neill said: "That is poison." McCullogh asked him what he did with it, and Neill replied that he gave it to women for a certain purpose. It was a wide mouthed bottle about three inches long, and contained whitish crystals of irregular size and a shining appearance.

Referring to Neill's statement as to what he did with the poison, McCullogh asked: "How do you do that?" Neill answered: "I give it to them in these," producing a pasteboard box of a dark green color containing 18 or 20 capsules of about five-eighths of an inch in length.

Neill's False Beard.

After putting the capsules away Neill went to the trunk and took from it a false beard. McCullogh asked him what it was for and he said: "To prevent identification when operating." Before that he had spoken of illegal practices. He spoke a great deal of women in London and mentioned Waterloo, Victoria and Westminster-roads as thoroughfares in which he met women. While at the hotel Neill spent money freely and drank a good deal.

He drove about the city with McCullogh and pointed out his father's shipyard and the place where he had worked when a boy. He said that he and his relatives did not get on very well together. At one time they had a conversation about a moneyed American, and Neill said: "That man's money should have been mine. I would have given him a pill and sent him to sleep and taken the money."

McCullogh asked, "You wouldn't kill a man for $2000?" Neill replied, "I would have had the money."

Neill's Capsule Plan.

The next witness was Louisa Harvey or Harris. She testified to her meeting with Neill, and to his giving her medicine to take, which was in shape of pills. She pretended to take them. She had them in her right hand and passed them toward her mouth, but dropped them into her left hand and threw them away. She had an appointment to meet Neill later the same night at a music hall, but Neill did not keep the engagement. Three weeks later she saw Neill at Piccadilly Circus, but he did not recognize her. She spoke to him and told him her name, whereupon he turned and walked sharply away.

Louisa Harris gave much further evidence regarding the appearance and actions of Neill. She is the girl whom Neill told one of his acquaintances had suddenly died as she was going to her home in a cab.

Another Identification.

Charles Harvey was next called. He said he was living with Louisa Harris in October last. She told him about Oct. 23 of a man she had been with, and he went with her to the embankment and saw her meet a man there. That man was Neill. He saw the two go into the Northumberland and he went into the next bar. He followed them out to the embankment and saw Neill hand something to the girl and then leave, walking in the direction of Westminster bridge. The girl came back to Harvey and told him the man had given her two capsules to take but she had thrown them away.

At this point court adjourned.

CHICAGO'S VAST CROWD

WAITING FOR THE DEDICATORY CEREMONIES.

The City a Great Hive of Humanity Gathered From All Parts of the Country—A Reception at the Auditorium—Roman Catholic Dignitaries Received With Honors.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A city filled with people, brilliant with lights, alive with the impulse of an anniversary which none now living will see again, is Chicago last night. The inauguration of the World's Columbian exhibition festivities was marked to-night by a brilliant reception and ball in the great hall of the Auditorium. On behalf of the other patrons and of the patronesses of the ball, Major-Gen. Miles, Mayor Washburne, H. K. Fairbank, George M. Pullman and Marshall Field had invited 4000 citizens of various states to participate in a reception tendered to the President, Vice-President and ex Presidents of the United States, the representatives of foreign Governments, Governors of states and territories and other distinguished guests. Thousands of electric lamps were reflected in the lake from the towering buildings, and Michigan-avenue was alive with people content to stand closely packed for hours viewing the notables as they arrived to attend the reception.

In the Auditorium building the great steel fire curtain of the stage had been lifted and the stage flooring had been extended over the entire orchestra pit. Behind the proscenium arch the lower tier of boxes had been extended in a circle around the rear of the stage. Above this temporary circle of boxes at its centre were four other boxes occupied by the orchestra. A silken banner of the Spanish royalty was suspended directly over the centre of the stage. It had a cross in its middle and around that were the initials and arms of Ferdinand and Isabella. On either side and immediately over the boxes were 10 banners in hunting, each containing the initials of the King and Queen of Spain in the time of Columbus. The panel in front of the organ and between the boxes and proscenium arch was decorated with a large United States shield surmounted by a stand of colors, the Stars and Stripes in the middle and flanked by the flags of all the American republics. The corresponding panel on the opposite side bore the shield of Spain, surmounted by the Spanish colors. In this were shown the flags of every nation in the Old World, the colors of Spain and Italy being given preference in the arrangements.

From Alabama wild smilax had been brought, a car load in all, to festoon the face of the balcony and gallery. It was hung in festoons in front of all the boxes and along the balcony and gallery front. This was caught up with alternate rosets of red and yellow ribbon. Above the panels at either side of the proscenium arch were banks of palms and ferns. In the centre section of the main balcony, entirely hidden from view by ferns and other potted planted, Sousa's military band was at 9 o'clock waiting to furnish music for the grand march.

Great Crowds in the Street.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The trains bearing the Cabinet officers, members of the Supreme Court and foreign diplomats arrived shortly before noon, and the distinguished visitors were tendered a royal reception by the city, state officials and the general public. The city is already filled to overflowing, yet hundreds are arriving every hour. Every hotel, boarding house and lodging house is full. The sidewalks are almost impassable. What will be done with to-morrow's crowd is a grave question, as thousands will have to sleep in the streets to-night. The main feature of to-day's part in the week's festivities is the reception to be tendered to-night by prominent citizens of Chicago to their guests. The Auditorium theatre has been transformed into an immense dance hall, where the decorations are principally in Spain's red and yellow, and the banquet halls are elaborate with smilax, festoons and flowers.

The Church Dignitaries.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Cardinal Gibbons and party, who arrived in the city yesterday from Baltimore, were met at South Chicago by a number of well-known gentlemen representing the World's Fair and Columbus Club. The distinguished party of arriving guests was made up of Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satolli (the papal delegate to the Columbian Exposition), Monsignor O'Connell, rector of the American College at Rome; Bishop Keane, rector of the Catholic University of Washington; Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Kain of Wheeling, W. Va., and several secretaries. The Citizens Committee of the World's Fair had for chairman Hon. A. J. Onahan, and the Columbus Club Committee was led by President W. A. Amberg. There was a hearty greeting.

Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Satolli and Monsignor O'Connell were driven directly to Archbishop Feehan's home on the Lake-shore and will be his guests during their stay. Bishop Kain and Archbishop Ireland went to the Grand Pacific Hotel, and Bishop Keane went with his friend, Fr. Riordan of St. Elizabeth's Church. Another distinguished party of ecclesiastics which arrived was that of Archbishop Corrigan and suite from New York. They will be entertained by Mr. Redmond Prindiville.

The Great Military Parade.

It was estimated yesterday that in the great civic parade, which will take place to-day, at least 100,000 men will be in line, under the direction of General Joseph Stockton and General Miles. The procession will include all the distinguished guests in the city in carriages.

THE POISONER IN PERIL.

A ROPE IN SIGHT FOR THE PRISONER NEILL.

He Gave His Capsuled Pills to Girls of the Street, Who Went to Their Lodgings and Died—The Evidence of An Ottawa Man to Whom Neill Admitted Poisoning.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—This was the third day of the famous murder trial, and there was no diminution in the crowd in the court room. The case appears to have a peculiar fascination for the girls who belong to the class among which Neill found his victims, and many of them have been present each day.

The case was resumed to-day by the prosecution calling John Patrick Haynes, who testified that he became acquainted with Neill through his visiting the photograph establishment of Armstead & Co. of Westminster Bridge-road, of which firm Haynes was a member. Neill was very eccentric. A friendship sprang up between them, and Haynes found that Neill was very free with his money. By going out with Neill Haynes learned of many of his amours. Afterwards Neill showed Haynes a notebook, in which were entered, among other things, the initials of the women who had been poisoned, with the dates of their deaths. There were initials which he said referred to Ellen Dodworth, Matilda Clover and the girls Marsh and Shrivell, and there were also the initials "L. H.," which he said meant Louise Harvey. Haynes heard Neill declare that young Harper had murdered the girls. Subsequently Haynes and Neill were riding together when they heard newsboys shouting: "Arrests in the Stamford-street case." Neill was greatly excited and dismounted at Charing Cross, where he bought several copies of different papers. He appeared to be much relieved when he found that the newsboys' cries referred to the Stamford-street "Road to ruin" case. Haynes further testified that he had seen Neill take morphia, strychnine and opium on many occasions.

A Witness from Scotland Yard.

Sergeant Patrick McIntyre of the criminal investigation department, Scotland Yard, was the next witness examined. He testified that he made the acquaintance of Neill early in May. The prisoner knew who and what he was. He told him he was a doctor of medicine, and had studied at St. Thomas' Hospital. He stated that he had been to Dublin, and had afterwards gone to America. McIntyre met him on Westminster Bridge on May 19 and said: "Good morning, doctor. How are you getting on?"

He replied: "I have been troubled with detectives following me the last two or three days."

After some general conversation McIntyre asked him if there was any reason why detectives should follow him. He replied that the only reason he knew was that he happened to have some improper photographs about him. He asked McIntyre if he would make enquiries and ascertain why he was being watched. McIntyre told him he would do so. Neill told McIntyre that he had on the previous evening met a woman on the Westminster bridge road, and that she told him that the police had sent her to make his acquaintance and find out who he was, as they believed he was connected with the Stamford-street poisoning case. That was the last reference to the affair. Neill said that about a month before the last inquest on Marsh and Shrivell he met a man as he was leaving his lodgings in the morning, who introduced himself as a detective and said his name was Murray. This man questioned him as to his knowledge of Harper and his associations with women. He said the man Murray produced the letters addressed to the girls Shrivell and March at Stamford-street. The letters, he said, warned the girls to be careful of Dr. Harper or he would poison them, as he had done the girls Clover and Harvey.

Neill loaned him a photograph of young Dr. Harper. McIntyre told Neill he had been requested to obtain specimens of his handwriting, and at his dictation he wrote a number of words. They afterwards talked over the Stamford-street case. After some further discussion McIntyre said: "Doctor, you seem to be pretty well acquainted with this matter." He said: "Yes, I have followed it closely in The British Medical Journal." McIntyre met Neill at another time at the corner of a street in the Westminster Bridge-road. He said he was going away at 3 o'clock and asked if he would be arrested if he left London. McIntyre told him he could not say, but if he would walk with him to Scotland Yard he would make enquiries. They walked some distance over the bridge, when Neill stopped and said: "I am very suspicious of you, and will go no further. I believe you are playing me double. You sent a woman to meet me at The British Medical Journal office." McIntyre said he had not done so. Neill asked McIntyre to return the photograph of Dr. Harper and promised to meet him at a public house in the Westminster Bridge-road, but failed to appear.

She Was Engaged to Neill.

Laura Sabbatina, who was engaged to marry Neill, was called. It was readily seen that her affection for Neill had not been killed by the hideous charge made against him. She gave her testimony in a low, faltering voice, which grew stronger as her evidence proceeded. Her evidence was similar to that given at the preliminary hearing.

A Police Inspector Testifies.

Inspector Harvey of the criminal investigation department testified as follows: I have had charge of the investigation into the matters relating to the deaths of Ellen Dodworth, Alice Marsh, Emma Shrivell and Matilda Clover. The first I knew of Matilda Clover being poisoned was on April 28. I went to 88 Lambeth-road and took down a statement, and from subsequent inquiries laid statements before the Treasury, and an order for the exhumation of the body of Matilda Clover was made. The police did not know what was the cause of her death until after Dr. Stephenson reported. Inspector Harvey was asked if anyone could have known that Matilda Clover died from poisoning except the one who poisoned her.

He replied: "No, certainly not. I was present when Inspector Tonbridge arrested Neill on a charge of sending letters containing threats to Dr. Harper. I did not know of the letter to Dr. Broadbent till after the arrest of Neill."

Inspector Tonbridge gave evidence corroborating the testimony of the previous witness and giving details of the facts that led to the arrest of Neill.

Indications of Poisoning.

Dr. Thomas Stevenson of Guy's Hospital, lecturer on medical jurisprudence was one of the analysts to the Home Office, was called. On an order from the solicitor to the treasury he had, he said, made an analysis of the contents of the stomach of the exhumed body of Matilda Clover.

The body was generally in a very good state of preservation. The organs were healthy and gave no indication of the cause of death. He removed for analysis the stomach, bowels, liver, spleen, kidneys, brain and the fluid from the chest cavity. By chemical analysis he detected strychnine in the bowels and the chest cavity, and a frog was killed by strychnine so obtained. He found 1-16 of a grain of strychnine, a full medical dose, left in the stomach, and from that quantity he inferred that a fatal dose had been administered.

The symptoms of the girl's fatal illness were then recited to him and Dr. Stevenson said that they were consistent with strychnine poisoning. They were also consistent with delirium tremens, but tetanic convulsions could, with a little care, be easily distinguished from epileptic convulsions. Altogether the symptoms were those of poisoning with strychnine.

The fact that the girl, before she had convulsions at all, said that she knew she was going to die was in itself an indication of strychnine poisoning. It is a peculiarity of that poison that people who have taken a fatal dose feel that they are going to die even before the first convulsions come upon them. A fatal dose of strychnine, he said, would be a grain, but less than half a grain had been known to kill. The time it would take to kill would depend upon the form in which it was administered. Given in a capsule it would take longer, as the capsule would have to dissolve.

In the same manner the action would be retarded if the poison were given in an ordinary pill. He would expect symptoms of strychnine poisoning in an hour. The tincture of nux vomica usually contained about half a grain of strychnine to the liquid ounce, so that in two ounces of nux vomica there would be a fatal dose of strychnine. Two ounces of nux vomica could be reduced by the simple process of boiling down to about six or seven grains of residue, in which would be contained the strychnine. Nux vomica also contains in less quantity another poison called brucia. He had found strychnine in a case belonging to Neill.

What Neill Told McCullogh.

John Wilson McCullogh of No. 374 Slater-street, Ottawa, stated that he was a traveler for Messrs. Jardine & Co., grocers, Toronto. At the end of February and the beginning of March of the present year he was staying at Blanchard's Hotel, Quebec.

While there he made the acquaintance of Neill, whom he knew as Dr. Cream. They occupied rooms on the same floor. A day or two after McCullogh reached the hotel he felt ill and told Neill so. The latter said he would give him something that would make him all right again. McCullogh accompanied him to his room and Neill took from a drawer a quantity of pills. He gave McCullogh one from a bottle labelled "blue mass."

Neill afterward handed him an antibilious pill. Neill told McCullogh that he had obtained the pills from a firm in the State of New York and was going to have a sample case made for use in London. He saw several photographs in Neill's room. Neill said that one of them was the photograph of Laura Sabatina, a young woman whom he was going to marry when he returned to London.

He took from a cash box a copy of his father's will, some gold coins and a bottle. Referring to the bottle, he asked: "Do you know what that is?"

McCullogh replied in the negative and Neill said: "That is poison." McCullogh asked him what he did with it, and Neill replied that he gave it to women for a certain purpose. It was a wide mouthed bottle about three inches long, and contained whitish crystals of irregular size and a shining appearance.

Referring to Neill's statement as to what he did with the poison, McCullogh asked: "How do you do that?" Neill answered: "I give it to them in these," producing a pasteboard box of a dark green color containing 18 or 20 capsules of about five-eighths of an inch in length.

Neill's False Beard.

After putting the capsules away Neill went to the trunk and took from it a false beard. McCullogh asked him what it was for and he said: "To prevent identification when operating." Before that he had spoken of illegal practices. He spoke a great deal of women in London and mentioned Waterloo, Victoria and Westminster-roads as thoroughfares in which he met women. While at the hotel Neill spent money freely and drank a good deal.

He drove about the city with McCullogh and pointed out his father's shipyard and the place where he had worked when a boy. He said that he and his relatives did not get on very well together. At one time they had a conversation about a moneyed American, and Neill said: "That man's money should have been mine. I would have given him a pill and sent him to sleep and taken the money."

McCullogh asked, "You wouldn't kill a man for $2000?" Neill replied, "I would have had the money."

Louise's Capsule Pills.

The next witness was Louisa Harvey or Harris. She testified to her meeting with Neill, and to his giving her medicine to take, which was in shape of pills. She pretended to take them. She had them in her right hand and passed them toward her mouth, but dropped them into her left hand and threw them away. She had an appointment to meet Neill later the same night at a music hall, but Neill did not keep the engagement. Three weeks later she saw Neill at Piccadilly Circus, but he did not recognize her. She spoke to him and told him her name, whereupon he turned and walked sharply away.

Louisa Harris gave much further evidence regarding the appearance and actions of Neill. She is the girl whom Neill told one of his acquaintances had suddenly died as she was going to her home in a cab.

Another Identification.

Charles Harvey was next called. He said he was living with Louisa Harris in October last. She told him about Oct. 23 of a man she had been with, and he went with her to the embankment and saw her meet a man there. That man was Neill. He saw the two go into the Northumberland and he went into the next bar. He followed them out to the embankment and saw Neill hand something to the girl and then leave, walking in the direction of Westminster bridge. The girl came back to Harvey and told him the man had given her two capsules to take but she had thrown them away.

At this point court adjourned.

STONY LAKE GRANITE.

The Crown Nest Quarry, Eagle Mount—Other Stony Lake Items.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. J. J. Crowe, recently bought the Eagle Mount stone quarry, and it is running in full blast at present and will employ a large number of men all the winter. The numerous contracts of the firm are large enough to keep them busy until the middle of next summer, and they are prepared to tender on all classes of work in rough or cut dimensions, curbing stone sets, etc. It is learned that there was some dissatisfaction in the matter of the quality of the workmanship done on the stones by the former workmen in the quarry. The present operator however employs none but first class workmen and will in consequence be able to put a superior grade of stone on the market. The stone in the quarry is a beautiful red and is easily worked.

The camping season has long since closed, the numerous pretty cottages are shut up and the fairy-like islets of the lake bear a deserted appearance.

The steamers have all ceased running and except to accommodate a party of sportsmen or a few duck shooting hunters, do any of them make trips, and very seldom at that.

Ducks are very scarce this fall, scarcely any having been shot.

Mr. Harry Martin, of Peterborough, has returned home from a days' hunting festivities at Crow Bay. He was quite successful in his slaughter of game.

Mr. P. Connal during the past season erected a large boat house on Syndicate Island, Boschink.

Mr. H. Rush, Peterborough, has purchased an eligible site near Mr. B. Shortly's cottage, "Woodlea," and will erect a lodge thereon.

A lady milliner from Campbellford has purchased a plot of ground up the lake, and will also erect a cottage to camp here during the summer months.

Mr. W. B. Ferguson of Peterborough during the past summer erected one of the finest and best appointed boat houses on Syndicate Island, Boschink, that any camper possesses on the lakes. Its dimensions are 12x24 feet, and it is divided into two compartments, one used as a boat house, and the other used for bathing purposes. The structure is neat and unique, being painted in red with drab cornice trimmings. Mr. Ferguson keeps a sailing yacht, and is one of the most genial fellows that summer at Boschink. His boat house is the envy of his neighbours on the surrounding islands.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Grain is moving briskly to Peterborough on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Mr. Askinson, butcher, makes trips every Wednesday and Saturday to Peterborough market and is doing well. There is room here for other enterprising men, in different lines, which would find an outlet in the Peterborough markets.

Prof. Seward has been engaged to give several instrumental solos at the Presbyterian festival, Monday, Oct. 24th.

Mrs. Sheridan died here on Thursday last after a lingering illness caused by a complication of diseases.

The excursion to Midland and other points last week was one of the largest that has ever passed through here. Many Omemeeians took advantage of it.

Don't commit suicide on account of your "incurable" blood disease. The sensible thing for you to do is to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If that fails, why, then—keep on trying and it will not fail. The trouble is, people get discouraged too soon. "Try, try, try again."

THERE is no article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. dw

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. J. M. Jory, of this place, who is attending Trinity Medical College, has been appointed captain of the college football team. Congratulations, "Joe."

Those who attended the concert given in the town hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the English church could not help being delighted with it. Rev. Finlay presided with his usual ability. The local talent was assisted by Mr. Jas. Fax. Fax is a concert in himself. His singing was simply fine, especially the pieces "Silver Moon" and "That's English You Know.' He displayed his elocutionary ability with fine effect. There was a very large attendance and the ladies ought to be well pleased with the evening's results.

Mr. Little, from near Stony Lake, while attending the fair on the 12th of October put his horses into the Methodist church sheds and during the evening some evil-minded persons went in and cut his buggy cushion. They also unhitched a Mr. Payne's horses and damaged his buggy. These persons should be given the full benefit of the law.

The High School is expected to be finished about the latter part of November.

Partridge and rabbit hunting are beginning to boom. Hunter are seen wending their way towards the woods nearly every day.

Mr. R. M. Stuart, of Hamilton, president of the Dominion Travellers Circle was in town last week.

F. G. Storey, one of Norwood's promising young men is very ill.

Rev. W. H. Stevens, pastor of the Baptist church is attending the Baptist convention in Brantford. Rev. W. Buchanan, chairman of the Campbellford district, and Rev. S. P. Ford, both of this place, were delegates from the Campbellford district to the missionary committee of the Bay of Quinte conference held in Peterborough.

Collections were taken up in the Methodist church last Sunday in behalf of the St. John sufferers.

Farmers are commencing to draw in their grain. They seem to have a good supply.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Philip O'Carrol took place on Tuesday last and was very largely attended.

A Voice From the Canadian Press!

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

As a tonic, the Father Mathew Remedy restores to a healthy condition the stomach and liver of the intemperate, which are always out of order, and builds up his nervous system; as an alterative, it makes a new man of him.

HOGS FOR MARKET.

Hints as to the Kind of Hogs Wanted, by George Matthews.

To the Farmers:

The season for marketing the bulk of the hogs in this country will soon be here, and a few words on the subject will be of interest to the farming community.

I do not purpose saying anything regarding the breed of hogs, because you have the hogs on hand which you will market this fall and winter, so I leave this part of the subject for a future communication.

As packers, we find the consumers of cured meats are becoming more particular every year, and to meet their requirements we are obliged to study the cuts of meats and methods of cure which they prefer, and if we can manage to satisfy them we obtain better prices for our meats.

You, farmers, are in the same position as we are, and, if you would obtain the highest price for your hogs, either live or dressed, you must have the right kind of hogs to sell as regards age, weight and quality, that will make the meats the public ask for, or accept a lower price for hogs that will make an inferior quality of meats.

You will ask, "What kind of hogs do the packers want from which to cut first-class meats?" In answer I would say that at present from six to eight months old, weighing from 170 to 200 lbs. each alive; or if sold dressed, to weigh from 150 to 200 lbs. You will notice that my live and dressed weights do not exactly correspond, but the reason for that is the live hogs are wanted principally for the English market, and these are the weights that sell at the highest prices. The hogs for that trade must be sold alive, as they require different handling to prepare the meat for that market, from those you sell dressed.

Now, the fact I want to impress upon those who raise and fatten hogs for sale is, make your hogs good, and do not sell a lot of half fat hogs, that are of very little use to the trade, and which, consequently, must be bought at very low figures, as the meats prepared from them are so inferior that the public will not buy them except at very low prices.

I believe we have as good a quality of hogs in this neighborhood as in any county, and if you, farmers, would study your own interests and feed them properly with grain until they are six or eight months old, and have them the weights mentioned, I have no doubt the packers will find markets for all the hogs you can raise.

GEO. MATTHEWS.

Peterborough, Oct: 19th, 1892.

AN EXPLANATION WANTED.

Why is Fish Made of One and Flesh of Another?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

I wish to show how the town authorities deal with a citizen who spends all his earnings in town compared with the treatment of an outsider who chuckles over what he takes out of the town. A short time ago I took a contract to remove several buildings. When I had everything ready, the Street Inspector told me that the Mayor, Mr. Kendry, would meet me at the clerk's office and that I would have to sign a bond to pay all damages from delay of traffic or injury to property, that might be caused by the moving of these structures. I signed the document and began operations, and I had hardly finished when the Phelan house on the Customs lot was to be moved, and the contract was given by Mr. Bradburn to an outsider, a man named Huffman, of Millbrook, but neither the Street Inspector or Mayor required him to give a bond of indemnity, and he has kept a big building that fills from walk to walk, on the street for two weeks, and it is still on the street where he has left it—a complete nuisance and a great hindrance to traffic, and is allowed to leave it there and undertake another job. Why does the mayor allow one man, an outsider all these privileges and require another—myself—to give bonds—bind him with chains. I ask the people to judge if the mayor or street inspector has done even handed justice, in this making fish of one and flesh of another.

Yours truly,

ALLAN McCARTHY.
